Chapter 431 Have You Heard of the Night Watch?

The one-eyed man licked his lips. He held a walkie-talkie in his hand. At this time, he said to the walkie-talkie, "Everyone, board the ships and control both ships!"

After that, many pirates began to approach the two ships with guns in their hands.

On the top deck of the bigger ship, Malcolm and Paxton were sitting on the deck smoking. They saw this scene. Malcolm smiled and said, "It seems that Gerald and the others did not go so smoothly to buy things!"

"Are these people going to rob us?" Paxton suddenly smiled and asked.

"It looks like this," Malcolm smiled.

"Interesting. I am so bored looking at the seawater every day. I almost went crazy. I don't expect someone to take the initiative to entertain us. It is really interesting." Paxton moved his shoulders and said, "How about we feed the fish with them later?"

"These are pirates. They must be very good at swimming. It will be boring to throw them in the sea. Later, we will find a few poles and hang them all. It should be interesting to put many of them high," Malcolm said.

They were already discussing how to play with these pirates. Facing pirates with hot weapons, they seemed to be not afraid at all.

Gerald and the others had already been surrounded. The local people of the island surrounded them. They were noisy.

"What the hell are you talking about?" Theo said disdainfully. "All trash. None of them are innocent. Why don't we kill them all?"

Gerald also wanted to kill them all, but before he could speak, he suddenly found that this large group of people had quieted down.

Then, the crowd dispersed to both sides. Gerald looked in that direction and saw a group of people in uniform walking toward them.

-The one who was walking in the front was Brael!

When Gerald saw those people, he frowned slightly.

Claude whispered into Gerald's ear, "I'm afraid that this group of people is not just pirates. They are likely mercenaries."

In this world, mercenaries existed. They appeared on various battlefields. They could be paid to do anything.

Brae walked to them. When he saw the woman who was injured, he seemed to understand what was going on. Then Brae looked at Gerald and asked, "Sir, are you going to intervene in the matters of our island?"

Gerald looked at Brae and said calmly, "This cruise ship was kidnapped by you, right?"

"What else? Bro, we are pirates. Do you think I'm a kind man?" Brae looked at Gerald and the others. His tone carried a trace of coldness.

Gerald pursed his lips. He looked at Brae and said, "This woman, and other people on the ship, let them all go."

Brae was stunned. He held a pistol in his hand and walked to Gerald. He pointed the pistol at Gerald's head and said, "Are you talking to me?"

"I advise you to take the gun in your hand away. Do not use it at random!" Theo said with anger.

"Hey, I was going to play with you guys!" Brae said. "Since we're already at this point, let me make it clear. As a pirate, what I want is money and women. On Sunshine, there are wealthy merchants from all over the world. But don't worry, I won't do anything to them. At most, I'll control those women and sleep with them. When their family sends me the money, I'll let them go!"

When Brae said this, his gaze swept back and forth between Valery and Belinda. He said, "As for you guys, as expected, your two cruise ships have already been controlled by my people."

Brae revealed a lecherous expression as he said, "Tonight, these three women will all appear on my bed. I will enjoy it!"

As soon as Brae finished speaking, Kristen was pissed off.

There were four women, but Brae did not like her. Kristen was angry.

Brae did not notice the change in Kristen's expression. He waved his hand and then said, "Tie these women to my room. As for these men, just... keep them. I will see if there are women in the town who like them. They have a Diamond Card from New Bank. We can make a big sum of money from them!"

As Brae spoke, he looked at Gerald with a smile and was about to turn around with the gun.

At this time, Brae suddenly found something moving in his hand. He turned his head and was stunned. He found that the pistol in his hand had fallen into Gerald's hand.

"You... How did you do it?" Brae was shocked.

Gerald directly threw the gun at Theo next to him. Theo put his hand out of his pocket. He held the gun and his Vital Energy began to surge on his wrist. At the same time, he looked at Brae and asked, "Why are you pointing this thing at us? Who do you think we are? Rich merchants? People who are bullied by you?"

During the conversation, under Brae's shocked gaze, Theo directly crumpled the gun into an iron lump.

Brae was shocked.

He had never seen this kind of thing!

“This...”

The surrounding people were also frightened. When they thought of how Gerald had just taken the bullet with his bare hands, they were scared.

Brae thought of something terrifying. He looked at Gerald and asked, “Who ... are you?”

Gerald smiled and touched his nose. “Have you heard of the Night Watch?”

The moment Brae heard it, he was frightened.

At this time, a large group of people were holding guns and rushing into the ship. Some people followed the edge of the ship to each deck. Some people rushed into the cabin, and some people ran to the control panel of the ship, wanting to control the people on the ship.

At this time, several crew members were sitting on the control panel, chatting with each other!

These crew members were Davis’ people. Of course, these people were from Sin City, and they were also the few people in Sin City who could occasionally come out to see the outside world.

While they were chatting, a few people rushed in with guns. They pointed their guns at the crew members, and some people shouted, “Don’t move. You have been kidnapped by us. Everyone, raise your hands and follow us to the island!”

In the cabin, the vice-captain was also there. He frowned and said, “It seems that there is something wrong with Gabriel and the others buying things on the island!”

The pirate raised his gun and shouted, “Don’t talk nonsense. All of you raise your hands!”

The vice-captain frowned and said, “Throw them all into the sea!”

Soon, there were several screams in the cockpit. Then, someone flew out and fell into the sea!

The third floor of the ship was the playground of the cruise ship, and this place was also the most lively. The life of traveling on the sea was quite boring, so these villains from Sin City played here!

Frederic was one of them!

“Bang!”

At this time, in the casino on the third floor of the ship, a loud gunshot suddenly rang out. The originally noisy casino suddenly quieted down.

gun

Some people looked toward the door. At the door, there was a man dressed like a pirate. He held a and fired at the sky. At the same time, many pirates ran in with guns on both sides. One of them shouted, "Everyone, raise your hands!"

All the people in the casino were stunned for a moment, and then someone cursed, "Damn it! Just some trash. Let's continue to play!"

"I bet big this time!"

"Straight flush. Fuck. Give me money!"

After a brief moment of shock, the entire cruise ship began to bustle again. They ... completely ignored this group of pirates.

Chapter 432 They Are Real Villains

The group of pirates who rushed in was stunned.

Ignored!

They were actually ignored!

As the frightening boss of the nearby sea, this group of pirates felt humiliated at this moment.

The person in charge of attacking their cruise ship had a fierce look in his eyes. He held a machine gun in his hand and looked around. His eyes fell on Gavyn, who was sitting on a table with a cigarette in his mouth and looked like a big shot.

He had to assert his authority, and Gavyn became his target!

"Crack, crack, crack..."

He fired again. The sound of gunfire echoed in the casino, which became quiet again. The leader of the pirates was a man with a beard. He roared fiercely, "All of you, raise your hands. You have been kidnapped!"

As he spoke, he pointed his gun at Gavyn, and in the next instant, the sound of gunfire suddenly erupted.

He wanted to establish a fierce reputation by directly killing the most powerful person in his eyes, so this group of people who did not respect them would feel terrified.

As he fired, his eyes revealed an excited bloodthirsty color.

"Crack, crack, crack!"

However, something shocking happened. His gunshots were loud, but he found that Gavyn in front of him was constantly turning his wrist. It seemed that Gavyn was catching bullets with his bare hands.

"Damn, is this a variety show?" Frederic saw this scene and exclaimed.

The pirate was scared. He looked at this scene in shock.

At this time, one of Gavyn's subordinates said, "Boss, you are good. I didn't expect you to be as naughty as ever. You know that we are bored on this ship, so you arranged such a program for us. I can also catch bullets with my bare hands!"

As he said that, he looked at the bearded pirate and said, "Bro, shoot at me this time."

The group of pirates who boarded the ship was stunned. They looked at everything in front of them with their mouths agape. At this time, Gavyn frowned and stood up, saying, "This was not arranged by me. These people should be the pirates on this island."

