Chapter 481 Move, and You Will Die!

After Blaine said so, Zackary continued, "The feud between these two families has been going on for a long time. Back then, the two families were quite influential in Atlanta. Moreover, the head of the Mahoney family, Jason Mahoney, and the head of the Charlton family, Henry Charlton, Belinda's grandfather, were learning from the same master."

When he heard this, Claude said in surprise, "So the heads of the two families were learning from the same master? Then why did they hate each other like this?"

"That's where the problem lies," Zackary said, "They used to be fellow disciples. Henry brought Jason to his master's place. Jason was an orphan and lived on the streets. When he was seven years old, he was found by Henry. At that time, Henry pitied him and brought him back."

"Jason has great martial arts talent. His progress was very fast. He started practicing martial arts a bit later than Henry, but they entered the super level at about the same time," Zackary said, "Jason has some problems with his character. For example, after practicing martial arts, he often bullies others. Their master saw this and was biased toward Henry. And coincidentally, Jason and Henry needed the same kind of bones after reaching the super level!"

Zackary continued, "But their master left all the bones to Henry. Jason didn't oppose it at that time."

"About forty years ago, when the North was in chaos, the main force of the Night Watch all came to the North. Jason invited Henry to his place for dinner and poisoned Henry's meal. Overnight, he secretly killed all of Henry's children." Zackary sighed. "This is almost a real version of the farmer and the snake. Belinda was saved because she was not in Atlanta at that time, but she was still found by the Mahoney family and was eventually sent to Sin City."

Theo looked at them and said, "Then after you pacified the North, you didn't deal with Jason? This kind of man will be a scourge sooner or later!"

"Every super expert is crucial when the war breaks out. Moreover, when we came back to negotiate with them, these super-level families had secretly joined forces. If we want to make a move, we might have to pay a great price. After weighing the pros and cons, we just allowed them to retire." Zackary sighed and said, "I just didn't expect Belinda to come back now."

On the overpass, screams sounded from time to time. A large group of people was lying on the overpass.

Gerald stood by and watched from the side. He did not make a move.

Victor's forehead was covered in a cold sweat. Belinda looked at him indifferently and said, "Take me to see Jason. I'll spare your life!"

Victor swallowed his saliva, but then he sneered and said, "Belinda, we spared your life back then, but you actually ran back. You don't really think you are a match for my grandfather, do you?"

“Another word, and you’ll die!” Belinda’s tone was very cold and contained killing intent.

As the Holy Lord of Sin City, she was in a high position all year round. Her cold tone made Victor shudder.

Gerald looked at Victor and said, “Lead the way!”

Victor gritted his teeth. He knew that Belinda was a super expert. Victor was no match for her, but he sneered in his heart and thought, when you see my grandfather, you will cry!

“I will take you there!” Victor said.

Then Victor turned around and led Gerald and Belinda to walk through the overpass and toward the building above the artificial lake.

There were a lot of buildings but few people. Soon, they arrived at the building on the artificial lake. At this time, an old man walked out of a huge door with his hands behind his back.

When he saw Victor, he hurriedly asked, “The people who came just now...”

His eyes fell on Belinda, who was standing behind Victor. He recognized her in an instant and said with a shocked expression, “Belinda!”

After that, he moved his feet and walked inside.

Belinda did not stop him. He followed Victor to walk into the gate. After entering the gate, they saw the flat ground. Just as they entered, Gerald heard footsteps of twenty or thirty people, who came out in a line and surrounded them in the middle.

Gerald took a few glances and said with a slight smile, “They are all top-level. No worse than the Thornton family!”

These people were obviously from the underground world. They couldn’t all be the Mahoney family members. Most of them were probably paid by the Mahoney family.

In front of the flat ground were some stairs. Above the stairs was a huge villa.

A few people slowly walked down from the top of the stairs. In the middle was an old man dressed in a suit. He looked in his seventies but was still healthy. His footsteps were very steady.

“A super expert!” When Gerald saw him, he blinked.

Obviously, the man was the one Belinda wanted to see.

Jason stood on top and looked down at Belinda and Gerald. He ignored Gerald and fixed his eyes on Belinda. Then, he said in surprise, “I used to think you were a beauty. I didn’t expect you to still look so beautiful in your fifties. Henry passed his good genes to you!”

Belinda looked at him with a cold expression. “Jason, it is time to settle what happened back then. My grandfather pitied you and kindly took you in. He even helped you become the master’s disciple. But you killed my grandfather because of your selfishness. People like you deserve to die.”

When Gerald heard this, his expression changed slightly.

Belinda didn't mention her grudge against the Mahoney family. She didn't want to mention it. She said that Gerald naturally knew it when he saw Jason.

It was indeed a story of repaying kindness with ingratitude.

Jason sneered and said, "It's indeed beyond my expectations that you became a super expert. But don't think that you can avenge your grandfather. To be honest, you can only blame my master for being biased, or your grandfather for being too young. He actually trusted me so much!"

Belinda's eyes suddenly turned red and said, "Today, I will definitely take

"How?" Jason said disdainfully, "Just you and the young man beside?"
your life!"

Then, he sighed again and said, "I have spared your life. You should be obedient and hide in Sin City like a mouse. But you have to come to me for revenge. Don't blame me for killing you!"

Jason waved his hand impatiently.

The dozens of people slowly went forward.

Gerald smiled, looked up at the people around him, and said, "Let me remind all of you. Move, and you'll die!"

Chapter 482 I Am Gerald!

"Whoever moves will die," Gerald said indifferently.

With the conversation between Belinda and Jason, Gerald roughly figured out what happened before. Since Belinda was now a member of his team, Gerald naturally had to help her.

Jason was someone Gerald despised.

"Kid, you are so arrogant!" Hearing Gerald's words, one of the top experts sneered. Then, releasing his Vital Energy, he rushed towards Gerald!

At this time, Gerald moved. In the blink of an eye, he stood in front of that person and threw a punch.

His attack was so fast that the person had no time to react at all. He was thrown out of the courtyard and fell into the artificial lake below, likely dead.

The moment Gerald made his move, Jason's pupils contracted slightly. His expression changed. "Super expert!"

Gerald raised his eyes to look at Jason and smiled politely at him.

Jason's face darkened.

Jason really didn't take Belinda to heart. He didn't think that Belinda would pose any threat to him.

But two super experts might change the situation.

“Kid, do you know our Mahoney family? Before you and Belinda attack us, consider the consequences,” Jason said with a sullen face.

“What consequences?” Gerald sneered and asked, “You are not qualified to talk about consequences with me.”

Gerald was too arrogant. His confidence was beyond Jason’s imagination.

“You... Who are you?” Jason asked, gritting his teeth.

Gerald looked up and said lightly, “I am Gerald!”

Gerald used to introduce himself as a Watchman, but now he had left the Night Watch, so he did not say the title again.

But the moment Jason heard Gerald’s name, he was completely shocked.

When Gerald killed Perrin, it stirred the underground world. Perrin ranked third in the Sun List, but he just disappeared. Even if many people did not witness that scene, they knew what was going on.

Jason looked at Gerald. He swallowed his saliva and said, “The Watchman No. 0 Gerald... You help someone from Sin City deal with me? Don’t you know the agreement signed by the recluse family and the Night Watch? What? You are now representing the Night Watch to deal with me. Are you planning to tear up the agreement?”

