

Silly Teen 80

Chapter 80

The air, too, was suddenly ambiguous because of my words. What I said about the night included her kissing me, and her grabbing my hand and placing it on her chest. And given her reaction, I'm afraid that what she was thinking about was, in all likelihood, what I was talking about.

But she forcefully retorted, "No. I wasn't thinking about that nonsense."

"Haha, even if you did, I wouldn't laugh at you." I continued to make jokes about her instead.

"You hate it!"

She pouted very shyly.

She then was changing the subject and said that she would pay me back the medical bills as soon as possible. There just wasn't much of that money, and I wasn't in a hurry.

We talked for a while and then it was off to sleep. I don't know when I fell asleep, but because I didn't get enough sleep, I had a headache the next day after the gas. When I woke up, Ouyang Xiaxue's father had already gone to work, and Ouyang Xiaxue had already prepared the noon meal.

When she saw me come out of the room, she greeted me and asked me to sit down at the dining table and wait for her for a while.

In no time, she brought out two bowls of noodles.

"Wow, you're quite good at cooking. It's almost on par with me." I said honestly.

"You can cook too?"

She looked at me quizzically.

"That's for sure. When my uncle goes to work, I'm the one who tosses up meals at home." I explained to her as I ate my noodles. I basically learnt my cooking skills from Uncle Chen's end. Plus I learn things quickly and master it, and it's only a matter of time.

"What's wrong, you don't believe me? Do you want me to show you my hand!" I still had some confidence when it came to cooking.

She laughed softly at my words, "It's not that I don't believe it. It's just that I'm a bit surprised. It's really rare for you, a boy, to be able to cook."

I laughed and said, "It depends on what kind of environment one is from. If you come from a good family, that's strange. But an adopted one like me has to learn to be a family man early on."

"You're very open-minded."

"There's nothing I can do about it. Conditions, that's all." I looked at Ouyang Xiaxue very seriously.

After the bowl of noodles was over, I saw that it was about time, and just got up and prepared to leave. But my clothes hadn't dried yet, so I had to go back in her dad's clothes and bring them to her some time later. But in terms of my promise in front of her dad last night the next time I see her, I'm sure it won't be any less.

"Take care on your way then, I won't see you off." She said with a wave of her hand at me.

"It's okay. I'm a big boy, and it's daytime, so it's hard to get abducted?" I said with a harsh laugh. I turned my head to look at her. At this moment, standing in front of her house, she made me feel more like a young daughter-in-law looking at her husband leaving.

I looked at her and suddenly my heart was a little touched.

I smiled back at her and waved my hand at her, telling her to go back first.

In between my departure, I contacted Cao Ge and the others. Cao Ge and the others had changed their Internet cafe and it was now the one next to our school. I took the bus there. And Cao Ge looked at my outfit and was a bit amused. Suit trousers, shirt and very ill-fitting.

"Chao, what's wrong with you? I haven't seen you for a night, you've become quite civilised!" Cao Ge laughed at me harshly.

"Eh, don't mention it." I said with a lot of egg on my face.

"Could it be that you went to flip some girl's cards last night and got caught, and then you turned out like this!"

Cog asked me with a bad laugh.

"Go go go, it's not like that." I said with an embarrassed smile.

"Then how was it? Tell me about it!" Cao Ge said, still unconvinced.

"Last night, I met Fatty Zhu" When my words came out, Cao Ge's expression, at once, was serious. I just told him what happened last night, in general. As he listened, his whole person was even more gloomy. Because of the change in his mood, the atmosphere around him was also tense.

His little brother was on the sidelines, waiting for his next words.

Cao Ge was not in a hurry.

He lit a cigarette and took a long breath. The one who followed, snapped to attention. His little brother, who was standing at the side, was even more tense at once because of his action.

"Damn it, this Fatty Zhu dares to touch my men, he simply doesn't want to get involved anymore!" Cao Ge waved his hand, "Brothers, let's go! Go and give Chao, get the scene back!"

"Brother Cao, do you know where Fatty Zhu is now?" I asked at him as I followed him.

"Just ask and we'll find out."

Cao Ge affirmed down.

Between his words, he was making a phone call out. On the other end of the line, it was a man called 'Ah Chang'. While he was talking, was leading us out of the cyber cafe. Just between their phone calls, it seemed that by a man called Ah Cheong, was also coming over. A group of us then went ahead to the meeting place to wait for Achang and the others.

I was still in Cao Ge's car.

It was after we arrived at the point. It didn't take long to wait and a dozen of them came over. Among them I also saw Little Spot, and the slab-headed Rico whom I met last time at the Sheung Shui Tea House. When Brother Li saw me, he was still a bit embarrassed. Little Spot, on the other hand, nodded at me eagerly and said hello.

And that so-called 'Ah Cheong' was a very strong man. Giving the first impression of being a fitness freak.

"Now that everyone is here, let's go!" With an order, Cao Ge led us away.

At this moment, Fatty Zhu was said to be on Tie Shan, on his own turf. And Tie Shan, is a village on the outskirts of Xuancheng. It is basically Xuancheng going outwards, not more than two kilometres away at most. We all slowed down because there were more big cars and dragons and horses out of the city.

With a gang of nearly thirty of us and nearly twenty booster cars, it was quite an imposing drive down the road.

"We'll give Fatty Zhu's mahjong parlour a direct charter later, and if he's not in there, then we'll wait inside. I don't believe he can hunker down and not come out." Cao Ge then spoke to Ah Chang and the others.

"No problem." Achang agreed.

This guy, Achang, was the boss of Little Spot and Li and the others. A group of us, according to the plan, directly surrounded Fatty Zhu's mahjong pavilion. When the people in the pavilion saw this, they hurriedly ran out.

"Brother Cao, what kind of wind is blowing today? Why have you come over?" Fatty Zhu's little brother asked with great earnestness.

"Am I not welcome?"

Cao Ge asked with a sneer.

"It's not that I'm not welcome. It's just that Brother Zhu has just gone out to do some business and didn't come back so soon,," the little brother on the side explained.

But as they spoke, they saw me standing by.

They looked at me and were all frozen for a moment.

And I felt their eyes, the corners of my mouth raised a smile, and greeted them!
