Chapter 771 You Guys Sleep in This Room

Yes, Gregory recognized Gerald!

Because now, Gerald was too famous. There were only a few people in the world who didn't know him. As for Gregory, he naturally knew Gerald.

Now, the nominal leader of Night Watch, the hero of mankind, had actually followed Colten to this place. At that moment, Gregory felt as if his head was about to burst.

Colten brought Gerald over!

This was indeed a fucking warning!

Gregory swallowed his saliva. No matter what, he would never have imagined that Colten would actually invite this great figure.

Gregory sat on the sofa, and the person next to him was also trembling in fear at that moment.

Seeing their appearance, Colten felt extremely refreshed. He stared fixedly at Gregory and said, "During this period of time, in order to make us move, you did things. We can properly settle the debts you owe us."

After Colten finished speaking, he smiled again, and his face revealed a proud expression as he said, "I almost forgot to introduce him to you. This is my cousin's boyfriend, Gerald."

"Your cousin's boyfriend!" Gregory felt his scalp go numb!

The relationship between Gerald and Valery was exposed to the whole world. Although Gregory did not pay attention to this, he had heard about it. He knew that Gerald's girlfriend was Valery, who was also a doctor of Night Watch. However, Gregory did not know that Valery and Julien were families.

In his opinion, if Julien had such a relationship, when they were forcing the Manning family to move, Valery would probably come to solve the problem immediately.

But... They were family, and Gerald even personally came out!

"Ge... Gerald!" Gregory's expression was not very good.

Gerald only glanced at him indifferently. Then, he asked Colten, "Bro, do you hate him?"

"Of course!" Colten scolded, "Damn, in the past few months, they caused trouble at the clinic almost every day. Many people didn't dare to come to the clinic."

"Then how do you want to vent your anger?" Gerald smiled and said, "I'll help you. You can do whatever you want to vent your anger."

With Gerald's guarantee, Colten was very confident. His face showed a trace of anger. He rushed directly to Gregory and slapped Gregory's fat face.

Bang!

A crisp sound resounded throughout the entire hall.

Colten pointed at Gregory and said, "You scum, I wonder how many other people have been dealt with by you other than us!"

As Colten spoke, he slapped Gregory again!

At this moment, the man in the suit frowned. He stepped to Gregory's side and grabbed Colten's hand Gerald was slightly surprised. This guy was actually a martial artist, and his level was not low. He was probably at the advanced level.

He stopped Colten and looked at Gerald. He braced himself and said, "Gerald, as the leader of Night Watch, it is boring to bully us ordinary people like this. If this matter is exposed, it will not be a good thing for Night

Watch."

Gerald touched his nose and asked, "So... Are you threatening me?"

That person was stunned, but since he had already said this, he hardened his voice and said, "It's not a threat. Who would dare to threaten you? It's just... I don't think it's necessary. We can sit down and talk!"

As soon as he finished speaking, he realized that Gerald had already arrived in front of him. Then, Gerald suddenly punched his lower abdomen!

Gerald did not exert much strength, but at this moment, the pupils of the man in the suit suddenly shrank, and his face showed a tangled expression. He released his hand from Colten, covered his lower abdomen, and squatted down. At the same time, he shouted loudly, "Gerald, you maimed me! How dare you..."

"You should feel lucky I didn't kill you." Gerald said indifferently, "I heard your whole conversation here just now. Do you want Colten to have a car accident to make them compromise? People like you who practice martial arts are also a scourge!"

Gregory's face changed a few times again. He did not expect that his conversation would be heard by Gerald

When Colten heard Gerald's words, he became even more furious. He punched and kicked Gregory again.

The security guards outside did not dare to come in. Gregory was beaten black and blue by Colten, constantly begging for forgiveness.

Gerald had been watching coldly and did not stop Colten. Although Colten did not hold back, he knew medicine. Although Colten's talent was not good, he still had basic common sense. The places he hit were not fatal!

After beating for a while, Colten felt a little tired, so he sat on the sofa and gasped.

Gregory was lying on the ground with a bloody nose and a swollen face. The other person was so scared that he did not dare to breathe.

Gerald slowly squatted down to him, looked at Gregory, and said, "As a developer, you can just deal with the land you have agreed on over there. If you like the land of the Manning family, they can sell it if they want to. If they don't want to sell it, they won't sell it. There is no such thing as forcing others to sell it. Moreover, it is much lower than the market price. You... are courting death!"