Gerald frowned and said, “What agreement?”

“We are no longer doing business or anything else in the secular world. We will help you Night Watch fight against your enemies in the future war,” Jason said, “And you will cooperate with us. You will let go of our past and help us take care of our urban business.”

Gerald heard this and thought about something.

But then he sneered and said, “I am no longer a Watchman. Moreover, even if I am a night, I will not let you go after knowing the dirty things you have done!”

Gerald and Zackary had always had some conflicts. Gerald was more emotional when he did things. Zackary was relatively more rational. No matter what Zackary did, he would consider the overall situation. What he defended was not all his belief.

“Who would believe that you are no longer a Watchman?” Jason looked at Gerald and threatened, “Let me tell you, if you dare to hurt me, I will take it as the Night Watch tearing up this agreement. Our three families will bring hundreds of top experts to join Blood Lotus and fight with you!”

Hearing the threat, Gerald narrowed his eyes and said lightly, “Threaten me? Only Zackary will consider everything out of the big picture. It’s fine if you don’t say this. Now that you said so, I feel that you may change sides at a critical moment. I’d better kill you as soon as possible!”

After that, he looked at Belinda and asked, "What are you going to do?"

Belinda sighed and said, "I don't want to kill everyone due to the previous grudges. I just want to kill Jason by myself."

Gerald licked his lips and said, "Understood! Watch the other trash!"

Ever since Belinda attacked those people on the overpass, she didn't simply kill them but only injured them.

Gerald waved his hand. Among the group of people, someone found that the saber in his scabbard flew out and landed in Gerald's hand. In the next moment, Gerald charged at Jason with the saber in his hand.

"Gerald, are you really going to be our enemy from today on? You will regret your choice today!"

Jason roared.

"I won't fucking regret it!" Gerald cursed as he charged forward with his saber in hand.

At the same time, in a villa in Atlanta, an old man was lying on a swaying rocking chair in the living room. Listening to music, the old man had a look of enjoyment on his face.

On the walls of the living room, there were some hyperrealist paintings painted by famous artists.

If one looked carefully, one would find that there was a lotus tattoo on the man's bare arm!

"Bang!"

At this time, there was a knock on the door.

The old man heard the sound and revealed a smile. Then he waved his hand.

The nanny quickly ran to open the door. Just as she opened the door, a tired figure appeared at the door. It was Franklin.

He slowly let out a breath and walked into the living room. He walked to the old man and respectfully said, "Mr. Morton!"

The old man was Xavier Morton, the man controlling Blood Lotus from behind. Xavier raised his head and glanced at Franklin. "Why do you look so terrible?"

"To avoid Gerald, I drove here from Sacramento overnight," Franklin said with a bitter smile.

"A young brat forced you into a desperate situation. If Dr. T hadn't made a move, you would have died." Mr. Morton shook his head and sighed. "I handed the Blood Lotus to you, but over the years, I have been very disappointed. In your hands, the Blood Lotus has declined. Many Golden Card Assassins and Red Card Assassins have died. I can't believe you are hiding from a Watchman."

Franklin smiled bitterly and said, "I'm sorry, but that boy is awesome! His progress is too fast. He has reached the greatest level. I am afraid he will cause a lot of trouble later on!"

“Just a brat.” Mr. Morton smiled disdainfully.

“Mr. Morton, did you ask Dr. T to save me?” Franklin asked.

“No, it’s Davis,” Mr. Morton said faintly, “In comparison, I think Dr. T is more dangerous than the Night Watch. This guy is too mysterious.”

Franklin nodded, sighed, and said, “I wonder why Mr. Morton asked me to come this time.”

“Contact everyone and ask them to gather in the North!” Mr. Morton stood up. Then, he thought of something and said, “Also, contact Ms. Shaffer. Only she, Davis, and I are left. If she is unwilling to go...”

He took out a rectangular iron box and said calmly, “Use this to kill her!”

Chapter 483 Severely Injured

At an underground casino in Washington.

The underground casino was still as lively as before. This place was a paradise for rich people.

It was known to everyone that the underground casino had a total of three floors. However, most people didn’t know that the underground casino had four floors.

On the fourth floor was situated a huge laboratory!

This floor belonged to Dr. T.

In the laboratory, Dr. T was twirling the iron box in his hand. His fingers were extremely agile. He tapped on the iron box, and the frame stuck out. After Dr. T fiddled with it for a long time, a light suddenly shot out from the iron box.

“What?” Dr. T revealed a trace of doubt on his face. Then, he aimed the light at the wall. Soon, on the wall, a blue light screen appeared. The box was like a projector now. On the light screen wrote some words, but they were neither English nor French.

“Interesting!” After staring at the words on the light screen for a while, Dr. T revealed a smile and then waved his hand.

Soon, Dax stood up on the sofa behind him.

“What’s up?” Dax asked.

“Send the information on this light screen to the Night Watch,” Dr. T said with a smile.

Dax was stunned for a moment. He looked at the light screen and frowned slightly. Then he nodded and said, “Got it!”

“By the way, are you willing to make a trip to the North?” Dr. T asked.

Dax frowned even more. Then he shook his head and said, “Not interested. That’s not a good place.”

“What if the North is the main battlefield?” Dr. T smiled and asked, “Blaine might die there!”

Hearing this, Dax remained silent. Then he turned and walked out of the laboratory.

“Ha!” Dr. T smiled and turned to look at the other side. There was a black uniform exactly the same as the night watcher’s uniform. Dr. T smiled and said, “The Watchmen’s clothes are about to be replaced! Or it will be too boring!”

He made a phone call. Soon, a gentle and sweet voice came from the other end of the line. “Dr. T, what’s the matter?”

“Come to my place and get a few bones. When Gerald comes to Washington, remember to give the bones to him,” Dr. T said.

“Okay!” A gentle voice sounded from the other end of the line.

Dr. T hung up the phone and smiled. “Gerald is still too weak. I have to help him become stronger. Only then can the experiment be effective.”

In the secret Mahoney’s residence above the artificial lake in Atlanta, Jason flew back and slammed into the ground. He opened his mouth and spat out a mouthful of fresh blood.

The surrounding people did not dare to make a sound.

Jason ... had been instantly injured by Gerald!

In one move, Jason was almost killed.

Jason’s strength was indeed not that great. Probably due to Jason’s old age, Gerald felt that he was much weaker than Dax, who was ranked seventh on the Sun List. Jason was still slightly stronger than Adam, who was at the very back of the Sun List.

However, the others were completely shocked at this moment.

Jason was a super expert. Why was he... severely injured in one move?

Was the gap between super experts that big?

Gerald clapped his hands and looked at Belinda. He smiled and said, “It’s done.”

Jason got up from the ground. He could barely stand straight. No one, including his family, dared to help him.

“Gerald, you can’t kill me. You really can’t bear the consequences of killing me. Blaine will blame you.” Jason gritted his teeth and said, “Do you know what it means for more than one hundred top experts to join the Blood Lotus? Gerald, you...”

Gerald frowned and said, “I have been expelled by the Night Watch. I’ve told you so.”

At this time, Belinda walked to Jason with a pair of boxing gloves. At this moment, her eyes were slightly red.

“Have you thought about today? When you put me in Sin City, did you think that I would bring people back one day?” Belinda looked at Jason and then lay on the ground like a wild cat. However, in the next instant, she appeared in front of Jason and punched him in his abdomen.

