Chapter 331 Work and Tips

Gerald and the other two walked down, glanced at Cory at the door, and then ran over.

Cory also saw them and hurriedly said, "Come with me. Go and change your clothes!"

Gerald and the other two followed him to a room behind the bar. There were many people in it who were changing their clothes. They came from all over the world.

One of the people with a buzz cut saw Gerald and the other two and said happily, "Cory, you found three more people. They must be quite profitable!"

Cory's expression changed slightly, and then he glared at the buzz cut and said, "Tom, mind your words!"

After that, he said to Gerald and the other two, "You can find suitable clothes for yourself. After changing, I will arrange work for you."

Gerald and the other two nodded, and Cory left after he finished speaking.

Gerald and the other two found some suitable clothes and began to get dressed.

At this time, Tom Simmons said happily, "Newbie. How much does Cory give you for a day?"

Gerald frowned, while Theo smiled and said, "150 lucs a day."

"So little?" At this time, Tom scolded, "In our bar, the waiter usually gets 200 lucs a day, but the waiter is generally found by the supervisor. The supervisor will deduct some intermediary fee."

Gerald was slightly moved.

Yesterday, they thought that Cory was a good person, but it turned out that he was also a bastard!

Gerald and the other two were working for him for nothing. He was the supervisor. He could get 50 lucs from each of them. He would get 500 lucs in a day if he found ten people. In addition to the salary that the bar gave him, his income was indeed high!

"Do you want to work with me? I will give you 180 lucs!" Tom asked. "We have to deduct a little. But Cory is too greedy."

Gerald shook his head and said, "Never mind. He was the one who introduced me!"

"Okay, you are also quite loyal. In short, if you can't continue to work with him one day, you can come to me. I am still different from him." Tom patted Gerald on the shoulder as if there were some hidden meanings in his words. Then he walked out.

Theo changed his clothes and scolded, "Cory is also dishonest!"

Gerald smiled and said, "It doesn't matter. Let's wait and see. When you go to work later, try to pay attention to the conversations of the guests and see if you can gather any information."

They nodded!

After changing clothes, they came out. At this time, Cory looked at them. The figures of the three people were very fit. After all, they were all trained when they were in Night Watch!

Cory was quite satisfied. He said to Gerald and the others, "Don't pay attention to Tom. He is greedier than me."

Gerald did not say much. He smiled and said, "Get some work for us!"

Cory nodded. He gave each of them a walkie-talkie and said, "You can use walkie-talkies. We mainly use channel five. Simply speaking, you will be in charge of a region. There are several tables or booths in each area. When the time comes, the guests will order. You go and get the list to the bar and then serve the wine. If there are guests who want you to drink with them, try not to refuse. Some generous guests will give you tips."

When he said the tips, his eyes were lightened.

"Alright, come with me!" Cory said, bringing Gerald and the others into the bar.

He was smart and separated the three people. They were not responsible for the nearby areas but completely scattered. What Gerald was responsible for was the three booths near the main stage of the bar!

After confirming it, Gerald stood at the side.

At this time, it was almost 8 o'clock. Guests began to walk in one after another in the bar.

There were men and women. Compared to the people who lived in Roger's place, most of the people who came to the bar at night were relatively rich people. It was about eight-thirty. The three booths that Gerald was in charge of also welcomed the first batch of guests. There were a total of four people, a man and three women.

When Gerald saw the three women, his expression lit up slightly.

These three women were all very beautiful. They looked exotic. Their clothes were quite bold. Their figures were really attractive!

The man sat down and took out a cigar from his bag. At the same time, he took out a lighter and threw it at Gerald!

Gerald caught the lighter. He knew that this man wanted him to light a cigarette.

Gerald cursed in his heart. He had never lit a cigarette for others in his life, but he still opened the lighter honestly and lit up the cigarette for him.

The man glanced at Gerald indifferently, took a puff, and then ordered a lot of wine and food. Gerald took the list, ran to the bar counter, and served the wine and food.

The man obviously had no intention of giving a tip. In the surroundings, some people looked over from time to time. After all, three women with hot bodies were indeed very attractive.

But when they noticed the man, their eyes were filled with fear.

Obviously, this man should be a somewhat famous person with some background.

“Waiter!” Just as Gerald served the wine, suddenly, one of the women pulled Gerald over and at the same time, pulled Gerald down to sit beside her.

Gerald glanced at her. This woman had a beautiful face with blonde hair and blue eyes. What a sexy lady!

She blinked at Gerald and touched Gerald’s body. When she touched Gerald’s waist, and she said, “You have a good figure!”

her eyes lit

up,

She picked up a bottle of wine. After opening the bottle, she took out a stack of money from the small bag on her back and slammed it on the table. “You drink up the bottle of wine. This money belongs to you!”

“Really?” Gerald asked.

“Of course it’s true!” The woman was quite bold. Her slender fingers lifted Gerald’s chin as if she was teasing Gerald.

Gerald touched his nose, then directly grabbed the bottle on the table, and under the gaze of the four people, he began to drink.

The alcohol volume was not high, and for Gerald, it was a piece of cake.

With a toss of his head and a few hard gulps, Gerald finished the wine.

He put down the empty bottle, indicating that he had finished drinking it. Then he picked up the 1,000 lucas on the table and said, “Thank you!”

“Interesting!” The woman looked at Gerald with a smile. She did not say much. When Gerald stood up, she did not stop him!

Gerald put the money in his pocket and stood on the side.

It seemed that this was just a pleasure for the woman. She smiled and began to talk with the others, but her eyes occasionally glanced at Gerald.

At this time, Gerald felt someone pat his shoulder. Gerald turned around and found that Cory was looking at him and said, “Come with me.”

Gerald was stunned. There were few guests, and there was nothing to do for the time being. He followed Cory over.

Just as he walked over, he arrived at a passage and asked, "Cory, what's the matter?"

Cory squinted at Gerald and asked, "Did you just get a tip?"

Gerald nodded and said, "That woman is quite generous."

"Of course. You are lucky. I didn't expect these four people to choose you. They usually give a few thousand tips after a night. Take the opportunity!" Cory paused and said, "How many tips did she give you just now?"

"1,000 lucs," Gerald said honestly.

"Give me 500 lucs!" Cory said calmly.

Gerald narrowed his eyes and stared at him!

Cory let out a breath and said, "I introduced you to work here. I have to get the commission. If it's a tip, I have to take half!"

Gerald looked at him with a burning gaze, then licked his lips and said, "Why?"

Chapter 332 One Night's Tips

"Didn't you hear me?" Cory frowned and said, "I brought you here to work. Do you think it's so easy to join the Twilight Bar? You know, Roger and the others worked hard for more than a month and could only earn about 2,000 lucs. But in the Twilight Bar, the basic salary is 4,500 lucs, not including tips! If not for me, you wouldn't work here!"

Cory paused and continued, "So, I will take half of your tips. Understand? Give me 500 lucs!"

"Is it so difficult? Tom just told me that he wanted me to work for him and would give me 180 lucs a day!" Gerald glanced at Cory.

Cory frowned. He seemed to be a little impatient. He stared at Gerald and said, "Will you give it to me?"

Gerald shrugged his shoulders and replied with a smile, "Of course not. I'm not stupid. Yesterday, I thought you were a good person and introduced us to work. Later, I found that you wanted us to earn a commission for you. You can get a quarter from each person, and now you want half of our trips. You are really greedy!"

"I know you just came to Sin City. You are a newcomer, and you don't know this place. You'd better be polite to me. I hope that you can be sensible. Give me 500 lucs, or you can't work here tomorrow." Cory stared at Gerald.

Gerald shrugged his shoulders and ignored Cory. He turned and went back to his seat.

Gerald didn't care about this job at all. Even if Cory didn't want to bring him here, he could turn to Tom!