"I'm sorry. I mean it." Gregory was really scared.

that you have "Is that so?" Gerald looked at him indifferently and said, "For a developer like you, in the years been doing business, there should be many people who have encountered such a thing as the Manning family."

"What?" Gregory's expression changed, and he felt that something was wrong.

"The matter with the Manning family can be considered a lesson for you. It ends here," Gerald said.

Gregory heaved a sigh of relief in his heart!

But at this moment, Gerald said indifferently, "As for what you did in the past, don't worry Night Watch will investigate it. You should pray that you don't leave any evidence! If we find it, we will make you pay. If you are involved in murders, don't even think about staying alive!"

When Gregory heard this, his expression became miserable!

Night Watch wanted to intervene!

Gregory knew that he was doomed!

Seeing his expression, Gerald probably understood that Gregory had killed people, and Gregory might have killed many

"Let's go!" He looked at Colten and didn't bother to pay attention to Gregory.

Only then did Colten stand up. He seemed to have not finished venting his anger. He spat at Gregory and said, "Bastard!"

Walking out of the villa, they got into the car. Colten drove the car home. Along the way, he was extremely excited.

"It's so cool! Are you going to arrest Gregory and lock him up?" Colten asked.

Gerald slowly let out a breath and said, "I have already informed Watchmen to investigate him. If he has killed people, there will be a high chance that he will be shot and his property will be confiscated."

"That is good!" Colten said, "This guy's son is also a jinx. Relying on his identity as a spoiled brat, he did a lot of bad things! If his property is taken away, Yosemite will have one less scourge!"

Gerald smiled and did not care too much!

Colten was very excited. After returning home, he told them about the situation.

When he heard that Night Watch was going to intervene, Julien heaved a long sigh of relief.

At 11 in the evening, on the second floor of the clinic, Julien looked at it and said, "Valery, you sleep in this room with Gerald tonight!"

He pointed to a room and said happily.

We sleep in the same room?

Hearing Julien's words, Gerald and Valery simultaneously thought of this sentence. Valery's neck and face were flushed red as she crawled up.

A trace of excitement flashed through Gerald's eyes.

Chapter 772 Share One Bed

The expressions of the two naturally did not escape Julien's gaze. Julien roughly understood that the two had never slept together before.

Of course, Julien did not expose it. He smiled faintly and said, "Then I will go to bed."

Julien left.

After Julien left, Valery glared at Gerald and said, "I'm going to take a shower now!"

Gerald coughed and said, "Okay!"

In fact, the two had slept together before.

Previously, when Valery came to Wesley's house for Gerald, she didn't sleep because she was too worried about Gerald's safety. Thus, on the following day, Gerald left a place for Valery on the bed because the room was very small.

But nothing happened

Of course, this time, Gerald did not think about sex. After all, it was not his own house. However, being able to share a bed with Valery would make their relationship closer.

Gerald coughed dryly and sat down on the sofa.

After Valery finished having a shower, Gerald also went to take a shower.

When Gerald returned to the room, the lights in the room were still on. Valery lay on the bed fiddling with her phone, but it was clear that her mind was not on the mobile phone, and she was just pretending to play there.

When she saw Gerald come over, her face showed a very calm expression. Then she put the phone aside and said, "I'm going to sleep!"

Gerald walked to the other side and lay down nervously.

He was a little worried that Valery would kick him off the bed. Fortunately, this scene did not happen.

After lying down, Gerald turned off the lights.

At first, he was still lying down obediently. His breath was filled with Valery's fragrance.

"Are you asleep?" Gerald asked in a low voice.

Valery's breathing was even, and he could not guess whether she was asleep or not.

Valery ignored him. She just turned over and looked at Gerald.

The darkness could not stop the vision of people above the super level like them. He saw that Valery blushed, and his heart could not help but beat violently.

"Don't mess around." Valery heard that Gerald's breathing was a little heavy and quickly said, "When they hear it later, it won't be good!"

"Then... Can I hold you?" Gerald said.

Valery pursed her lips and didn't refuse.

Gerald's heart skipped a beat. Then, he reached out and took Valery in his arms. Valery was like a little kitten, nestled in Gerald's arms.