"Huh?" At this time, the people in the casino were stunned.

"Something must have happened to Mr. Scar and the others when they went up to negotiate. These pirates want to kidnap us." Gavyn frowned.

"Kidnapping?" Someone moved his body and said, "Damn it. Mr. Scar doesn't allow us to fight here. I have long been bored. I just want to stretch my muscles and bones. They took the initiative to provoke us. We have every reason to attack them!"

When the pirates with guns heard this conversation, they were stunned.

"What the hell is going on? Why does it feel like we're at a disadvantage?"

At the same time, on the fifth floor, many people stood there. This group of people was busy now. More than a dozen pirates came to the deck to find trouble with them. However, these dozen pirates were all knocked down on the ground. Paxton found a long steel pipe somewhere. He strung the ten people together through the sleeves of their sleeves.

"This is interesting!" Malcolm said, "Come and tie them up. Don't let them fall. Hang them on the side of the ship!"

"Great!"

With the help of several people, they hung the dozen or so people on the side of the ship with steel pipes.

These people were about to cry. They were desperately suspended in the air.

They really couldn't understand why Paxton and his men were not afraid when they clearly had guns. What angered them was that they couldn't beat Paxton.

On the other ship, the one-eyed pirate took a fancy to Jessie. He personally led his men to the smaller cruise ship. He ordered his subordinates to control other places while he headed straight for the fifth-floor deck!

He couldn't wait to pinch the faces and buttocks of Jessie and the others.

He had just rushed up when he saw a saber flying over. He subconsciously took the gun to block it. The saber cut the gun in his arms with a bang. He turned his body sideways. He found that the saber directly cut the gun into halves and then stabbed it on the side of the ship.

“What the hell is going on?” The one-eyed pirate felt a chill run down his spine. Before he could react, he suddenly felt that there was someone next to him. He swallowed his saliva and looked to the side. He found a middle-aged man dressed in rags, holding a bottle of wine in one hand, squatting on the side of the ship next to him. The man tilted his head and looked at the pirate, then asked stiffly, “Are you here to kidnap us?”

Cold sweat rose on the forehead of the one-eyed pirate. He nodded and shook his head!

He was going crazy!

In this world, there was actually someone who could cut open a gun with a saber.

This was a monster!

“Yes?” Milo squatted there and frowned. “Then get out of here!”

As Milo spoke, he picked up the pirate and threw him directly into the sea!

Such similar scenes were happening on every floor of the ship.

This group of pirates, who usually dominated the sea, was currently being tortured in all sorts of ways!

They were pirates, but this group of people from Sin City were true villains who knew martial arts!

At the same time, Scar and the others, who were carrying things, were also surrounded at this time. The people Scar brought with him were experts, dozens of whom were at the top level. When the pirates attacked Gerald and his men, Scar and his men were also attacked.

They were a group of fighters at the top level, so they wouldn't be at a disadvantage.

“Damn, Mr. Scar, what's going on?” a person looked at Scar and asked.

Scar touched his bald head and frowned. “I... I don't know either!”

On the other hand, Brae's body was trembling. That was because he was afraid!

Night Watch was a mysterious existence. Brae had never come into contact with them, but he had heard of them. In the past, there was a huge pirate crew in the Pacific Ocean. Many countries could not do anything to them. Later, the pirate crew collapsed. Some of the pirates who wandered into Brae's pirate crew mentioned that this was the doing of Night Watch.

It was very strange and Brae did not take it to heart at all!

But now, Gerald suddenly asked Brae this question. Next to Gerald, there was a person who directly distorted the pistol with his bare hands. Brae was about to faint.

The group of pirates surrounding Gerald also began to slowly disperse to both sides. They were shocked and frightened.

At this time, there was no brotherhood at all. This group of pirates gathered together just to survive!

They withdrew in the face of danger!

Moreover, these people were not tied by blood!

Many pirates immediately ran away. Only twenty of them remained cool.

Brae's body trembled slightly. He gritted his teeth and said, "Sir, please let me go. And I will let your men go. What do you think?"

"The people on our ship... I don't think you need to let them go!" Gerald touched his nose calmly.

"Boss... You... Look over there!" suddenly, a pirate stuttered.

Brae looked in the direction that his subordinate pointed. He saw that outside a huge cruise ship, several things that looked like poles stretched out. There seemed to be some people hanging on that pole.

Because Brae was far away, he couldn't see clearly. He swallowed his saliva and picked up a telescope from the person next to him. This time, he saw it clearly.

He saw that the men he sent to control the two cruise ships were now stuck together in a string and hanging on the side of the ship. Most of his people had bloody noses and their faces were full of despair.

"This..."

Seeing this scene, Brae completely lost control.

Chapter 433 Old Friend

Yes, he collapsed. They were such a large pirate group, yet they were unable to control two cruise ships. They were hung up and exposed to the sun. This was a shame!

"You bunch of bastards!" Claude sneered, "Originally, we were only here to make a deal. It was fine if nothing happened, but in the end, you kidnapped a cruise ship when I was here and even wanted to attack us. You are so arrogant!"

Gerald waved his hand. He squatted down in front of Brae and looked straight at him. "Where are the rest of the people you kidnapped?"

Brae was in fear!

"What would you do to me if I told you?" Brae asked.

“You are pirates and mercenaries. If I’m right, you used to be active in some war-torn countries, right?” Gerald asked.

Brae’s expression changed slightly, but he did not deny it. He gritted his teeth and asked, that for a living. Most of us are refugees because of the war!”

“Don’t talk about these. Hurry up and tell me where the people you kidnapped are now.” Claude kicked and scolded him.

did

“They...” Brae gritted his teeth. At that time, he didn’t want to resist. He looked at Gerald and said, “If I told you, would you let me go?”

“Do you think you have a choice?” Gerald asked coldly.

Besides him, several of Brae’s confidants heard that and picked up their guns!

One of them directly aimed at Gerald and fired!

At that moment, Belinda suddenly moved. Her black skirt trembled, and like a ghost, she slid past that person and then returned to her original position.

The entire process was extremely short.

This was the first time Gerald had seen Belinda attack since he knew her. At the super level, she moved extremely fast. When she came back, there was a drop of blood on the dagger in her hand!

The person who fired the gun fell to the ground.

“Put the weapons in your hands on the ground. Whoever makes a move will die!” Belinda said lightly.

The group of pirates was so scared that they peed their pants. They did not even see how Belinda did

1. Some of them even knelt in front of Belinda in fear.

There was a look of despair on Brae’s face. He never thought that he would actually have huge trouble this time!

Yes, he was a pirate and a mercenary, but he was also an ordinary person. To stand still in Sin City and the underground world was too hard for him.

“I... I will take you there!” Brae smiled bitterly and stood up.

Gerald said to Theo, “Go and inform Scar. Tell him to call down all the people on the ship and control all the islands!”

“What should we do after we take control?” Brae asked blankly.

“This Sunlight must have a way to contact the outside world. We can let other countries take over this group of pirates,” Gerald said.

“Then we...” Theo frowned!

“Don’t worry. After we take control of them, we will leave after transporting the supplies. And we will hand over these pirates to guards. If they can’t do it, then don’t blame us.” Gerald waved his hand and said.

Theo nodded and said, “Alright!”

Theo went to inform Scar. Claude kicked Brae. “Hurry up!”

“Kristen, take this girl back to our ship and bandage her wound. I will go there with Gerald and the others. There may be other people who have been hurt,” Valery said to Kristen.

Kristen nodded.

Under Brae’s lead, they walked toward the back of the mountain. There was a cave there, and there were many pirates guarding there with guns along the way.

This time, Gerald did not hold back. He knocked those guards unconscious directly!

When they arrived at the cave entrance, they heard a series of screams.

And most of them were women!

Brae had captured all the women on the ship and trapped them in this cave, while the men had to stay on the ship.