Cory's face darkened as Gerald ignored him. He stared at Gerald's back a few times with a cold expression.

Gerald returned to the seat he served. He wanted to get some information from these people.

During the process, he knew the backgrounds of these four people. The man was called Ivan Ritter, and the woman who gave Gerald a tip was called Elena Nielsen. The two of them were considered powerful in the Eastern District. From their behavior, Gerald could tell that they were at the top level!

The top experts were not the strongest in Sin City, but they did well. As for the strongest, they were very successful in Sin City.

From their conversation, Gerald knew that they should be the core figures of a certain force in the Eastern District. However, they did not talk too much about the forces in the Eastern District. It seemed that they were here to have fun. They danced to the music and drank wine! Elena was a very sexy woman. She occasionally teased Gerald.

Later, other guests came. However, they were not as generous as Elena and did not give Gerald a tip. Of course, Gerald didn't force them.

Gerald stood by the side.

As time passed, more and more people came to the bar. The people in this city were bold. On the dance floor, countless men and women were dancing intimately. If they had feelings for each other, they would have sex in the restroom.

Gerald even saw many women take the initiative to take the men they liked to the restroom.

What surprised Gerald was that no one dared to cause trouble in this bar.

Gerald could tell that the boss of this large bar in the Eastern District must be very powerful.

Gerald also knew that this bar had nothing to do with Davis.

Davis didn't care much about what happened in Sin City. He only made some rules. He wouldn't care unless people went too far.

Davis was engaged in more advanced business. He controlled all the oil and finance in this city.

Around 11 o'clock, Elena and the others stood up. She picked up another bottle of wine and said to Gerald, "Waiter!"

Gerald turned around immediately and asked, "Is there anything I can help you with?"

Elena was almost drunk. Her face was red, and her eyes were charming. She looked at Gerald seductively. She took out a stack of money from her pocket and slammed it on the table. Then she smiled and asked, "Do you dare to drink up this bottle of wine? If you do, you will get this tip!"

Gerald looked at the wine. Someone had drunk a little of it, but he had not finished it. There was still half a bottle left. It was a bottle of Hennessy X.O.

Its alcohol content was about 40%.

“Don’t you dare?” Elena asked.

“Well, I wonder how much the tip is!” Gerald said.

Elena smiled and unfolded the money. “This time, it’s 2,000 lucrs!”

Gerald smiled and picked up the bottle. Without saying a word, he drank it up.

Clap! Elena couldn’t help but clap. She said, “Impressive!”

After Gerald finished the wine and burped, Elena took the money and walked to Gerald. She almost fell on Gerald. She leaned close to Gerald and put the money in his pocket!

Gerald could feel the amazing touch coming from Elena’s chest.

“I like you. I’ll come and play with you next time!” As Elena said this, she kissed Gerald on the cheek while Gerald was not ready.

“Hahaha!” Ivan laughed and said, “This waiter is the most upright in this bar. He is good!”

As they spoke, they walked out.

Gerald touched his cheek and cursed in his heart, damn it. How could she kiss me? 2,000 lucrs is not enough!

While Gerald was thinking, Cory looked at Gerald’s bulging trouser pocket with a gloomy face. He snorted coldly and looked somewhere not far away.

Not far away, several women were sitting together. Theo, who was dressed in the clothes of a waiter, was enjoying himself with those women.

The women were bold and unrestrained, just as Theo wanted. He seemed to have become a client, holding a woman in his arms, and playing the finger-guessing game loudly.

Those women might not be as generous as Elena, but Cory knew that Theo had received a lot of tips!

Claude was different from the other waiters.

Slowly, Cory felt the difference. He found that these three people were different from the other waiters.

Most of the waiters in this place were at the bottom of society, and their income would not be too high. Most of the people who came here were rich and powerful. The waiters did not dare to provoke

.them and were even submissive to them.

However, Gerald and the other two were different. When facing these people, they were neither humble nor pushy, and they even displayed great initiative, which attracted the guests.

Cory's expression changed slightly, and he said with a sneer, "These three newcomers obviously don't know the survival rules and horror of Sin City. That's why they dare to act like this. In a while,

I will let them know the cruelty of Sin City!"

Time passed, and slowly, the people in the bar became fewer.

When it was one or two o'clock in the morning, almost everyone had left.

Most of the people who were drinking and playing here would not be completely drunk. If they were drunk, they would give their enemy a chance to kill them.

Most people stopped at the right time.

When most of the people left, Gerald and the others began to clean up the garbage. After they were done, it was about two and a half in the morning.

Gerald stretched. It might be tiring for other waiters to stand for a few hours, but Gerald and the other two had been used to it.

Theo and Claude quickly came over. Theo smiled and said, "I got 965 lucas as tips. How about you?"

Claude smiled bitterly and said, "I don't have as much as you. It's only 300 lucas."

"Boss, what about you?" Theo looked at Gerald. "You should have got little money."

Gerald seldom came to the bar, so they thought that it would be difficult for him to work in the bar.

Gerald smiled slightly and said, "3,000 lucas!"

Chapter 333 Greed Isn't an Option

"Fuck, how could you get so many tips?" Theo glared at Gerald and said, "You didn't have sex with the clients, did you?"

"Get lost!" Gerald couldn't help but kick Theo. "I met a generous woman."

"Gee, it seems that she wants to keep you." Theo said with envy, "Boss, why don't you introduce me to her? I'm quite weak and I can't work hard to earn a living."

"You three, come over here!" At this time, a voice rang.

Gerald looked over and found that Cory was standing behind him, waving at Gerald.

Theo nodded and the three walked over.

Theo didn't know about the matter between Gerald and Cory. He said excitedly, "Cory, I like this job. I got more than 900 lucas in one night. If we can have so many guests every day, with our basic wage, we earn 30 thousand lucas a month. We will be among those who have a high income!"

Theo looked smug.

As a sniper, Claude's insight was sharp. He saw the smile on Gerald's lips. He walked to Gerald and asked, "What's wrong?"

Gerald smiled and said, "You'll know later."

They were taken to an alley behind the bar by Cory. As soon as they went there, the smile on Theo's face disappeared.

Theo noticed that dozens of people were standing in the alley. They were dressed as waiters.

The bar was quite large, and there were many waiters in it.

Those people leaned against the wall and smoked. When they saw Cory come over, they threw the butts on the ground and said respectfully, "Cory!"

Cory showed a hint of pride on his face. He looked at Gerald and the other two and said, "They are working under me just like you. Now I will pay you today's salary!"

At this point, Cory sighed, "Give me the tips you received today!"

Those people were active. They handed all the tips they received to Cory, and they would touch each other to see if all of the money was handed over.

Cory said, "I'll take half of the tips. Any problems?"

Those people said, "How can we say no? If not for you, we couldn't even get this job."

Cory smiled. Then, he looked at Gerald and the other two and said, "What are you three doing? Hand over the tips. You three earned quite a lot tonight, right? You said that you received more than 600 lucrs and I saw Gerald earn about 3,000 lucrs. Hand it over. I'll take half of it, and then, I'll distribute the other half as well as the salary to you!"

take

"We work here for a salary of 200 lucrs per day yet you will deduct 50 lucrs. How can you away half of the tips?" Theo narrowed his eyes.

"Save your nonsense!" Cory sneered, "I helped you get your job. Without me, you can't even survive in Sin City. What's wrong with me taking a commission? Hurry up and hand the money over!"

"Fuck you!" Theo bared his teeth. "What can you do if I don't do that? Blackmail me? Do you think I give a shit about this job?"

Cory's expression turned cold. He glanced at the other people, and those guys quickly surrounded the three.

One of them said, "You three are newcomers, right? Do you know how difficult it is to find a job in Sin City? Without Cory, you can't even afford to eat. What's wrong with him taking a commission?"