Gerald smelled her fragrance. At this moment, he actually didn't have any romantic thoughts. He just calmly held Valery. Valery was stunned. When she realized that Gerald didn't make his next move, she felt a little relieved, but also a little disappointed.

She didn't understand how this little disappointment came about, but it did exist.

She pouted her lips, then reached out and put her arms around Gerald's waist.

Just like that, the two slowly fell asleep."

It was not until the next morning that Gerald was woken up by the phone.

He opened his eyes and found that Valery had woken up. There was a sound coming from downstairs. Obviously, the medical center had opened.

Gerald picked up the phone and looked at it. He found that the missing call was from Jacob. He picked up the phone and said, "Hey, what's wrong?"

asked "Two things!" Jacob said, "The first thing. I arranged for the Watchmen in Yosemite to do the thing you me to investigate yesterday. This guy called Gregory has killed more than one person. The Watchmen have taken him down, and the property of his family is being confiscated."

Gerald's heart skipped a beat. Since Gregory had been captured, there shouldn't be any problems with the Manning family. He let out a sigh of relief and said, "What about the second thing?"

"The second thing. I'm afraid that you guys will have to return to Night Watch," Jacob said in a serious tone.

"Did something happen?" Gerald asked in surprise.

"Let's talk about it after you get back. During this period, we brought back a lot of books from there. Recently, Night Watch has been looking up records, and some of the members have seen some impressive records. In addition, Blaine has been having an argument with Zackary because Hector left," Jacob said awkwardly.

Gerald was speechless. He had never expected the two old people would get ugly with each other because of a matter many years ago.

"All right, then you can inform the others on our team. Dr. Manning and I are currently in her hometown," Gerald said.

"Fuck off. Your speed is really fast. You actually went to visit her parents, didn't you?" Jacob asked in surprise.

Gerald coughed

Then I won't talk to you. I'm quite busy here." After Jacob finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Gerald got up. After a simple wash, he went to the living room. He found some breakfast like milk and bread on the table in the living room.

There was no one on the second floor. Ciara probably went to school. After all, today was Monday.

Gerald went downstairs and saw that Valery was discussing something with Julien over there. It should be about the patient's condition. When she saw Gerald coming over, Valery leaned over and said, "You're up?"

Gerald nodded and said, "We may not be able to stay here for long. Jacob just called and asked us to go back to the basement."

"Okay!" Valery said, "I'll go say hello to my uncle, and then I'll go pay my respects to my parents. We'll set off soon!"

"I'll go with you!" Gerald said.

Gerald went over to greet Julien and Colten. Hearing that they were in such a hurry to leave, Colten was stunned and somewhat reluctant.

Julien sighed and said, "You have a lot of things to do in Night Watch, but no matter what the mission is, remember to protect yourself. If you die, the living is the saddest!"

Hearing this, Gerald could not help but be slightly shocked.

"If you die, the living is the saddest!"

In the past, Gerald liked to risk his life and fight to the death.

He also knew that he had parents behind him, and many people who liked him, brothers, and friends.

But at that time, he would never think too much.

But this sentence was like a sudden enlightenment, and it entered Gerald's mind.

Indeed, it was as Julien had said. In the future, when he took action, he had to be careful. He had to do his best to make sure that he was completely prepared before acting.

"All right, we got it!" Valery said to Colten, "Then... We will leave. After the mission is over, I will come back to see you all!"

"Okay, the medical center is busy now. Then I won't send you off," said Julien.

After bidding farewell to Valery's uncle, Valery and Gerald bought flowers, wine, and other items to offer condolences and arrived at a nearby cemetery.

The two wore sunglasses and masks. After visiting Valery's parents' tombstone, they drove to the airport in Yosemite. Then, they took a plane directly to the basement of Night Watch.

Three hours later, Gerald and Valery arrived.

After getting out of the car, Gerald looked around and frowned. "Do you feel that there is something wrong with the atmosphere of the basement?"

Valery nodded and said, "I think... I'm a bit nervous. Let's go see Blaine and the others first to see if something happened."

Chapter 773 Crisis

Gerald did not hesitate and quickly led Valery toward the main building

When they arrived at the basement, many people saw Gerald and took the initiative to greet him. However, Gerald discovered that most people had serious expressions on their faces.

“What’s wrong?” Gerald pulled a person over and asked, “What’s going on? Why is everyone looking so serious?”

