

I Am Born With A Silver Spoon Chapter 94

“Chen Hao, you only know how to come during meal times. Where were you in the afternoon when our entire class was having the interview with Si Yu? Your loser attitude never changes, does it?”

One of the girls who was Han Siyu’s best friend chided.

Several girls started changing their perceptions of Chen Hao. When they saw him at the moment, all of them were smiling coldly.

How should we put this?

Some time ago, Chen Hao suddenly became rich—filthy rich—so of course he attracted the attention of many girls.

How nice would it be if they could get into a relationship with Chen Hao? Especially since Chen Hao was not ugly. He was pretty good looking, and they could buy lots of nice handbags if they got together with him.

However, following Han Siyu’s glorious transformation from a nobody into a famous internet celebrity earning big bucks, it gave the rest of the girls in her class some encouragement. She made everyone feel—So what if I’m a girl? If I am willing to work hard and find the correct path for myself, I could become rich too. I could get fame and money if I put my heart into it.

Therefore, many girls in her class came up with the idea of giving the SameCity Live Streaming app a go. It would be even better if they could land a contract!

“Forget it, bring him along. An extra headcount doesn’t really make much difference!”

Han Siyu pushed up her glasses. In the past when she spoke these disdainful words, she would spare Chen Hao a glance. But now, she did not even bother to look at him.

It was exactly at this moment that Meng Cairu and the rest of them arrived, including the 10 Audis.

The 10 Audis were lined up in a neat line and it was indeed a spectacular scene.

Many students looked enviously in their direction.

Even the owners of the Audi car took out their phones to take Han Siyu’s photo.

“Miss Meng, you can ride with me. The rest of the students can take your own seats in the car!”

Han Siyu tried to portray a good image as she said those words.

One after another, everybody got into their respective cars.

Yang Hui and his roommates had already found their seats.

Chen Hao saw that the last Audi was still empty, and he prepared to open the door to the co-driver seat.

“Stop! What do you think you are doing?”

From afar, Han Siyu's cold voice rang.

"I am getting into the car!"

Chen Hao said.

"Haha, that car is not for students. This car is going to pick up some of my good friends from the live streaming guild. You can sit in the other cars!" Han Siyu nearly smacked her own head. Why does this loser always cause so much trouble?

"There are no other cars. I can see that there's an empty space in the co-driver seat of your car, can I take a seat there then?"

Chen Hao asked. Did she really want me to walk all the way there?

"Ugh, what are you thinking, Chen Hao? How dare you sit in the same car with me?"

Han Siyu wanted to give Chen Hao a slap in the face there and then. Did he know what her status was now? How could she be seen together with this ugly loser?

"Siyu, what's wrong? Let's leave now."

At this moment, Meng Cairu got down from the car.

"Hmph, it's all because of Chen Hao. Sigh, just call a cab. I didn't include him in the list originally, hence I only asked for 10 cars. Now look what happened, I have to use a car to fetch my good friends and he has nowhere to sit!"

Han Siyu stated coldly.

Meng Cairu looked at Chen Hao in disgust. How superfluous he was!

At that moment, she impatiently said, "Chen Hao, why not catch a cab yourself? At most, I will pay for your expenses. Ok, ok, Siyu, let's go now!"

Meng Cairu shouted for Han Siyu to leave quickly.

Why was she in a hurry to ask Han Siyu to leave?

Because Meng Cairu just thought of a topic that involved a certain someone to chat with Han Siyu and she was eager to do so.

Chen Hao did not want Yang Hui and the rest of them to wait up on him. He told them that he would catch a cab himself, and he even borrowed Yang Hui's powerbank.

The moment the fleet of cars left, Chen Hao flipped open his phone.

He decided to look at his WeChat messages. He even had a new WeChat ID.

His inbox was full of Han Siyu's messages.

And in it were her pictures.

“Ordinary guy, I’m sending you my best photos, ok?”

“Ordinary guy, are you there? Don’t you think that I’m pretty?” The text was followed by a pouting Emoji.

Chen Hao was speechless.

There were just too many messages and below them were some pictures of her.

Some of them were pictures of her slender legs and to be honest, the pictures were quite explicit.

The pictures caused Chen Hao’s heart to thump wildly.

“Am I beautiful, Ordinary Guy?”

“Still alright I guess. The pictures are just too ordinary. It’s not exciting enough! Haha.”

It seemed that Chen Hao was still angry with Han Siyu. Thus, he sent the messages hinting her that he wanted something more explicit.