Theo pouted and said, "I quit! I'll get lost, OK?"

As he spoke, he turned to leave.

Theo was Watchman No. 15 and a member of Team 11762. How could he tolerate such humiliation?

The moment he turned around, several people got in his way.

.Theo's face turned cold. Gerald patted him on the shoulder, indicating that he should not be anxious. Then, he smiled at the others and said, "Cory get us the job and we can accept that he'll take 50 lucs from each person as commission. But we are the ones who served the guests, so why would you give half of the money you earned to him? Don't you want to take it all?"

"Nice try, but don't think about shaking their mind. Do you think I'll do all this unprepared?" Cory came out of the crowd and sneered, "They just came to Sin City and don't understand the rules. We have to teach them a lesson today. By the way, don't hit their faces. They have to work tomorrow!"

In this city, hitting people was commonly seen.

After Cory finished speaking, a few people revealed sinister smiles and approached Gerald.

Gerald exhaled. At this time, Gerald's voice rang out, "Keep them alive!"

"Got it!" Theo sneered. He couldn't hold back his rage anymore.

Theo rushed out, leaving Claude to protect Gerald.

Before Cory could react, he saw a hand grab his head.

"Huh?" Before he could react, Theo grabbed the back of his head.

Then, Cory felt a strong strength. He had no strength to resist at all, and his head was hit by Theo against the wall.

Bang!

"Ouch!"

The sounds of bumps and screams rang out. The people surrounding Gerald turned their heads and looked down.

On the ground, the tips they received were scattered all over. Cory covered his face and rolled on the ground.

Everyone saw that blood was all over Cory's face, and his nose had caved in. His injury was quite serious.

The people surrounding Gerald were all scared. They froze in place and did not dare to speak.

These waiters were lowly people with no stunning backgrounds. They worked here just to survive.

Now, Theo knocked Cory down to the ground in an instant. They knew that Theo was a powerful person, let alone Claude and Gerald. How could they dare to provoke him?

Gerald and Claude walked over from the crowd. Gerald walked up to Cory and squatted down, looking at him calmly.

“How dare you hit me!” Cory seemed to have come back to his senses. His forehead and nose were bleeding, but he stared at the three.

“Isn’t this law of survival in Sin City? The law of the jungle!” Gerald looked at Cory with a smile and said, “We are working here. We don’t care about the 50 lucas you take away, but greed isn’t an option. You should only take what you deserve.”

Reaching this point, Gerald said flatly, “This is a warning. I know you must have supporters so you dare to do these things, but you are not significant enough to attract my attention. You can ask these people to cause us trouble. We won’t start trouble, but we are not afraid of it. If you find someone to deal with us, you have to be prepared to die!”

When Gerald said this, his tone was calm.

But some people felt a chill. They just felt such an aura in the face of big shots in Sin City.

As for Gerald, he seemed to be just a waiter!

At this time, Claude felt his hair stand on end. He swallowed, and when he came back to his senses, he found that Gerald picked up 450 lucas from the ground and said, “This is the base pay for today!

Cory did not dare to speak. He was scared by Gerald’s words just now.

After Gerald picked up the money, he ignored them and turned to walk to the changing room of the bar.

Chapter 334 A Very Cautious Person

The dressing room was almost empty now. Most of the people had already changed their clothes and left.

After Gerald and the other two returned to their rooms, they found their own clothes and put on. Theo cursed, “What a bastard. He even wanted to take half of our tip. Motherfucker. How could those idiots actually endure him?”

Claude smiled and said, “Not everyone is like us. In fact, people like Roger can earn 4,500 lucas a month working here, plus the tips, they can earn five or six thousand lucas a month. It’s already a satisfying salary for them. What’s more, this Cory probably also has a background. They dare not offend him...”

Gerald nodded. But he did not think that Cory's background could be that powerful. If not, Cory would not just be a supervisor in this bar.

In Sin City, one could earn as much money as he could according to his ability, which meant his strength.

The top experts would get used to life in Sin City easily, and they might live here even better than in the outside world because there were many things here that the outside world didn't have.

The advanced experts could live well in Sin City, but the premise was that they had to get smart.

Most of the advanced experts in ordinary cities were rich and bullies. But in Sin City, if they offended someone they shouldn't have, they might end up dead. It was also why Mark would be scared when he heard that Gerald was going to send Landen and Alex to Sin City.

Landen and Alex were notorious in Washington. If they couldn't change their behavior when they got to Sin City, then the possibility of them surviving was very slim.

Those below the advanced level, apart from those who were protected by top experts, could live a good life. Most of them would choose a boss or, like Roger, try their best to make a living.

"Humph! I don't care who he is. Next time he tries to mess with me again, I will rip his head off!"

Theo cursed.

Gerald smiled. After changing their clothes, they went out of the door and saw the truck that Roger parked on the roadside about 650 feet away.

There were all fancy cars near the bar. If Roger parked his car too close, he might be driven away.

Gerald walked over. Through the window, he found that Roger was sleeping in the car.

Roger was exhausted. He had to get up early, and now he had to take Gerald to the Twilight Bar every day.

Gerald was slightly moved. He knocked on the window and said, "Roger."

Roger was awake. When he saw Gerald and the other two outside the car, he smiled and said, "Your shift is over? Hurry up and get in the car. I'll send you guys back."

After getting into the car, Roger started the car and turned the wheel. Then he asked, "How was your day? Did you get any tips?"

Gerald and the other two gave him a strange look. They were worried that they would stimulate Roger if they told him the exact number. The three of them earned a total of about 4,600 lucs today, which was almost half of Roger's salary for a month.

Roger thought that they didn't get good tips today. He smiled and comforted them, "Don't worry. You can't expect to have tips every day. 150 lucs per day is enough for each one of you. This place is different from the outside world. I saw a lot of people who spent money like water in the outside world but couldn't survive after they got here. But you guys are adjusting quite quickly."

Claude cleared his throat and said, "We earned not much. Gerald was tipped 3,000 lucas in one night. We earned 4,600 lucas in total."

"What?" Roger's voice trembled when he heard this. "You guys earned 4,600 lucas tonight?"

"Yes." Gerald smiled and said, "We can get some meat tomorrow. From tomorrow on, we can have meat every day. Jenna is still young. She should have a balanced diet. Don't worry. You don't need to split the bill."

Roger said no word. He drove silently for a while until he sighed, "Maybe it is fate. But it's a good thing that you earn money."

Theo chuckled, "We have to thank you for your connection, Roger. Otherwise, we wouldn't have been able to earn so much money."

Roger was envious and emotional.

When they arrived home, it was already around three thirty. Gerald said to Roger, "Thank you, Roger. Go and take a rest now."

Roger nodded. He didn't say much with mixed feelings on the way back.

"Alright, you guys have been busy all night. Go wash up and rest early." Roger looked at Gerald and the other two.

Gerald nodded. He thought for a moment and asked, "By the way, Roger. Are there any furniture shops near here? Now that we have earned some money, I want to get Dr. Manning and the others to buy some furniture tomorrow."

Roger frowned and said, "Valery is a beautiful girl. It would be better not to let her show up in that kind of place. This place is complicated. Pretty girls are easily fooled and targeted."

Claude nodded and said, "Okay, then we will go by ourselves tomorrow."

Roger nodded and said, "There is a prosperous area three blocks away from here. There are a lot of market stalls over there. But remember. Don't quarrel with the stall owners. If you think the price is high, just go to another place. Don't provoke the stall owners. Because they all have a powerful background."

It could be seen that Roger lived very cautiously in this city.

"Thank you, Roger," Gerald said.

"Then I'm going to go to bed. I'm tired," Roger said.

As he spoke, Roger walked towards his room. Theo sighed and said, "It seems that our words have given Roger a blow. I don't think he can sleep well tonight."

