Chapter 321 Arrive

Gerald opened his eyes. He looked around and found that it was in the morning at this place!

When they set off, it was almost morning, but when they woke up, it was still early in the morning! The sun slowly rose above sea level. Valery frowned and asked, "Parachute?"

Gerald nodded and said, "Yes, try to parachute to places with no one around. If we land in the city, we may be targeted by many people in an instant. In Sin City, it is not a good thing to be famous. It better to keep a low profile!"

"Bah!" Kristen said from the side. "Boss, how could you say such words?"

Gerald coughed drily and said, "In short, choose a more remote beach to parachute."

"Down here!" Theo pointed at the island. Then he began to carry his luggage!

Gerald also began to wear his suit.

He only had one backpack. Of course, they did not use Watchmen's backpacks because those backpacks were too eye-catching.

In other cities, Watchmen might be very popular, but in Sin City, Watchmen might not have a good ending.

"Get ready and parachute!" Gerald said. "Theo, use your Vital Energy to control our landing point!"

"Okay!" Theo said with a chuckle.

Logically speaking, this matter should be done by Gerald, but at that moment, Gerald did not have any Vital Energy in his body, so he could only leave it to Theo.

"Whoosh!"

As they spoke, all of them jumped down from the sky!

Behind them, the voice of the airline stewardess sounded, "Everyone, you must return safely!"

"When I come back, will you marry me?" Theo shouted.

Of course, no one responded to him.

The wind whistled in Gerald's ear, and he was falling.

Seeing that he was getting closer and closer to land, he shouted, "Get ready to land!"

Parachuting was a compulsory course for the Watchmen, and almost every Watchman was an expert in parachuting.

A total of five parachutes appeared in the sky. Theo controlled the parachute and slowly approached the beach!

Soon, six people accurately landed on the ground.

Gerald adjusted his clothes, took the parachute off his back, and stretched himself. He looked at the others and said, "Are you all here?"

"Yes, yes!" Theo leaned over.

Gerald let out a breath. He packed his Void-breaking and Nameless. He put them on his back. The others were the same, but most of them only carried one blade.

Gerald carried two blades, a long one and a short one. It was also a symbol of Watchmen.

Kristen and Theo both carried one blade. As for Claude, he didn't even bring a blade. He only carried a sniper rifle on his back.

In the case that Gerald hadn't recovered his Vital Energy, Claude's sniper rifle was the only thing that could kill super experts.

Claude was also the strongest soldier on this team now!

After everyone had finished packing, Gerald let out a breath and said, "Let's go!"

At that time, Valery took out a map from her backpack. This was a map of Sin City. It was very large and was marked in great detail. For example, some landmarks, nearby villages, and towns were all shown on the map.

"We are now in the south of this island. It seems to be a few hundred miles away from Sin City. Shall we walk there?" asked Valery.

"Dr. Manning, just follow us," said Claude with a smile.

Valery was stunned. In fact, she didn't like the feeling of not knowing much, but she didn't like asking questions either.

Since Gerald and the others wanted to keep her in suspense, she decided to let it go.

Gerald looked at the map, then chose a road. After walking for about half an hour, they stopped at the roadside.

"What do we do next?" Valery asked.

"Rob a truck!" Theo smiled and said, "When we see a truck pass by later, we just kick the people out and leave them on the roadside. We rob a truck and drive to Sin City."

Valery frowned and said, "What?"

This is the survival rule of Sin City. You don't need to buy houses here. If the houses on the road are empty, you can move in. Of course, if you fancy any good houses, as long as you are tougher than others, you can drive them away," Theo said with a smile.

Valery was stunned. She didn't expect that this place would be like this.

Theo smiled and said, "Of course, the people living in those luxurious houses are more powerful. The people are bandits in Sin City."

"Okay, I'll see how you guys rob a truck." Valery smiled.

Then they waited on the roadside.

They waited in the wind for about an hour. Something that made them a little embarrassed happened. They didn't encounter a truck.

"Damn it! It seems that we are too remote. There are no trucks passing by!" Theo couldn't help but scratch his head in embarrassment.

Indeed, the place where they landed was almost the edge of the island. It was also quite far away from Sin City.

A truck suddenly appeared.

While they were talking, they saw a truck not far away. It slowly drove toward them.

"Is it a truck?" Claude asked.

"Rob it! Why not?" Theo sneered, "Damn it, there are no good people in Sin City. I will stop the truck later. If they don't stop the truck, I will go up and force the truck to stop!"

The truck was getting closer and closer. Soon, it was close to them.

Theo took the initiative to reach out his hand and wave at it.

Breaks sounded.

At that time, the truck stopped in front of them.

Then a head poked out from the truck.

He was dressed very plainly, and there was a lot of mud on his head. In the front passenger's seat sat a middle-aged woman. She was holding a child whose body was covered in mud. The little girl was a little tanned, and her hair was yellow. It seemed that she was not healthy, but the girl had a smile on her face. She blinked at Gerald and the others.

The middle-aged man looked at Gerald and the others. When his eyes fell on their clothes, he frowned slightly and asked, "Are you just exiled to this place?"

Gerald nodded.

“Newcomers!” In the front passenger’s seat, the middle aged woman showed a trace of kindness on her face and said, “They have just arrived on the island. Take them with us. If they go to the city by themselves, they may be hurt by others.”

“They all have weapons.” The middle-aged man frowned.

“Sir, don’t worry. We mean no harm!” At that time, Valery said, “Can you bring us to Sin City? We promise not to cause you any trouble.”

Valery was still thinking in the way that she thought outside!

The middle-aged man thought for a moment, then gritted his teeth and said, “Alright, but let me tell you something. I’m skilled. You better not have any bad ideas.”

“We won’t!” Valery said.

Meanwhile, the middle-aged man got out of the truck, walked to the back of the truck, and opened the trunk, which was full of vegetables.

“We use this truck to carry vegetables. There are not many places to sit. Suit yourselves. Remember not to break the vegetables,” the middle-aged man said.

Gerald and the others nodded!

They climbed into the truck and found a place to sit!

The middle-aged man closed the trunk, returned to the front of the truck, and started the truck again.

“I feel that this place is not as scary as you said. This driver looks quite kind,” Valery pursed her lips and said.

Gerald and the others were also stunned. What happened just now was indeed somewhat different from what might happen in Sin City.

Theo pursed his lips and said, “Dr. Manning, stay alarmed. It’s common to act weak to hunt the strong here. We are new here. It may be a trap, and we may lose everything. I promise that this family will trick us later!”

Chapter 322 There Are Still Good People

The truck was moving forward on the road.

Its speed was not fast. The road seemed to have not been repaired, and it was a little bumpy.

However, it was fine for Gerald and the others.

As Watchmen, they had stayed in many harsh environments during their missions. The current one was just a piece of cake.

They chatted but suddenly stopped talking at the same time. A conversation could be heard.

“Hey, these people should be new here. They should be different from other people. If we leave them alone in Sin City, it might be very difficult for them to survive. They also have two girls. The girl who spoke to us is so sweet...” the middle-aged woman said.

“What can we do? Don’t be too nosy.” The middle-aged man’s voice sounded. “In this damn place, it is difficult for us to even support ourselves. There are five of them. Don’t be so kind. Haven’t you suffered enough? Those people are armed. Do you know why they were exiled? Do you think they are good people?”

“They look like good people.” The middle-aged woman’s voice sounded. “Our house has two floors. We can clean up the upper floor for them to live in. It will be livelier with more people. It will also be safer...”

“Don’t be so kind!” The middle-aged man said, “At most, let them have lunch and tell them about the rules of survival in this place. As for the rest, let them be. I’ve told you many times that you should just mind your own business!”

The middle-aged woman sighed.

Next to her, the little girl said, “Dad, I want to be friends with that beautiful lady!”

Behind them, hearing their conversation, Gerald and the others were silent.

There were no good people in Sin City. This was their understanding of this city.

The people there would not take the initiative to help others apart from their teammates.

Most people were very cold toward strangers!

The conversation between the couple stunned them.

Of course, Gerald did not think that they deliberately said it for him to hear. The noise of this truck was very loud. People who were not at the top level could not be able to hear their conversation clearly.

If this middle-aged man recognized that his group members were at the top level, he would definitely not dare to let them get in his truck unless he was very powerful!