Unexpectedly, Han Siyu who left just now answered him within a few seconds. “You’re so naughty, Ordinary Guy! Wait till I am free, I will send you some pictures that would definitely satisfy you.”

Her words made Chen Hao horny.

At this moment, Meng Cairu sent him a message as well.

“Ordinary Guy, what are you doing? Today, our entire class is attending a celebratory party for your beloved Han Siyu. Haha, you have made her famous. Hence, you should be today’s main character! By the way, do you like Han Siyu? Why don’t you pursue her?”

Meng Cairu secretly sent him this message.

To be honest, her jealousy was apparent. Unbeknownst to her, Meng Cairu had created an image of her ideal boyfriend modeled after Ordinary Guy, although she had never seen him before.

“I couldn’t make it in time. My ride hasn’t arrived yet!”

This was mind numbing. Why did he always have to be their target?

Chen Hao replied in anger. His ride really hadn’t arrived yet.

“Hahaha, Ordinary Guy, with your wealth, I am sure that buying a car is not a problem for you!”

Meng Cairu answered back.

Obviously, she misunderstood his meaning. She thought that he didn’t own a car when he said that he was waiting for his ride.

At this moment, the cab arrived. Chen Hao typed in a few more sentences casually and ended both of their conversations. The only thing that piqued his interest now was the explicit photos that Han Siyu promised to take for him.

He would take a good look at it when he was free.

Chen Hao had arrived at the Homecook Kitchen Restaurant just as he put away his phone.

The fleet of Audis were parked in front of the Homecook Kitchen Restaurant's main entrance. You could see how proud Han Siyu was.

"You! How could you be so clumsy?! If you can't deliver, get out of my sight as soon as possible. Look at you, I have seen my fair share of part-timers and I have never seen such a klutz like you. Get out of my sight! In addition to that, leave behind 1,000 to compensate for this Steamed Abalone with Shark Fin and Fish Maw dish!"

Chen Hao was about to go upstairs when he saw a young woman dragging another girl who was dressed like a waitress outside.

"Manager, I am so sorry. I had an injury on my arm hence I could not hold it properly!"

"Hmph, I don't care whether you are injured or not. Do you know who Miss Han Siyu is? She is our Homecook Kitchen Restaurant's VVIP customer. Luckily you dropped the Steamed Abalone with Shark Fin and Fish Maw on the floor and did not burn Miss Han Siyu. Or else, you could not possibly bear the consequences even if I were to skin you alive!"

The female manager continued to jab the girl's forehead violently.

The girl could only lower her head and listen. She dared not dodge the blows.

Maybe it was due to Chen Hao's position, but from his angle, the girl had snow-white skin while a few strands of hair were untucked. One look and you would feel some pity for her.

Obviously the female manager had been replaced by another person.

And Chen Hao knew the person who had replaced her.

"Zheng Yue, why are you yelling?"

Chen Hao did not expect Zheng Yue to become the manager of Homecook Kitchen Restaurant.

"Huh?"

When Zheng Yue heard the voice behind her, her entire body shuddered.

She looked like a fish that had been in a shallow pond all these while and suddenly saw a huge body of water approaching.

Or like a dried out farmland welcoming the approaching storm with a delighted heart.

“Young Master Chen?”

Zheng Yue was so moved that she nearly cried.

“Why are you shouting? Are you afraid that nobody can hear you?” Chen Hao asked casually.

“Oh! I daren’t do that anymore, Young Master Chen. I only shouted because I was so touched to see you!” Ever since that incident last time where Zheng Yue caused Xu Chao and the rest of them to misunderstand that Chen Hao was her boyfriend, she had been warned by Li Zhenguo when he caught wind of it. If Young Master Chen did not agree to it, she could never contact him ever again in order to preserve his peaceful life.

Of course, Zheng Yue obeyed his commands dutifully.

Actually, Chen Hao did not hate his senior, Zheng Yue. On the contrary, he treated her as a half-friend since she had expressed her goodwill on several occasions.

At that moment, he smiled bitterly and said, “By the way Zheng Yue, why are you the manager of Homecook Kitchen Restaurant? You’re not working in the Villa anymore?”

“Huh? Young Master Chen, did you not know that the Jin Ling Commercial Street’s management was changed? It seemed like something big had happened. General Manager Li, Li Zhenguo was replaced and the board of management of the Commercial Street is undergoing a reshuffling process!”

Chen Hao was surprised.

“They are undergoing a reshuffling?”

Chen Hao was stunned. He knew that this was all his sister’s idea.

But what was she thinking? ?????