Claude kicked him and scolded, "It's all your fault, you idiot. Why did you tell him our income tonight?"

Theo pursed his lips and said, "I just want to let Roger know our strength and make him happy."

“Roger is a cautious person. He won’t think the money he doesn’t earn belongs to him.” Gerald said, “He won’t be happy, but Nikki may be happy for us.”

“Forget it. If we can earn more, we can give them a better life,” Theo said with a smile.

“Go wash yourself up first.” The three didn’t even bother to wait for the bath water to turn hot and took a cold shower. After they put on clean clothes, they went to the second floor. Valery and Kristen were sitting on the second floor. When they saw Gerald and the other two, they asked, “How is your work today?”

Gerald handed all the money to Valery and said, “Not bad!”

“Our boss met a rich girl who tipped him 3,000 lucs today. I think that girl has taken a fancy to our boss and wanted to keep him!” Theo hurriedly said.

Valery narrowed her eyes and glanced at Gerald, saying, “Go to bed. I will go grocery shopping with Kristen and Jolie tomorrow.”

Gerald frowned and said, “Are you sure you want to bring Jolie with you?”

“Jolie’s mental state is not stable. Staying here all the time will do no good to her. Tomorrow, I will take her out for a walk. She has recovered a little.” Valery nodded and said, “Besides, she will be fine staying with me and Kristen.”

Indeed, Valery and Kristen were strong. They should be fine if they didn’t encounter the top experts.

“Alright. Then I’m going to bed now. You guys have to be careful. You’d better make yourself look uglier with those makeup things,” Gerald said.

Then the three of them go back to their rooms.

However, women wouldn’t allow themselves to look ugly at all.

At nine o’clock in the morning, Valery and the other two got up and dressed themselves up. They carried a bag of money with them when they walked out.

Chapter 335 They Have Fought With Someone

Sin City was divided by directions into four areas. The closer one lived to the edge of the city, the worse the living environment became. The closer one lived to the center, the better they got. The Eastern District was also the same. Houses like Roger’s were all ordinary brick houses without much decoration.

The center of the city was equipped with more basic facilities, like schools. Of course, there were very few schools in this area. There was only one school in the Eastern District. Moreover, the cost of the school was quite high.

The school was controlled by Davis.

Three blocks away from Roger’s place was a street called Sundry Street. This street was full of market stalls that sold all kinds of things. There were even several stores on this street.

Valery and Kristen walked slowly to this street with Jolie.

It was early, but this street was quite crowded.

Jolie had gradually understood where this place was in these days. She was still a little scared. So she held Valery's hand and carefully looked around.

When she saw something interesting, a smile that had disappeared on her face for a long time lit up on her face again.

When Valery, a gorgeous beauty, showed up with Jolie, a pretty girl, would naturally attract the attention of many people, especially men.

Valery and Kristen noticed their gazes, but the two of them did not pay too much attention to it and walked past the stores one by one.

They walked into a clothing store and then walked out with a few bags.

Then they walked into another store.

They bought a lot of things, such as bedding, mattress, towels, cabinets, air conditioners, a refrigerator, a water heater...

The price of the items was quite high. Valery was a rich person in the outside world. She would wipe her bank card when she went shopping and had never bargained at all.

Soon, she had spent almost 20 thousand lucs, yet she had only bought two air conditioners.

"We... We don't have enough money." Valery calculated it and frowned.

Kristen pondered for a moment, looked around, and whispered, "How about I go to blackmail some dons here?"

Kristen was a combat personnel who carried out missions all year round outside. She was also a Watchman who had stayed in Sin City for a period of time, plus she had been working with Gerald and the others for the past few years when she joined Night Watch. Therefore, she was quite bold and fearless.

Valery thought for a moment, then shook her head and said, "Gerald said that before he regains his Vital Energy, we have to stay low-profile. You can go blackmail the dons when he recovers."

Kristen nodded and said, "You are right. Boss has offended a lot of people in Sin City before. If his identity is exposed, his enemy may take reprisals against him. We should keep a low profile and let them earn more money first."

After saying that, Valery walked up to the store owner and said, "Do you offer delivery services? We can't take these things back on our own."

"No problem!" The store owner was very happy. Actually, he was making money by the commission, not by selling them.

Valery had spent more than 20 thousand lucs, which meant that he could earn a lot of commission today.

“Of course. You can pay when you receive the delivery.” The store owner smiled and said, “Miss, give me your address.”

Valery nodded and wrote down an address. But when the store owner saw the destination, he frowned and asked, “The Slum?”

Then he looked at Valery with suspicion and frowned. “Can you afford them?”

Valery chuckled. Then she opened her backpack and showed him the bills inside it. The store owner smiled again and said, “Sure, I will send them personally to your place immediately!”

“Alright, I need to go buy some other things. I will pay when I see my packages,” said Valery.

Then they left the store.

Next, they went to the market and the bookstore to get some children’s books for Jenna. Valery planned to teach Jenna, therefore, she had to buy Jenna some books first. In addition, they also planned to buy some meat.

These beautiful girls were so attractive walking on the streets, and they were wearing clothes from the outside world. People tended to think that they had just arrived in Sin City.

It was already eleven o’clock in the afternoon when they were done shopping.

“Let’s go back,” Valery said with a smile.

Jolie seemed to be in a good mood after having a good shopping trip, and she smiled more and more often.

When Valery saw the smiles on her face, she also felt relieved. Then, the three of them came back.

It was not far from the place they lived, and it would probably take them more than ten minutes to pass through three streets.

However, when they passed a crossroad on the second street, they were blocked.

More than ten men with weapons in their hands blocked their way. One of them stood in front of them. He was strong. When he saw Valery coming over, he grinned and said, “Beauty, our boss wants to invite you for a cup of coffee.”

Valery looked indifferent as she glanced at these people. She did not intend to talk to them at all.

She walked past them and was about to leave, but those people smirked and blocked her way again. The man said, “Beauty, are you new here? I can promise you a great life in this city if you become my boss’ woman.”

Become his boss’ woman?

Valery’s face darkened when she heard this.

At this time, Gerald and the other two had woken up. After briefly washing up, Claude went out for a while. Then he returned to the house and shook his head. "Frederic did not leave a signal. He should still have not found Wendy's location."

"Since Wendy dared to take Jolie away, then the Dempsey family probably told her my identity. Of course, she would hide when she knew that I would come here." Gerald sneered, "We don't need to 'rush. Let's see how long she can hide. When I regain my Vital Energy, I will go to Davis and ask him to get Wendy for me. Otherwise, I will smash his place."

"Can you make it quick?" Theo said, "I am so uncomfortable here. I have never felt so aggrieved in my life. I even have to go to the bar to serve people to make money. I want to cry!"

Gerald grinned and said, "But you seemed to quite enjoy it yesterday."

Just as they were talking, they suddenly heard the sound of a car from outside.

"It should be Roger," Gerald said.

He ran to the balcony and looked down when he saw a truck driving over and carrying mattresses, a refrigerator, the air conditioners...

"Fuck, Boss, you should take care of the money yourself. Dr. Manning is so extravagant!" Theo said. "How the hell did they buy so many things?"

"They are all necessities." Gerald sighed and said, "The home appliances and air conditioners are indeed necessary. The weather is dry and hot. It will be a problem to sleep without air conditioners."

The truck soon stopped. Gerald went down to move those things up.

At the same time, another truck came back. When Roger saw the things that Gerald and the others carried into the house, they were all stunned.

Air conditioners, a refrigerator, and a water heater... Roger's family didn't even dare to dream about having these things before.

"What... What are these?" Roger looked at Gerald and asked.

"It should have been Dr. Manning who bought them, but the workers did not allow us to move them in. They said that they have not paid yet," Gerald spread out his hands and said.