Of course, he did not kill them. As a pirate, his goal was women and money.

Hearing the screams, Gerald and the others were worried. This was either a woman being raped or being tortured by these pirates!

Seeing the angry expressions of Gerald and the others, Brae was extremely anxious. They walked into the cave. Inside the cave was brightly lit, and there was electricity.

This cave had been chiseled into small cells, and there were many people behind iron doors.

Gerald and the others walked in and looked at the women trembling in fear in those cells. Gerald’s expression was serious.

Gerald and the others quickly took action and dealt with all the pirates inside.

What surprised Gerald was that most of the women in these cells were young women with good looks and in revealing outfits. What kind of cruise ship was Sunlight?

Of course, all this had nothing to do with Gerald. He just wanted to release these people.

However, what surprised him was that when he opened the door, those women became even more scared and squeezed towards the corner of the cell.

Obviously, they were scared to death here!

Gerald frowned and said loudly, “Attention! The island has been controlled by us. Now you are free, you can go back to Sunlight.”

Some people were skeptical. Then, Valery and Carolyn smiled and said, "Everyone, come out. Don't be afraid!"

Those who were brave began to walk out of the prison cell. They walked out and saw the pirates on the ground fainting. They ran to the dock where Sunlight was. They were so happy that most of them even forgot to thank Gerald and the others.

"This Sunlight is probably not a decent cruise ship!" Beside Gerald, Carolyn said, "These women are dressed too boldly. They are probably the playthings of those rich merchants."

Gerald waved his hand and said, "This has nothing to do with us."

"Gerald!" At that time, a skeptical voice came.

Gerald turned his head and looked. Then, a familiar figure appeared in front of Gerald.

She was wearing a low-cut white dress, but she was in a sorry state. Her hair was disheveled. However, even though she was in such a mess, she was quite outstanding in such a large group of women.

"Vivian! Why are you here?" Gerald frowned.

Yes, this woman was Vivian. She was Gerald's ex-wife Irene's cousin!

Chapter 434 Cheated?

Gerald did not expect to meet her here.

In fact, the Everett family's genes were indeed good. Irene and Vivian were both first-class beauties.

However, the Sunlight was full of rich businessmen and rich people!

Based on Vivian's family background, she should not be qualified to board this cruise ship.

When Gerald saw her, he was slightly stunned.

Next to him, Claude secretly gave Gerald a thumbs up and said, "Boss, you are really something. You have a broad reputation among beautiful ladies. To my surprise, you ran into a beauty you know in this place. I can only say I am envious. I feel that in this respect, Theo is far inferior to you!"

Valery and Carolyn looked over. And their eyes were a little cold.

As for Belinda, she seemed to be interested.

Gerald had a headache. He glared at Claude and quickly said, "Dr. Manning, you should know her. The one from Los Angeles, Irene's cousin."

Valery was stunned.

She did know Vivian. When she went to Los Angeles to find Gerald, she had all the information about the people around Gerald. She had seen Vivian before.

But now, Vivian looked a little embarrassed, and her dressing style was bold, so Valery did not recognize her immediately.

“Well, is this your ex-wife’s family?” Carolyn asked.

Claude also looked at Vivian with interest.

Gerald frowned. He looked at Vivian and said, “Why are you here? Is Irene here too?”

“Irene is not here,” Vivian quickly said. After that, she seemed to be a little afraid and wronged. Her tears flowed down immediately.

Gerald frowned. Judging from the clothes of these women, the Sunlight was probably not a decent place. He looked at Vivian and even thought that Vivian had already degraded herself.

When Vivian and Irene left Sacramento, Gerald asked Bradley to arrange a job for them in the Forever Group. This job wouldn’t yield many benefits, but Vivian and Irene would get well-paid. Bradley would pay them 3,200 dollars per month. This was definitely not bad in Los Angeles.

“Just say it directly!” Gerald said with a frown.

“I... I was cheated!” Vivian covered her face and squatted down. “After I returned to Los Angeles, I worked at Forever Group. One time, the company asked me to go on a business trip and contact a big company in Washington. Then I met a rich man here. He crazily pursued me...”

Gerald heard this and felt a little suspicious.

Crazy pursuit? Maybe Vivian took the initiative to seduce him!

Previously, Vivian worked at the Glory World that Gerald had bought. At that time, she had many pursuers, but she just flirted with them. In this regard, she was quite experienced.

And she wholeheartedly wanted to hook up with a rich man.

Of course, since she said so, Gerald did not retort. He just sneered in his heart and continued to listen to her.

“A month ago, he said that he wanted to invite me to travel around the world with his family. I followed him and got on this luxury cruise ship. As a result, I found out that this was a disgusting place. There are many women in this place. They are all models. On this ship, they are the playthings of those rich people!” Vivian became more and more aggrieved as she spoke.

Hearing this, Gerald probably understood that the cruise ship was not a decent one, just like a banquet organized by some rich people in the country. It was full of all kinds of dirty transactions.

Of course, for many people, this was also a chance to get to know many big shots. Although it was not a decent place, there were indeed many rich people on the ship.

“So you were deceived?” Gerald asked.

“Yes!” Vivian said. “He also asked me to sleep with others. I didn’t want to, but he hit me. Then he was kidnapped by pirates.”

Claude sighed and said, “Boss, the family of your ex-wife are really not good guys. I heard that they disliked you because you were poor and wanted to break up with you. After they found out that were rich, they wanted to remarry you, right?”

you

As Claude spoke, he looked Vivian up and down. “Let me tell you the truth. The circle of the rich is completely different from your circle. You can’t get involved. The rich man thinks more than you do. Do you think he didn’t know that you coveted his money? You wanted his money, and he wanted to flirt with you. As for marriage, you are thinking too much.”

Hearing Claude’s words, Vivian shed tears. Many girls around her ran out in panic.

Vivian shouted, “Gerald!”

“Huh?”

Everyone

looked at Gerald and Vivian.

Gerald had a headache. He felt that it was ridiculous!

In the years when he was the matrilocal son-in-law of the Everett family, he did everything for Irene and her daughter. However, everyone in the Everett family didn’t take him seriously!

In those three years, Vivian had never called Gerald brother-in-law!

Now that the two had been divorced for so long, Vivian called him brother-in-law instead.

Vivian had bad days, but she deserved it!

Only money mattered in this world. The reality was disgusting.

“Save me. I can’t go back to the Sunlight. You saved us now, and I may get...” Vivian’s eyes were red.

“Leave it to me!” Carolyn suddenly said, “No matter what, you have been a matrilocal son-in-law for three years. It is a kind of fate, isn’t it? And I can’t stand this kind of rich man who deceived girls.”

Gerald was stunned, then nodded and said, “OK!”

After that, he thought of something and sighed, “When the time comes, take her to our cruise ship. I will send her back to Sacramento.”

Gerald meant it. Although Vivian wasn’t a good person, Gerald’s life was saved by Irene’s father once. Helping Vivian wasn’t a big deal.

Carolyn nodded.

“Let’s go out too!” Gerald said.

Claude kicked Brae beside him and said, “Go out, brat. Don’t try to play tricks!”

Brae's face was pale. He had been thinking about how to escape all the time. However, when Gerald took action to deal with the pirates guarding the place, he made the despair in Brae's heart increase!

The skills that Gerald displayed were not something humans could do.

Brae accepted his fate and only hoped that Gerald and his group would leave quickly, even though Brae felt that it was unlikely.

Gerald led his people toward the port. After walking for a while, Gerald found that this large group of women was hiding in another direction. All of them stood there, not daring to move forward!

Further ahead was the place where the pirates lived on this island, which was equivalent to a town. Now it was a chaotic place!

The people from Sin City were beating up the pirates everywhere.

At first, they only wanted to trade and leave this place as soon as possible. But later, they found out that this group of pirates took the initiative to provoke them. After receiving the news that Scar was going to control these pirates, this group of villains from Sin City rushed down from the ship like bandits!