But if he was very powerful, he did not need to rely on transporting vegetables to make a living! “Damn it!” Theo cursed. “There are still good people in Sin City!”

“Pretend that you didn’t hear anything and observe them later!” Gerald exhaled and said, “If they are indeed kind people, we will find a way to live in their house and... give them a hand when they are in need!”

The others also nodded.

The truck slowly moved forward. It was very slow. After more than four hours, they finally approached Sin City. From afar, they saw the outline of the city.

Then, the truck drove into Sin City!

The five of them sat in the back and sized up the city.

The buildings in the city were not very tall, and the tallest only had about a dozen stories.

Most of them had only two or three stories, but the buildings were quite dense.

There were very few pedestrians on the streets. The pedestrians were all holding weapons in their hands.

Valery looked at it for a while before slowly letting out a breath. "So, this is Sin City, right?"

Gerald nodded and explained, "Yes. Sin City has five districts. The Eastern District, the Western District, the Southern District, the Northern District, and the Central District! Most people would not go to the Central District, nor would they provoke it."

Gerald continued, "This place actually looks no different from the outside world. There are bars, karaoke, casinos, supermarkets... But how should I put it? These places are all run by powerful if someone people. To put it simply, laws don't really work here. There are only a few rules set up. breaks the rules, the people of the person in the Central District would act. They are also the only law-enforcement officers in Sin City. You can do whatever you want as long as you don't break the rules.

"For example, this truck driver should belong to the lowest level in Sin City, and the place he lives is probably the edge of the city. His life is quite difficult, but in order to survive, they can only bite the bullet. They may not have committed any crimes, but their predecessors might have. People can enter this place but can't leave. His children can only live in this place for a lifetime," Gerald said.

"This kind of place should not exist." Valery did not like this kind of environment. She felt that in modern society, such a place should not exist!

Gerald smiled and said, "This place is a paradise for those in the underground world. Have you thought about this? If this place disappears, many people in the underground world will live in the city we live in. Most of these people are criminals. What kind of consequences will they cause? Can Watchmen deal with everything?"

Valery was stunned and then sighed.

At this time, Kristen frowned and said, "We seem to be heading toward the Eastern District!"

When the truck drove through the city, people would notice it sometimes. When they saw Gerald and the others sitting in the truck, they would reveal some disdain.

The truck passed through the city and moved toward the edge. Most people living at the edge of the city were at the bottom level in Sin City. Of course, they still had places to live, but their places might not be that good.

The truck finally stopped in front of a small building. Gerald looked at it. This small building had two floors, but it was not well-renovated.

There were also some people around. The population was quite dense. However, they became not so friendly when they saw Gerald and the others. It was a bit strange!

When they saw Valery, someone even whistled!

“Hey, Roger, you’ve brought more people over again out of goodwill!”

“Tsk, tsk. Is it because the girls are pretty and you want to have some concubines?”

There were some teasing sounds around.

“Get lost!” The middle-aged man jumped out of the truck impatiently and scolded, “Can’t you see that the people I brought back all have sabers in their hands? They are all very powerful. They are experts at the top level. I am relying on them to change my fate. You know nothing!”

As soon as he finished speaking, there was another burst of laughter around him.

“If so, why would they take your truck for transporting vegetables?”

“More people have come to your house now. You won’t have enough money to pay for the protection fee this month.”

“Come here. Ignore these people. Come in with me quickly!” At this time, the middle-aged woman jumped out of the truck with the child in her arms.

Gerald and the others nodded and also ran out of the truck. Valery frowned and said, “They ... seem to know that we are new at a glance.”,

Gerald nodded and said, “Yes. Probably because we are all wearing clothes from the outside. Look at Claude. His clothes are so clean and still have the brand logo. Only people who have just come here will wear such clothes, so we are easy to be recognized.”

Valery nodded.

They did not say much but followed the middle-aged woman and walked into the room.

The house was spacious, but there was no good furniture inside. There were only some wooden chairs and everywhere was a bit messy. There was also a small yard behind.

It was a little like a roughcast house that had not been renovated. However, such a house in a city like Washington and Sacramento would not be cheap!

“Sit down and have lunch here. I’ll go cook for you!” the middle-aged woman said with a sincere look on her face.

Gerald nodded.

The middle-aged woman went to the kitchen and did not tell the dirty little girl in her arms to wash up. It seemed that they were already used to being dirty.

The little girl wasn't afraid of strangers. She squatted in front of Gerald and the others and blinked at them. Then, she jumped to Valery and asked curiously, "Miss, are you really from the outside? I heard from my parents that it is peaceful outside. It is illegal to beat people. Criminals will be arrested. There are also schools. Children like us can study in there!"

Chapter 323 Settle Down

The little girl's words stunned Valery!

Beside her, Gerald also frowned slightly.

On this island, studying was something only for people with real power. This little girl's family was at the very edge of the city. They were struggling to survive. What they were thinking about was how to survive. Studying was way too extravagant for them.

The two girls, Valery and Kristen, felt lumps in their throats. Valery's cold face revealed a warm smile. She touched the little girl's head and said, "Yes, there are schools in the outside world. Schools are full of children of your age. They live peacefully and cannot fight..."

When the little girl heard this, her eyes almost shone.

"Really? Really?" The little girl was excited. She directly pulled a chair over and leaned on it as if she had been very familiar with Valery. She said, "Miss, can you tell me more about the outside world?"

"Okay!" Valery nodded.

Gerald and the others listened aside and felt a little upset. He did not expect that in this modern society, this island was still in such a situation.

Of course, the world was like this. Every place had its own rules of survival, including every city and every country.

Gerald let out a breath, pulled a chair, and sat down. Currently, he had no time to think about these things. He did not like this place very much. He wanted to recover his Vital Energy, find Jolie and Jacob, and leave this place as soon as possible.

Of course, according to Red Rose, Franklin was hiding in Sin City. Gerald had to find him and kill him.

When all of this was over, Gerald would leave this place to find Perrin!

He felt that this process should not be long as long as he recovered.

The most important thing was that he would have to pass the tribulation two days later.

The news that Perrin had given him was that they would show up in Fantasy Hotel within three days.

They arrived two days earlier. These two days were enough for them to do a lot of things.

Just as they were talking, they heard arguments in low voices.

Gerald looked over and found that the voices came from the kitchen.

“Why did you take out this piece of meat and these eggs? Didn’t we keep them for our daughter’s birthday?” This was the voice of the middle-aged man.

“Well, these people are newcomers. They have to slowly adapt to life here. You won’t let them live here. They might need to struggle for food after they have this meal. Especially the two girls. I don’t know what kind of encounters they will face. Just let them eat. I will think about other ways for our daughter’s birthday.” The middle-aged woman’s voice also came out!

Gerald was touched!

In fact, now he really felt it. The middle-aged woman was indeed kind. It was rare that someone who had lived in a place like Sin City for many years to still maintain this kindness.

The middle-aged man paused for a while before saying, “But... we have to pay the protection fee recently. Otherwise, we might be chased away. At that time, we can only leave the city and live in the nearby villages and towns...”

“It’s fine. Don’t worry. At worst, we don’t eat meat on our daughter’s birthday. We’ll save money for her next birthday,” the middle-aged woman said with a smile.

The man saw that he couldn’t convince her. He walked out of the kitchen very gloomily. He glanced at Gerald and the others unhappily, then walked to the door. He sat down and took out a fairly poor-quality cigarette. He lit it up and puffed on it twice!

Theo frowned. He rummaged through his backpack and took out a carton of cigarettes.

Theo had experience in Sin City. He knew that the cigarettes here were not good. He was a smoker, so he brought a lot of cigarettes.

After taking it out, he thought for a moment and put it back. Then he took out a pack of cigarettes from his pocket and walked toward the door!

In Sin City, cigarettes from the outside world were quite expensive. If people found that he had a carton of cigarettes, it might cause trouble for the family.

gave

This kind of thing that was very common in the outside world was likely to be huge trouble for ordinary people in Sin City.

“Boss, they are not bad people. We should help them if we can,” Claude took off his backpack and said.

Gerald nodded and said, “Well, let’s stay here. It happens to be the Eastern District. We can also investigate.”

Valery and Kristen chatted with the little girl. The little girl had stars in her eyes and she was extremely excited.