“This punch was for my grandfather. He saved your life and took you as his brother, but you despicably killed him!”

Jason spat out a mouthful of blood.

Belinda punched out again. This time, she aimed at Jason’s head.

“This punch is for my father. He is your godson. On that day, you killed my grandfather and came to my house. My father opened the door for you!”

She punched Jason again and again. She had been calm all the way. Finally, she couldn’t hold it anymore and shed tears.

The hatred that had been suppressed for 40 years completely burst out at this moment.

Gerald watched from the side.

No one dared to move. Even though Jason was constantly asking for help, the top experts he raised and his own family could only stand and watch.

One man who could hurt a super expert in one move was standing there. How could they dare to move?

“Save me!”

Jason’s shout for help became weaker and weaker. He lay on the ground, his old face twitching.

Gerald frowned and said, “Give him a quick death!”

Belinda let out a sigh of relief. She raised her hand and looked at Jason coldly. She used her weapons shaped like cat nails. With one swipe, three more wounds appeared on Jason’s throat. Jason completely stopped breathing.

Another super expert died.

Gerald slowly sighed in relief. Belinda finally took revenge on her family’s enemy.

Belinda squatted on the ground, muttering something.

“Grandfather, I have taken revenge for our family. Forty years, I have waited for forty years!” She sobbed.

Gerald walked to her. As he had done to Carolyn and the others, he gently rubbed Belinda’s head and said, “It’s good that you killed your enemy. Our team will be your family from now on.”

Belinda did not look up. She squatted on the ground and covered her face like a little girl.

The people around could only stand there. Without Gerald’s permission, they didn’t dare to breathe.

After ten minutes or so, Belinda finally calmed down. She stood up, and her eyes fell on the old man who appeared at the door before. She said calmly, "Give me all the bones!"

The old man trembled, but he did not dare to hesitate. He quickly nodded and said, "I will go get them for you now!"

Soon, he came out with a box and handed it to Belinda.

Belinda looked at the old man indifferently and opened the box.

Gerald looked at the box and found that there were nine eight inside. However, these bones weren't attractive to him. Obviously, these bones were not Dragon Bones.

"Let's go!" Belinda turned around and said calmly.

Chapter 484 I'll Get an Explanation for You

Belinda's hatred seemed to have ended here. She held the box and remained silent the whole time.

Gerald found the car on the bridge. Then, he looked at Belinda and said, "It's been 40 years, and the person behind all this is dead. It's time to let it go. Rest for a night and go back to Sacramento tomorrow. Be with Theo and the others. Chat with Theo, and your mood will get better."

Belinda rubbed her slightly red eyes. Then, she looked at Gerald and smiled sweetly, "I'm fine. It's just that this hatred has been suppressed in my heart for too long. After my revenge is complete, I feel a little empty in my heart."

Indeed, it had been almost 40 years, and the hatred had worn out with time. It was more like an obsession.

Gerald looked at the castle in this place and sighed, "However, if these people have really joined Blood Lotus, they will become big trouble."

"Do you regret it now?" Belinda asked.

Gerald shook his head and said, "I don't regret it. These people are just opportunists. Blood Lotus may not dare to accept them. And since I am the one who did this, if they really dare to join Blood Lotus, I will let them know the consequences..."

When Gerald said his last sentence, his eyes were filled with killing intent.

Gerald never showed mercy to Blood Lotus' people.

Belinda nodded and said, "Well. I will be with you at that time."

"Tsk, ts. Aunt Belinda, don't be so ambiguous. It sounds like you want to be with me for the rest of your life," Gerald said.

Belinda's face darkened. She sat in the passenger seat and turned her head, revealing an extremely strange smile. She looked very sexy at this time. She grinned and said, "Gerald, to be honest, have you never been interested in me? You even secretly came to peek at me when I was taking a shower!”

Belinda’s posture was a little seductive. Gerald coughed and said, “That was Terry. I was just a lookout for him.”

“Really? My figure is not bad, right?” Belinda asked with a half-smile.

“Kaff, kaff!” Gerald coughed.

After this, the sadness in Belinda’s heart dispersed a lot. Gerald started the car and entered the tunnel again along the overpass.

Gerald turned on the car lights and slowly drove forward. Soon, he passed through the tunnel and returned to the road. After driving on the road for a while, Gerald found a figure jumping out from the side of the road and waving at them.

It was Gavin!

Gerald looked at Gavin with great interest in his eyes. Gavin had helped Gerald a lot in this matter. If Gavin did not happen to know someone who helped the Mahoney family build this place, it would be almost impossible for Gerald to find this place.

Of course, the Mahoney family and the Night Watch had an agreement. This meant that the Night Watch had news about the Mahoney family. However, because of the agreement, there were not many Watchmen who could know the news.

If Gerald asked Blaine, there was a high chance that Blaine would tell Gerald about the news.

However, because of Gavin, Gerald didn’t need to ask Blaine. Gerald stopped the car, and Gavin hurriedly opened the door and got in the car. He coughed and said, “Gerald, are you done?”

“Yeah!” Gerald said as he started the car.

Gavin pursed his lips. He coughed and said, “About the reward. Are you going to give cash or...”

At this time, Gerald stepped on the brake and turned to look at Gavin with a half-smile.

“Do you think I should send you to the police station or send you back to the Mahoney’s residence?” Gerald asked with a smile.

Gavin was stunned.

“Forget it. I won’t tease you anymore.” Gerald saw the look on Gavin’s face and couldn’t help but smile. Then, Gerald said, “I can give you a sum of money, but... You are not allowed to do those disgusting things like the trap of seduction in the future!”

“I really don’t do that now,” Gavin hurriedly said.

“It’s difficult to change a person’s nature. You were born as a bad guy,” Gerald said lightly. “I will find someone to keep an eye on you. If I hear anything bad about you from that guy, I will let you know the consequences!”

When Gerald said this, his tone was a bit cold!

“I won’t. I will definitely not do it again!” Gavin hurriedly said.

Gerald looked at Gavin. Then, he took out his phone and transferred the money to Gavin. When Gavin received the message from the bank, he grinned happily.

After getting back in the city, Gavin took the initiative to ask to get out of the car. He did not want Gerald to send him back.

Gerald did not ask Gavin to stay for dinner. After Gavin got out of the car, Gerald drove toward the hotel that Cayden booked for him and Belinda. After checking in, Gerald and Belinda went to their rooms respectively.

Although it was evening now, it was still early at this time.

After Gerald entered his room, he first took a shower and then lay on the bed.

Soon, Belinda came over and knocked on Gerald’s room door. Gerald opened the door, and Belinda entered the room.

“By the way, I’ll book a plane ticket. Will you go back to Sacramento to find them, or will you go to Washington with me?” Gerald asked Belinda.

Since Belinda’s matter had been resolved, Gerald’s next goal was to go to Washington to find the remaining Dragon Bones.

Belinda shook her head and said, “I won’t go with you. I can’t get myself into this society. I plan to return to Sacramento. I want Dr. Manning and the others to guide me to integrate into society. If I follow you to Washington, I don’t know what accidents will happen to us again!”

Gerald was speechless. Then, he nodded and said, “Alright. Try to have a good rest. In addition, you can try to absorb the bones that you’ve got. It won’t be long before the war starts. You have to be stronger enough in order to protect yourself and your friends!”

Belinda looked up at Gerald and said, “Do you still plan to go back to the Night Watch?”