That person looked at Gerald and was slightly stunned. “I don’t know This morning, Zackary and Blaine talked about something big. Then, this morning, the higher-ups of Night Watch from other countries came to our basement. Every person who came out had a very serious expression. Then Everyone’s mood became a little tense and serious.”

Gerald was surprised. He did not expect this to be the reason.

He did not say much and quickly went upstairs. Triston was standing by the stairs, holding a cigarette in his hand and frowning.

“You are finally here!” Triston said.

“What is going on?” Gerald asked with a frown.

“Go ask Blaine yourself. This time, we brought something back from the Myriad Mountains. There was a record.” Triston slowly let out a breath and said, “It makes everyone’s mood a little heavy.”

Gerald nodded and said, “Alright, then I’ll go over!”

As he spoke, he walked toward Blaine’s office. Triston was still standing guard at the entrance of the stairs. It seemed like he did not intend to let other people come up.

The office was very large. At this time, the people from Team 11762 had arrived. They were sitting, and there were some European watchmen inside. Brice, the representative of Europe, had arrived.

Gerald sensed his strength and was slightly surprised. Brice had actually reached the level of Half-Step Flame Decay.

Brice stood up and said with a serious expression, “Well, I got it.”

“Remember to keep this matter a secret. I will only tell the higher-ups of European Watchmen. Don’t announce

1. Otherwise, it will cause a panic, Zackary warned.

“I understand. I know what I’m doing.” Brice stood up.

After seeing Gerald, Brice was slightly stunned. Then, he deeply bowed to Gerald and said, “Thank you.”

“Huh?” Gerald asked in surprise, “Why are you thanking me?”

“The bone marrow and Bone of Eternity you brought back are very helpful to me.” Brice smiled and said, “Although you have reached the level of Flame Decay, I believe that I will catch up soon.”

Gerald didn't know what to say. Brice was a genius of the same era as him. When Gerald became Watchman

No. 0, Brice was also the No. 0 of the European Watchmen.

The first time when Elite Ghost invaded, Brice reached the super level, and this time relying on the bone marrow, he reached the level of Half-Step Flame Decay

Gerald smiled and did not care too much.

Carolyn, who was beside him, curled her lips and said, “Let's talk after you catch up with me!”

Brice was stunned, and his face flushed red!

Indeed, although he had reached the level of Half-Step Flame Decay, it would be difficult for him to reach a higher level. He didn't know how long it would take to reach the level of Flame Decay.

Most members of Team 11762 had reached the level of Half-Step Flame Decay, and even the weakest gunman had reached the level. Brice sighed.

But after Gerald opened the Burial Ground and released that huge energy, the current earth was actually quite suitable for martial arts cultivation. Brice believed that he could catch up very quickly.

Brice coughed and said, “Then I will go back now!”

After that, he turned and walked out.

When Brice left, Gerald asked, “What happened?”

Blaine sat on the sofa and took a deep look at Gerald. Then, he muttered to himself, “I'm afraid your team will have to go with Hector to Havotune.”

Gerald's expression changed slightly. He asked in surprise, “Why have you suddenly thought it through?”

With Blaine's somewhat stubborn personality, Gerald had originally thought that he would have to persuade Blaine to come over this time, but he had never expected that Blaine would actually take the initiative to make this request.

Then, Gerald frowned and said, “You mean to say that our entire team will go together, right?”

“It's not the entire team. I have to give you a new team. Charles and Triston will go with you together. Then you, Carolyn, Valery, and... Jacob!” Zackary said, “Jacob will become your brain!”

Beside him, Jacob smiled at Gerald.

However, Gerald's expression became even more serious.

This kind of configuration meant that the matter was really serious. The top experts of the younger generation almost all came out.

“Look at it yourself!” As he spoke, Zackary threw a somewhat dilapidated kraft paper book to Gerald.

Gerald took the book and looked at it. There was a line of words written on it: “History says: Civilization Invasion!”

“Is this previous history?” Gerald asked

“Yes, this is the last book. It records the incident of an alien invasion of the civilization of that era.” Zackary said, “The previous record is about the invasion situation and some battle losses. Just look at the last page!”

Gerald flipped to the last page.