After thinking for a while, Kristen took out a piece of chocolate from her bag and gave it to the little girl. It seemed to be the first time the little girl had eaten some chocolate. She licked it lightly and was so excited that she jumped up. She didn't want to finish it too fast, so she carefully put it away and then ran excitedly to the kitchen!

For the first time, Gerald saw a trace of mist in Valery's eyes. Then, she stood up and looked at Gerald. She said with certainty, "When I leave, I will take them with me!"

Gerald was speechless.

There were too many families like this in Sin City. They couldn't save them all.

However, Gerald would not refuse Valery's request. He nodded and said, "Okay!"

They sat down. The depression they felt after they came to Sin City was unbearable even for Claude and those who had come here before.

Theo walked to the door and sat down with the middle-aged man. He handed him a cigarette. The middle-aged man hesitated and took it.

About an hour later, Gerald and the others were called over for lunch. On the table, there were three dishes. The first one was potatoes. The second one was meat mixed with some vegetables. The third one was a pot of boiled vegetables. On a small plate aside, there was some chili for them to eat with the boiled vegetables.

"Hope you like it. We are the poorest people in Sin City. We did our best to prepare this," said the middle-aged woman.

"I'm sure I'll like it!" Valery quickly said.

They ate calmly. As they ate, the couple also told Gerald and the others about the rules of survival in Sin City.

Gerald and the others also knew the names of the couple. The man was called Roger Aubin, his wife was called Nikki Aubin, and the little girl was called Jenna Aubin.

After lunch, Kristen ran over to help clean up the dishes. At this time, Gerald let out a sigh and said,

"Mr. Aubin, I have a presumptuous request."

"Huh?" Roger looked at him and had a bad feeling.

"We have just arrived in Sin City, and we don't have anywhere to go. I want to stay here, and you rent the second floor to us. Of course, we heard about the protection fee, and we will find a way to earn it ourselves. You don't have to worry about that. In addition, we will pay you some rent," Gerald said.

Roger and Nikki were different. Nikki was kind to everyone and did not ask for anything in return. Roger, on the other hand, had some characteristics of the people in Sin City. He did not want to find trouble and only wanted to survive.

If they wanted to stay here, they had to give him some benefits. Otherwise, he would definitely not agree.

Roger extinguished the cigarette in his hand when he heard Gerald's words. Then he looked at Gerald and said, "Actually, you can, but there are conditions. I'll give you three days to find a job. If you can't find a job within three days, you have to leave. Newcomers are always easy to be targeted. If you live in my house, we will have risks!"

"No problem!" Gerald said, "What do you think about the rent?"

Roger exhaled and gritted his teeth. "100 lucs!"

Luc was the currency of Sin City.

Gerald was stunned. 100 lucs!

In Sin City, it was a small amount. 100 lucs might not even be enough to buy a single piece of pork.

"Is... Is it too much?" Roger was a little flustered.

"No!" Gerald showed Roger a bright smile.

Chapter 324 Rank Second on the Sun List

Just like that, Gerald and the others successfully stayed in Roger's house.

They moved their things to the second floor. The girl stayed at home and played in the yard alone. Roger and his wife drove the truck of food to the market in the Eastern District!

The food was not theirs. They were just responsible for transporting the food because Roger was a driver, and this job was their only income.

They transported the food every day and could earn 100 lucs. Every month, they never rested. As a result, they could earn about 3,000 lucs per month!

In addition, to live a stable life in this place, they had to pay protection fees to the people in the Eastern District, and they had to pay 500 lucs per person!

Therefore, every month, the three of them only had about 1,500 lucs for living.

However, the prices in this place were not low. 1,500 lucs could only maintain their basic life.

That was why Jenna looked a little malnourished and her hair was a little yellow.

At that time, on the second floor, Gerald and his people were sitting there. Everyone's eyes were on Gerald.

"What should we do next?" Claude asked.

“We have to meet that person. He has most of the information about Sin City. He should know about the situation of Watchman No. 2,” Gerald said, “If it is possible, I’m going to ask him for some money. It is difficult for us to do anything without the money!”

Claude frowned and said, “I’m afraid he is not willing to give us money! Why don’t we rob those forces?”

Gerald shook his head and said, “This is Sin City. There are too many experts here. After I get my Vital Energy back, I can be more reckless. Before that, it is better to keep a low profile!

“However, I think that he is still willing to give me money. After all, I have a good relationship with him,” Gerald said with a smile.

“I don’t think so!” Claude yelled, “I feel that if you go over, he will skin all of us.”

“Who are you talking about? The one who is ranked second on the Sun List?” Valery asked, “Does Gerald know him?”

“Yes!” Claude nodded.

At that time, Gerald stood up and said, “Anyway, the three of us will go there first. Dr. Manning, stay here with Kristen. Your clothes are more eye-catching. It’s more dangerous for women in Sin City. There is no need to show your face. It is better for everyone to keep a low profile.”

Valery and Kristen nodded. Valery frowned and said, “Be careful.”

“No problem. Even though we are in Sin City, with Claude and Theo here, there are only a few people who can put us in danger!” Gerald smiled and said.

Valery nodded and said, “Alright, you guys be careful. Kristen and I will stay here.”

After making things clear with them, Gerald and the other two decided to go out.

There was quite a distance from the edge of the city to the center of the city.

After leaving, Gerald and the other two walked toward the center of the city.

Although Gerald did not have Vital Energy, he was much stronger than ordinary people. This city was not very large. After walking for about an hour, they successfully arrived at the center of the city.

At the gate of the huge manor in the middle of the city, a huge iron gate was open. In this city, no one dared to come to this place.

At the door, a middle-aged man was standing there. He was in a suit and looked like a gentleman!

Seeing Gerald, he smiled and bowed gentlemanly. “Hello, Mr. Kenneth, our master has been waiting for a long time.”

Gerald was not surprised that the owner of this manor knew that he was coming. Gerald knew how powerful this person was in Sin City.

The owner of this manor ranked second on the Sun List and was only inferior to Blaine in this world.

If Gerald wanted to find someone in this world who could block Blaine's attack, the owner of this manor would undoubtedly be the only one.

Moreover, the person that these people in the underworld did not want to provoke the most was not Blaine, but him.

Firstly, Blaine could only attack with his blade once, and this person did not have so many restrictions!

Secondly, Blaine was a Watchman. There were many rules and restrictions in Night Watch, but this person was completely different. He was the ruler of this evil city.

He was the rule maker of Sin City. He was also the master of Sin City. He was the second on the Sun List, Davis Hodges.

Gerald had once interacted with him in Sin City. Davis didn't care about what Gerald had done in Sin City. Gerald did not know if it was because Gerald was a Watchman. In the end, Davis even took the initiative to send Gerald and the others out.

"Boss, speaking of which, we have not been here for five years, right?" Claude walked into the manor and said, "We have not been here for five years. But this place seems to be the same as five years ago. There is almost no change.

Gerald nodded and said, "Yes!"

This manor was still the same as five years ago. There was almost no change in the plants. Obviously, many people were taking care of the plants there.

In the manor, there were many houses. The style of these houses was European because of where Davis was born.

Soon, they were brought to a luxurious hall. On the huge sofa inside, a man in a suit was sitting there!

He looked in his forties and was very handsome.

He was tall and sturdy, shaking a wine glass in his hand. When he saw Gerald and the others, he smiled and said, "Gerald, it's been five years since we last met. I didn't expect you to be so miserable now! Your Vital Energy is gone."

Gerald frowned.

In fact, Davis gave Gerald a very strange feeling. He lived here all year round and didn't contact the outside world, but he knew a lot about the outside world.

For example, Davis' people made the Sun List, the Moon List, and the Star List.

"Davis, I didn't come here to catch up with you." Gerald waved his hand.

"I know. Tell me what I can do for you." Davis smiled slightly and looked polite.

However, Theo and Claude looked gloomy, afraid that Davis, who ranked second on the Sun List, would make things difficult for them.

Gerald looked at Davis and said, "A few of my friends came to Sin City and disappeared in the Eastern District. You know one of them."

"Carolyn, right?" Davis looked at Gerald and said, "She came to see me, but I sent her to the Eastern District."

"Where are they now?" Gerald asked with a frown.

