

I Am Born With A Silver Spoon Chapter 168

“What big news?”

Chen Hao was stunned but excited as soon as he heard his sister was coming to visit him. It had been a year since he met her after she had gone to work overseas with his parents in order to pay off the debt.

Of course, working overseas to pay off the debt was just a lie to deceive him.

“Haha, you’ll find out then. I have to go now. Enjoy your meal!”

Toot...

Chen Xiao ended the call after saying that.

Meanwhile, Li Zhenguo and Zhao Zixing’s faces turned pale slightly and asked, “Young Master Chen, CEO Chen Xiao is coming?”

“Yes. She is coming to Jin Ling three days from now. I wonder why!” Chen Hao said.

He glanced at them and noticed the frightened expression on their faces. They seemed to be afraid of his sister.

After that, the three of them had their lunch as they chatted away.

And so, several hours had passed.

“Damn, Chen Hao, where are you?” At this time, Han Siyu called Chen Hao’s phone.

She sounded impatient.

Chen Hao glanced at his watch and realized it was already 8 o’clock at night.

There was a rule in the Hot Spring Villa—most occasions had to end before night to make sure that it was not too noisy. Otherwise, there wouldn’t have been the incident that happened last time where Chen Hao was beaten up when he entered the hot spring pool by mistake as he didn’t know the female celebrity was having a bath there.

Thus, the same rule probably applied as well to the big gathering that Han Siyu attended.

“Oh, I’m driving there now!” After hanging up the phone, Chen Hao drove the car to fetch Han Siyu and the others.

“Damn, Chen Hao, did you do it purposely? What did I tell you just now? I asked you to get ready and park the car at the entrance when the gathering is almost to an end. And look what happened! You didn’t show up!” Han Siyue scolded after getting into the car.

“I didn’t do it intentionally. Since you won’t allow me to enter the villa, how would I know when the gathering was going to end?” Chen Hao said helplessly.

“Y-y-you! Why are you talking back to Siyu? Your pay today should be deducted by half!” Du Yue directly pointed out.

“Sigh, you’re hopeless even when it comes to the simplest task!” Han Siyu took a deep breath to let out her anger and this made her breasts look even bigger.

At the time when the gathering ended, most of the drivers were waiting for the executives in their cars in front of the entrance. As for her, the driver was not in sight even after she walked to the car. Damn, it was so embarrassing!

“I’ll send you guys back to college and return the car later,” Chen Hao said nonchalantly.

“Go back to college? Bullsh*t. We haven’t had enough fun today. We want to go to Imperial KTV to sing for the whole night! Am I right, Siyu?”

In fact, they did have a lot of fun today as they had finally visited the Hot Spring Villa. However, both Du Yue and Meng Cairu still felt that they hadn’t enjoyed enough.

Especially Meng Cairu, there were many managers and executives who came to have a toast with her earlier during the gathering. They had even wanted to exchange their WeChat ID with hers.

If this were in the past, Meng Cairu would have been happily willing to.

However, as she had the Ordinary Guy in her heart now, she refused them politely.

Though deep down, she was still pretty thrilled.

“Ok, drop us off at Imperial KTV before you return the car,” Meng Cairu said indifferently.

Chen Hao followed their instructions and took a cab back to college after returning the car.

“Sigh. What kind of girl will accept a guy like Chen Hao?” The girls were drinking and chatting while listening to music. They had no topic to talk about, so naturally, they brought up Chen Hao.

“Haha! To be honest, a guy like him will never get a girlfriend. When he gets a wife later on, I’m sure that she wouldn’t be pretty. And even if he gets a pretty woman as his wife by luck, it might be the second marriage for the woman. The reason is obvious. Not only does he not have any money, he’s also a loser!” Han Siyu had quite a few drinks, hence, her words became bolder.

“That’s not true, Chen Hao has a girlfriend actually. You might not know that, but his girlfriend from the Broadcasting Department is very pretty!” Ma Xiaonan was not very pleased to hear them talking bad about Chen Hao.

“Pfff, his ex-girlfriend Yang Xia is beautiful too. What happened to them then?” Du Yue laughed in disdain.