“Emperor Lionel gathered the heroes of the world and battled against the invaders from Havotune in Sprite Mountain, Snow Mountain, Maple Manor, Ether Lake, and Northfair. He defeated the enemy. Emperor Lionel left behind the word seal and brought the 36 generals and the Four Emperors. He ordered the captives to fly up into the sky and kill their way into the starry sky!

“The Burial Ground has been built. Using the ancient method to seal the fate of heaven and earth! Wait for Dragon Bone to open!

“From now on, the martial arts will wither and the experts higher than the level of Flame Decay will be less! It will leave a chance for our clan to catch their breath and develop.

“The captive said that they are from Havotune. Their power is called Nether Palace. We have never heard of it before. I wonder where they are.

“Emperor Lionel has returned. Before he died, he said that the opening of the Burial Ground is the time for danger to descend once more! People of the later generations, please be careful!”

When Gerald saw this, the corners of his mouth twitched slightly. He looked at Zackary and said, “So, now that we have opened the Burial Ground, Nether Palace will invade again, right?”

“Yes!” Zackary muttered, “We have asked Hector, but he has never heard of this force. According to him, this might mean that this force came from the three stable planets and is not on the main planet of Havotune.”

Speaking up to this point, he pondered and said, “So... The number of people has to be a little higher. You not only have to deal with the Four Ancient Families but also have to investigate this Nether Palace. If they are destroyed, it is fine. If they are not destroyed, we have to find a way to find out their background. Compared to the Four Ancient Families, their threat may be even greater!”

Gerald took a deep breath and said, “Understood! When are we leaving?”

“No rush!” Blaine said, “You have to learn their language first. You can leave after learning it. It will take about a year. In addition, you have to make the best use of this year to improve. After discussing, we plan to go to them in half a year. According to Hector, it will take about half a month. If you stay there for half a year, you can get whatever information you can get and come back once every half a year.”

Gerald was slightly stunned.

Half a month was acceptable. This meant that they could stay on Earth for five months.

This was equivalent to going out on a mission and coming back.

“If you have time, you can also learn more martial arts moves.” Blaine suddenly said, “Most of their martial arts moves are stronger than the ones we are using now.”

Chapter 774 Plan

Gerald nodded. A year was neither long nor short

He looked at the others, and all had serious expressions.

Theo, Kristen, and the others were even more unwilling.

“Can’t we go?” Milo asked in a stiff tone.

“The martial arts of that planet are prosperous, and you are only at the level of Half-Step Flame Decay, which is not enough. Gerald and the others will come back once in half a year. If you reach the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay, you can follow them to go there when the next mission comes,” Zackary said indifferently.

Blaine, who was aside, sighed and smiled bitterly, “Originally, I wanted to go there myself, but I am old and useless.”

When Blaine saw this chapter, he compromised.

He was old. There was no problem for him to go all out. But at the same time, he had to collect other information. He didn’t have enough energy. Moreover, he had to admit that Gerald’s success rate in the past was much higher.

Gerald looked at him with a smile and said, "You're old, so enjoy yourself. I think you should go find a wife. We come back once every half year. It should be no problem for us to protect ourselves. As for how to deal with the people of the Four Ancient Families, we have to discuss it with Hector."

At this point, Gerald frowned slightly and said, "I don't trust Hector that much. I always feel that he is just using us. I don't know what will happen after he uses us. Maybe he will reveal our information to other bigger forces..."

Blaine was stunned for a moment, but he did not say anything.

Zackary smiled slightly and said, "Just watch, if you feel that something is wrong, don't hold back."

Zackary always liked to talk about things like this with a smile.

At this time, another person arrived. Gerald remembered that this person was a Watchman from Asia, who was a super expert.

Gerald frowned. "Can't you hold a meeting for all? Don't call them to come one by one..."

Blaine said, "Most of the super experts have arrived at the headquarters of Night Watch during this period have taken marrow. The time they wake up is different, so we will inform them when they wake up. Then, we will tell them a general account of the situation. In fact, it is just to let the higher-ups know about it."

If this unknown crisis was announced, it would cause ordinary people to panic. Now, the world was slowly recovering, and everyone returned to normal life.

Blaine said, "Even if the people from the Nether Palace are coming, they will probably have to investigate for a period before coming over. So we have plenty of time. Moreover, now that so much time has passed, it's hard to say if this force still exists. At the very least, Hector has never heard of it."