Roger frowned. Gerald and the others had earned more than 4,000 lucas last night. But it should be only enough to buy a refrigerator. As for the other things, how could Gerald pay them?

At the same time, not far away, Valery and the other two came back with many bags in their hands. When Gerald saw Valery and Kristen, he frowned slightly and said, "They... They seemed to have fought with someone."

Chapter 336 Acquaintance

Valery still had that cold expression on her face. When she arrived at the door, she greeted Roger and the others. Then she paid the money and said, "Install all these things in the house. Move all the mattresses to the second floor. Install one of the air conditioners on the second floor, and the other on the first floor."

Valery commanded in an orderly manner.

Many neighbors looked over with envy and complicated emotions in their eyes, and some of them looked unfriendly.

Someone shouted, "Roger, have you become rich?"

"Good for you, Roger. They bought you so many good things!"

Roger's family entered the house. Roger took out a cigarette and lit it up, starting to smoke. His brows furrowed.

A poor person should not have bought these things in this area. Firstly, he could not afford them. Secondly, it would make him easily targeted. It was even possible that someone would take their house away.

The neighbor's words did not sound like congratulations to Roger, but more like ridicule and jealousy. This made Roger a little worried.

At the same time, Roger simply calculated all the things that Valery had bought. They at least cost 20 to 30 thousand lucas. Where did Gerald and his men get so much money?

No matter what, Roger didn't want to get involved with dangerous things.

Valery walked in and put some meat and vegetables they had bought on the table and said to Nikki, "Nikki, here are some meat and vegetables. Please make some dishes with these. I need to supervise them to install the air conditioners."

Nikki was a simple and warm-hearted woman. She quickly said, "No problem. I didn't expect you to buy so many things."

Valery smiled. She pointed at a man and said, "Install this air conditioner in that room."

She pointed at Nikki and Roger's bedroom.

Nikki and Roger were both stunned. Nikki quickly said, "No! Just install it on the second floor. We don't need this. We are used to it."

Valery smiled and said, "Please accept it, Nikki."

Roger frowned and asked, "Dr. Manning, Gerald only earned more than 4,000 lucas last night. Where did you get so much money to buy so many things?"

Valery obviously knew why he would ask this. She whispered, "We brought in some jewelry from the outside world and sold them today. You can rest assured. We are going to eat meat for every meal from now on. Jenna is growing up. We should offer her a balanced diet."

Hearing Valery's words, Roger calmed down a little. But when he saw the appliances installed in their room, he was still a little worried.

Gerald, on the other hand, was sitting at the side and watching happily. Occasionally, he also came to help. Now that the bedding and mattress had been changed, he could sleep much more comfortably at the very least.

Valery also felt a sense of accomplishment.

After a while, she asked Roger, "By the way, Roger, have you heard of Dark Reapers?"

Roger put off the cigarette in his hand and said, "Dark Reapers is actually the force that is in charge of this area. They charge us protection fees. They are considered one of the largest forces in the Eastern District. They are roughly three forces in this area."

Hearing this, Claude asked softly, "Boss, Dark Reapers sounds quite familiar. Have we met them before?"

Gerald scratched his head and said, "I don't know. It has been five years. Who knows? Maybe they are just some nobody."

"Okay." Claude nodded and did not take it to heart.

Roger did not think much of it when he heard what Valery said. He did not think that Gerald and his men had the ability to go against Dark Reapers. Roger frowned and said, "By the way, tomorrow is the day that Dark Reapers will come to collect protection fees. They usually come in the evening, 500 lucrs per person. You have six of you now, which means that you need to prepare 3,000 lucrs."

"Good," Valery said, and then commanded them to start working again.

Gerald walked to Valery and asked, "Did you fight with someone?"

Valery nodded and said, "Some people of Dark Reapers tried to tease me, so I gave them special treatment. Not fatal, by the way."

Gerald trembled slightly. Valery could always find places on a body that wouldn't cause pain and not be fatal to stab. Gerald silently prayed for those people who provoked Valery and then sat back aside. He did not take this matter to heart at all.

Before he regained his Vital Energy, he wanted to keep a low profile, but it did not mean that he would be a coward. He had four people who could combat and handle most of the fight now. As long as those real big shots in Sin City did not show up, there was nothing he should be afraid of.

Even if those big shots came out, Gerald had his own way to deal with them.

The air conditioners and the water heater were installed for more than an hour. When they were done, it was almost one o'clock in the afternoon and lunch was ready.

Because Valery had bought a lot of meat and vegetables, they all had the best meal ever since they came to this city.

Nikki was not an excellent cook. But they were all satisfied as long as they could fill their stomachs. They wouldn't mind the taste at all.

Jenna was very happy when she received the book that Valery had bought for her. She instantly sat aside and started reading. Although she couldn't understand what the book said, she was still excited.

In the afternoon, Roger and Nikki went out to work.

In the evening, when Gerald and the other two went out to work, Valery suddenly stopped Gerald and said, "If you don't want to have a conflict with those who came to collect protection fees tomorrow, you better earn more money tonight. I only have more than 100 lucrs now."

Gerald was helpless, but he had to nod.

Gerald planned to pay the so-called protection fee first and then let Theo find a way to get the money back again.

At seven o'clock in the evening, they arrived at the entrance of the bar on time.

Cory was still at the entrance of the bar with bandages on his face. When Tom walked past him and saw his appearance, he said, "I knew you would get this one day. You were beaten up, right?"

Cory sneered, "I was drunk last night and fell. None of your business."

Tom was not angry. He patted Cory on the shoulder when he saw Gerald. Then he asked, "Here. come the three newcomers! Do you want to work with me? I only want a 20 lucrs commission, and you can have all the tips you earn."

Gerald was surprised. How would Tom be so friendly to them?

Cory sneered, "They are with me. Don't you think about laying a finger on my business."

Tom smiled and did not say anything else before he walked into the bar.

"Go and change your clothes. You guys are still responsible for the same area." Cory looked at Gerald with fear in his eyes.

Gerald also did not ask for another boss. As long as Cory was cooperative, they did not need to replace him.

Moreover, they did not know much about Tom, but they clearly knew who Cory was now.

The three bypassed Cory to the dressing room. Most of the people also came to work early. There were quite a lot of people in the dressing room. However, apart from the people who knew each other, most of them remained silent and did not greet each other.

What was most lacking was the trust between people in this city.

After changing his clothes, Gerald quickly got to the area he was in charge of.

People slowly walked into the bar.

Suddenly, Gerald's eyes lit up. He saw two beautiful women walking into the bar. The two of them looked around. When they saw Gerald, they fixed their eyes on him.

Then, they walked straight toward Gerald.

Chapter 337 Gerald's Beautiful Fans

Without a doubt, among the beauties Gerald had seen for so many years, the two women in front of him were the most beautiful.

They were as beautiful as the gorgeous Valery and Audrey. But they were not of the same type.

Audrey looked perky, but Valery was detached. But the two women in front of him were completely different. They were dressed in revealing and tight dresses, exposing a lot of skin. It seemed they were trying to show off their amazing figures.

When Gerald saw them, he could not help but swallow his saliva and say, "Come to me!"

As if they had heard his prayers, the two women froze slightly when they saw Gerald. They said something to each other and then quickly walked toward him!

When they got near Gerald, they stood still. One of the women with red hair stared at him and sized him up, saying, "They are so alike!"

The other woman's hair was black, long, and straight. Gerald could imagine that if he was in bed with her, she would whisper, "You are pressing my hair." It was so exciting to think about.

Of course, he still smiled and said, "Welcome!"

"They really look alike, almost exactly the same," the red-haired woman said again.

"It can't be him. If it was him, he wouldn't have come to this place to be a waiter, and he has been away for five years. It's impossible for him to come back," the black-haired woman sighed.

The red-haired woman frowned. She gritted her teeth and took out two bills each worth 100 luc from her pocket. She looked at Gerald and asked, "Can I touch your face?"