“Oh ya, Siyu, what kind of guys are you looking for?” Du Yue started the conversation.

“Well, surely he has to be excellent. He must be handsome, and able to support me financially. He also has to be a young master from a rich family. He must have good temperament, and he must be willing to spend money on me. Not only that...”

“Oh dear. Why don’t you just say that the Ordinary Guy is your ideal man?” Du Yue laughed buoyantly.

Meng Cairu who was sitting beside them looked unhappy. In fact, she was jealous.

“Counselor, how about you? What are your criterias to find a husband?” Du Yue asked again.

“I want to find a mature and low-profile man. He doesn’t have to be very handsome as long as he has his own charms! Of course he needs to be rich too, since we women will be depending on them for the rest of our lives.” Meng Cairu smiled gently.

“Hahaha, then your standards are equivalent to that of the Ordinary Guy. He is the typical mature and low-key man. By the way, do you think he would be handsome? What if he actually looks hideous?”

“Impossible!” Meng Cairu and Han Siyu responded to Du Yue in unison.

Right after, Han Siyu looked at Meng Cairu with a weird gaze.

From Meng Cairu’s anxious reaction just now, Han Siyu seemed to realize something.

In order to find out which class the Ordinary Guy was studying in, Han Siyu had asked for Meng Cairu’s help by giving her his Wechat ID before this.

She didn’t think much about it at that time.

But looking at the things that happened lately, Han Siyu sensed something fishy.

Up until a moment ago, Meng Cairu was so nervous when answering Du Yue’s question. Don’t tell me... that she had fallen in love with Ordinary Guy too?

Women were the most selfish living creatures in the world.

Especially if they were fighting over a young master like Ordinary Guy.

Everyone had known how excellent he was. He was capable of getting everyone in the Extraordinary Live Streaming Company to have the gathering at the Hot Spring Villa.

And there was a high possibility that the Ordinary Guy was the mysterious Young Master Chen too!

Who wouldn’t wish for this kind of man to be theirs?

I must have been careless about it... Han Siyu thought.

No one continued the conversation after that as the atmosphere turned slightly awkward.

Just then, the door of the room opened.

“Is Miss Meng Cairu here?” asked a bodyguard-looking man in a black suit and an earpiece.

“That’s me. Is there anything?” Meng Cairu responded to him.

“Miss Meng, I am Manager Li Feihong’s driver. He has informed me to invite the four of you to Homecook Kitchen Restaurant to have a meal. He has booked a table there to make a formal apology to all of you. I was sent here to fetch you guys there!” said the bodyguard.

“Oh, sure!” Meng Cairu nodded her head. Although she was surprised, she didn’t think much about it. It seems like Li Feihong respects me a lot, and he must be sorry for the things that happened to me last time.

After all, he is the subordinate of Young Master Chen and he even knows about my special relationship with the young master.

Speaking of which, there was an important thing which Meng Cairu actually hadn’t told Han Siyu—the Ordinary Guy was indeed Young Master Chen.

The reason Li Feihong knew they were here in Imperial KTV was because this place was his territory.

After pondering about it, Meng Cairu decided that she would give Li Feihong a call to show her gratitude.

However, his line was busy.

“Let’s hurry up. Homecook Kitchen Restaurant is not too far from here. It’s not good to make Manager Li wait for us long.” Du Yue said at this time.

Meng Cairu also nodded her head.

“Alright, let’s go now. Get the car!” Meng Cairu spoke to the driver and left with him instantly.

A black Rolls-Royce was waiting at the entrance.

They went into the car and left for the Homecook Kitchen Restaurant which was just located at the Jin Ling Commercial Street. Although the whole street was really huge, they soon arrived there within seven minutes.

However, the driver didn’t stop the car. Instead, he continued driving all the way out of the commercial street and headed west.

“Huh? We’ve passed the Homecook Kitchen Restaurant!” Du Yue, who was sitting in the passenger seat, exclaimed.

“Oh, I know. We’re not going to this branch. Our Commercial Group has just launched a new branch in the West City. We’re going to that newly opened branch!” the bodyguard in black replied.

But just as he finished his words, an evil grin appeared on his face...
