Chapter 19 Valery's Plan

Gerald was unwilling to argue with this shrew. He ignored her and turned to leave.

When he arrived at a breakfast shop, he asked for a cup of coffee and bread. He looked through his phone and ate.

"I know you will be here."

Gerald looked up and found Trevon sitting in front of him, looking at him speechlessly.

Gerald often came to this shop, so he was not surprised that Trevon could find him.

"Why do you come here instead of going to work?" Gerald asked in surprise.

"If you don't tell me what is going on, I won't go to work. When I saw that our new boss's name was Gerald, I was stunned. Tell me what is going on. Also, the things that happened to Simeon are caused by you, right?" Trevon mumbled.

Simeon was his foreman. Since the last time Gerald let Keira deal with Simeon, Gerald no longer paid attention to Simeon.

"What happened to him?" Gerald asked.

"Don't you know? Several real estate companies are going to sue him. The compensation is a large amount of money." Trevon grabbed a piece of bread and stuffed it into his mouth. Then he added, "Yesterday, Simeon called me and asked me to talk to you."

Trevon did not seem to be awkward with the change in Gerald's identity. They were still friends.

"He deserves it. And the project he contracted indeed has some problems. This is undeniable. He can only blame himself," Gerald said calmly.

Trevon curled his lips and said, "I didn't come to find you for this. I am asking you what happened. How did you suddenly become the boss of Glory World?"

Gerald let out a breath. He felt that he didn't need to lie to Trevon.

"I can't remember everything that happened three years ago. You know about this, right?" Gerald said.

"Yes." Trevon nodded and added, "And then?"

"Actually,

I am a very rich person. Suddenly, I recovered my memory and found the bank card. I checked it and fou nd that there was a lot of money in it. In order to make Irene and her family regret it, I bought Glory World and deliberately let Vivian find out that I am rich," Gerald explained simply.

As for the Watchman, he naturally could not tell Trevon.

"You're taking revenge." Trevon's eyes lit up.

Gerald smiled and said, "I thought so before, but now, my hatred for them is not so deep."

After recovering

his memory, his vision had indeed changed a lot. He did not belong here in the first place.

In any case, Irene's father saved Gerald's life. That house was nothing to Gerald now. He could just treat it as a repayment of gratitude.

Of course, Gerald could not completely forget the grievances he had suffered in the past three years. No matter what, it was necessary to teach Irene and her mother a lesson.

"You should go to work. Although I am the boss, it is not good for you to skip work all the time. Moreover, you have to learn something from here. Although I will not expel you, it's not good if you're criticized by others," Gerald said.

"I know, but I have taken a day off today. The company directly paid me a salary of 80 thousand dollars yesterday. I can't wait. I have already sent Liam to the hospital for surgery yesterday. Today, I ran out to find you when he was asleep," Trevon said.

Gerald nodded and said, "Alright, I'll go with you to see Liam later!"

At the same time, at the entrance of Glory World, a bald middle-aged man in a suit was holding a briefcase and a bottle of good wine in both hands. He was wandering anxiously at the door.

Soon, a beautiful woman ran over. When she saw the middle-aged man, she asked in surprise, "Mr. Bennett, why did you come to find me?"

The person in front of her was Mike Bennett, Irene's uncle, Mary's brother.

When Mike saw Vivian, he smiled and quickly said, "Vivian, here's the thing. I originally wanted to see Mr. Slater. Previously, Glory World had always been in charge of transporting our company's goods. Yesterday, Mr. Slater suddenly told me that we will terminate the cooperation. I went to look for other logistics companies. But their prices are too high."

Vivian's expression changed slightly.

She suddenly remembered what Gerald said to them at the door when Gerald got divorced that day. He said, "You will regret it.”

And now, Gerald had become Vivian’s boss, and the company had stopped working with Mike!

Vivian didn’t know exactly what was going on, but she knew that Gerald was completely different from the person she had known.

Vivian smiled bitterly and said, “I can’t help you with this matter. I’m just an ordinary employee of the company.”

“I met Mr. Slater at the door just now, but he didn’t want to talk to me. I am thinking about whether you can take me to the company. I’ll go find Mr. Slater,” Mike said.

