Chapter 11: CHAPTER NINE-only the royal families has special abilities

Ashley

"Alpha" she said suddenly bowing her head to him.

i was surprised by her action and widen my eyes. wait a minute my eyes were opened but i remember closing them before, when did i open them without me realizing it. ok hold on, that's not important, how did she know what I'm thinking can she hear my thought? but how?.

i widen my eyes more as i realized she just greeted Prince Zeid. can she see him? can he see her? but how is that possible. Am i going crazy here? no I'm not crazy that I'm sure i slowly turn my head to look at the Prince to confirm my thoughts. seeing his shocked expression and his train of sight that was definitely wasn't looking at me but pass me, confirmed my thoughts that they can see each other.

"you can see her?" Still i asked him to confirm it fully.

That was when he finally looked at me with questions written all over his face.

"what's going on here" he asked me confused.

i turn to look at the Air woman 'since i don't know her name I've decided to call her that for now' for explanation.

"Alpha, Luna, firstly my name is Hera. I'm the Queen of Heaven and goddess of Air and Starry constellations. I volunteered to be of Assistance to you, Luna, whenever you are in need of my help.

To answer the questions you have in mind, yes Luna , the Alpha can see me and i him only when you are in close proximity with him. same goes to your other abilities, he can only be able to access them whenever you use them once he is in a close proximity with him." she explains making me understand on how he was able to see her. But is it possible that i can control the access he has to them? i ask myself.

"yes Luna you have the capability to restrain the access he has to them but right now you are yet to master how to control your powers and abilities. and yes i can hear your thoughts because we became one the moment i volunteered to assist you in your quest." She explains. "Alpha, the Luna has been gifted with special several abilities if not all that will be discovered by her as time goes on now that you've both found each other." She continues.

"One of the abilities is her seeing things in a spiritual realm that no one else can see including you. You have the ability to do so because she's currently doing so and also because she's yet to know how to control her abilities. So in the days to come till she masters her abilities you will be experiencing most of what she's experiencing so have that in mind". She concludes bowing her head to us.

i take a peek at the Prince to gauge his expression and saw that he was trying to come to terms with all what he was hearing but still has lots of unanswered questions written on his face but chose to keep quiet and gave Hera a nod of understanding at what she just said.

he started the car back after Hera was done talking to us and disappeared. That was when i noticed the car has been stopped at one time. I looked around to notice that the cars following us were packed around us leaving our own to be in the middle had started to move also.

when my gamma Rye walked to my mate, i could see from her expression the surprise of us being able to find her. i snickered, does she think that i wouldn't be able to find her on this planet no matter where she runs to. well if that's the case, she's got a big surprise coming her way. As i look at the both of them talking, i suddenly could hear what they were discussing. Surprised, i looked beside me at my brother to see if he could hear them and saw his attention was on his phone meaning he can't hear them. I looked at them again, and i could still hear what they were saying as though they were beside me. Yes i can hear people from a certain distance if i put effort into it but it would still be slightly vague not as clear as this.

"You wouldn't know until you talk with him" i hear Rye say to her question.

"What if I refuse to" she ask crossing her hands, i raised my eyebrows at her question

"Then you won't like what happens next" Rye replied her as though he knows my mind.

She looks toward me and saw me looking at her with a challenging look as though to tell her to try me and see what happens. which i think she got right because she walked to where i was seated.

she got me pissed with the way she greeted and addressed me that i lost all patience of trying to talk to her that i got up, grabbed her hand and walked out of the restaurant to my car that was parked at the entrance of the restaurant.

Even when she tried talking to me, my answer to her were vague enough because i didn't want to talk to her at the moment so i wouldn't lose control.

my attention was finally drawn to her when i suddenly heard her talking again but not to me this time around.

i peeked at her to know what is going on when i saw her talking to a woman flowing beside the window. shocked, i lost control of the steering wheel before quickly gaining control of it back. i parked the car and turned to see that she was fully immersed in her discussion with the woman that she didn't know what just happened.

The woman turned to me abruptly to acknowledge my presence which was a shock to my mate because she wasn't expecting her to see me which is a surprise to me because as far as i could remember only the royal families has special abilities.

"what's going on here" i asked my mate in which she turn to look at the woman for explanations to which she explained.
