

Skeletons 300

Chapter 300

He knew that there was a huge rift between the two of them. It would take a long time and a lot of patience to repair it.

He could not rush things.

For the moment, he was already happy that he could see her every day.

Gale ignored him.

She had yet to figure out how she would interact with Shawn, even though she just wanted to leave.

However, he would not let her go.

In the dining room, the table was filled with a luxurious breakfast. There were various cuisines, and the servants were waiting on them by the side. The whole meal was eaten through silence.

“From now on, I’ll send you to and from work. There’s plenty of space in the car,” Shawn said.

Gale rejected Shawn decisively, “No, I can just take public transport.”

The housekeeper let out a cough. Gale really did not give Shawn any leeway.

However, Shawn acted like nothing had happened, not making a sound as he silently agreed.

He could not just kidnap Gale into the car after all.

Gale felt that way as well, so she took her bag and left after breakfast, hurrying to the station.

As she walked, she realized that something was off.

When she walked, people would stare at her after they looked behind her.

Gale turned around to see Shawn driving a red Ferrari. It was flamboyant and eye-catching. He slowly followed fifty meters behind her. 1

She was taken aback.

Shawn was in the driver’s seat, casually driving the car. His hand was on the steering wheel, and he had sunglasses on.

He looked very cool.

“Crazy,” Gale uttered. After that, she sped up her pace to try and get rid of him.

In the end, he would speed up whenever she did and would slow down whenever she did as well.

He was basically following her the whole way!

Gale lowered her head to use her phone at the station.

A few girls who were going to school whispered amongst themselves.

“Wow, how cool!”

“Why does he keep looking this way?”

“Quick, I want a picture.”

“He’s smiling! Wow, is he waiting for someone? This car is super cool.”

Gale remained silent.

She had to forcefully stop herself from looking at Shawn. She kept staring at her phone until the bus was there.

She got in and swiped her card.

The girls got even more excited. “That Ferrari is still following us!”

“It is. It’s still behind us!”

“Is he following his girlfriend? Did they have a fight?”

Gale was rendered speechless again.

Once she got to her stop, she could no longer stand it. She hurried over to the Ferrari and knocked on the door.

Shawn smiled at her. “I knew you’d come to me.”

Gale was silent.

He said, “Get in the car. It’s still a distance away from the company.”

Gale asked, “Are you bored? Shawn, when did you become so free?”

“I’m just going to work normally.”

Gale stared at him. “Don’t think I don’t know that you’ve been following the bus the whole way.”

“Oh, you saw me.”

“Is it that interesting?”

Shawn pulled his sunglasses down, answering plainly, “It’s not bad. If you were to sit in the passenger’s seat, then it would be even more interesting.”

Gale turned around and left in a huff.

She could hear his voice behind her. “I’ll follow you until the day you’re willing to get in my car.”

Gale did not even bother looking back.

There would be a Ferrari following her to and from work every day...

Shawn was crazy!

Shawn was preparing to fight a long war!

Gale arrived at the company, and Summer was at her seat. "Where did you go yesterday? I couldn't find you anywhere."

"I went to the nursing home."

"Is your mother awake?"

"Not yet. But the doctor said she's quite stable," Gale answered.

Summer nodded and answered, "That's good. I've been trying to call you the whole day, but you never answered. I was so worried."