

I Am Born With A Silver Spoon novel Chapter 30

Chen Hao heard a girl calling him.

He turned around and saw that it was Jiang Weiwei, the President of the Student Council of the Chinese Language Department.

Obviously, Jiang Weiwei saw Chen Hao getting out of the Ferrari.

She was looking at Chen Hao with a face with disbelief presently.

There was shock in her eyes.

“What’s the matter?”

Chen Hao didn’t expect that he would still be seen even though he had asked Bai Xiaofei to drop him far away from school.

In fact, he knew why Jiang Weiwei stopped him. She definitely wanted to ask him why he got out from a Ferrari.

But Chen Hao continued to play dumb.

As expect.....

“Y-you... why were you in a Ferrari?” Jiang Weiwei directly asked.

The impact Chen Hao gave to Jiang Weiwei in these few encounters was simply too big.

First of all, Chen Hao had squandered the money that he won in Homecook Kitchen Restaurant last night.

Then, Jiang Weiwei immediately snooped around and asked Chen Hao’s classmates what had happened yesterday.

The answer she got was Chen Hao had won the lottery. He had won 200,000.

However, many students had already guessed that maybe Chen Hao had won more than 200,000.

This made Jiang Weiwei feel irritated. How could Chen Hao, a poor guy, has such good luck? Is God blind?

Having this kind of reaction was normal. If a person that you often bullied suddenly became better, you wouldn’t feel good about it.

Jiang Weiwei had wanted to confront Chen Hao and get to the bottom of things.

How much did he actually win?

Unexpectedly, she happened to meet him as soon as she had left the school today. What was more, she saw him getting out of a Ferrari.

“Oh, that was my friend’s car. He just happened to send me over!” Chen Hao said softly.

“Haha, your friend’s car? Who is your friend? You want me to believe that you, Chen Hao, are actually friends with rich people?”

Jiang Weiwei was not convinced.

“Whatever! I don’t care if you believe it or not. Moreover, I don’t think it’s your business if I know any rich friends, right?”

Chen Hao was speechless.

This woman is extremely unreasonable.

But Chen Hao also found that after he became rich in this period of time, his character was also changing imperceptibly.

Before this, Chen Hao would never have had the courage to talk to Jiang Weiwei like this.

Jiang Weiwei was really angry with Chen Hao’s tone.

“You! Oh wow, Chen Hao, you really don’t know how to be appreciative. I was just afraid that you would be cheated by MLM organizations. Do you know how MLM organizations deceive a person? First, they will paint a picture of your ideal life and then please you with various means. Your life is done once you are indulged in vanity!”

“Besides, as the president of our department, don’t I have the right to ask? If you really joined an MLM organization, it would smear our department’s name. You have to know that you are poor and short-sighted. You don’t know anything about the outside world!”

Listening to Jiang Weiwei’s gracious and satirized words, Chen Hao smiled bitterly and shook his head. “I’ve told you everything. The car really belongs to a friend of mine!”

“Okay! Let’s not talk about that for the moment. Let me ask you, what happened to the lottery you won last night? They said that you spent more than 150,000 last night. Didn’t you win 200,000? And you spent 150,000 in one breath…”

Jiang Weiwei asked.

“200,000? Who said I won 200,000? It’s just their guess. I only withdrew 200,000 in cash. Does it mean that I have just won 200,000?”

Chen Hao looked confident.

Looking at his expression, Jiang Weiwei’s heart itched with disconcertment.

Sure enough, it was just as I had guessed. To be able to spend 150,000 at a stretch, the lottery Chen Hao won must definitely be more than 200,000.

“How much is it?”

“It’s not convenient for me to tell you. In other words, it’s not too much! Well, President Jiang Weiwei, if there’s nothing else, please excuse me.”

Chen Hao acted like he didn’t care.

Jiang Weiwei was about to explode.

“Well, you are lucky to have won the lottery but how could you ever compare with the real rich people like Wang Yang?”

Jiang Weiwei stamped her feet angrily as she looked at Chen Hao’s attitude toward her.

Wang Yang was also from a rich family. He wasn’t really capable but in Jiang Weiwei’s eyes, this descendant from a rich family was much better than Chen Hao who won the lottery.

Honk!

An Audi A6 stopped in front of Jiang Weiwei.

When the window rolled down, Wang Yang’s well polished head came out.

“Weiwei, your face doesn’t look good, are you not feeling well? Or are you not willing to accompany me to get my Audi serviced?”

Wang Yang said softly.

“No, Wang Yang, I’m just a little depressed. My mind is all jumbled up now. I can’t explain why I feel depressed. W-Why am I depressed?”

Jiang Weiwei couldn’t express what she was feeling.

Looking at the unhappy Jiang Weiwei, Wang Yang knew his opportunity had come. He hurriedly comforted,

“Weiwei, get in the car first and tell me what happened. Maybe I can help you...”

Jiang Weiwei nodded her head.

Especially now, there were a lot of people at the school gate who were out to have fun. It fed her ego for being able to get in an Audi in public.

After she got into the car, the car stopped at the school gate. He wasn't going to drive away yet.

Jiang Weiwei told him about Chen Hao's matter.

He scoffed.

Wang Yang then sneered, “Weiwei, and here I was wondering what's the matter. Why are you still worried about this? So what if he had won the lottery? I got the news that Chen Hao has become a pauper again! Haha, I actually wanted to tell you about it today!”

Wang Yang lost his dignity when Chen Hao slapped him in the face last night with the high price room in the restaurant. He had also been preoccupied with Chen Hao winning the lottery.

Therefore, he had asked someone to inquire about it.

“What? Chen Hao is poor again? Who did you hear the news from? According to my student council officer from their class, Chen Hao won more than 200,000. Yesterday, Chen Hao had already spent up to 150,000!”

Jiang Weiwei asked in shock.

“Oh, it was only 200,000, and the consumption of 150,000 was because the kid was competing with his rival Lu Chen. They both split the bills. They competed with each other to see who could spend more money. As a result, Chen Hao stupidly spent all his 150,000. Of course, Lu Chen was also shamed last night! It can be said that neither side gained!”

“Ah! So that's the case. As I've expected, I don't think he's lucky enough to have won a few million too. But...” Jiang Weiwei paused for a while then she resumed again. “But Wang Yang, do you know that Chen Hao actually got off a Ferrari just now? That Ferrari is a global limited edition model. It's at least five or six million! When I asked him, he said it belongs to his friend!”

“Oh? Is there such a thing? Are you sure what you saw was the global limited edition Ferrari?”

"I clearly saw it!"

"Damn, how could it be? How does Chen Hao know someone with a Ferrari?"

Wang Yang also mumbled to himself.

They felt glum.

Because it seemed like Chen Hao's social connection was better than both of them added up together.

How is this possible?

No way! This can't be! □□□□□□□□□□□□□□