She seemed to be courteous.

Gerald was slightly touched.

From their conversation, it seemed these two women knew him. "Five years", "look alike"... It sounded like a coincidence!

However, he did not remember these two women at all. If he had hooked up with such two beautiful women five years ago, Gerald would definitely remember them.

However, he did not know how they knew him. Five years ago, Gerald had a great reputation in Sin City. However, there were few people who had seen his face and knew his real name!

For example, Frederic knew Gerald's name by accident.

Gerald did not expose anything. He immediately agreed to the women's unreasonable request to touch his face with money.

He smiled slightly and said, "Of course!"

When the red-haired woman heard Gerald's words, she frowned slightly and said, "You really are. not him. He would not come here to work or accept our request. You are not like him."

Gerald thought to himself, do you have any misunderstanding about me?

The red-haired woman threw the money on the ground and sat down on the sofa that Gerald was in charge of, saying, "If you want the money, pick it up yourself and give me the list."

Gerald was not angry. He bent down and picked up the 200 lucas.

Watching Gerald doing that, the red-haired woman and the black-haired woman both showed a trace of discomfort on their faces. The black-haired woman stared at Gerald and said, "You look so similar to him, but you are actually doing this for a living..."

Gerald put the money in his pocket and handed the list over.

Soon, they ordered drinks. Then, they ignored Gerald and began to talk to each other. However, they kept stealing peeks at him.

Gerald stood on the side obediently, thinking about how he had missed out on these two beauties. five years ago.

The two women drank and chatted with each other. The red-haired woman thought about it and then looked at Gerald. "You are not busy anyway. Come and sit beside me!"

The black-haired woman frowned and said, "Eileen, he is not him."

"It doesn't matter. I have been looking forward to seeing him for five years. It is OK to meet a man who just looks like him," the red-haired woman said.

Noticing Gerald did not move, the woman frowned and slapped 500 lucas on the table, asking, "Is this enough?"

Gerald's eyes lit up, and then he sat down next to the red-haired woman, taking the money.

When they saw what Gerald did, they revealed looks of disgust.

"Well, according to you, you seem to know someone who looks similar to me?" Gerald asked.

The red-haired woman sneered, "He is Watchman No. 0. He used to strike fear in the people of Sin City. At a young age, he reached first place on the Moon List. Then, we saw him reach the super level in Sin City. I will never forget that day. From that moment on, I have fallen in love with him.

Unfortunately, he left this place after that day."

Speaking up to this point, the black-haired woman looked at Gerald with some disgust and said, "As for you, you just look like him. It is impossible for him to be a waiter in this place."

He reached the super level in a battle. At that time, there hadn't been many people in Sin City. The people present were all big shots. It seemed these two women were not ordinary.

He looked at them in silence, surprised he had two gorgeous fans in Sin City!

Of course, he did not tell them his identity. It was okay for them to misunderstand. Otherwise, if the news of his staying in Sin City spread, he would be in trouble.

He sat beside them and listened to their conversation. Gradually, Gerald guessed their names.

This black-haired woman was called Jessie Bowler, and the red-haired woman was called Eileen Yates.

The reason why they came to drink was that Jessie had encountered some trouble. A powerful man was crazily chasing after her. She wanted to refuse, but he kept pestering her. She had no way to deal with him. So, in a foul mood, she and her best friend, Eileen, came here to drink.

After hearing their conversation, Gerald frowned and said, "Actually, this is not difficult. You can find a man to pretend to be your boyfriend and make him give up."

"He is really powerful. It's not like I haven't tried that, but he actually killed my fake boyfriends." Jessie glanced at Gerald, and then her eyes lit up slightly. "You and that man look so alike. If you pretend to be my boyfriend, my admirer might be afraid!"

The corner of Gerald's mouth twitched as he said, "I definitely wouldn't dare to do such a thing, but I know a guy who would do anything for money. He is also very handsome. As long as you give him enough money, he will definitely take the job!"

As he spoke, he pointed to Theo who was not far away!

Chapter 338 5,000 Lucs for a Night With You

A smile touched Gerald's face. He pointed at Theo, who was not far away, and introduced him to the two women. "See that? It's that guy over there!"

Theo naturally didn't know he had been sold. Since the two women came in, he had been staring at them.

At this time, because it was still early, there were not many people in the bar, so they could see each other.

Such beautiful women were so rare. Theo thought Gerald was looking out for him, so Gerald would introduce him to such beautiful women because Theo was single. He winked at Gerald and blew a kiss at the women.

Gerald said, "See, it's this guy. He's tall and handsome, like a gigolo. It's definitely not a problem. For you to find such a man to pretend to be your boyfriend. Moreover, he doesn't care about his life. As long as you have enough money, he will definitely do it. And you don't have to worry about him. Being killed by the person who pestered you. He excelled at running away."

Jessie looked at Gerald suspiciously and asked, "Is it true? Then why don't I call him over to ask?"

"There's no need to ask. He has a guest to take care of," Gerald said. "I live with him. I will tell him for you. Of course, since it is a risky job, I don't think he will do it unless he will be paid. handsomely."

The black-haired woman looked at Gerald and said, "If he is willing to pretend to be my boyfriend to meet the guy who is pestering me, I will give him 50,000 lucs, but I have to make it clear first. The person who is pestering me..."

"Damn. 50,000 lucs. No matter who it is that is bothering you, he will definitely do it. Don't worry!"

Gerald said.

Eileen looked at Gerald suspiciously and sneered, "Jessie, in fact, it is best for this guy to go. He looks almost the same as the amazing man, so he can scare the jerk. Unfortunately, he is too cowardly to do it."

As she spoke, her tone and face were full of disdain. "What a waste of this face."

They thought the two men only looked alike. The waiter in front of them was nothing like the confident, powerful young man they admired.

Gerald did not tell them the truth. He smiled and said, "Then it's settled. When will the meeting be arranged? I will tell him. Of course, you can't go back on your words!"

"Don't worry. We have 50,000 lucs. Tomorrow night then. Ask him to take a leave!" Jessie said.

Gerald frowned and said, "Our salary here is 300 lucs a day. You have to make up for that, too."

The two women were displeased. They glanced at Gerald at the same time. Jessie said, "Can I add 1,000 lucs? Of course, I have to make it clear that the person who pestered me is called Nardo Curtiss. He is the son of the most powerful person in the Western District. You have to be mentally prepared. If he doesn't want to do it, it's fine!"

"No problem!" Gerald smiled.

Not far away, Theo naturally did not know that he had been sold out by Gerald. He was still smiling and flirting with a woman at a table. This guy was lustful and handsome. He was really good at picking up girls.

Of course, any woman would want to chat with handsome men!

A group of people came to Gerald. This time, it was a few men. They were injured and seemed to be in a bad mood. When their gaze fell on Jessie and Eileen, their expressions changed slightly. They seemed to be a little afraid.

Gerald knew these two women were definitely not ordinary. After all, there were not many people who could see the battle where Gerald had made a breakthrough.

He smiled and said to the others who came in, "Welcome!"

These people were armed. It was obvious they couldn't be trifled with. In fact, in this bar, many customers were rude to the waiters. However, it seemed because they saw Gerald sitting with Jessie and Eileen, they thought the three of them knew each other, so they said politely, "Bro, make a table for 6!"

Gerald arranged for the six people to sit down, and then after the wine was served, he stood at the side.

"I gave you money, but you just stand there?" Eileen suddenly snorted.

Gerald had no choice but to walk to them and sit down!

More people came to the bar. Most of them did not dare to get too close when they saw Eileen and Jessie. Even though they were very beautiful, no one dared to hit them up.

It was unknown whether it was because the two women were powerful or because of Jessie's admirer Nardo.