This process was quite long. Gerald did not interfere with them. After about four or five hours, thousands of pirates were tied up and thrown together on the streets of this town!

Gerald stood with a large group of women. Scar noticed the situation on Gerald's side and quickly came over. His eyes swept over the group of women and his eyes lit up. "Damn, Gerald, good."

"How is it now?" Gerald ignored Scar's craps and asked.

Scar nodded and said, "Almost all of them are under control. All of them are trapped on this street. Our people have found all their weapons."

Gerald nodded and said, "Where is Theo?"

"He said that it was not easy for us to get in touch with other people, so he went to negotiate with the people on the Sunlight," Scar said. "We will hand these people over to the people on the Sunlight. After taking the supplies, we will leave directly."

Gerald nodded. He noticed that the sky was a little dark.

He turned around and said to a large group of women behind him, "You can go back to the Sunlight now!"

Chapter 435 Vivian Doesn't Change

After that, he looked at Vivian and asked, "What's the name of the person who tricked you?"

Vivian recovered a lot at this time. She knew that Gerald was a Watchman and had seen how powerful a Watchman could be. At that moment, she felt very safe.

She hurriedly said, "His name is Krish Hill."

Gerald touched his nose and then said to Scar, "Go and ask Theo to secretly get Krish to our ship."

Scar nodded and said, "Okay!"

Around them, some girls calmed down after a few hours. Some ran directly to the Sunlight at the port, while some took the initiative to thank Gerald.

They knew that it was Gerald who saved them this time!

If not for Gerald, they did not know what kind of things they would encounter.

Slowly, the surroundings quieted down. Most of the women returned to the Sunlight.

There were not many people like Vivian who had been deceived. In fact, most of the women had volunteered to board the ship. Some of them were amateurs, and some were even professionals.

There were countless wealthy businessmen on the Sunlight. Perhaps these women would have terrible experiences, but at the same time, it was also a chance for them to take advantage of the rich.

"It's about time for us to go back," Gerald said. He looked at the sky. It was not noon since they came here, but now, the sun was almost setting.

Originally, they planned to stay for four or five hours. Unexpectedly, it took them almost a whole day. The speed of sailing at night was actually much slower than that of the daytime because they were afraid of deviating from the course.

Several people approached the cruise ship. When they arrived at the port, Gerald found that Theo and Scar were there. Some people were directing some people to move the supplies to the ship.

After seeing Gerald, Theo ran over and said, "It's almost done. The one called Krish has been taken to the ship by me. However, the people of the Sunlight don't seem to intend to ask for help from the surrounding countries. They plan to transport some supplies and leave directly!"

Gerald was stunned. According to the thoughts of these people, this meant that they would release this group of pirates.

"Many of these people are celebrities. If the matter is exposed, the public will know that this yacht is an indecent place. It will ruin their reputations, so..." Theo said. After that, he whispered, "Damn, I also saw many stars on it, the kind of Hollywood."

Gerald was speechless. This was something he didn't expect.

Of course, even if this group of pirates was handed over to the surrounding countries, it would still be a big problem.

Gerald let out a breath and said, "In that case, they are just unlucky. We will stay out of this. After all, we saved them. It's done. After transporting the materials, we will leave directly!"

"Are we really going to let them go just like that?" Carolyn frowned and asked, "They will harm other people sooner or later."

"There is no need to worry about this!" Theo smiled and said, "We have taken a lot of their supplies, including dozens of millions of dollars. Damn it, it's all cash! It just so happens that a large group of us need these things when we go out. As for firearms, I have already thought of a way to destroy them all. For the time being, they won't be able to do anything."

Claude suddenly said, "Their leaders are probably all vicious people. Scar, find someone to deal with them!"

Gerald and the others did not object to Claude's suggestion!

For such a large pirate group, the leaders must have killed many people. Killing them would start a riot among them. And then they will find another way out.

"Okay, I will arrange it!" Scar said.

Gerald nodded and said, "Then let's go back to the ship!"

On the ship, Carolyn said to Theo, "Take me to see Krish!"

Gerald thought for a moment and said, "Bring him to the deck on the fifth floor!"

Theo nodded!

They returned to the ship. The ship did not set off immediately. It still took some time to transport supplies. At this time, on the deck, a young man in a very trendy outfit was kicked and thrown by Theo! His face was full of horror.

He was about twenty-seven or twenty-eight years old. He had a very trendy hairstyle. He was obviously a rich man.

When he arrived on the deck and saw Vivian on the deck, he was slightly stunned and said, "Vivian, why are you here?"

"Is it him?" Carolyn asked.

Vivian nodded, then looked at Gerald and said, "Gerald, he was the one who tricked me here."

Gerald frowned and said, "Don't call me that in the future. I have nothing to do with Irene anymore."

Hearing this, Krish froze in shock.

He was not brought to the island. Other than women, there were only some big shots on the ship. Although he was a rich man, he was nothing on the Sunlight.

He had asked Vivian to sleep with a person. In fact, his purpose was just to make friends with that person.

But Krish knew that the person who saved the Sunlight was from the two cruise ships. Now that he was brought here and saw Vivian, he knew that things were not going well.

“No, Vivian, what did I lie to you about?” Krish said, “I didn’t want to bring you here at first. When you heard that I was going to travel around the world on a cruise ship, you wanted to come with me and take pictures and post them on Timeline.”

Vivian was a vain person, which could be seen from the fact that she wanted to hook up with rich people.

Hearing Krish’s words, Vivian changed her face slightly. She quickly said, “Then you didn’t tell me that this cruise ship was a dirty place. You even asked me to sleep with other people!”

Krish gritted his teeth. He wanted to refute, but when he saw Gerald and the others, he did not dare to refute.

Gerald looked on coldly. Things were exactly as he had imagined. Vivian wasn’t innocent. To put it bluntly, both Krish and Vivian deserved it!

Vivian wanted to board that cruise ship, take photos, post on her Timeline, and show off.

In the end, she was tricked by Krish.

Carolyn sneered, “You’re a man. How can you do such a thing?”

Krish did not dare to speak.

“What should we do?” Carolyn was also a little confused.

After that, she looked at Vivian and asked, “What do you want to do?”

Krish saw that Vivian would determine his life, so he quickly said, “Vivian, I was wrong. I’m sorry. I won’t lie to you next time. How about we get married when we go back?”

Gerald looked at Vivian with great interest, intending to see how Vivian would deal with it.

Vivian gritted her teeth and said, “I won’t fall for your trick. I want money. Give me 800 thousand dollars.”

Krish was stunned, then quickly nodded and said, “I’ll give it to you. I’ll write you a check right now. The check is on that ship.”

“Theo, go ahead!” Gerald lost interest in this matter.

Vivian didn’t change. She just loved money and wanted to marry into a wealthy family.

Gerald didn’t feel very sympathetic to her!

Seeing the disappointment in Gerald’s eyes, Vivian blushed somehow, but she still didn’t want to let go of this opportunity to take 800 thousand dollars for free.

Theo followed Krish. At the same time, Theo sent the girl they first saved to the Sunlight!

Soon, Theo returned to the ship. The staff on the boat also began to call names and prepared to set sail again.

Gerald returned to his room. As for Vivian's room, it was settled by Carolyn on the fifth floor. What made Gerald speechless the most was that after helping Vivian get the money, Carolyn and the others began to gather around Vivian to ask about the things that happened in the three years when Gerald became a matrilocal son-in-law.

At the same time, a whistle sounded. The three giant ships slowly left the port. The direction of the Sunlight was obviously different from Gerald's. The three ships ran in the opposite direction and separated from each other!

"Bang! Bang!"

Late at night, in Gerald's room, there was a knock on the door.

Gerald frowned. He opened the door. When he saw Vivian, he frowned and said, "What are you doing?"

Chapter 436 Arrive in Europe

Vivian looked very s*xy.