"I can't tell you about this." Davis took a sip of wine and said, "How should I put it? Someone told me that I couldn't tell you about them!"

"Who did that? Franklin?" Gerald asked.

"You don't need to know that!" Davis said.

Gerald frowned. Davis' stance was very strange. He seemed to be neutral in everything.

"Then help me investigate someone. I'll show you the photo," Gerald said.

"You mean your cousin who was kidnapped, right?" At that time, Davis suddenly opened his mouth and said.

Gerald was stunned for a moment and said, "You even know about this!"

Davis smiled and said, "I have a lot of information. Otherwise, how can I set up these lists? I have people in Night Watch, just like some of my people are Watchmen."

Davis was quite straightforward.

Gerald nodded and said, "I need you to find out where she is now!"

"She!" Davis smiled and said, "She was brought to Tuberose Bordello yesterday."

Theo's expression changed and he quickly said, "Gerald, Tuberose Bordello is a whorehouse!"

Gerald's face turned dark. Then he let out a breath and stood up. He looked at Davis and said, "There is one more thing!"

As he spoke, he looked at Davis and grinned. "I need your money. Give me 100 million lucs first!"

Chapter 325 Tuberose Bordello

"I only need 100 million lucas. You have a bank here, and you control the bank. Give me a card and give me 100 million lucas. When I leave, I'll return the bank card to you!" Gerald said.

After Gerald finished speaking, Davis laughed and said, "Gerald, do you think it's still the same as five years ago?"

Gerald frowned slightly.

"I have no money. If you want money, you can rob some money or earn some money. Anyway, it doesn't have anything to do with me," Davis smiled and said, "Moreover, if you want to leave this time, it's not as simple as five years ago!"

Gerald frowned, grinned, and said, "Is that so? I promise that you will still beg me to leave this place as you did five years ago!"

Davis shook the wine glass, and calmly said, "Send those guests out!"

The conversation between them was very simple.

After coming out of Davis' manor, Claude scolded, "Davis is so stingy. He didn't give us any money. What should we do next? We can't use the money outside."

"What else can we do? Let's find a job first," Gerald said, "Before I get my Vital Energy back, better to keep a low profile. We have a lot of enemies in this place."

it's

Claude nodded and said, "I know. Damn it! We actually have to work. Just thinking about it gives me a headache."

"Tuberose Bordello is in the Western District, right?" At that time, Theo suddenly opened his mouth and said.

Gerald nodded and said, "Let's go there!"

"Good!" The other two nodded!

The three of them set off again. As they walked, Theo introduced, "Tuberose Bordello is mid-range in this place. Everyone will spend about 1,000 lucas there. Speaking of which, I miss the best girl there. Her name is Melissa Anderson. I wonder how she has been these five years!"

Gerald and Claude were speechless.

What a lustful guy. He was a famous explorer in Night Watch!

"As long as you can find the way!" Gerald said resignedly.

Then, as Theo walked, he introduced the place. Meanwhile, he sighed and said, "Damn, we have no money now. It's difficult to have fun in that place."

They walked for more than an hour. The journey was smooth, and no one came to cause trouble.

Not long after, they arrived at the entrance of Tuberose Bordello.

The nightclubs in Sacramento and Washington were different. There were no prostitutes there.

However, in this city, they had a huge board. There were even some windows facing the streets. In the windows, some sexy girls stood inside and winked at the passers-by.

There were all kinds of girls inside, and most of them had great figures. When they saw Gerald and the others coming over, they took the initiative to seduce them!

"I can't stand it anymore. I can't help it!" When Theo saw them, he couldn't help but swallow hard and say.

"We have important things to do!" Claude kicked him and yelled, "You are a dog. Sooner or later, you will die in a woman's hands."

When they reached the door, a woman quickly came over and said, "Gentlemen! Please come in!"

Gerald and the other two were quickly brought into Tuberose Bordello. Only then did the woman notice the clothes of Gerald and the others. She frowned and said, "Did you just come to Sin City? Do you have money? We have a total of three prices here. 388, 688, and 988..."

Gerald waved his hand to stop her from continuing. He looked at the woman and said, "We are here to look for someone."

When she heard that Gerald and the others were not here to have fun and that they were new there, the woman's eyes suddenly became cold. She pursed her lips and said, "We don't have the person you are looking for here. Go back to where you came from!"

At the same time, Gerald began to size this woman up. The middle-aged woman was around forty years old. She was a little fat, but Gerald could tell that she should be pretty when she was twenty years old.

"Yesterday, a friend of mine was brought here by your people," Gerald said calmly, "If you send her back, I'll leave immediately!"

That woman sat down on the sofa and waved to the two people sitting at the reception.

This woman had opened a medium nightclub for so many years, so the person behind her must be powerful.

"Don't get me wrong." Mama Sang sat down on the sofa, took out a lady's cigarette, and lit it.

Then, with a hint of disdain in her eyes, she looked at Gerald and said, "If you are women, you can stay. I am not interested in men. I will warn you one last time. Get lost."

While they were talking, people were gathering from the reception and corridor. They quickly surrounded Gerald and the other two.

Gerald frowned, smiled, and said, "Hand her over, and I will leave immediately. I will not leave until I see her!"

"You don't seem to understand where this place is!" The middle-aged woman said with disdain, "Let them know where this place is!"

At that time, a crisp sound let out.

Theo took out his blade, and a smile appeared on his handsome face. "I'll kill anyone who moves!"

The middle-aged woman frowned slightly and asked disdainfully, "It seems that you are also from the underworld outside. But this place is different from other places!"

As she spoke, she was not in a hurry to make a move. Instead, she blinked at the reception.

At the reception, she quickly took out a walkie-talkie and said, "Come here. Someone is causing trouble here!"

The middle-aged woman looked at Gerald and the other two and said, "You are new here. I am easygoing. Let me give you a piece of advice. Get out of here now. When our people arrive later, you won't be able to leave. Our people are in the casino next door."

Gerald slightly tilted his neck and looked at the middle-aged woman, saying, "Before I see her, I can't leave. By the way, I also want to know who brought her here. I will give you five minutes to bring all the women who were brought here yesterday. Otherwise, I will smash your place!"

The middle-aged woman was stunned for a moment, and then she became even more disdainful. She looked at Gerald and said, "Do you know who is behind us? It's Frederic Foye!"

When Theo and Claude heard it, they were stunned for a moment. Then the three of them looked at each other and had strange expressions.

The middle-aged woman saw that they did not have any reaction when they heard this name. She sneered and said, "You are indeed new here. You will know what this name means later! I have seen many people like you. You actually want to take my girl away. I think you are risking your neck!"

At that time, footsteps sounded from downstairs.

A loud and steady voice sounded, "Fuck! Who dares to cause trouble in my place!"

At the corner, a blonde man came out of the door. He wore a vest and held a long blade in his hand!

He went upstairs!

"Frederic, these three people are here to cause trouble. They should be newcomers. They came to us to ask for a girl!" a person hurriedly pointed at Gerald and said.

"Fuck, you came to me to ask for a girl. Do you want to die?" Frederic walked forward and said in anger, "I happen to have nothing to do today. I can have some fun!"

He walked through the crowd. When he saw Gerald and the other two in the middle, his body froze and his pupils suddenly shrank. He looked at them in shock. Then, his whole body began to tremble slightly!

"It's you! How is that possible?" He cried out in horror.

"Frederic, you are getting more and more domineering now!" At that time, Theo grinned and asked.

Chapter 326 Finally Meet Again

Tuberose Bordello was middle-range in Sin City. Because it was still early, there were not many people. At the reception, some people were standing there, but at that time, they were all completely stunned.

Their boss, Frederic, who was quite famous in Sin City, was now trembling in front of the three new people.

"Frederic, you're getting more and more domineering now!" Theo said with a faint smile. Then he walked up to Frederic and gently raised his hand, slapping Frederic on the face twice!

When Theo was slapping Frederic, Frederic's body trembled even more.

He instantly knelt.

He didn't care about his dignity at all. His forehead was covered with cold sweat.

"Theo." Frederic swallowed hard and began to speak slowly.

Everyone was dumbfounded at the side.

They couldn't figure out what was going on at all.

The middle-aged woman sitting on the sofa was also stunned. She couldn't move at all and she stopped smoking the cigarette in her hand. The cigarette burned down, and the ashes fell on the blanket.