“It doesn’t matter whether I will go back or not. Once the war starts, we won’t be able to hide from it!” Gerald said. “You should have met ‘them’ in Sin City.”

Belinda nodded and said, “I got it. There seem to be many types of bones here. I will also let Carolyn see if she can find something suitable for herself.”

Gerald nodded. He picked up his phone and looked at it. Then, his expression changed slightly.

Gerald and the others had built a Line chat group. It was a group of people from Team 11762. But Belinda was not in the group yet. She also did not have a Line account. At this time, Theo sent a message to the group!

“Milo has reached the super level!

“Fuck! When can I become a super expert?”

No one replied to Theo. Seeing this message, Gerald revealed a smile on his face!

Now, Gerald had four super experts on his team. This lineup was almost unprecedented.

“Pack up your things, and let’s go eat something! We can also take a look at the night view in Atlanta!” Belinda said.

Gerald nodded and said, “OK!”

Then, the two of them went out.

At the same time, in the Mahoney’s residence in Atlanta... Jason’s death was a huge loss to the entire Mahoney family.

The person who killed Jason left just like that. None of the Mahoney family members dared to fight back or do anything.

At this time, Victor was sitting in front of the main castle, talking on the phone.

“Yes, I was right. It was Gerald, Watchman No. 0. He did it! But he said that he had already left the Night Watch!”

There were two old men on the screen of Victor’s phone.

One of the old men sneered and said, “Blaine can’t help but want to attack us! Victor, don’t worry. I will get an explanation for you!”

Chapter 485 Return to Washington

Gerald did not know that those recluse families planned to look for him for an explanation. Of course, even if Gerald knew, he would not take it seriously.

And even if the people of those three families did not look for Gerald for trouble, Gerald would still find a chance to go to them to warn them.

Since the thing had already happened, Gerald naturally had to clean up the mess.

At night, Belinda took Gerald to some local food stalls that she remembered. Many of them were old stalls. The food tasted quite good. Then, the two of them went to see the night scene as if they were two ordinary travelers.

It was not until early in the morning that Belinda and Gerald returned to the hotel.

Of course, Belinda and Gerald still slept separately.

The next day, Gerald drove to find Cayden. After Gerald returned the car key to Cayden, Cayden asked someone to send Gerald to the airport. Then, Gerald and Belinda separated into two groups. Gerald went to Washington, while Belinda returned to Sacramento.

In Sacramento, Valery and the others were quite busy during this time. After all, they had to manage more than 1,600 people.

The house Valery arranged for Roger and his wife was just an ordinary house. Roger and his wife went directly to the Universe Group to work. Of course, their positions were the same as Mason's. They didn't need to work very hard, but their salaries were quite high.

Jenna's enrollment procedures were also beginning to be handled.

Since Jenna had come out of Sin City, and she was still a kid, she naturally had to play with her peers.

It was Jenna's dream to study at school and make friends of her age.

But Gerald didn't need to take care of those things. He just let Valery and the others handle those issues. At this time, Gerald had already landed in Washington.

It was already October. It was already a little cold in Washington in October. Gerald wore a hoodie and passed through the airport. Just as he stepped out of the airport, he saw a woman in a dress standing next to a car with sunglasses on her face.

After seeing Gerald come out, that woman took the initiative to wave at Gerald.

The dress showed that woman's curvy figure to the fullest.

She was Nova.

Before Gerald came to Washington, he had communicated with Nova. Nova said she could come to the airport to pick Gerald up, and Gerald naturally agreed.

After Gerald approached, Nova took off her glasses, smiled sweetly, and said in a gentle voice, "Long time no see! You are already ranked third on the Sun List now! It seems that my grandfather made the right decision."

The news of Gerald being ranked third on the Sun List had spread throughout the entire underground world. Of course, not many people knew Gerald. They only knew Gerald's name.

"I was just lucky," Gerald said as he rubbed his nose.

"Alright. Let's get in the car first. Where are we going for lunch?" Nova asked.

"Let's go to Quadrity!" Gerald said. "I have something to do over there!"

When Gerald left Sin City, Charles gave him a letter and asked him to give it to Kaven. Therefore, Gerald had to visit Kaven after he came to Washington.

Nova nodded with a smile. "OK!"

Nova sat in the driver's seat. She did not start the car. Instead, she leaned to the side and fumbled in front of the passenger seat. Because of the position, Gerald could smell a charming fragrance from Nova's body.

Soon, Nova took out a bag of cloth and threw it to Gerald. "This is my gift for you!"

Gerald was speechless. He looked at the bag, and then his expression changed. He took out a package from the bag and opened it. Then, he said in surprise, "Dragon Bones?"

Nova smiled and said, "How is it? Are you touched?"

Gerald counted and found that there were five Dragon Bones in it. He took a deep breath and asked, "Where did you get them?"

Nova muttered, "Humph! I know you need them. I have been collecting them for you all the time. I spent a lot of money to get these five Dragon Bones. You have to be responsible for me in the future!"

"Eh!" Gerald curled his lips.

Gerald naturally didn't believe Nova's words. However, if Gerald could absorb these five bones all within this month, his strength would rise to a certain extent.

Ever since Gerald absorbed those five bones in Sin City, his speed of absorbing the Dragon Bones had slowed down. Moreover, the effect of the Dragon Bones wasn't as terrifying as they were in the beginning.

However, if Gerald absorbed these five bones this time, he felt that if he faced Davis again, he would be able to easily defeat Davis even if he didn't use Death Storm.

At that time, Gerald would truly have a strength that was comparable to Blaine's!

Gerald let out a breath and said, "By the way, I actually have a question that I want to ask you. What kind of person is your grandfather? The information about him was very little, even in the underground world and the Night Watch."

After Gerald found out about Jaden, he called Valery and asked her to investigate Jaden.

There was very little information about Jaden in the Night Watch. Even his appearance was unknown.

The person Gerald met last time was not Jaden.

Jaden was very mysterious. To a certain extent, Gerald felt that Jaden was even more mysterious than Dr. T.

"My grandfather!" Nova smiled. "He is quite low-key. Anyway, he doesn't do anything bad."

Nova didn't seem to have any intention of telling Gerald. After she finished speaking, a smile appeared on her face. She started the car and said, "Oh, by the way, since you've returned to Washington, you will need to be by my side for a period of time in the future. After all, you promised my grandfather that when the war starts, you will protect me.”

Gerald coughed. He had already imagined Valery’s expression when she saw him return with such a beautiful woman by his side.

Of course, Theo would probably be very excited.

But Gerald couldn’t refuse. After all, he had already made his promise. Besides, since Nova gave Gerald five Dragon Bones, Gerald had no reason to refuse her. Gerald nodded and said, “No problem. When I leave Washington, you can follow me.”

Nova smiled.

The car started. Gerald looked outside through the window. Suddenly, he saw a poster hanging on the big screen not far away. On the poster, there was a beautiful woman with a smile on her face.

It was Adriana, who Gerald had saved before. Later, Gerald introduced Adriana to Leandro and asked her to act in Leandro’s movie.

“Tsk, tsk. You men are really born with bad genes. You can’t walk away when you see a beautiful woman. I am such a beautiful woman sitting next to you. Why are you still looking around?” Nova smiled. “What? You like Adriana?”

Gerald sighed and said, “What are you thinking about?”