She took her clothes from another ship. At this time, she was in her sexy pajamas. This must be prepared for Krish. However, she wore the pajamas to knock on Gerald's door.

Gerald was shocked.

Vivian seemed to know Gerald's thoughts. She quickly said, "Don't overthink this. This is the most conservative one. Don't think too much. I just... want to chat with you!"

"There's nothing to talk about. I don't have anything to do with your family. I just happened to meet you. I sent you back to Sacramento just because of our old friendship. That's all," Gerald waved his hand and said.

"Can you let me in?" Vivian asked.

"People talk! If you have anything to say, just say it there," Gerald waved his hand and said.

"Irene... has stayed single. She has always been talking about you with me," Vivian said.

Gerald couldn't help but sneer in his heart. He didn't reply.

"Actually, both Irene and her mom are missing you now. What happened three years ago was indeed their fault. Irene does like you. Since she went to work, she has had lots of admirers. But she rejected them all because she has been waiting for you. Do you really..."

"Stop!" Gerald waved his hand and said, "Like me? You're kidding me! How did you treat me in those three years? If this is what you wanna say, go back to sleep. We will reach our destination in two or three days."

ays. When we arrive, I will send my family back to Sacramento. When you arrive in Sacramento, take a plane to Los Angeles by yourself.”

Vivian gritted her teeth and looked at Gerald. “I am a little scared. Could you accompany me...”

“Bang!”

Gerald directly closed the door!

“Idiot!”

He did not expect that Vivian would come to seduce him!

How realistic she was!

As for what she said about Irene waiting for him, Gerald didn’t believe a word!

Of course, he believed that Irene didn’t want a boyfriend now. After all, he was here. Irene knew his background. When she looked for a boyfriend, she would subconsciously compare them.

After comparison, Irene would find that none of them was as good as Gerald. She would feel terrible.

But this was none of Gerald’s business.

Closing the door, he directly laid down on the bed. As the boat moved forward, he slowly fell asleep.

The next few days were still boring. On the morning of the third day, Gabriel came to tell Gerald that they would enter the waters of Exploro in two hours.

This meant that they had successfully arrived in Europe!

The island belonging to the Dempsey family was not the only one here. Gerald came to explore an uninhabited island near Exploro.

After Gerald heard this news, he directly walked to the deck. Milo and others had been there. Milo’s body was trembling slightly!

After 20 years, he was finally going to return to this place.

“We’re almost there!” Carolyn said in a low voice.

The revenge for the battle three years ago was finally about to come.

Theo said, “They should have found us. According to Mr. Dominic, there was news from Sin City. Our arrival should attract their attention. Guess, it’s Perrin’s men or those of the United Army who will find us first!”

Gerald said lightly, “Are Franklin and Wendy well?”

“Yes. They’re quite well,” Belinda said with a smile,

“Boss, there is a signal on the phone,” Theo suddenly said.

Gerald took out his phone and looked at it. Sure enough, after arriving in this area of the sea, they got a signal on their phones. At the same time, Gerald’s mobile phone was vibrating crazily. Countless Line messages popped up!

Gerald frowned and did not look at it immediately.

“Almost there!” Gerald muttered.

The headquarters of the United Army was a secret building in Europe. This place was built deep in the mountains. One could only arrive there by plane.

This was almost a small town. There was a huge tall building with a black and white flag on it. This was the flag of Night Watch. The black represented Watchmen. The white represented the dawn and justice!

There were Watchmen of different factions. Of course, although the United Army seemed to be in command here, Watchmen of many factions thought nothing of this place.

And an old man with white hair was sitting in the office of headquarters.

Dressed in the uniform of Night Watch, he was looking out the window!

“Bang! Bang! Bang!”

At this time, there was a knock on the door. A person came over with a serious expression and said, “They are here!”

“Gerald or ... members of the council?” the white-haired old man asked.

The person who came in said, “They are all here! Members of the council are waiting in the conference hall. Gerald’s two cruise ships have reached about 50 nautical miles from Exploro. All of them are villains from Sin City. Dozens of them have reached the top level!”

“Are they going straight to Exploro?” asked the old man again.

That man said, “No! From the route of the voyage, their destination is an uninhabited island near Exploro. They did not attack Exploro!”

“Is Perrin here?” The old man with gray hair asked again.

“We’ve contacted Mr. Dempsey. He is unwilling to come over and asked you to do as you please!” said that man.

“Go to the meeting room!” said the old man with gray hair.

This person was the current head of the United Army, Leonardo Blair.

It was he who issued a Blood Order to Gerald!

He frowned. Although his hair turned grey, his steps were stable. He walked step by step to the conference hall!

There was a round table in the conference hall. At this time, five people in uniform were sitting there. They were the representatives of five major factions of the United Army, which were American Night Watch, Australian Night Watch, European Night Watch, Asian Night Watch, and African Night Watch.

Gerald knew them all. And he was quite familiar with the representative of American Night Watch.

“You must know why I invited you here,” Leonardo said. “According to the latest news, Gerald has come out of Sin City and is heading for Exploro with 2,500 people from the underground world!”

The representative of American Night Watch frowned.

“Hmph, what does Gerald mean? He brought so many people out of Sin City. Is he planning to go out on his own?” a man said indifferently.

“Heading for Exploro? What does he want to do with our hero Perrin?” The representative of European Night Watch sneered and said, “Gerald is vicious and merciless. Since we’ve issued a Blood Order, I suggest that we gather Watchmen right now and start a war with them!”

At this time, the representative of American Night Watch chuckled.

“Billy, what are you laughing at!” the representative of European Night Watch heard his sneer and shouted angrily.

With an ordinary name, Billy was not an ordinary man. He was once one of the top ten Watchmen. Later, he stepped aside and came to the United Army.

do it. He glanced at the representative of European Night Watch and said, “If you want a war, American Night Watch will not get involved. According to the news, there are only dozens of top experts, three super experts, and more than two thousand people. It should not be a problem for you!”

His words made the faces of other people turn green!

“What do you mean? American Night Watch will not declare war on Gerald?” someone asked angrily.

Billy shrugged and said, “Why do we want to participate? We are against that Blood Order. Whoever agrees can go. I want to see how Gerald will deal with you if he knows that you have agreed with that order!”

Chapter 437 Give Them a Chance

Billy’s words sounded somewhat crazy, but everyone was silent.

Who was going to siege Gerald?

As everyone knew, Gerald was a super expert, and the very little news leaked out of Sin City said that the current Gerald was very strong. In Europe, apart from Perrin, no one could be a match for Gerald.

“Billy, you and Gerald are both from American Night Watch. I’d like to suggest you go talk to him, asking him what the hell he wants to do,” said Leonardo on the side.

“Yeah, both Gerald and I are from American Night Watch. Not only that, he saved countless Watchmen’s lives in the Alaska Mountains. Perrin is the hero of the Night Watch. Isn’t Gerald a hero? Isn’t Gerald the winner of the Medal of Star Glory? You chased him out just because of the jerk Perrin’s a few nonsenses, and you even issued a Blood Order!” Billy tittered and said, “Just let it be. Those who fucking agreed on this, just lead your men to siege him. He’s right there now. Go ahead to kill him. Isn’t Perrin here, too?”

Speaking up to this point, Billy sneered, “Moreover, Perrin falsely accused Gerald. What bullshit was he talking about? You know what? Perrin has cooperated with someone from Blood Lotus. We don’t know how many of our colleagues died because of him...”

“Bang!”

Just then, Leonardo slapped the table abruptly. He glared at Billy and said, “Billy, what are you talking about? Why did you falsely accuse the hero of the Night Watch of cooperating with Blood Lotus? It is obvious that the Dempsy family’s deaths are related to Gerald...”

“What’s fucking related? Do you have solid evidence?” Billy and Gerald had a good relationship. Billy lost his temper when he heard what Leonardo said. He suddenly stood up and shouted, “Do you think you are a fucking big figure? It was Perrin who recommended you to be the head of the United Army back then. You are just one of his dogs!”