Frederic looked at Gerald and found that Gerald's eyes were gloomy. Frederic's heart sank to the bottom of the valley!

"Theo, don't scare Frederic," at that time, Claude said, "Frederic, let all the irrelevant people leave. Ask the person in charge of Tuberose Bordello to come."

Frederic did not dare to hesitate. He hurriedly said, "Everyone, back off!"

"Frederic..." Some people were still hesitating, but they seemed to be loyal.

"If you don't want to die, then fuck off!" Frederic yelled.

Those people still couldn't understand. Gerald and the others were dressed like newcomers. Those people couldn't figure out why Frederic was so afraid of these newcomers.

However, after hearing Frederic say this, the others did not dare to stay any longer. All of them retreated downstairs. In the end, only the middle-aged woman, Frederic, Gerald, and the other two were left at the reception.

Meanwhile, Frederic looked at Gerald and said, "Gerald..."

When he was facing Theo, he could still speak clearly, but when he was facing Gerald, he could no longer speak clearly. No one knew what Gerald did to him five years ago!

Gerald looked at him indifferently and said, "My purpose of coming here is very simple. My cousin was deceived by your people to come here. Now, call all the girls you brought here yesterday. I know she is here. If I don't see her, you know what the consequences will be."

Frederic trembled and nodded repeatedly. Then he looked at the middle-aged woman and shouted, "Didn't you fucking hear it? Go and get them here!"

The middle-aged woman was so scared that her body trembled. She knew that this time, something serious was going on and she was in big trouble.

She often tricked newcomers to come to this place. Most nightclubs would do so. After all, the newcomers did not have backers.

They had taken newcomers to this place so many times. Some people might come to look for the newcomers but would return with nothing after being beaten up.

But this time was different. This time, the person who protected this place was submissive to these newcomers.

The middle-aged woman knew that she might be finished!

"Take me there!" Gerald was worried that the middle-aged woman would run away or do something stupid, so he said indifferently.

After that, he looked at the middle-aged woman coldly and said, "You better pray that the girl is fine."

He did not say more words, but the middle-aged woman knew what he meant.

She was trembling with fear.

Behind him, Frederic hurriedly said, "Gerald, I actually repeatedly warned them not to do such a thing. In a place like Sin City, many women would come to us to survive. This matter really has nothing to do with me."

He didn't want to take the blame, but Gerald looked at him indifferently without saying anything!

They were brought down from the second floor by this woman. Then, they bypassed a corridor and walked to the backyard.

The middle-aged woman walked to the door of a room. She swallowed hard and said, "She is inside!"

"Keep an eye on her!" Gerald said to Theo.

Then, he pushed open the door.

Just as Gerald pushed open the door, he smelt an indescribable smell of urine.

It was a storeroom. There were a lot of things inside, including all kinds of work clothes. In the room, a person was sitting on the ground. Her hair was a little messy, and her clothes were very dirty. There were many bloodstains.

The smell came from her body, and her legs were still cuffed. Her skin was broken and her feet were bleeding!

Gerald recognized at a glance that this girl was Jolie!

She seemed to have sensed that someone had come in. She quietly raised her head. In her eyes, there was only fear.

Seeing someone come to the door, she raised her hands to cover her body. Her body kept curling toward the wall and she said in a hoarse voice, "Don't hit me. Please don't hit me!"

There was despair in her broken voice..

Seeing this scene, Gerald felt heartbroken.

Jolie was his cousin, who grew up with him. Although there was a small misunderstanding later, he still cared about her and treated her like a sister. It had never changed.

Everything that happened to Jolie was because of him.

At that time, Gerald's body was trembling slightly. He did not speak, nor did he turn to look at the two people behind him. He took off his coat and walked into the room!

Seeing Gerald's look, the middle-aged woman and Frederic were scared and their hearts were beating violently.

"We are done!"

They thought at the same time.

Frederic didn't dare to move, and the middle-aged woman wanted to run outside at the first moment!

"Where the fuck are you running!" Theo grabbed her and threw her over his shoulder, smashing the middle-aged woman to the ground.

Gerald walked in front of Jolie. When Jolie saw him come over, she was so scared that she almost went crazy.

"No!

"Don't come over. Don't come over!"

She screamed.

It had only been one night. What kind of torture had she gone through yesterday that caused her to break down?

“Wendy! Flory!” Gerald was furious!

He quickly knelt down and put his clothes on Jolie. He said softly, “Jolie, it’s me! It’s me, Gerald. I came to save you. Open your eyes and look. It’s me!”

Jolie seemed to have heard Gerald’s name. Her body stopped trembling, and then Gerald moved her messy hair aside. Jolie looked at Gerald, and then she saw Gerald’s face clearly!

Tears welled up in her eyes.

“Gerald! Gerald!” She shouted hoarsely, and then pounced on Gerald.

Gerald held her back and said softly, “It’s okay. It’s okay. I will take you home!”

“Key!” Gerald said faintly to the outside.

The middle-aged woman was stepped on by Theo. She quickly said, “In the drawer next to you!”

Gerald opened the drawer, found the key, and unlocked Jolie.

Jolie was holding Gerald tightly at that time. She seemed to be worried that if she let go, Gerald would be gone.

Gerald picked her up and slowly walked out of the room.

*Then, he asked softly, “Did this woman trick you to come here?”

Jolie glanced at the woman who was stepped on by Theo on the ground and nodded gently.

“What price do you want her to pay?” Gerald asked.

Jolie was slightly stunned. Meanwhile, the middle-aged woman hurriedly said, “Miss, I saved you from the hands of those two men yesterday. Think about it. If not for me, you might have been more miserable.”

Jolie glanced at her and quickly buried her head in Gerald’s arms. She said, “I don’t know!”

Gerald frowned and mouthed to Theo, “Kill her!”

Theo chuckled, “Got it!”

“I’ll wait for you outside!” Gerald held Jolie in his arms, turned around, and walked out!

Chapter 327 Find Her

“I was wrong. I was wrong!” At this time, the middle-aged woman felt that something was wrong.

She did not notice Gerald’s expression. Gerald’s silence made her frightened!

Frederic was nervous and did not dare to speak. He glanced at the middle-aged woman on the ground and sighed. He quickly followed Gerald and the others out.

They passed through the corridor on the first floor. At this time, there was a tragic scream behind them.

When they reached the entrance of the first floor, Gerald stopped. Gerald was holding Jolie. He could feel that Jolie was still trembling.

Frederic walked in front of Gerald with fear. He took out a box of cigarettes from his pocket. Gerald glanced at it. This kind of cigarette was probably 30 lucs per pack in Sin City. It was considered pretty good.

Gerald took one.

Seeing Gerald take the cigarette, Frederic heaved a sigh of relief. Frederic knew that Gerald would not vent his anger on him for this matter.

Frederic looked at Gerald and said, "Gerald, I don't know about this. I usually don't care about their things. I'm mainly responsible for running, and I will make some money from it. If I knew that she is your cousin, I would have killed this stupid woman last night."

Gerald waved his hand and said calmly, "Arrange a car for us to send us back. In addition, I need money!"

Frederic was stunned for a moment. Then, he said, "Wait a minute!"

After that, Frederic ran out. A few minutes later, Frederic drove a car and stopped by the roadside. It was an ordinary black car.

After stopping the car, Frederic got out of the car and handed a bag to Gerald. "Gerald, here are thousand lucs. I asked them to gather it. You know that I don't earn much money. Besides my subordinates, I have to support my father..."

"Enough!" Gerald waved his hand and said, "Don't tell anyone that I have returned to Sin City."

"I promise to keep my mouth shut. Don't worry!" Frederic hurriedly said.

Gerald glanced at him and said nothing more.

After a few more minutes, Theo walked out from behind. He smiled at Gerald and said, "Done!"

"Let's go!" Gerald said to Frederic.

20

The cars in Sin City could be valuable and also could be of no worth. It could be valuable because most of those who drove luxury cars had some strength and powerful background.

However, what was not valuable was that cars were like houses. As long as the one was strong enough, he or she could snatch the car over and use it. There were no rules in Sin City.

Frederic hurriedly said, "You have just arrived here. Take this car as my gift to you. It is not worth much money."

"We don't need it!" Gerald said indifferently.