“Aren’t you very familiar with Kerr? Kerr is quite famous in the entertainment industry. You can ask for Adriana’s contact information through him. But now, Adriana is very popular. Her new movie is brilliant. The box office is now more than 500 million dollars, and it’s hitting theaters now,” Nova said.

“It’s not what you’re thinking. Adriana and I know each other. I was just a little surprised,” Gerald smiled.

Gerald had many acquaintances in Washington, such as Daphne, Ingrid, Leana, and so on.

Gerald touched his nose and muttered, “I wonder if Wesley and Leila have gotten used to living in Washington.”

Just as Gerald was thinking, Nova suddenly frowned and stepped on the brakes!

Because of inertia, Gerald suddenly fell forward. Fortunately, he was wearing a seat belt and did not fly out.

Chapter 486 A Fake Car Accident

“What’s going on?” Gerald asked with a frown.

“There was a person in front of us just now. Did I ... bump into him?” Nova’s expression changed slightly.

From a certain point of view, Nova was Dr. T's person, and she was also one of the people in the underground world.

However, Nova lived in ordinary cities all year round and had never killed anyone.

So when the accident happened, Nova suddenly panicked.

Gerald frowned. He looked at Nova suspiciously and asked, "Have you never practiced martial arts?"

"I have. Why are you asking me this at this time? Get out of the car and take a look at it," Nova said.

Gerald was speechless. He was sure that Nova didn't hit anyone. Gerald did not feel any impact at all just now.

At this time, Nova was completely panicked. The person she saw in front of her was now lying on the ground. She was so afraid that she did not even dare to get out of the car.

Gerald frowned. He opened the car door and got out.

Gerald saw that a man in his fifties was lying on the ground in front of the car. The man covered his shins and wailed.

Gerald thought it was funny. He did not expect to meet someone who dared to fake a car accident in front of him.

Gerald looked at the person wailing on the ground. Then, Gerald turned to Nova and said, "You didn't hit him. This person faked this accident."

"Is he faking it?" Nova breathed a sigh of relief. She felt much better now because she didn't hit anyone. She quickly opened the car door and got out.

Gerald looked at the man wailing on the ground. He walked over and squatted down in front of that man.. "Stop pretending. We didn't hit you!"

The man didn't say anything. He just lay on the ground, clutching his leg and wailing.

At the same time, many people gathered around.

This place was a relatively noisy place.

A passerby said, "Hey, young man, you are driving such a good car. You hit someone and even sneer at him. That's not good!"

Gerald raised his eyes and looked at that passerby. The one who spoke was a middle-aged woman. Gerald said with a slight smile, "You saw me hit him?"

"I saw it with my own eyes just now. You hit him, and you even slander him. Do you still have any conscience?" that woman said.

Obviously, this was teamwork. Gerald thought that whoever was talking right now should be from the same group.

Gerald looked up at the people who spoke and asked with a smile, "Are you all his friends?"

"I am just a passerby. I don't know him at all," someone said.

"Oh!" Gerald smiled and then looked at the middle-aged man who was lying on the ground. He smiled and asked, "Then what are you going to do?"

Gerald asked this question. But this middle-aged man's acting was obviously very good. He frowned deeply as if he was in great pain. Gerald didn't know how this man did it. But the man's face was very pale, and it looked very real!

"I... My leg hurts. I feel that it's broken. I..." The man's face was pale, and he said in a weak voice, "You should give me 10 thousand dollars as compensation. I can't work for a few months. Maybe you should pay me more since I have suffered some mental damage."

Gerald licked his lips.

Gerald thought, this is really a fucking money-making thing. He wants to get 10 thousand dollars by just lying on the ground!

In the first three years that Gerald got married, he worked hard at the construction site. But he could only earn more than 1,600 dollars a month at most.

"Anyway, since you all said that we hit you, we will definitely take this responsibility," Gerald said. "As you can see, my car is worth hundreds of thousands of dollars. Thousands of dollars are nothing in my eyes."

After saying so, Gerald noticed that a hint of joy appeared in those people's eyes.

Gerald showed a smile and then said, "But I think you are seriously injured now. No matter what, you have to go to the hospital first. You get in our car first, and we will send you to the hospital for a check-up. We will pay for you to have a full-body check-up. We can talk about the compensation later!"

Gerald said so sincerely.

"Eh!" The man on the ground was stunned. He did not expect Gerald to be so responsible and even took the initiative to let him go to the hospital for a check-up.

But the man on the ground obviously had done this kind of thing many times. He was not afraid at all. He nodded and said, "OK. You can send me to the hospital first!"

The person who said he was a passerby said, "I will go with you!"

Gerald looked at him with interest and said, "You, a passerby, want to come with us?"

The man was stunned. But then, the man on the ground quickly winked at him. The man paused and said nothing more."

Gerald sneered in his heart, this idiot actually dares to get in my car. After he gets in the car, I will teach him a good lesson!

After helping the "injured" man get in the car, Gerald said to Nova, who was still in shock, 'Let's go!"

Nova started the car, and the people around the car slowly dispersed.

Because Gerald was holding the "injured" man's arm, he sat in the back seat now.

"Which hospital are we going to?" Nova asked.

"Go to Quadriety!" Gerald said faintly.

Gerald's words made Nova and the "injured" man stunned for a moment. The "injured" man, whose name was Andy, hurriedly said, "Aren't we going to the hospital?"

"Yes. But I didn't say when we would go. Let's go to Quadriety first to have a meal and then go to the hospital,"

Gerald smiled at Andy.

was

Andy felt that something wrong. He looked at Gerald and Nova and said, "Then... Give me the money, and. I won't go to the hospital. You can transfer the money to me through Line."

"Money?" Gerald looked at Andy with a half-smile. "What are you thinking? Do you really think we can't see through that fake accident?"

Andy's face changed, and he hurriedly said, "What do you mean? Ouch. It hurts!"

"Just keep pretending!" Gerald smiled. "We have plenty of time to play with you. You are quite unlucky to have met me!"

Andy's face changed greatly when he heard Gerald's words. He looked at Gerald and asked, "What do you.

mean?"

"Didn't you just say that you felt pain?" Gerald smiled. Then, he said to Nova, "Shut down the driving recorder."

Nova nodded and shut the driving recorder. Then, Gerald smiled at Andy and held his shoulder. "It really looks like you are in pain. But the fact is that you can't feel the real pain. What a pity. Let me help you feel it first!"

As Gerald spoke, he directly pressed down on Andy's shoulder and began to exert strength slowly!

Andy instantly felt a burst of pain. Then, he slowly discovered that the pain was growing stronger and stronger. A few seconds later, he found that he really couldn't take it anymore.

"You... What are you doing?" Andy gritted his teeth. "Do you believe that I will sue you?"

"Do it!" Gerald touched his nose. "I've said that you are unlucky to have met me. Since you want to sue me, you should at least have some evidence. For example, your leg is really broken!"

As Gerald spoke, he looked at Andy's leg. Then, he said, "Don't worry. After your leg is broken, we will pay you the compensation. Now, how to break your leg is something worth thinking about."

Andy was stunned. Hearing Gerald's seemingly joking words, he felt a chill run down his spine. He swallowed his saliva and said, "How about you let me go? I... I don't want your money anymore!"

Chapter 487 Too Late to Apologize

"I... I don't want the money anymore." Andy's face was about to turn blue.