“You...” Leonardo was shaking with anger all over.

Next to Leonardo, one man from another Night Watch said with sarcasm, “What? Are you American Watchmen going to leave the United Army?”

Billy slightly raised his eyebrows and said, “It’s a pity that I am not the in-charge person for this matter. If I were, we would leave. So what? So many of you are united in wanting to kick Gerald out. Isn’t it because Gerald has been rising too fast? And you fear that we will have both Blaine and Gerald at the same time.

Well, when it comes to war, the one who stands out will always be Blaine. It will always be Blaine. You guys...”

“Enough!” Leonardo slapped the table again. “Billy, now, you are not representing yourself but the American Night Watch!”

Hearing this, Billy cursed and sat back in his seat.

“In short, Gerald has shown up in Exploro with so many people, and the Blood Order has been issued. So we have to do something. I suggest that we form a team to surround them over there. As for how to de al with them, let's hold a conference and discuss it later. What do you guys think?" Leonardo managed to calm down a lot, and he swept his gaze across the meeting attendants and asked.

"Agreed!"

The other four quickly raised their hands in agreement.

Billy snorted and did not say anything. He thought for a moment and then said, "I suggest sieging them. Didn't Perrin say that Gerald killed two of his family members? Then let Perrin personally siege Gerald. If Perrin doesn't go, he is a coward!"

Hearing Billy's words, Leonardo said coldly, "The meeting is over."

The meeting ended unhappily. However, on the side of the European Night Watch, the Watchmen started to gather quickly.

On the other side, Gerald drove two cruise ships, approaching the uninhabited island. After they stopped near the uninhabited island, many people went ashore.

And some people stayed waiting on the cruise ship.

Scar quickly came over and asked Gerald, "What should we do next?"

Gerald calmly said, "We are close to Exploro now. This time, I want to deal with Perrin justifiably.

But no rush now. Let's station here, give them some pressure, and see what they will do."

"What do you mean?" Scar asked.

"Boss means that he is giving Watchmen of the United Army a chance." Theo patted Scar on the shoulder and said, "If the United Army comes to siege us, we will fight back. Of course, it means that we will never return to the Night Watch in our lifetime. If the United Army comes to negotiate but not siege us, we will go into a negotiation."

"We have Franklin and Wendy, don't we? With them, it can prove that Perrin is cooperating with Blood Lotus, right?" Scar asked.

"We will use them later. Our boss needs an explanation from the United Army," Claude said with a smile.

Scar was stunned.

Scar thought, that's right. Being inexplicably expelled from the Night Watch, Boss indeed needs an explanation!

Gerald smiled and said, "Let's be stationed here for a few days. The supplies here..."

Speaking of this, Gerald looked at Theo and said, "Theo, contact some acquaintances in Europe and ask them to deliver us some supplies every day, including tents. For those who like to stay on the ship, let them stay. And for those who like to stay on the island, let them set up tents."

"Are you going to send them back now?" Valery asked, "What if someone from the United Army comes to negotiate, or is Perrin going to fight directly?"

Gerald replied, "If Perrin dared to fight, he would have come over when we showed up here. He must have known that I fought four people in Sin City. Since he hasn't shown up until now, he must be hiding and trying to restrain me with the United Army. So I am going to send Jolie and Vivian back to Sacramento now. As for the United Army, if someone wants to negotiate with me, why should I talk to them? When I come back, I'll go directly to their headquarters to talk to them!"

"How are you going to go back?" Valery asked.

"I'll contact Mr. Lam. Their banks are all over the world. They should have a private plane available here. I'll ask him to take us back directly," Gerald said.

"But what about the documents..." Carolyn asked worriedly.

"Please contact Blaine for that," Gerald replied.

The others all nodded. Valery frowned and asked, "Are you going to go back alone?"

"Yes," Gerald said, "You guys just stay here. If there is anything, call me immediately. Then contact Billy and ask him to pay attention to the movements in Exploro. If Perrin comes out, you guys can take the cruise ship and leave here."

If Perrin made a move, it would be a little troublesome for Carolyn and the others to deal with, so he had to ask Valery to contact Billy and ask Billy to keep an eye on the United Army over there.

The reason why Gerald did not make a move right after they arrived was to give the United Army a chance. At the same time, he also gave himself a reason to start the fight later without any worries.

Even among the European Watchmen, there were many comrades-in-arms of Gerald's.

Having agreed, Scar quickly went to inform those who came out of Sin City. Valery went to contact Blaine for the documents, and Blaine agreed to help.

And Gerald contacted Abraham. Abraham held shares in an airline company in Europe, and he arranged a plane for Gerald.

Everything went on smoothly.

After waiting for about two hours on the uninhabited island, a white yacht approached. A sexy foreign woman stepped off it.

She was dressed boldly. When she stepped off the yacht, many people were attracted by her.

But meanwhile, on Gerald's side, several people frowned when seeing the woman.

Chapter 438 Either Perrin or I Can Survive

The young woman who was getting off the yacht was fair-skinned. She was dressed boldly, in a midriff-baring top and hot pants. She wore a pair of sneakers, revealing her tight and slender legs.

Her pretty face was delicate and cute. She was about 5.8 feet tall and only a little bit shorter than Ellamae.

She got off the yacht and looked around. When she saw Gerald and the others, her face lit up with excitement, and she ran directly toward Gerald.

"Ms. Eliza, my dear," When Theo saw Eliza, his Adam's apple rolled, and he opened his arms and wanted to hug her.

Eliza ran over and directly pressed Theo to the ground. Then she rushed to Gerald and hugged him tightly.

you would "Gerald, we haven't seen each other for more than six years. You said last time that come to see me when you came to Europe. You've been to Europe several times, but you have never come for me for fun." Eliza hugged Gerald tightly.

Gerald felt Eliza's breasts pressed against his chest, which made him embarrassed.

Eliza's full name was Eliza Rothschild.

The Rothschild family had a huge influence in Europe. They even controlled the economic lifeline of many European countries behind the scene.

Different from those families in America, The Rothschild family had a pivotal status in the European Night Watch. Of course, they could not be compared with the Dempsey family.

Eliza could be counted as an old acquaintance of Gerald and the others.

She was a European Watchwoman. Her talent was extremely outstanding. Gerald first met her in the Battle of Brightjoy Peak.

Gerald made his name in that battle, for which Gerald obtained the Medal of Star Glory.

Back then, Eliza was 20, and Gerald was 21. Both of them were at the top level, and Eliza was already in the top ten of the European Watchmen. She was a genius! During that battle, she had seen the talents of Gerald and Carolyn.

Eliza did not discover that there were far more talented people than her in the world until then.

Moreover, Team 11762 successfully saved Eliza and others several times in the battle.

Later on, during the exchange among the younger generation, Eliza and others were defeated again by Team 11762.

What made Gerald feel a headache was that Eliza confessed to Gerald in public after the battle of Brightjoy Peak, and then... She was rejected by Gerald.

The main reason was that Gerald did not like foreign girls.

However, Eliza did not give in, as if she would not marry anyone else except Gerald. Then she started to study English, and now she had no accent in English.

Eliza kept pursuing Gerald in a pestering way, which made Gerald feel fear. Occasionally, when Gerald carried out missions in Europe, he always came quietly and slipped away right after the mission was completed.

"You're strangling me to death," Gerald said with a bitter smile.

Eliza then let go of Gerald, but she held Gerald's hand and said, "Let's get married. Everyone in my family agrees."

"I am wanted under the Blood Order issued by the Night Watch, and your family still agree?" Gerald said in surprise, "Aren't you afraid that Perrin will make trouble for you?"

"What are we afraid of him for?" Eliza curled her lips and said, "Besides, we were against the decision of expelling you from the Night Watch. However, there were a lot of people who voted at the conference of the United Army at that time. Anyway, they are all idiots!"