Because his Vital Energy had not recovered, Gerald wanted to be low-key. Besides, he lived at the edge of Sin City, so he did not need a car at all. If Gerald drove back, it might make Roger and his family a little worried and afraid.

Frederic was stunned for a moment. He did not dare to say anything else. Frederic drove to the Eastern District. Gerald asked Frederic to stop when he was a distance away from the destination.

Frederic frowned and said, "Gerald, you live here? This is the edge of Sin City, and the environment here is dirty and bad. I have some houses. I'll ask my men to prepare a house for you..."

"No need!" Gerald glanced at Frederic and said, "Remember, don't tell anyone about my return, including your father. Also, help me pay attention to a person called Wendy if you have time."

Jolie had returned, and Gerald didn't need to go to Fantasy Hotel. From a certain point of view, Gerald had temporarily resolved the matter related to the Dempsey family.

However, as for Wendy, who had brought Jolie to Sin City, Gerald decided to teach her a lesson!

Originally, Gerald planned to find Wendy with the help of Davis. With his intelligence source in Sin City, it was very simple. However, Davis was not willing to help Gerald now, so Gerald could only rely on himself.

"OK!" Frederic quickly said, "I will help you find her. How can I contact you if I find her?"

Gerald looked at Frederic and said, "When the time comes, leave a mark on the wall where I get off the car. I will come to you when I see it."

Frederic nodded and said, "OK. I will stay at a casino next to Tuberose Bordello."

Gerald cast a meaningful glance at Frederic and said, "OK. You can go back!"

When Frederic drove away, Gerald and the other two walked towards Roger's house.

On the way back, the neighbors near Roger's house looked at Gerald and the others with a bit of hostility.

Gerald ignored them. He directly pushed open the door and carried Jolie into the room. Seeing Gerald come back with someone in his arms, Valery and Kristen quickly came over.

"Help me!" Gerald said to Valery.

Valery nodded!

When Gerald was holding Jolie, Valery quickly checked Jolie's body. After a moment, she let out a sigh of relief and said, "It's just some superficial wounds. However, she suffered a great shock and needs some time to recover. But don't worry, I will help her!"

Hearing this, Gerald let out a sigh of relief.

“Kristen, prepare some hot water. Let’s help her take a bath first!”

“I’m going to prepare some hot water!” Jenna hurriedly ran towards the kitchen.

After a while, the water was ready, and then they took Jolie to the toilet. Jenna also ran to help.

Jenna was young, but she was very capable. This was probably because Jenna was born into a poor family. The tough environment forced her to be strong

After washing up, they brought Jolie to the second floor. Their beds were some hardwoods. There were four rooms on the second floor. Just like before, one room had been cleaned up by Valery as her medical room. The other three rooms were cleaned up for sleep.

Valery simply treated Jolie’s wounds before walking to the living room. In the living room, and the others were all sitting there!

Seeing that Valery and Kristen had come out, Gerald hurriedly asked, “How is she?”

Gerald

“I treat her wounds. After about a week, her wounds will recover,” Valery said. “As for her mental problems, it might take some time.”

Gerald sighed, then took out the money from his pocket and handed it to Valery. He said, “Here are 20 thousand lucas. Before my Vital Energy recovers, we have to keep a low profile. Money might be a little lacking, so you should spend it carefully. Of course, you have to buy what you need like a better mattress, quilt, and so on. I will go with them to find a job!”

“Looking for a job to earn money?” Valery looked at Gerald and the other two with strange expressions.

In the outside world, they would never worry about money.

Claude chuckled and said, “We have to do so. Our boss beat up all the big shots in Sin City five years ago. If people know that he has returned and he doesn’t have Vital Energy, we will probably have to escape on this island tomorrow.”

Valery frowned and said, “We have at least four people at the top level now. If Claude could make good use of his talent, he won’t be worse than super experts. What do we need to be afraid of?”

“The situation in Sin City is very complicated,” Theo said with a smile. “But when our boss recovers his Vital Energy, we will be strong again!”

While they were talking, they heard the sound of footsteps. Jenna ran to the door and said, “Gerald, my dad is looking for you.”

Gerald heard it. He knew that there was another person besides Roger and his wife.

“You two stay upstairs. Theo, let’s go down!” Gerald said to Valery and Kristen.

When they arrived downstairs, Gerald found that apart from Roger and his wife, there was also a young man wearing a white shirt and suit pants. He looked like a bar waiter standing there!

“It’s them?”

Seeing Gerald come down, the young man looked up and down at Gerald and asked.

Roger nodded and said, “Yes. What do you think of them?”

Chapter 328 Job

After Roger finished speaking, he felt nervous.

The young man also looked up and down at Gerald and the others. Gerald was a little confused.

Gerald thought, could it be that there are no good people in this place? They pretended to be good people and then betrayed us?

Theo carefully approached Gerald. If the young man was an expert and wanted to hurt Gerald, Theo knew that he had to ensure Gerald’s safety.

“Their figures are good. They should have been trained outside. They are in good condition.” The young man nodded and said, “If they work in our bar, they are qualified. Besides, they are recommended by you. I want them all!”

Roger looked a little happy!

Beside him, Nikki was also happy and said, “I told you that these young men are good. They can be qualified to be hired.”

Gerald was stunned. Gerald thought, work at a bar?

Roger said in a hurry, “Gerald, come here. Let me introduce you. He is Cory Lydon, the head waiter of Twilight Bar. He also lived here before, but now he has moved to the middle of the Eastern District. Today, we went to deliver the food. Fortunately, we met him at the entrance of the bar. When we chatted, he said that he was recruiting waiters for the bar. The salary was paid daily. They will pay you 150 lucas per person per day. We thought of you. So, we invited him to come back to see you!”

As a bar waiter, the monthly salary was about 4,500 lucas a month. Of course, as bar waiters, occasionally, they could earn tips. So, the salary was quite good.

Gerald, Theo, and Claude looked at each other!

They were just thinking of getting a job. Gerald planned to go to three different places. The bar was one of their choices.

They now wanted to find Jacob. A place like a bar was a good place to collect information.

In addition, Gerald also planned to let Theo, who was the best now, join an underworld force. Gerald hoped Theo could earn a good position for himself. Then, Theo could be the main source of money. After all, it was the fastest way to earn money.

But now that Roger had personally introduced them to work, Gerald was too embarrassed to refuse.

Besides, the salary was acceptable. If they needed money indeed, Gerald would let Theo and Claude go rob.

“Thank you,

then!” Gerald quickly said to Cory.

Cory politely said, “It’s fine. Everyone has their first time. It was Roger and Nikki who introduced you. Don’t mind it too much. You can come to Twilight Bar tomorrow at 6 p.m. I’ll arrange a job for you. Roger, I’ll go back to the bar first. The bar will open in a while.”

“How about having a meal with us?” Nikki hurriedly said.

“No, no!” Cory smiled and shook his head. “I have to go!”

After that, Cory turned and walked out.

Nikki and Roger seemed to be in a good mood because Gerald and the others had found a job. Nikki also said, “Now that you have found a job, you can temporarily settle down. You are still so young. You can move to the middle of the city in the future. At that time, your children can go to school.”

There were schools in Sin City, but ordinary people could not afford to study!

Gerald had to admit that Nikki was kind. She even specially introduced them to work. This job was easier than them running to the edge of the island every day to deliver vegetables. The salary was also higher.

But instead of feeling unfair, they felt a little happy!

Nikki was truly happy for them, and Roger was probably happy because of the additional 100-luc rent per month.

“You guys rest first. I’ll go cook. I’ll call you when it’s ready later!” Nikki said to Gerald and the others.

Roger frowned. At this time, Gerald took the initiative to say, “Roger, when we get money, we’ll give you living expenses every month!”

Hearing this, Roger smiled and said, “Alright, we’ll share our living expenses!”

Gerald nodded. After chatting with Roger for a while, Gerald returned upstairs.

When Valery heard that Gerald and the other two were going to the bar to be waiters, she and Kristen were stunned for a moment before covering their mouths and laughing.

They found it funny that the former Watchman No. 0, the current Watchman No. 12, and Watchman No. 15 were going to the bar to be waiters!

Valery grinned and said with a smile, “That’s good. Kristen and I will take care of your business another day!”