Gerald nodded and said, "Til go investigate when the time comes."

Blaine nodded. "Alright.

"By the way, we plan to feed the bone marrow to the people of the Four Ancient Clans as well. Although they did not mention this matter, we plan to do it"

Gerald did not refuse in fact, apart from the Nelson clan, Gerald believed in the people of the other three clans Moreover, during the second invasion of the Elite Ghosts, the people of the Four Ancient Clans were the key to killing the Elite Ghosts. They had guarded Burial Ground for countless years, so it was worthwhile for them to take the bone marrow

However, there were hundreds of super experts in the Four Ancient Clans. After taking the bone marrow, most of them would be able to reach the level of Half-Step Flame Decay, even dozens of people would reach the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay

This was a huge fighting force, but similarly, if they had other thoughts, it would be difficult to control.

The most important thing was that for someone like Robert, who was at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay, with the fact that the earth is more suitable for cultivation now, and if he took the bone marrow, he would be able to reach the level of Flame Decay.

It was hard to say if the people of the Four Ancient Clans were still under their control at that time. And Gerald would leave very soon.

This was what Gerald and the Watchmen were worried about. Gerald did not want to have another internal war

“I observed them for a while. I feel that they are trustworthy,” Zackary said.

Gerald nodded and said, “I have no objections. You can do as you see fit. The more experts on Earth, the better.”

After they made the decision, Zackary and the others also talked about the situation in Sin City. Charles brought the Watchmen over and once again subdued Sin City. Now, this place had become a cage. It had even restored many of the rules that Davis had made.

The entire world was completely under control.

Audrey and Hazel took the initiative to head to Sin City to gain experience.

Audrey had extraordinary talent and was not inferior to Gerald and others. She had already reached the top level. From the time she had cultivated until now, it had only been a year

This speed was no less than that of Gerald.

Gerald and the others had stayed at the headquarters of Night Watch for a day. Charles arrived the next day.

After Blaine told him about the situation, he went to pick up the bone marrow and took it.

There was no doubt that he, who had originally reached the level of Half-Step Flame Decay, would definitely be able to reach the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay.

The Burial Ground had existed for a long time. Bone marrow and Bone of Eternity could greatly increase the number of experts in Night Watch and Earth. For a period in the future, hundreds of people would reach the level of Half-Step Flame Decay.

A few more people would reach the level of Flame Decay. Under such circumstances, Gerald would be able to feel much more at ease after leaving

After Charles took the bone marrow, Gerald and the others returned to their homes.

They agreed that after Charles woke up, they would gather at the headquarters of Night Watch and then head directly to the Arctic to find Hector to learn the language of Havotune.

Of course, during this period, Gerald also planned to bring Valery to see his parents.

Unlike Gerald, who went to see Valery's parents, when Valery saw Gerald's parents, she acted gracefully and did not feel nervous at all.

She treated Gerald's grandmother.

Valery was accepted by Gerald's family.

Three days passed in a flash.

Before leaving, Gerald told his parents that he was going out on a mission and would come back from time to time. He told them not to worry about him.

Gerald's family had already gotten used to all of this.

Three days later, Gerald and the others arrived in the Arctic.

The cave was still extremely hot. Gerald and the other six arrived inside the cave. Hector was sitting inside, looking at them with a smile on his face.

"Welcome!" Hector saw them walking down and said with a smile, "It should not be difficult for you to master a language in a year."

"No problem!" Gerald and the others put down their things, then Gerald looked at Hector and said, "You really don't know about the Nether Palace?"

Hector shook his head and said, "According to the records, it had been a long time, perhaps this force has long since perished."

Gerald frowned. "Then what is your plan after going there? How are you going to deal with the Four Ancient Families of the City of Phoenix?"

Hector let out a breath and said, "My plan is assassination. We won't be able to fight head-on with them. They have a lot of people who are at the level of Flame Decay. Blaine should have told you that you would go there once a year and stay there for half a year. Try to kill as many of their experts as possible."

Gerald nodded and said, "Got it."

“In addition, this year, I will teach you the language and also tell you some of the rules of that world. Of course, you will only understand after you experience it,” Hector said.

Gerald nodded. He put down his things and sat down. “Then... Let’s start directly.”

Chapter 775 One Year

Spring went, and autumn came, and a year slipped away!