After three rounds of wine, Eileen seemed to be a little drunk. She held Gerald's face and said with pity in her eyes, "Why do you look exactly the same as him? Do you know? From the moment he turned around and smiled five years ago, I have been in love with him. Unfortunately, I waited for him for five years but could not see him again."

Gerald didn't take it seriously. She fell in love with him after just one look?

Most of the women in the city were bold.

"Ahem, I sell my skills but not my body," Gerald said with a dry cough.

When Eileen heard Gerald speak, a look of disdain touched her face. She took out another 200 lucas and threw it to Gerald, saying, "From now on, you are not allowed to speak. If you don't speak, I can still see him in you. Once you speak, everything is ruined."

Jessie could not help but chuckle.

Gerald didn't know what to say.

At the same time, behind Gerald, on another sofa, the voices of several people talking attracted Gerald's attention.

Even though the bar was noisy, and Gerald had lost his Vital Energy, his senses were still sharp. As long as he paid attention, he could still hear what they were talking about through the noise.

One of them said, "Damn it. It is the first time that we, Dark Reapers, have suffered such a big loss on the three streets. Shit, those two women. I will sleep with them sooner or later!"

Hearing that, Gerald couldn't help but concentrate.

"Don't think about it. Our boss is chasing one of them. Damn. In Sin City, I have never seen such beautiful women before." Another person said, "I think our boss can't have her. This kind of woman will cause trouble. The big shots will like them when they see them."

"Damn, I don't know where they live."

The six of them cursed as they spoke!

Gerald realized these people should be the ones who were beaten up by Valery and Kristen in the afternoon!

Gerald narrowed his eyes slightly. It was impossible for them to have a good relationship with Dark Reapers.

After all, Dark Reapers came here to collect protection fees, and Gerald and the others didn't have the habit of paying for it, so the final conflict was only a matter of time.

Gerald's eyes narrowed, and a trace of cold light flashed through them.

Opposite him, Jessie noticed Gerald's expression and froze slightly. When she came back to her senses, she found Gerald looked like a coward again.

Did I drink too much and see it wrong? Jessie thought to herself suspiciously. Why did I feel him in the waiter just now?

Maybe I drank too much. After all, they look almost exactly the same, she sighed inwardly.

Because of the huge change in temperament and the belief that Gerald would not come to work here, even if they looked exactly the same, the women still did not think the waiter was the man who had left a great impression on them five years ago.

Time passed, and there were more and more people in the bar.

Jessie realized Eileen drank more than her even though Jessie was the sad one. It seemed that after meeting Gerald, Eileen was emotional and kept drinking.

Around ten o'clock, Jessie frowned and said, "Eileen, we should go. If we drink any more, your father will be unhappy when he finds out."

Eileen was displeased. She gritted her teeth and patted Gerald. "I will give you 5,000. Sleep with me tonight!"

Chapter 339 Dark Reapers

Eileen seemed to be drunk. She leaned on Gerald and murmured, "Stay with me tonight. I'll give you 5,000 lucas!"

Jessie was stunned for a moment and quickly said, "Eileen, are you crazy? This person just looks the same as him. They are not the same person. He is not Watchman No. 0. How could you take him back to sleep with him?"

"I don't care. As long as he looks the same, I can just imagine him as that person." Eileen said, put her hands around Gerald's neck and said to Gerald, "Go back with me!"

Gerald was excited. He thought, a beauty made such a request. Damn, I can't refuse her!

Gerald let out a long breath and said, "Eh, lady, I'm sorry. I'm a waiter. I don't sell myself. Of course, if you want me to sit with you for free, I will be very happy!"

Jessie was stunned for a moment. She found that Gerald was a little strange!

then

Gerald seemed to like money very much. It could be seen from the tips they gave Gerald before. But now, they gave 5,000 lucs, and the intention of Eileen's words was very obvious. She would give money to ask Gerald to sleep with her.

Eileen was very beautiful, no matter her figure or appearance!

But... Gerald refused, saying that he would only be willing to go without pay.

Eileen pouted and said, "I'll give you 10,000!"

"No! I'm not that kind of person," Gerald quickly said.

"20,000!" Eileen said.

"Please respect me!" Gerald said.

Gerald had his bottom line. If Eileen just wanted to ask him out and didn't make Gerald responsible for her, Gerald would agree.

However, Eileen wanted to give Gerald money. Gerald thought he was treated as a male prostitute.

So, Gerald refused.

"Humph!"

Eileen directly grabbed a handful of money from her bag and stuffed it into Gerald's pocket. She shouted, "I'll give you money. Come with me. I'll give you 50 thousand lucs... Sleep with me tonight!"

Eileen didn't know the specific amount of money in her hand. At this time, many people looked over. When they heard Eileen's words, everyone looked at Gerald with envy. But when they heard.

Gerald refuse, they were surprised!

"After all, Eileen is Paxton's daughter. Average people do not dare to do so. Although Eileen took the initiative, average people without a background can't bear Paxton's anger!"

"Yes, but if I were him, I would think it would be worth it!"

Jessie looked at Eileen who was drunk and quickly said, "Eileen, stop talking. Are you embarrassed? Leave with me!"

Then Jessie said to Gerald, "Help me take her out!"

This was also one of Gerald's jobs. If customers asked waiters to help them out, they had to do it. Of course, Gerald didn't have to be responsible when customers left the bar. This was also a rule of the Twilight Bar.

Gerald carefully put the money Eileen gave him into his pocket. Then he followed Jessie and sent Eileen out.

After getting in the car, Eileen directly grabbed Gerald's clothes and said, "Sleep with me tonight!"

Jessie seemed to be unable to bear it anymore. She directly knocked Eileen out. Then, Jessie looked at Gerald and said, "You... are quite interesting. You care so much about money, and you are not willing to sell your body for money. This makes me think highly of you. Go back and tell your friend that I will come here to pick her up tomorrow."

Gerald nodded. Jessie did not seem to care that she was also drunk. She directly drove away. The car Jessie drove was a silver sports car.

Seeing them leave, Gerald tidied up his clothes and chuckled, "With the power behind you, I think we will have more opportunities to meet. When my Vital Energy recovers, you will know my identity. Will you take the initiative to get close to me? When the time comes, I will take both of you..."

Thinking of this, Gerald could not help but smile.

Gerald tidied up his clothes. Then, he took out the money in his pocket and counted. There were 3,400 lucs in total!

Previously, Eileen had given Gerald 900 lucs. Later, Eileen grabbed a handful of money and stuffed it into Gerald's pocket. Gerald didn't expect that there would be 2,500 lucs!

Jessie did not ask Gerald to give it back. Gerald thought, with their status, they probably did not care about this bit of money.

Gerald chuckled and said, "We have settled the protection fee tomorrow!"

"Of course, this protection fee is used to find someone useful."

Gerald returned to the bar. In the bar, people at the other two tables were still drinking. Those people from Dark Reapers had no intention of giving tips. They were almost drunk. However, none of them were completely drunk. After a while, they paid the bill and left.

On the other table, there were two men. After arriving, they asked two women to drink wine with them.

In a bar in Sin City, beautiful female waiters are necessary. Of course, not everyone would ask for that kind of service. More people liked to seduce other women on the dance floor.

This kind of waiter was too professional and did not fit the likes of some people.

Of course, Gerald did not get any tips from the people at this table. The tips were all in the pockets of the two women who drank wine with them!

“Damn it! These should be mine!” Gerald cursed in his mind.

At two or three o’clock in the morning, the bar gradually became silent. Gerald cleaned up the things and found Cory in the back to receive today’s salary!

After being beaten yesterday, Cory became honest instead. He did not say anything. He obediently gave 150 lucas to each of them. Although Cory was jealous that Gerald could earn a lot, he did not dare to say it.

After receiving their salary and changing clothes, they walked out of the bar.