Eliza paused and then said, "This time, it was Blaine who asked me to come here. Here are the documents for passing customs for you guys. On behalf of my family and some European Watchmen, I'd like to say that Perrin and the United Army do not represent our standpoint! There are many disputes regarding the Blood Order, but the United Army forcefully issued it."

Gerald grinned and said, "I will go to the headquarters to ask them what exactly is going on another day. Didn't Triston go to the headquarters to cause trouble and was beaten up? I will go there and make a fuss too. I hope that they will also beat me up!"

Eliza said, "They don't dare. By the way, are these people all from the underground world? Where did you gather so many people?"

It was obvious that Eliza had not known about what had happened in Sin City.

Gerald smiled and said, "Sin City."

The corner of Eliza's mouth twitched violently, and she said, "Speaking of this, I remembered something. Perrin arranged for Mr. Hiebert to go to Sin City. Did he go to deal with you?"

"Yes," Gerald smiled at Eliza and said, "Mr. Hiebert... has been killed by me."

Eliza was stunned on the spot. After a while, she recovered from the shock and asked, "Gerald... How did you go against Perrin? It seems that you are sworn enemies. Even though many people agreed to Perrin issuing the Blood Order to you, they don't understand why the relationship between you and Perrin has become like this. You two have hardly ever crossed paths before.”

“Would you believe it if I told you?” Gerald asked.

Indeed, Perrin was too special for the European Night Watch. He was the idol of many European Watchmen. To some extent, he was even a totem.

“I don’t know.” Eliza pouted and said, “Anyway, my grandpa and Perrin don’t get along well, and I don’t worship him either.”

“Forget it. You will find out later.” Gerald touched his nose and said, “In short, the current situation is that between me and Perrin, one and only one can survive.”

Eliza nodded and said, “Okay. Anyway, what I can do is to let our family, as well as the Watchmen under our management, not attack you. But after all, a Blood Order has been issued to you.”

Just then, Theo got up from the ground. He looked at Eliza and said, “Eliza, our boss likes gentle girls. You are too violent. Moreover, we look forward to being attacked by the United Army. This way, we won’t have any worries. If we fight, it is uncertain who will be the winner.”

“We have more than 60 people at the top level,” Carolyn said to Eliza.

When Eliza heard this, she was silent. She thought, if the United Army wants to come and fight such a force, it is really hard to tell what the result will be. The key point is that no one knows how strong

Gerald is now.

“Plus four super experts,” Theo said with a smile.

In fact, there were only three super experts. They were Gerald, Carolyn, and Belinda.

But they announced to the public that they have four super experts. After all, in all the Lightbringers’ minds, Scar was a super expert.

“Alright.” Eliza was a little nervous. Then she looked at Gerald and asked, “The plane is ready. When are you departing?”

Eliza did not want to continue asking. With her back a little cold, she wondered, what kind of powerful force is this?

Gerald smiled and then told Eliza,

“Keep an eye on Franklin and Wendy. During my absence, it is the last chance for the United Army, and also the last time I show my respect to them!”

After that, Gerald went to call Jolie and Vivian, and then took the yacht that Eliza came over, heading for an airport in Europe.

After boarding the plane, it was another seven to eight hours of flight. That night, at Sacramento International Airport, Gerald walked out of the airport with Jolie.

Chapter 439 Reunite

It had been almost two months since Jolie's accident and he left Sacramento!

In the past two months, Gerald knew that his family must be very worried about Jolie.

They came out of the airport. As for Vivian, Gerald had done his utmost to bring her back to Sacramento. Then he naturally would not pay attention to her.

Meanwhile, at the airport entrance, Leandro was waiting there. Before he got off the plane, Leandro personally picked him up.

After seeing Leandro, Jolie hurriedly said, "Mr. Hanson!"

"Ah, you don't have to call me that. You should know by now that I am working for your brother. In this Universe Group, your brother has 70 percent of the shares. I am just a worker," Leandro said with a smile.

After Jolie arrived in Sacramento, she wore a brighter smile.

She looked at Leandro. "Mr. Hanson, don't make fun of me. Gerald is just a figurehead. You still have the final say in the company."

"Don't say that. You stayed in Sin City for a month or two. I have never been to that place," Leandro said with a smile.

"Alright, stop bragging about each other here. Jolie, do you remember what I told you?" Gerald asked.

Jolie nodded and said, "Yes."

Gerald's parents and Jolie's family were all ordinary people. She couldn't tell them about Watchmen and Sin City.

What Gerald told Jolie was that she was tricked into joining the pyramid scheme organization. It took Gerald two months to find her and successfully save her.

That was a good excuse. And their families would probably ignore these things because they were excited about Jolie's coming back.

For them, their children's health was the most important thing.

The car drove on for about an hour, and they finally arrived at the villa that Gerald bought.

"I asked for a leave for your father today and asked him to stay at home," Leandro said with a smile.

"Go back. I won't go in with you. How about having a drink tonight?"

Gerald shook his head. "Forget it. I will stay with my family for a day. I have something to do tomorrow.”

“Carry out a mission?” Leandro asked. “Why are there so many missions recently? I feel that you have been busy since you recovered your memory.”

He paused and said, “I don’t know why. I haven’t been sleeping well recently. I have a feeling that something will happen.”

Gerald smiled and then let out a sigh, “Take care of yourself. If anything happens, contact Dennis.

Do you understand?”

“I understand!” Leandro replied. “Alright, I’ll go!”

When Leandro left, Jolie stopped at the door without the intention of opening the door immediately.

“What’s wrong?” Gerald asked.

“I longed to come back and see my parents, but I’m a little timid now,” Jolie said. “I have experienced too much in these two months.”

Gerald touched her head. “Let bygones be bygones. You don’t have to think about anything in the future. Just regard this period as a dream or an experience. When you recall it in the future, it will be something that most people have never experienced!”

Jolie looked up at Gerald and asked, “Then you must come back safely, okay?”

Jolie had heard a lot about the grudge between him and Perrin. She also had a certain understanding of the underground world, the Sun List, and the Moon List. Therefore, she knew that Gerald might be very dangerous this time.

“Don’t worry!” Gerald grinned at her. “I am invincible. Let’s go in!”

At the same time, inside the iron gate, on the balcony on the second floor, while Gerald’s mother Yazmin was drying clothes above, she suddenly looked down. The moment she saw Gerald and Jolie, she said in surprise, “Gerald, Jolie?”

“Mom!” Gerald raised his head and shouted at Yazmin.

Jolie also beamed. “Aunt, hello!”

“It’s you!” Yazmin ran into the room happily as her voice came from the room. “Gerald brought Jolie back. Gerald brought Jolie back...”

Then, a burst of footsteps sounded, and a large group of people swarmed out!

Jolie’s mother, Lilia, ran to the front. She opened the door, hugged Jolie in her arms, and began to wail.

Jolie also cried. "Mom, Dad... I'm sorry! I'm sorry! I made you worried!".

Once again, a wave of happiness surged over the whole family. Lilia's parents cried for a long time with her in their arms. After that, Lilia hugged everyone.

Beside her, Gerald's face lit up.

He felt good protecting his family.

"Don't just stand there. You haven't eaten it yet, right? We just set the table! Let's have dinner!" Mason hurriedly said.

They all returned to the room. Lilia had been holding Jolie's hand, unwilling to let go. It seemed that she was afraid that once she let go, Jolie would disappear again.

After a period of emotional excitement, Lilia asked, "What... What happened?"

"Ah, I was deceived by Wendy. She tricked me into entering a pyramid scheme. I stayed there for two months, completely unable to contact the outside world. Fortunately, Gerald found us..." Jolie said.

She said a lot of details, which convinced everyone in the family.

Mason quickly said, "Be careful next time. Moreover, your annual salary is so high now. You don't need to care about the windfall. Now you live in a villa with an annual salary of more than 160 thousand dollars. You will be able to live well in the future."