This year was almost the most relaxing year since Gerald entered the Night Watch!

He went back home every month. Most of the time, he was in the Arctic, learning the language of Havotune and making some basic attempts!

He had a certain concept in his mind about Havotune!

For the rest of the time, he was either practicing that cultivation technique or some martial arts moves. Of course, Gerald did not practice many moves. Now that he had Dragon-Slaying Saber Skills, it was equivalent to having three strongest killing moves. He learned a technique set that was stronger than the Berkeley clan’s techniques

As for the others, they had learned a lot!

Gerald originally planned to teach Dragon-Slaying Saber Skills to others, but what surprised him was that no matter what, they could not cultivate it.

After a year, there were a total of seven people who could be considered to have mastered the language. At the very least, there was no problem with communicating and reading characters.

A few people at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay, especially Triston, were frantically trying to reach the level of Flame Decay. However, not a single person managed to do this. This was too difficult!

Back then, when Gerald succeeded, he did it because he was in danger and had to fight to the death.

It was still too difficult for the others to reach this level.

Over the past year, Elite Ghosts continued to fall. However, the number declined. In terms of strength, it had increased by quite a bit. Most of them were Red Elite Ghosts.

The progress of human beings was no longer the same as before. In a year, a large number of people were improving in martial arts. The era of martial arts for all was indeed coming.

Countless martial arts clubs became large companies and were successfully listed

The Four Ancient Clans also started from their martial arts clubs. In a year, their martial arts clubs had recruited many disciples, and they could be considered to have a firm foothold in this ordinary world.

On the current earth, there were already six people at the level of Flame Decay, such as Robert, Ricardo, Kierra, and Jonathan.

However, Jaden did not. The path he had taken was the same as Blaine's. He had relied on his own cultivation. Ever since the second time Elite Ghosts invaded and the Night Watch took over Sin City, he returned to Washington. As for Dax, he stayed in Sin City after returning.

According to his own words, he was atoning for his sins!

The entire world returned to normal.

What caught Gerald's attention the most was that Zackary still didn't kill Dr. T. Dr. T's elixir field was broken, and he was imprisoned by Zackary. Zackary always felt that Dr. T was a talent and wanted him to engage in scientific research.

Everything was very calm. The entire world was no different from the past.

Other than the fact that most of the live streaming platforms began to broadcast martial arts, and it got very popular, there was not much difference apart from that the nation got excited about martial arts!

The stars were still performing, the concert was still on, and business didn't die!

And this year, Gerald barely appeared on the Internet. Slowly, people seemed to have forgotten the danger brought by the two Elite Ghost invasions, and all people lived a peaceful life.

The most important thing was that with the two Elite Ghost invasions, humans seemed to be united against the outside world, and this world seemed to be really peaceful.

As for Gerald and Valery, their relationship was becoming more and more stable.

The shyness and unfamiliarity they had when they were together at the beginning were gone, and because they were together all year round, they had directly passed through the period when they needed to get used to each other's habits.

Every time Gerald returned, Valery would return with Gerald. Her relationship with Gerald's family was also relatively great!

On this day, in Sacramento, Gerald and Valery walked out of Pondark Road No. 69. When they arrived at the door, Gerald said, "There's no need to send us off. This mission will last for a long time. The next time we come back, I'm afraid it will be half a year later."

"In short, take care. When you come back, give us a call," Yazmin said somewhat reluctantly.

Every time Gerald said that he was going to carry out a mission, although she was used to it, she was still a little worried!

And this time was even longer!

Gerald did not tell them that the destination of the mission was no longer this world. He was afraid that his parents would not be able to sleep at all if they knew.

After Gerald bid farewell to his parents, Jolie and a man drove the car to send Gerald and Valery off!

“Gerald, Valery, what mission do you have this time? It will take more than half a year!” Jolie sat in the front passenger seat and asked.

The driver was a young man, about the same age as Gerald. His name was Alijah Lindsey, and he was Jolie’s boyfriend!

In the end, Gerald did not introduce the Night Watch to Jolie to look for her boyfriend, but Jolie met Alijah in Universe Group

When Jolie and Alijah were on a business trip, they found that they could chat happily. Alijah was a very honest person. He was careful, and Jolie’s family were satisfied with him too!