Gerald's tone was very calm, but Andy felt that Gerald sounded creepy.

"You want to leave now?" Gerald said with a smile, "It's too late. Don't worry. I will make it real as if you were really hit by a car. 10 thousand dollars is nothing to us. I'm willing to buy a fun time with money. Teaching blackmailers like you a lesson is my duty."

Nova couldn't help but smile when she heard Gerald's words.

Andy's face turned totally gloomy.

Yes, the car Nova drove cost hundreds of thousands of dollars. 10 thousand dollars meant nothing to her. It was normal for rich people to spend 10 thousand dollars for some fun.

Andy said that his leg was broken. If Gerald really broke Andy's leg in a place no other people were around, Andy couldn't explain at all.

Moreover... It seemed that Gerald really wanted to hit Andy with the car. The more Andy thought about this,

the more afraid he became.

"I..." Cold sweat began to appear on his forehead.

"I was wrong." He quickly said, "I was blackmailing. I..."

"So you admit it now?" Gerald asked with a smile.

Andy nodded repeatedly, "I will never do this again. Please let me go."

Gerald's hand was still on his shoulder. Andy felt that the pain in his shoulder was getting more and more intense.

"Gerald, since he admitted it, let me handle the rest." At this time, Nova suddenly said.

Gerald looked at Nova in surprise. Nova smiled and said, "Nobody is more powerful than us in the underground world of Washington. You don't know how panicked I was just now. Since he dared to blackmail me, I naturally have to teach him a good lesson."

"Don't kill him," Gerald said with a smile.

Andy was shocked and afraid. "Don't kill him?" Did it mean that Nova could do whatever she wanted to him as long as she didn't kill him?

"Don't worry," Nova said. Then she made a phone call and said, "Send someone to Quadriety. I want to bring a person back. Just now, he blackmailed me when I was driving. After he was taken back, lock him in the black room. I will go deal with him after I go back."

Andy had cold sweat on his face.

Gerald didn't have the slightest sympathy. It was obvious that Andy often blackmailed others. And he and his fellows worked in groups. It was hard to tell how many people had been blackmailed by them

Andy deserved to be taught a lesson.

About an hour later, their car stopped in front of Quadriety.

The people Nova had called over were already waiting here.

After getting out of the car, Andy wanted to shout, but Gerald had already noticed it in advance. Gerald covered Andy's mouth and put him into another car.

Then Andy was taken away.

Gerald glanced at Nova and said, "Remember not to kill him."

"I know. I am not fond of killing." Nova was helpless. "Let's go to Quadriety for dinner! How about we go to the fifth floor this time?"

"Sure!" Gerald said calmly.

Quadriety was still overcrowded. At the door, people were queuing.

"It's too busy here. I'm afraid we'll have to wait for a while," Nova said.

Gerald smiled and said, "It's fine. You can get your number first. I'll take you to the top floor to eat later!"

"The top floor? Are you talking about the sixth floor? I remember that the sixth floor is not open to the public!"

Nova asked in surprise.

“That depends.” Gerald smiled and said, “Nobody in Washington is qualified to eat on the sixth floor. But I’m different. I can.”

“Keep bragging!” Nova said with disdain.

Gerald gave her a mysterious smile and then walked into the Quadrity.

At the door, Gerald walked to the waiter on the first floor. When the waiter saw Gerald, she obviously recognized Gerald. Her expression changed slightly, and then she quickly said, “You are here!”

Gerald smiled and said, “Is Hamish here?”

“Yes, he is. I will tell him you are here now,” said the waiter.

Then she ran into the kitchen. Soon, she came out of the kitchen with Hamish. When Hamish saw Gerald, he said happily, “Gerald, you are finally here. You don’t know how much my master misses you. He talks about you all day.”

Gerald looked at him and said with a smile, “Take me to see him. I came to see him.”

Hamish nodded, and then he thought of something and asked, “Are you here alone today?”

Gerald pointed at Nova and said, “I came here with my friend. I want to have dinner with her later.”

Hamish looked at Nova and gave Gerald a thumbs-up. “Awesome, Gerald! You come here with a different girl every time. And all the girls are extremely beautiful. You are awesome.”

“Don’t joke around. Get someone to take her to the sixth floor.” Gerald said.

“Okay!” Hamish nodded to Gerald and said, “I will cook for you later!”

“Thank you, then.” Gerald smiled and nodded.

Hamish found someone to arrange Nova, while he led Gerald through the kitchen to the small backyard.

Just as they entered, Kaven saw Gerald and quickly greeted him, “Gerald!”

Gerald smiled and said, “Mr. Dirden, long time no see!”

“Please take a seat!” Kaven said.

When Gerald and Kaven were talking, outside, Nova was waiting in line. After a while, a waitress came over and said, “Miss, please come with me!”

Nova was stunned and said, “Is there a place?”

The people who were lining up were angry when hearing the waiter’s words.

“What do you mean? How can you Quadriity allow someone to jump in a queue?”

“That’s right. We have been waiting here for a long time. And she has just arrived. What do you mean by this? Do you allow guests to make reservations now?”

When the people in the queue saw that Nova could enter earlier than them, they were naturally very unhappy and began to argue.

Nova was also a little dazed. She thought of what Gerald had just said to her.

Sure enough, at this time, the waiter said lightly, “She is an honored guest of Quadriity. She will eat on the sixth floor.”

Hearing this, everyone fell silent.

The sixth floor of Quadriity was never open to the public. In Washington, no matter how powerful and rich a person was, she or he wouldn’t be allowed to eat on the sixth floor. But the waiter said that Nova could!

Nova also froze, but then she thought of Gerald’s identity. She understood everything.

She smiled and said, “Lead the way!”

Chapter 488 A Gift From Kaven

In the small courtyard behind Quadriity, Kaven took the letter from Gerald and opened it.

While reading the letter, Kaven frowned and soon revealed an indescribable look on his face.

“What’s wrong?” Gerald asked. “Of course. If it’s inconvenient to say, you don’t have to tell me.”

Charles was the most mysterious man in Sin City. Gerald had always wondered why Charles had given him this letter.

Charles was obviously able to communicate with the outside world through Davis, but he still chose to write a letter and asked Gerald to personally hand it to Kaven. This meant that there must be some secrets in this letter.

Therefore, Gerald felt that it was inconvenient for Kaven to tell him.

But Kaven smiled and said, “Actually, there is nothing inconvenient to say, Charles said that he planned to go back. Obviously, he went back to Sin City. And you brought this letter to me. If I’m right, you should have gone to Sin City!”

Gerald looked at Kaven in surprise. But then, he suddenly understood something.

Charles came from Sin City. When Charles was in his teens, his status in Sin City was quite high. He was Kaven's junior. Gerald thought that there was a deep relationship between Kaven and Sin City. Maybe Kaven knew more about Sin City than Gerald did.

Gerald nodded and said, "Yes. I went there to do something."

"Charles told me that the war might start, and those ordinary cities would also be involved. He told me that if I had no choice, I could bring the people close to me back to that city!" Kaven said. "Actually, they are almost. some useless words in this letter: Charles is mainly worried about me!"

Gerald looked at Kaven. It was obvious that Kaven did not tell the truth. If Kaven had told the truth, he wouldn't have such a deep frown on his face.

Of course, this was a matter between Kaven and Charles. Since Kaven said so, it was obvious that he did not want to say more. Gerald naturally did not ask more.