On this day, Gerald still earned the most, while Claude’s was relatively less. Claude only got 50 lucas of tips, and Theo got almost 300!

This kind of person who gave a lot of tips at once was hard to encounter. Gerald was just lucky.

They earned 4,300 lucas tonight, only a bit less than that of yesterday.

After they got outside, Roger was still waiting for them outside. After getting in the car, Roger did not take the initiative to ask Gerald and the others about their salary, as if he was afraid of having a jealous mind.

Gerald and the other two also did not mention it!

When they returned home, they simply washed up and went back to their room to sleep.

When they woke up, it was already noon. Roger went to the edge of the island and got a cart of food back. Because Gerald and the others were there, they had a better meal!

Gerald told Theo about Jessie. Theo agreed. It was not just a matter of money. According to Theo, for a beauty like Jessie, he would do anything without hesitation!

In the afternoon, Claude still went to the place where he had an agreement with Frederic. He found that Frederic did not leave any messages, which also meant that Frederic still did not have any news of Wendy!

Theo went to the Eastern District, but he also didn’t hear any news about Jacob and the others.

As for the matter of going to the Fantasy Hotel, after finding Jolie, Gerald directly gave up. He didn’t know the specific conditions of Perrin’s helper. If they were experts at the top level, Gerald had the confidence to deal with them. But if they were experts on the Sun List, things would be troublesome.

This was also the reason why Gerald had always been low-key. He didn't know what kind of person Perrin had found to deal with him.

Around six o'clock in the afternoon, Roger and his wife finished delivering the dishes and returned home. Roger found Gerald and said, "The people from Dark Reapers came. Have you prepared the money?"

Gerald nodded and said, "Yes, it's ready!"

"Let Valery and Jolie hide upstairs. Don't let them come down. These people will make a move when they see these two beautiful girls," Roger said.

The three girls were already upstairs.

"Hey!" At this time, a few people came in from the door. The person standing in the front looked around and said, "Roger, it seems that you live a better life. You even have an air conditioner and refrigerator."

Chapter 340 Conflict (1)

Roger's expression changed slightly. Then, he looked towards the door.

Gerald also looked towards the door. Five people walked in. One of them held a briefcase in his hand and wore a pair of glasses. He was dressed in a suit and tie. He looked very refined.

The others were all carrying weapons in their hands. Due to the hot weather, some people were topless. In their hands, there were some things like chickens and ducks.

These things were probably raised by average people, and they forcefully snatched these things.

"Damn it, the weather is quite hot!" A person behind the man said and walked towards the kitchen. Then, he said, "Wow! Noel, their refrigerator is a fucking double-door refrigerator. I even don't have it at home."

Roger heard this and his face suddenly changed. "Noel, I..."

"Hehe, we are acquaintances. We know that you have a hard time but you paid the money on time. We don't care about your furniture and appliances. As for whether you can guard it in private or not, it's none of my business," Noel said.

Noel was a middle-aged man. His head was bald. He wore a vest. There were many scars on his body. For people in Sin City, especially those who were strong, it was normal to have scars on their bodies.

Noel held a large saber in his hand and threw it on the table. Then, Noel looked at Gerald and the others. He asked, "These people are..."

Gerald and the other two were sitting there. Their expressions were quite calm. Roger quickly introduced, "They are newcomers. You know, my wife is a good person. After seeing them wander outside that day, she took them in. Now, they worked at Twilight Bar."

After saying these, Roger said to Gerald and the other two, "Be quick to greet him. This is Noel Wallis!"

"Mr. Wallis!" Gerald and the other two quickly said,

Noel looked at Gerald and said with a smile, "Newbie? Have you told them the rules? If they live here, I will charge them 500 lucs for each. How many people live here?"

"Six people in total!" Gerald said.

Roger quickly said, "The other three people can't get used to the climate. Now they are living upstairs because of allergies. We will pay the fee. Noel, you know, I am an honest man. I just want to live a steady life."

"The three of them are women, right? They should be pretty, right?". Noel asked with an evil smile.

At this time, in the kitchen, the person who went to the kitchen came out. He took out a lot of beverages from the kitchen. These were all bought by Valery yesterday. Valery put these things in the refrigerator. He even took out a piece of beef that Valery had bought. As he walked, he said, "Roger, you live a good life now. The refrigerator is full of drinks and meat. I don't expect that you could afford luxury food like beef."

The man threw a bottle of iced beverage to each of them and then asked, "What are you still standing there for? Call all three women down. Noel and us still don't have a wife. Don't you know? Do you still want to stay here?"

Roger's expression changed slightly. He looked at Gerald and the others. Roger found that Gerald looked quite calm. Roger did not dare to refuse Noel. He went upstairs and said, "Dr. Manning, those people who collect money said that they wanted to see them."

Valery was stunned for a moment. Then, she nodded and said, "Alright, we will go downstairs immediately!"

The three girls walked down from upstairs. When Noel saw Valery and Jolie, they were excited.

They were not the group of people that had been beaten up by Valery yesterday. They did not recognize Valery, and they were stunned by Valery's and Jolie's beautiful appearance!

They thought that Valery and Jolie were very suitable to be their boss' women.

"Noel, if we take these two girls back and give them to the boss, the boss might be able to give us a reward!" the man who went to the kitchen said.

Noel also swallowed his saliva. He licked his lips and looked at Roger and said, "Tsk tsk, Roger, I used to think that you were an honest person. Now, you dare to lie to me. How dare you hide such beautiful women?"

Roger's expression suddenly changed. He wanted to explain something, but he found that he could not open his mouth. At this time, he was so scared that he couldn't say anything.

In Roger's mind, he also regretted that he had taken in Gerald and the others.

Roger looked at the expressions of Gerald and the other two. He found that they were still very calm. At this time, Roger knew that Gerald and the others wouldn't let Noel bring the girls away.

"Hand over the money, and then I will take these three women away. Is there a problem?" Noel asked with a smile.

Roger did not dare to speak. He handed over 1,500 lucs with a trembling hand.

In the kitchen, Nikki heard their words. She quickly ran out and said, "Noel, these girls are good people. They just came to this place, and it is not easy for them. Just turn a blind eye and pretend that you have not seen them. I beg you!"

Noel pushed Nikki away.

Gerald frowned. Nikki was about to kneel on the ground and beg, "Noel, I beg you. We have known each other for so long. Give me a favor!"

"Do people like you have the right to ask me for a favor?" Noel sneered. He looked at Nikki who knelt, and his face was full of disdain. Then, Noel stretched out his hand and grabbed at Valery!

"Slap!" At this time, Gerald suddenly raised his hand and grabbed Noel's hand. Then, Gerald grinned and said, "Did I ask you to move?"

Noel narrowed his eyes, and a sinister smile appeared on his face. He looked at Roger and said, "Roger, the newcomers you took in don't seem to be nice!"

As Noel spoke, he looked at Gerald and said, "Then I will teach you the rules of Sin City!"

As they spoke, a few people surrounded them.

Swoosh!

Swoosh!

Swoosh!

Several people directly pulled out the sabers in their hands, and they looked at Gerald with a sneer!

Nikki's expression changed. She lay on the ground and shouted, "Gerald, you guys, don't be in a daze. Run!"

Gerald turned around, looked at Nikki, and said, "Nikki, if we leave, they will make things difficult for you. So... we can't leave."

Nikki was slightly stunned.

Gerald was also very moved. At this moment, Nikki wanted to let Gerald and the others go. Although Roger did not dare to speak, Gerald could understand!

Nikki was such a kind person, and Gerald could not let her down!

“Nikki!” At this time, Claude walked to her side and helped her up. “Don’t kneel casually. They don’t deserve it!”

When Gerald saw the people surrounding him, he knew that this conflict could no longer be avoided. He sat down and smiled, “Let’s fight!”
