

Slumdog 15

Chapter 15 Threat

Holding the glass, Gerald sipped and waited for Audrey.

Not long after, a waiter came over and asked, "Are you Mr. Kenneth?"

Gerald nodded. "Yes."

"Here is the thing. Ms. Bender wants to see you," the waiter said with a smile.

Gerald was a little surprised. He didn't expect that Keira was also there. He looked around but didn't see her.

"Ms. Bender is in a box on the second floor." The waitress explained.

Gerald nodded and said, "Okay, lead the way!"

The waiter took Gerald to the second floor and then pushed open a box. Gerald walked in and frowned slightly.

The room was quiet. There were many people inside. The moment Gerald walked in, the door was closed. At the same time, two burly men stood at the door with their hands clasped behind their backs.

Gerald raised his eyebrows slightly and looked around. He didn't find Keira in the box, but he saw Irene and the other three people. He was not familiar with the others at all!

A young man with a cool hairstyle was sitting inside. With a cigarette, he looked at Gerald and said, "Matthew, is he Keira's boyfriend? I wanted to beat you up a long time ago. If you lie to me..."

"Why should I lie to you? Adriel also saw him yesterday. You didn't go to the party held by Mr. Herman yesterday. At that time, Keira brought him there and announced in public that he was her boyfriend. If you don't believe me, you can ask Adriel!" Matthew said flatly, sitting on the sofa.

The young man with a cool hairstyle was the one who was in charge of the bar now. He was Decker. He looked at Gerald and said, "Have a seat!"

Gerald chuckled in his heart. He looked at Irene and Adriel beside him and sat down on the sofa.

"Wow." Decker stood up and walked up to Gerald. "If they hadn't told me, I would never believe that Keira would fall in love with someone like you. There are two things. First, call Keira to break up. Second, I heard from them that Keira has held your arm!"

Then, Decker took a steel pipe from the coffee table and threw it in front of Gerald. He said, "Which arm? Break it yourself. Otherwise, you can't get out of here!"

As soon as he finished speaking, Matthew and Adriel smiled gloatingly.

As for Angeline and Irene, their faces changed dramatically!

They were here to see Gerald get beaten up.

They had thought that Gerald would be beaten up at most.

However, they never expected that Decker would want to break his arm.

No matter what, they didn't know these young rich guys for long. Sometimes, rich people could really do whatever they wanted.

"This... This is too much." Irene's face changed slightly.

Adriel pulled her back and said in a low voice, "It's none of your business!"

However, Matthew said, "Decker, I think one is not enough. You can do whatever you want. Just keep him alive. By then, I will pay half of the medical fees!"

Gerald still sat there calmly with a slight sneer on his face.

"What? You don't understand?" Decker sneered.

At this time, several people around came up at once. Decker sneered and said, "If you wait for me to make a move later, I'm afraid that you won't just lose one arm."

Looking at these people, Gerald sighed in his heart, I thought the first time I fought after I regained my memory was to deal with the people of Blood Lotus. I didn't expect that I would deal with such a group of hooligans.

On the first floor, Audrey came in with a girl in a sexy outfit. As soon as they entered, the girl looked at the empty seat and asked, "Who do you want me to get him drunk?"

Audrey was also stunned. She looked around and didn't find Gerald. Then she called a waiter and asked, "Where is the person sitting here before?"

"He? He seems to be taken to the second floor by our boss," the waiter said.

Audrey frowned and asked, "Is there anything your boss wants to talk to him about?"

The waiter looked at Audrey's beautiful face and said proudly, "Nothing serious. I guess he has offended our boss. He might stay in the hospital for a long time after tonight. Gorgeous, let me tell you something. Just leave now. Don't make our boss get angry with you later."

Audrey's face changed. "What?"

Then she took out her phone and walked to a relatively quiet place. "Dad, something happened. Gerald was taken away by the boss of Radiance Bar. The waiter said that he had offended his boss."

"Yes, it's Gideon's Radiance Bar!" Audrey said.

She quickly hung up the phone, with a trace of anxiety on her face.

She was curious about Gerald and brought Gerald to the bar. Obviously, her father respected Gerald. If something really happened to Gerald, she didn't know how to explain it.

In the box on the second floor, Decker saw that Gerald didn't move. A cold expression flashed across his face.

Suddenly, he grabbed a steel pipe, stood up, and walked toward Gerald!

Adriel sneered and said, "Decker, don't spare him. This loser is my girlfriend's ex-husband, and now he's with Keira.

Beat him up! Let him know what he should do and what he shouldn't do!"

Matthew also laughed and said, "As I said, as long as you don't kill him, I'll pay half of the medical fees!"

Decker held the steel pipe and tilted his neck, grinning hideously.

At this time, his phone rang. He took a look at it and quickly answered it. "Uncle, I'm in the bar. What's up?"

After a while, his face suddenly changed, and he said, "Really?"

Then, a voice of abuse came through the phone. "Apologize now. If he's not satisfied, don't fucking work in my bar. Get out of Los Angeles!"

Then Gideon hung up the phone.

Matthew and the others didn't hear what Gideon said.

They just saw Decker's face darken when he hung up the phone.

Obviously, Decker was in a bad mood because of the phone call. They knew Decker well. If he was in a bad mood, Gerald would probably be beaten more miserably. The smiles on the two people's faces became wider.

Decker heaved a sigh. He suddenly turned around, walked up to Matthew and Adriel, and raised his hand!

"Clap!"

"Clap!"

Two slaps!

Matthew and Adriel were stunned. Before they came to their senses, Decker ran to Gerald and pushed away the people surrounding him. When everyone was stunned, Decker suddenly knelt on the ground.