Gerald was speechless. "Don't do it. The money you spent is earned by us!"

Valery sighed and said, "Alright, alright. I was just teasing you. By the way, I plan to... buy some sheets and blankets tomorrow. In addition, I plan to buy some books and teach Jenna personally."

"What!" At this time, Theo said, "Are you going to take this Jenna as a disciple? Do you want to teach her medical skills?"

Valery pursed her lips and said, "What are you talking about? We can't stay here for long. If we can bring them out, then I have this idea. When the time comes, I will teach her personally."

Gerald's eyes lit up, and he said, "Dr. Manning, I also want to learn. You can also teach me personally!"

"Get lost!" Valery's gaze turned cold, and she directly kicked Gerald.

Gerald's butt was kicked, but he was not angry. He rubbed his butt and said, "Now that Jolie's matter is almost settled, next is to find Jacob, Carolyn, and the others. In addition, there are two other things that we have to hurry up."

Everyone looked at Gerald.

"The first one is to get rid of Perrin's people here!

"The second one, I got news from Red Rose. Franklin is most likely in Sin City. The most important thing is that there might be some experts or even super experts around Franklin. He recalled some of Watchmen who had left the underground world."

At this point, Gerald let out a breath and said, "This time, we have to deal with Franklin apart from finding Jolie, Carolyn, and the others!"

It was Saul, Franklin, and Perrin who caused the battle three years ago. Now, Saul died. Gerald couldn't let the other two, Franklin and Perrin, run away.

"If it's true, you have to recover your Vital Energy as soon as possible," Theo said with a frown.

Gerald sighed and said, "I also want to recover as soon as possible. If I recovered, I would have punched Davis because he didn't tell me the news! He must know the news of Franklin."

After absorbing three Dragon Bones, Gerald instantly killed two super experts, and the strength of those two was no less than Dax, who was ranked seventh on the Sun List. At that time, Gerald estimated that he would be able to fight with Perrin, who was ranked third on the Sun List. If Gerald recovered, he would find a way to absorb the two Dragon Bones owned by Charles. Then, even if it was Davis, Gerald felt that he could beat Davis up!

Just as Gerald was pondering, a parachute slowly descended from the sky to the east of the island.

Below, there was a deserted beach. However, there were many people on the beach. Most of them looked like foreigners. They were dressed in suits and had their hands behind their backs!

In front of them, there was a beach chair, a huge parasol, and a table!

A person was lying on the beach chair. He held a red wine glass in his hand, and there was a fruit plate on the table. There were two beauties wearing bikinis standing next to him!

It was Davis.

“Boom!”

The parachute accurately landed on the beach, and then a man appeared from it! The man looked ahead, and then slowly removed the parachute.

If Gerald was here, he would recognize this person. It was the boss of Quadrity, Kaven’s junior fellow apprentice, Charles!

Charles patted his body. At this time, in front of him, Davis stood up from his chair. Davis walked to Charles and stretched out a hand, saying, “Welcome back!”

Chapter 329 Scar

On the beach, the sun was setting. The ruler of Sin City had personally come here to welcome Charles. No one could have such a privilege except Charles.

It was big news for Davis to personally welcome a person to this island.

Charles had no expression. Looking at the hand that Davis extended, he didn’t reach out to shake his hand. He glanced at it and then looked at the group of people behind Davis. Charles frowned and said, “I don’t like to deal with so many people!”

Davis was stunned at first, then he waved his hand and said, “Everyone leave. You stay at the intersection and drive for us later!”

Swoosh!

Behind Davis, the dozens of people quickly retreated. From their movement, these dozens of people were all at the top level.

This was Sin City. The power in this place was almost no less than that of the American Night Watch.

Everyone left. There were Davis and Charles remained only.

Charles still did not reach out to shake Davis’ hand. Charles directly walked past the Davis and slowly walked towards the road. At the same time, he asked, “Is Gerald here?”

“He is here!” Davis said. “This brat is still the same as he used to be. After he arrived, he directly came to me to ask for someone. Damn it, I directly refused him. He has no Vital Energy in his body now, and he even dares to come to negotiate with me. I did as you said.”

Charles stopped and frowned. “You did this yourself, and it has nothing to do with me!”

Davis was stunned, and then he said, “Of course, I did it. Anyway, this brat has no Vital Energy in his body. Even if he recovers, he can defeat Dax. It is estimated that he could rank fifth on the Sun List.”

“Oh, I have something I haven’t told you. The reason why he lost his Vital Energy was that he wanted to defeat Dylan and Gordon alone. In addition, there were dozens of top experts.” Charles said, “The result is Dylan died, and Gordon was seriously injured. Gordon was locked up in Night Watch.”

Davis was stunned for a moment, and then he said, “Hehe, it’s just two old fellows. If I were him, I would not be as miserable as him!”

“Yes, I also gave him two Dragon Bones,” Charles said as he walked.

Davis, who was holding a red wine glass at the back, was stunned again.

Gerald naturally did not know that Charles had come. Gerald was very curious about Charles’ mysterious identity. He was curious about who Charles was. According to what Blaine and himself said, Charles was a Watchman!

Charles had stayed in Quadriety for such a long time and never showed up. Charles also did not talk to others, but he knew everything about the outside world.

However, Gerald was not too interested in him. There were many mysterious people. It was too tiring for Gerald to figure out every mysterious person’s background.

At night, they ate at home. Of course, they didn’t eat much.

The money that Roger and his family earned was to support their own family to live a warm and full life. They even couldn’t eat meat often.

So when they ate, it was just like some bread for each person. After eating, there was no more.

“Sorry, there is no bread at home today. I will buy more tomorrow,” Nikki said awkwardly.

Gerald smiled at her and said, “It’s fine. We’re all full.”

“Roger!” At this time, at the gate of their house, a bare chested man came in with a bottle of wine and a roasted duck in his hand. He said, “I’m here to drink with you!”

Gerald noticed this man. Under the white light, Gerald found that this man was very strong. He should have practiced martial arts skills.

Besides, this man was carrying a big saber on his back!

As a person who used a saber, Gerald knew that this kind of saber was not suitable for fighting.

Of course, the most shocking thing was the scar on the man’s chest.

There was a very long scar on his chest from his left shoulder to his waist.

Looking at his attire, Gerald could probably see the reason. It was estimated that in a place like Sin City, the scar and broadsword exposed could make people feel that he was very fierce.

When Roger saw that person, his expression changed slightly and he quickly scolded, “Scram! I don't want to drink with you!"

Roger wasn't going to fall for his tricks.

After a few minutes, Roger forced the man to go out. Then, Roger returned to his room and locked the door.

Theo smiled and asked, "Roger, who is this person?"

"Don't interact with this person anymore. I don't know what his name is, but everyone calls him Scar. This brat doesn't have any ability, and he wants to organize some forces all day long. There are only two or three subordinates under him. In this place, he is bullied everywhere. I think that when you came to my place today, they saw you and wanted to ask you to join his organization." Roger said.

Gerald was speechless. It seemed that this guy came over with a bottle of wine and a roast duck, intending to ask them to join his group.

However, from Roger's attitude towards him, Gerald thought that this guy was probably also poor. Otherwise, Roger would not have this attitude toward him.

It seemed that he was sincere enough to bring a bottle of wine and roast duck.

Theo and Claude looked at Gerald with a smile.

Roger said, "We have to go out early tomorrow morning and go to the place where we gathered the vegetables yesterday. If you go out during the day, try not to go out. We are poor people living here. As long as we pay the protection fee on time, it is generally safe. When it is late tomorrow, I will drive you to work at Twilight Bar."

Gerald nodded and said, "OK!"

"Alright, we'll go wash up and sleep first. Do you want to take a bath first? You have to prepare hot water yourself!" Roger asked.

Gerald shook his head and said, "No need, you could do your things!"

They didn't have any water heater here. They had to prepare hot water themselves and then put it in – the bucket to wash!

"OK!" Roger glanced at Gerald and the others and went to the kitchen.

There were four rooms on the upper floor. One room was changed to an infirmary, and there were only three rooms left. Six people lived there. Gerald and the other two men were squeezed into one room!

The night passed!

The next day, around six o'clock, Gerald heard the sound of the car starting. He got up from the bed and went to the balcony on the second floor to take a look. He found that Roger and his family had left early.