Thus, Gerald nodded and said, "Alright. I have completed this mission. Then I will go eat something first!"

Kaven opened his mouth but hesitated. In the end, he did not say anything. He nodded and said, "Alright, then go eat something. When you leave, inform Hamish. I will ask Hamish to get something for you."

Gerald nodded.

Gerald returned to Quadrity. Under the guidance of the waiter, Gerald went to a private room on the sixth floor. Nova was also there!

After seeing Gerald, Nova looked at him with a half-smile and said, "No wonder you are Watchman No. 0. You are the first person I know who can come to the sixth floor in Quadrity. When my grandfather wanted to come to the sixth floor to eat, he was almost kicked out by Mr. Dominic."

Gerald shook his head and said, "There is something I didn't tell you. I am no longer a Watchman, nor am I Watchman No. 0."

Nova was stunned. "What do you mean? Could it be that those rumors are true?"

"What rumors?" Gerald asked.

The thing of Gerald leaving the Night Watch should be the Night Watch's internal affair. For some reason, the Night Watch wouldn't publicize it. There was no problem in this aspect. No Watchmen would leak the news.

“Some rumors in the underground world. It’s said that the Night Watch has issued a Blood Order to hunt you,”

Nova said.

Gerald frowned, but he did not think too much about it. If this thing was leaked out, it must have something to do with Perrin.

Gerald had quite a lot of enemies in the underground world. It was normal for Perrin to reveal this news and use the people of the underground world to kill Gerald.

Of course, no one in the underground world dared to attack Gerald.

“Indeed, I have carried a Blood Order before. But it’s gone now. I’m no longer a Watchman now because of some other miscellaneous things,” Gerald said with a smile.

Nova nodded and said, “That’s good. If you are a Watchman, you will have to protect a lot of people. But now, you can only protect me alone. Of course, you still have your family. If you want, I can marry into your family.”

As Nova spoke, her face showed a trace of blush!

Gerald touched his nose and said, “Well. I have a cousin who is not bad! He doesn’t have a lot of money, but you are not a woman who is short of money. How about I introduce him to you?”

“Bah!” Nova spat.

At this time, the dishes had already begun to be served.

Gerald took a bite of the food and couldn’t help but close his eyes slightly.

The food in Sin City was actually quite good. Valery’s cooking was also quite outstanding. But compared to the dishes made by Kaven, the food Gerald had tried in Sin City was much worse, Gerald had not tasted such delicious food for a long time. His appetite was very good now.

Nova’s eyes also widened slightly because of surprise and joy. The two of them ate and chatted.

Gerald asked, “By the way, is there any news about the other Dragon Bones?”

Nova nodded and said, “Yes. I have been sending my people to help you find them. Don’t worry. After finding them, we get them through the proper way.”

After that, Nova asked, “How long are you going to stay in Washington this time?”

“About twenty days. Maybe shorter.” Gerald shook his head. “I can’t say for sure. Anyway, I will take you with me when I leave. Don't worry. You have helped me a lot. I am not the kind of person who is irresponsible."

Gerald was going to improve himself in the following time.

Gerald planned to stay here and let Nova cooperate with him to find more Dragon Bones!

Although the improvement was slow now, it was the fastest way that Gerald could think to improve himself.

Nova smiled and nodded. "I trust you."

After a while of eating and chatting, Gerald called the waiter and asked him to inform Hamish that he was about to leave.

After a while, Hamish ran up. He held a small box in his hand and said, "Mr. Dirden asked me to give this to you. He said that if you encounter danger in the future, press this button here, and it can save your life."

Gerald was stunned. He looked at the strange box and did not take Hamish's words seriously.

Although Kaven came from Sin City, he was obviously just an ordinary man. His life in this city was not so smooth. Before, because of commercial competition, Kaven's arm was almost broken by the McHale family.

In other words, Kaven was just an ordinary person!

However, Gerald still had to accept it out of politeness. He said to Hamish, "Please thank Kaven for me!"

Hamish nodded and said, "Then I will walk you out!"

Chapter 489 Get Out of the House

After walking out of Quadriety, Nova drove the car and sent Gerald to the community where he lived with Valery and the others. Now, Wesley and Leila were still living in that community!

Gerald planned to stay with them for this period of time,

Gerald was very grateful to Wesley and Leila. They saved Gerald, just like Shelton did.

After saying goodbye to Nova, Gerald walked into the community and soon arrived at the door of the house!

The house was locked with a password, and Gerald still remembered the password. Just as he was about to open the door, he felt that there were more than two people in the house.

Gerald frowned!

Normally, Wesley should still be at work at this time. Gerald arranged a job for Wesley in Washington. And Leila should have already gone to school. There should be no one at home at this time.

Gerald wondered with a half-smile, could it be a thief?

At this time, a voice came from inside. "Leila, you must also miss me, right? After all, I'm your mom.

"Wesley, say something. What do you mean by all this?" The voice came from the same woman.

Hearing this, Gerald instantly understood that the woman in the house was Leila's biological mother and also Wesley's former wife. As for what her name was, Gerald didn't know.

This woman had previously gambled, borrowed money, and carried debts at unfairly high rates of interest. This led Wesley and Leila to live a very poor life for a very long time.

Wesley's income was not low. But it was still a little difficult for him to buy some meat to eat.

If Wesley hadn't saved Gerald, and Gerald hadn't caught Raiden, Wesley and Leila would still live a poor life in the future.

And all of that was caused by Leila's mother. After owing other money at unfairly high rates of interest, Leila's mother actually abandoned her husband and daughter and ran away alone.

Now, she saw that Lella and Wesley had moved here, and Wesley's income was high. Gerald guessed that she wanted to remarry Wesley.

This is somewhat the hidden rule in society. People favored the rich..

Gerald had encountered similar things before, and so did Trevon. In addition, Jacob once couldn't get married. because he couldn't afford the betrothal gifts!

Now, it was Wesley who encountered this kind of thing.

In this world, there were too many women who could only be willing to enjoy the benefits but not willing to share the suffering.

Gerald didn't go in immediately. He just stood at the door and calmly listened to the conversation inside.

"I don't miss you. My mother is dead!" Leila said.

At this time, a man's voice sounded, "Leila, how could you talk to your mother like that? She left you at that time because she had encountered some difficulties. Wesley, what do you mean? If you are a man, say something. Don't just stand there and do nothing!"

"Say what? What do you want my dad to say? Look at the white hair on my dad's head," Leila said angrily. "Do you know what happened to us after you owed others money and ran away? My dad was threatened by others every day, and I was threatened by Raiden and his men several times. They even wanted to kidnap me and sell me out! After you see that our days have become better, you want to come back. No way! I will never recognize you as my mother in my life!"

Leila roared.

Leila was a quiet girl. She had taken care of Gerald meticulously at that time.

Leila had too much resentment toward her biological mother.

“But no matter what, I am your mother!” the woman said. “Leila, you don’t know how much I miss you. I...”

“Do you really miss me?” Leila looked at her mother calmly. “You have been away for so long, and you have found another man. You haven’t divorced my dad yet! You cheated on him! All these years, my dad has never changed his phone number. If you missed me, why didn’t you call me? Have you ever come to see me once? Don’t say those beautiful words. You came back because you see that we are rich now.”