Vivian let out a breath and looked at Mike. “Mr. Bennett, although I don’t know what’s going on, this is indeed the truth. Mr. Slater is no longer our boss. Our new boss... is Gerald!”

“Gerald? Which Gerald?” Mike asked.

Vivian smiled bitterly, “Who else could it be? Irene’s ex-husband.”

Mike’s expression suddenly changed. He couldn’t believe it.

Vivian said, “Why don’t you go find Irene and her mom? But I don’t think it will work. We treated Gerald so rudely before.”

“He is taking revenge on us!” Mike said with a pale face.

In fact, this matter had nothing to do with Gerald.

Yesterday, Gerald told Bradley to take care of Glory World. Then, Bradley immediately called Tyrone to talk about cooperation.

When Tyrone received the phone call, he was so scared that he wet his pants. Bradley was the richest man in Los Angeles!

Bradley has lots of business. After receiving this news, Tyrone quickly made a judgment and directly stopped some of the less important businesses, leaving the resources to cooperate with Bradley.

Mike was one of the less important ones!

“To be honest, I am also in a mess right now.” Vivian’s beautiful face was full of worry as she said, “I’m working for the company now, but I feel like I might lose my job any moment!”

After eating with Trevon, Gerald went to the hospital with him to see Liam. And then Gerald said goodbye to Trevon and took a taxi back home!

Now, he didn’t need to work in the factory anymore. And he was the boss of Glory World. Valery hadn’t arranged any mission for him for the time being. Gerald did feel a bit bored.

When he returned home, it was already noon. Valery and Macy had finished cooking. When Gerald returned, Valery glanced at him and said, "You are quite free."

Gerald chuckled and said, "I have nothing to do, and I haven't returned to Night Watch. There is nothing for me to do."

Valery rolled her eyes at Gerald and said, "You don't need to go back to Night Watch."

"Huh?" Gerald asked in surprise, "What do you mean?"

"You disappeared for three years. I just called the boss. This is also his intention. In these three years, whether it is the Night Watch or other people, they all think that you have completely disappeared. So you don't need to be exposed for the time being. In this city, it is easier for you to cooperate with us as a spy to carry out some tasks," Valery said.

Gerald's eyes lit up. "That's true. I will have more freedom!"

"What about you guys? How's the mission?" Gerald asked.

Valery said, "It's being carried out according to the plan. It's time to get you something to do."

Beside him, Macy was eating when she suddenly coughed.

Gerald didn't care about it too much. His eyes lit up, and he said, "Have you found their people?"

Valery replied, "No. But we know their goal is to kidnap or kill Audrey to force Bradley to join their organization. You know, Bradley knows our existence. When we first arrived, we had already talked to Bradley. The most important thing now is to ensure Audrey's safety."

Gerald asked, "So?"

"So we need to send someone who isn't known by Blood Lotus to protect Audrey." Valery took a bite of the food and said calmly.

"So do you want me to be Audrey's bodyguard?" Gerald asked in surprise.

He would not refuse this kind of mission. In the past, when he was on a mission, he did many things like going to be a bodyguard.

"Not a bodyguard. If we send a bodyguard, it's too obvious." Valery added, "They will probably guess that you're our people, so they will choose to attack when you're not with her."

At this point, Valery looked at Gerald and said, "You have disappeared for three years. In Los Angeles, you are just an ordinary person. So no one will think too much about you appearing by Audrey's side now. Moreover, you will be her husband..."

“Wait...” Gerald felt that something was wrong. He quickly said, “What did you say?”

“I said that you’ll be her husband!” Then Valery added calmly, “I told you before that after we arrived in Los Angeles, we had already communicated with Bradley. So he organized such a gathering and announced that anyone could pursue Audrey. In the end, you will win and marry Audrey! You become the son-in-law of the Herman family.”

As she spoke, she looked at Gerald, whose eyes widened, and said, “In this way, you can be with Audrey, and even sleep in the same bed as her. You can completely protect her everywhere!”

“I am not that ordinary now. I bought a company. My photo is still posted on that company!” Gerald rubbed his head and said.

“That’s good. This company is a gift from Bradley!” Valery said in a calm tone.

Gerald frowned, this way, all people would think that Gerald was really a freeloader!