"Yes... I'm sorry!" Jolie nodded and said, "I won't do that in the future."

"It's good that you're back!" Yazmin kicked Mason. "Don't damp our enthusiasm!"

Mason smiled bitterly and did not dare to speak!

The family was immersed in the joy of reunion. Gerald also enjoyed the brief period of peace. Meanwhile, he sighed in his heart, I don't know when I'll enjoy the same peace the next time.

"Let's go out for a walk!" Mason asked after dinner.

"You guys go out. I won't go with you. I'm a little tired and want to sleep for a while," Gerald said.

"Alright, if you're tired, then rest!" Yazmin nodded.

Jolie was naturally the center of the family. At this time, the whole family went out for a walk, leaving only Gerald alone in the room.

Gerald went to wash up, found the room left for him at home, and then lay down on the bed.

Then he took out his mobile phone and began to sort out the Line messages!

Ever since he changed into this SIM card, he received many messages on Line. However, Gerald had been making arrangements without the mood to check them. At this time, he was finally free and planned to reply one by one!

When he opened Line, he saw a lot of messages!

The first one who sent him messages was Leana. She even sent him a total of more than a hundred messages!

Thinking of this woman who drugged him to have sex with him, Gerald curled his lip and checked the message!

“Gerald, answer me!”

Most of the messages Leana sent were the same every day!

Gerald kept checking the messages for a while, and then his face darkened slightly!

“Gerald, where are you? Daphne and Ingrid are in trouble. They seem to have been kidnapped.”

Chapter 440 See Red Rose Again

Seeing this message, Gerald felt his heart sink and his brain exploded. He looked at the time and found that twelve days had passed since he received this message!

Leana asked him to reply to her every day without mentioning the news that Ingrid and Daphne had been rescued.

This meant that up until now, neither of them had been rescued!

Moreover, it was likely that Watchmen had known it. After all, if Leana knew, Derick might intervene!

Gerald had always believed in the Dark Net. Most of the tasks carried out by Watchmen were released by Dark Net. The information collection ability of Dark Net was quite awesome.

Without hesitation, Gerald quickly took out his mobile phone and called Leana.

As the phone just rang not long after, the other side was connected. Then Leana’s somewhat urgent voice came. “Gerald, where have you been for the past two months? The phone is not connected, and you don’t reply to me on Line... Do you know that Ingrid and Daphne have been missing for almost half a month? Now the Maddox family is a mess. Daphne’s mother is sick and hospitalized because of her disappearance.”

Her tone carried a trace of grievance.

Gerald let out a breath and said, “What the hell is going on?”

“Let my grandfather tell you!” Leana hurriedly nodded.

Gerald nodded, and then there was a burst of footsteps on the phone. After a while, Derick's voice came from the phone, "Leana, go out. I want to tell Gerald something in private!"

Derick was the person in charge of Dark Net of Night Watch, which Leana was not clear about. He might expose something during the conversation with Gerald, which he didn't want Leana to know.

Leana nodded, and then the sound of footsteps rang again.

After Leana left, on the phone, Derick said, "Gerald, are you there?"

"Yes!" Gerald said. "What exactly happened?"

"About twelve days ago, Irvin reported that Ingrid and Daphne had disappeared from Ingrid's studio." Derick exhaled. "The most important thing is that they suddenly disappeared for no reason.

"After Irvin found me, I activated Dark Net in the entire Washington and searched for them in Washington. But... There was no trace at all. The monitor in her shop showed nothing..." Derick said. "Finally, we found two small marks near the door of her studio. A purple lotus flower and a red rose!"

"A red rose? Did Red Rose do that?" Gerald frowned and asked.

"I think it has something to do with her. Didn't she cooperate with you? I think she deliberately left the news," Derick asked.

"Okay, I got it. I'll contact Red Rose!" Gerald quickly nodded.

"Also, you have to pay attention to one thing. In the past, when Blood Lotus wanted to provoke us, most of the marks they left were red and golden lotuses. This is the first time that purple lotuses have appeared," Derick added. "The color of the lotus is a symbol of their level. We have always suspected that since Blood Lotus can deal with Watchmen for so many years, it is not as simple as it looks!"

When Gerald heard this, he slowly sighed and said, "Okay! I will pay attention."

Just as he was about to hang up the phone, Derick's voice sounded, "By the way, when are you going to deal with Perrin?"

"I will go back after I have dealt with the matters here," Gerald said. "I have now controlled Franklin. I will take him to the headquarters of the United Army to prove some of Perrin's crimes and then take care of Perrin justifiably..."

Then he paused and said, "Then, return to American Night Watch and prepare for the war!"

Derick chuckled, "Blaine, that old brat, is pretty good at judging people although he is incompetent.

I'll wait for your return!"

After hanging up the phone, Gerald found Red Rose on Line and made a voice call!

However, Red Rose directly hung up on Gerald.

Gerald furrowed his eyebrows as his gaze darkened. Could it be that Red Rose wanted to rebel? he wondered.

At this time, his cell phone suddenly rang. Red Rose made a video call!

Gerald was helpless as he answered the phone!

In the video, Red Rose's figure appeared. She was sitting on the sofa in red pajamas. Her pajamas were translucent, revealing her bloody figure, with her two legs crossed. She rested her chin on her hand. At a glance, she was infinitely amorous!

Gerald had met a lot of beautiful women, but the most feminine one was undoubtedly Red Rose!

Ingrid and Daphne were too young, and Leana was a little arrogant.

Valery was very cold, and Audrey was cute and playful!

Carolyn was too decisive.

As for Jessie and Eileen, because they came from Sin City, they were much bolder, but they lacked the flavor of mature women.

Red Rose was different and completely displayed the advantage of a woman's shape and beauty, so sexy.

Seeing this scene, Gerald felt his blood rise.

"Ah. You finally called me. It's been two months. If I hadn't taken your two lovers away, you wouldn't have contacted me!" She pouted, her face full of grievance. While talking, her phone shook and her big breasts were shown!

If he was watching the live stream, Gerald would send a bullet message. "Big! So big!"

At the thought of Ingrid and Daphne, Gerald let out a sigh of relief, "Be serious and tell me. What exactly is going on? What is the meaning of the purple lotus?"

"Come on, why are you so serious?" Red Rose pouted. "Don't worry. The two little girls are fine now. Ms. Shaffer treats them very well."

"Ms. Shaffer?" Gerald raised his eyebrows.

Seeing Gerald's expression, Red Rose covered her mouth and chuckled, "Do you want to know? Do you want to take them back? If you want, you have to agree to a request of mine!"

"What are you going to do?" Gerald's eyes darkened and his tone was a little cold.

"You have to sleep with me. I have wanted to have sex with you for a long time. How about I take you to see them when you make me feel comfortable?" Red Rose said. "And I'm good in bed!"

"Damn it..."

Gerald always felt that he was in a passive position when talking to Red Rose.

For example, if he teased other women, Valery would beat him up and Audrey would blush!

But Red Rose was different and would flirt with him as she pleased. And this woman was famous for her eccentricity!

A little overwhelmed, Gerald coughed and said, "Don't talk nonsense. Tell me or not. If you don't, our agreement will be void. I will find you directly. At that time, we will have a life-and-death struggle!"

"Oh, man!" Red Rose stomped her feet angrily as she pouted. Then her big breast waved from side to side." But the more you behave like this, the more I like you. I feel hot and want you even more."

She's a psychopath! thought Gerald.

Gerald's heart was burning, but his face was cold!

Seeing Gerald's cold face, Red Rose thought that he was pissed off. She waved her hand. "Fine. That's just a joke. Where are you now?"

"I am in Los Angeles!" Gerald said calmly.

"Well, you come to Atlanta to find us. I will send you the address," Red Rose said. "The reason why we take Daphne and Ingrid is that Ms. Shaffer wants to see you and talk to you."