Leila asked, “You want money, right?” Then, she threw out the Diamond Card that Gerald gave her and said, “We saved a person, and his name is Gerald. He saved me and my dad and gave me this bank card. Do you know what this is? New Bank’s Diamond Card. Have you heard of New Bank? This is their highest authority. card. There are hundreds of millions of dollars in it. This bank card can mobilize tens of billions of dollars in the New Bank. Right now, my dad and I are very rich. However, I will not give you a single cent. I don’t have a mother like you! You don’t deserve to be my mother!”

At the door, Gerald sighed slightly.

It was sorrowful to hear a girl like Leila with such a character say something like this. Leila was not a cold person. If she had not been hurt so much, she would not say those harsh words!

The woman also sighed and said, “Leila, I’m really sorry. But I have no choice this time. I now owe others a lot. of money. I really have no choice. I was deceived by that man back then. It’s fine if you don’t want me to come back. I know you hate me, but... Can you help me pay this money back? I promise that I will not come to disturb your life again in the future.”

After a while, Wesley’s faint voice sounded, “You’ve never changed!”

“Wesley, pay attention to what you say!” At this time, the other man’s voice sounded. “You should know that you and my sister have not divorced yet. Speaking of which, your current property is still the common property of a married couple. Half of it belongs to my sister. Either let my sister come back, or you help her pay back the money. You...”

At this time, Gerald entered the password and pushed the door open.

The door suddenly opened, and the man was slightly stunned. Everyone looked at the door.

Gerald looked inside the house. Wesley was sitting on the sofa. He held a cigarette in his hand with a deep frown on his face.

Leila was crying, and her eyes were a little red.

There was a middle-aged woman sitting on the sofa. Her dress was a bit fashionable, and her face was full of worry. However, judging from her appearance, she was indeed beautiful.

Apart from the woman, there were a few men in the house. One of the men was sitting next to that middle-aged woman. It was Leila's uncle. The others should be the people brought by Leila's uncle.

When Leila saw Gerald, her expression changed. She immediately threw herself into Gerald's arms and cried.

Gerald knew that Leila was definitely very, sad now. He rubbed Leila's head and then looked to the other side.

"Who are you?" Leila's uncle frowned. "This is our family business. It's none of your business. Don't meddle in it!"

Gerald looked at Leila's uncle indifferently and then at the middle-aged woman. He said coldly, "I will only say one thing. Get out of the house in three minutes!"

Chapter 490 Handle Your Own Trouble

Gerald's attitude was arrogant.

Anyone who knew what the woman had done would be mad. What Gerald didn't expect was that she actually had the courage to return here.

Hearing Gerald's words, Wesley slightly sighed and continued to smoke.

Gerald looked at Wesley. It was clear that Wesley still had feelings for her.

After all, every man had a woman he could not forget.

"You..." The people who came with the woman were stunned.

Gerald looked at them indifferently. At the same time, he took out his phone, pretending to call the police.

These ordinary people did not worth Gerald bothering. It was enough as long as he achieved his goal.

When the woman saw this, her expression changed slightly. She looked at Leila and Wesley and said, 'Leila, I know that I was wrong before. No matter what, you think about my words carefully!'

After saying that, she walked out with her people!

When they left, Gerald patted Leila's head and said, "Don't cry. Your eyes are swollen. Shouldn't you be happy that I've come back? Give me a smile!"

Gerald treated Leila as his little sister.

Leila pouted and tried her best to squeeze out a smile, but she couldn't.

Gerald helped her to the sofa. Then he walked over and closed the door. Gerald looked at Wesley and said, "Wesley, what are you thinking? Do you still want to live with that woman?"

"I don't want her as my mother!" Leila shouted.

From Gerald's point of view, Leila's behavior was absolutely correct. The relationship between Wesley and that woman was completely different from what Gerald had with Irene.

Gerald and Irene had no romantic feelings for each other at all. He took care of Irene to repay her father's kindness, and the reason why Irene later came to him was for money.

But that woman and Wesley had been married for many years, and they had a child, Leila.

The most important thing was that Wesley seemed to still have feelings for her.

What Leila had said was just out of anger. When they were living in the countryside, Gerald once found that Leila was peeking at that woman's photos!

Gerald had a terrible impression of that woman. She had been cheating on Wesley even before she left.

However, Gerald didn't know what Wesley thought about that.

Gerald couldn't make decisions for them.

Wesley seemed to be in a dilemma. He lit another cigarette and said, "I... don't know."

Gerald sighed. He nodded and said, "My suggestion is that you divorce that woman. She is not suitable for you. Of course, it is not necessary to cut off the connection. After all, she is Leila's biological mother. However, if you still want to live with her, you must make sure that she learned the lesson. So that she won't dare to do anything like this in the future. But it is only a suggestion. The decision is up to you. Anyway, I will help you. I won't let those people harass you again."

"I... will think about it," Wesley said, "I want to go back to my room and sleep for a while."

"Okay." Gerald smiled.

After Wesley left, Leila seemed to have recovered a bit. She looked at Gerald and said, "What mission have you been on recently? Can you tell me?"

In order to shift Leila's attention, Gerald smiled and began to talk about things in Sin City.

Leila and Wesley both knew that Gerald was a Watchman. So it didn't hurt that Gerald told Leila some stories about Sin City.

After a while, Leila's mood got better!

Gerald asked, "Are you used to living here?"

"Yes!" Leila nodded. "Now I have gradually adapted to it. It's just the school that still makes me a little uneasy."

By the way..."

Leila's eyes suddenly lit up. "There are many rich people in the school you arranged for me. When I first got there, several boys confessed love to me. They are so bold that they are not afraid of the teachers at all!"

Gerald didn't know what to say. Finally, he cursed, "Damn it! Tell me which brats are they! I will teach them a lesson!"

"Listen to me!" Leila said, "But there are other girls who like those boys. Since I seemed quite plain compared to them, those girls came to bully me, ridicule me, and so on..."

Gerald frowned.

The school Gerald arranged for Leila was the best university in Washington. There surely had a lot of rich people. In such a place, comparison among students was normal!

That was why Gerald had given Leila a credit card. He did not want her to be looked down!

However, what Gerald was worried about still happened.

Leila continued, "One day, I casually put the credit card that you gave me on the table, and people were all shocked. They recognized the card. I didn't understand what happened at that time, but later, my deskmate explained it to me. Now no one dared to touch me anymore!"

Hearing this, Gerald laughed.

"Good job! Next time you get bullied, call Kerr and ask him to help you. He is an expert on this kind of thing!"

Gerald said with a smile.

Leila nodded and said, "Okay!"

Gerald let out a sigh of relief. Just then, his phone rang. Gerald saw that it was a call from Valery. He picked up the phone. "Hello, Dr. Manning. Do you miss me so soon?"

"You bastard!" A rough voice suddenly sounded from the phone.

When Gerald heard this, his face darkened!

The voice was not Valery's, it was Blaine's.

Gerald could not figure it out. Blaine used to be a polite man. But ever since he started surfing the Internet, he had been talking like a tyrant. As the leader of American Night Watch, he should've behaved better!

"What?" Gerald asked snappishly.

"Do you know how much trouble you have caused?" Blaine scolded, "You ran to Atlanta and killed Jason, right?"

"Yes!" Gerald said calmly, "He did such disgusting things! Why shouldn't I kill him?"

"Of course, you should kill him, but you should've done better!" Blaine shouted, "This time, you handle your own trouble!"