This was the current situation of the poorest people in Sin City. They worked hard and lived very tired, but they were struggling to have the necessary food.

Of course, Gerald knew that there were people like this everywhere in the world.

For example, the children in the mountains lived such a difficult life. It was not that they did not work hard, but the environment around them affected them. They could not earn too much money.

Looking at this scene, Gerald felt a little touched. At a certain point, he felt his body suddenly tremble, as if there were signs of Vital Energy coming out.

Gerald quickly adjusted his posture and sat down cross-legged!

After more than ten minutes, he frowned and opened his eyes. He revealed a look of disappointment and said, "It seems that I have to wait for some time. I wonder how long it will take for me to recover. It seems that it is better not to use Death Storm if it's not necessary."

Gerald opened his eyes and the morning sun slowly climbed up from the sea. The sky slowly lit up.

Valery and the others got up. Jolie also woke up, but because she was injured, she still lay on the bed.

Valery gave Theo money. Theo went out to buy breakfast. Gerald returned to his room and chatted with Jolie for a while. Gerald and the others, who had eaten breakfast, had nothing to do.

Around nine o'clock in the morning, there was a knock on the door.

Gerald and the others went downstairs. After opening the door, Gerald was stunned. The man who stood at the door was the bare-chested guy with a big saber on his back. It was Scar!

He was still holding the bottle of wine and the roast duck. When he saw Gerald and the others, he smiled and said, "Oh, they are all here!"

Chapter 330 Join a Gang

Scar brought the wine to the hall. He seemed to be quite familiar with Roger's home. He ran to the kitchen and took out four glasses!

Because the people who came down were Gerald and the other two. Valery and the others were upstairs.

Scar put the glasses on the table and then spread out the roast duck with a cooked bag. The roast duck had been cut.

"Come on. Have a drink?" Scar opened the wine and poured some into the glasses.

Gerald found that this bottle of wine had been opened, and Scar served everyone the wine. Then he said, "Well, help yourself."

Theo and Claude didn't move. They looked at Gerald, and Gerald looked at Scar. He wanted to laugh in his heart.

“What are you all standing there for? Let me tell you, it’s not easy to drink wine once here in Sin City. Only I can get you a drink,” Scar said, patting his chest.

“Don’t stand there like a fool. Come and sit down. Do you guys look down upon me?” Scar frowned and asked. “I know. Roger must have told you something bad. Look, I came from a poor family. When I become the boss of this area, I will protect them. I won’t charge them protection fees at all!”

Gerald pursed his lips and thought, look at you. You must be a poor person now!

Gerald smiled and said, “Let’s get started.”

He sat down. Scar picked up the glass and clinked it with Gerald and the others. He took a sip and made a sound due to the good taste of the wine.

He coughed and said, “Come, try the duck. In Sin City, not everyone can eat meat. Only I can guarantee that you can have this one bite!”

As soon as he finished speaking, he discovered that Gerald and the other two had already started gnawing on the roasted duck.

Looking at how fast Gerald and the others were eating, Scar thought that if he continued to brag, the duck would be eaten up by them!

He felt a bit of pity and quickly grabbed the duck to eat. A few minutes later, there was only a pile of bones left in front of him.

Scar looked at the bones in front of Gerald and the others and cursed in his heart.

Then he coughed and said, “Actually, Roger should also know. I came to find you because I wanted to invite you to my group. I have some power now, and it will definitely grow into a big force. As long as you follow me, you will succeed!”

“What can we get by following you? What do we need to pay?” Claude asked.

Scar thought for a moment and said, “It’s very simple. In this city, the strong prey on the weak. If you want to have money, you have to be together with someone. We have a lot of people, and we can conquer wherever we go. When we have money, we can share it. As for what we need to do...”

He licked his lips and said, “When we go to fight with people for territory, we have to fight for our lives.

“How is it? Are you willing to join us?” asked Scar.

Gerald suddenly felt that this guy was quite interesting. He nodded and said, “Okay, we are in!”

Scar was stunned for a moment as if he did not expect that Gerald and the others would agree so easily.

Hearing that Gerald and the others were willing to join, he opened his bottle of wine again, poured some out, and said, "I appreciate you! What should I call you?"

"I'm Gerald, and this is Theo and Claude!" Gerald introduced.

"Good!" He got the glass and said, "Let's toast. Let me tell you, you will definitely succeed after joining Lightbringers!"

"Lightbringers?" Gerald pondered. Scar must have read too many novels!

Scar nodded and said, "Yes, the name of our gang, Lightbringers!"

Gerald and the other two looked at each other and saw a hint of a smile in each other's eyes.

Scar was probably a respectable man before he came to Sin City.

After they toasted, Gerald and the others joined the gang. Scar said, "After you join Lightbringers, there are six of us. I will bring the other two guys to meet you another day. From now on, we are friends."

Gerald almost fainted. There were only three people in Lightbringers before them!

Scar seemed to be afraid that Gerald and the others would drink up the bottle of wine. He carefully hung it on his waist with a rope. Then, he put the bones into the bag with the roast duck. Then, he took the glasses to the kitchen, washed them, and put them back.

He walked to the hall and said, "Since you have joined us, I won't say much. I will come to you again when I need you. I have to go!"

Gerald nodded.

Because Scar had taken in three people, he seemed to be in a good mood. He hummed a song and staggered out of the door.

Claude frowned and said, "Boss, it doesn't seem to make sense for you to join him!"

"I think that he ... is quite interesting. I want to see how he will develop his own power," Gerald said with a smile.

Scar did not have much money and did not seem to have any ability. However, it required courage to establish his own power. This was because in a place like Sin City, once someone wanted to establish his own forces, he would not have a good end.

And Scar had the courage.

They returned upstairs. Jolie got much better. She was helped by Valery to the living room on the second floor and sat down, chatting over there.

Regarding Gerald's background and where this place was, Gerald explained everything to Jolie in detail.

After Jolie heard this, other than shock, she could not find many adjectives to describe it.

However, her face was still full of fear. What Gerald and the others could do was constantly give her a sense of security so that the trauma in her heart could recover as soon as possible.

At noon, Roger returned home with a large cart of vegetables.

They were covered in dirt again, but Jenna was quite excited. She was holding a bag in her hand, and there were several empty bottles inside. She happily ran to a room on the first floor and put the bottles in the bag into another bigger one!

Theo walked to the door and looked at her, asking, "Do you want to sell the bottles?"

"Yes!" Jenna said happily. "This bag can be exchanged for 5 lucas!"

5 lucas.

Poor people here had low incomes with high prices of goods. 5 lucas. It could only buy a popsicle.

When Theo heard this, he felt sorry for Jenna. He asked again, "Then what are you selling money for?"

Jenna whispered, "I want to save money to buy a gold ring for my mother."

A magnificent goal.

But Jenna was putting it into practice little by little.

When Theo heard this, he felt a little suffocated in his heart. He let out a breath and didn't continue to ask.

Nikki bought bread again. There was no meat for lunch. In fact, there was very little oil. Just some potatoes and lettuce. However, Gerald and the others didn't say much.

After dinner, Jenna stayed at home. Ever since Gerald and a few others appeared at home, Jenna seemed to be quite happy. From time to time, she would ask Gerald if they needed help.

At six o'clock in the evening, after dinner, Roger drove his truck and drove Gerald and the other two to the bar.

Along the way, he reminded them, "Gerald, you should know what kind of place this is after these days. If not necessary, try not to provoke people. The bar is the largest bar in the Eastern District.

If you Some big shots in the Eastern District and even other areas might come to the bar to play. were beaten and scolded, try to endure it and have a better attitude. Maybe you can also get some tips. I heard from Cory that some generous guests will directly give several thousand lucas!"

Gerald smiled and said, "If we get tips, we will buy meat. By then, we will eat meat every day! When the time comes, we don't have to share the money for meat!"

Roger laughed happily when he heard Gerald's words. He then said, "It's better for you to keep it yourselves."

After a short time, the car stopped at the entrance of the bar

The bar was quite big, and a huge signboard was there. However, it was still early so there were not many people.

"Cory is at the door. Hurry up and go over! Remember what I said. Don't argue with the guests. Try to endure as much as you can." Roger urged, "Then I'll drive over to pick you up at around 12 o'clock. It's dangerous here at night."