When Alijah heard what Gerald and the others said, he did not know what to say and just drove the car quietly

Gerald smiled and said, “Night watch’s highest confidentiality There are no more than ten people in the world who know about it Are you sure you want to know?”

“Then don’t say it Jolie stuck out her tongue, then coughed and said. Then Come back early I have discussed it with Alijah. We plan to get married when you come back!”

“Huh?” Gerald looked at her in surprise and asked, “So soon?”

“I don’t think so it’s just that you guys are too slow. You have been together for a year, and you still haven’t gotten married,” Jolie mumbled.

Valery smiled and said, “After the mission’s completed and we come back, if it goes smoothly, we will get married!”

“Sure!” Jolie’s eyes lit up. “I’m afraid that all the experts in the world will come at that time. So great!”

“We will get married in a low-profile manner,” Valery smiled and said. “I’ll just invite some good friends from American Night Watch!”

As the two girls spoke, they seemed to be excited. They began to discuss the details of the wedding. Gerald sat on the side and could not interrupt. But looking at Valery, he felt a sweet feeling in his heart.

Then, he looked at the familiar city and felt a little reluctant!

This time, they were not leaving Sacramento, nor were they going to a foreign country, but directly leaving this planet!

They planned to ride Elite Ghosts' aircraft, and Hector would be the driver.

Gerald did not know if they would be able to return after this trip, so he was a little reluctant.

Soon, they arrived at the airport. Their target was Night Watch's research center in Atlanta. Most of the aircraft were sent here for them to study!

When they arrived at the airport, Gerald and Valery put on masks and sunglasses. They carried weapons on their backs and walked out of the car.

"You must come back safely!" Gerald said.

Then he turned around and saw Triston, Carolyn, and Charles coming together. They came from the headquarters together.

Further away, Jacob was saying goodbye to his parents!

At the door, Claude was holding Aleen and saying something in her ear. Claude's eyes were a little moist!

Aleen's belly grew big. She was pregnant, and it had been more than five months.

When Aleen informed Claude earlier, Claude excitedly ran a few rounds in the Arctic.

And this time, he was destined to not see his child born.

Looking at this scene, Gerald slowly let out a breath and smiled in his heart, half a year later, I will send you back safe and sound. I promise!

As he spoke, he bid farewell to Jolie before turning around and walking towards those people!

The group of people followed behind Gerald and walked into the airport. Christopher, the pilot, was already waiting for them

Two hours later, in Atlanta, in the research center, Gerald and the other six people came down from a bus. In the sky, a purple light flashed!

Hector had arrived!

Chapter 776 Departure

Purple Elite Ghost descended from the sky.

For a year, the main force of the Scientific Research Department of Night Watch was in the Myriad Mountains.

But this time, all the people, including Ashtyn's grandfather, came back.

The purpose of their return was to see Gerald and others rise into the sky!

For scientific researchers, the development of space travel was indeed limited. People on earth were still unable to do something like traveling to Nebula. Going to the moon and returning was already the limit of what humans could do now!

What made them most helpless was that Elite Ghosts' aircraft could reach Nebula. However, after so many years, many of the aircraft of Elite Ghosts were sent over. In the past, they were wreckage, but later on, there were some that were intact, large, or small.

However, they discovered that when these things were sent to them, they could not understand them!

There was no other way. This was the huge technological gap between the two worlds.

People on earth did not have this theory, so they had to figure it out themselves!

They could not even pilot these aircraft!

The Purple Elite Ghost landed beside Gerald and the others.

After landing, Gerald discovered that Hector had two super huge packages in his hands!

"What's in there?" Gerald asked with a frown.

Hector coughed and said, "I'm used to the food here. I've brought seasoning for half a year, pickled vegetables, and so on. These two bags should be enough for us to use for half a year."

"Is the cooking over there very bad?" Carolyn asked with a frown.

As a foodie, not only did she eat a lot, but she was also picky!

"It is not about cooking but taste preference. Although it can be highly developed over there, in terms of the research of seasoning, over there it is not as much as you guys have researched. After all, it has always been in a war," Hector said with a smile.

"Ah..." Carolyn pouted. In fact, she was also carrying two boxes filled with snacks.

However, Hector's words made her feel that she should take more!

"Don't worry!" Hector smiled and said, "Isn't Charles' cooking very good? There is more meat and fruits over there than on Earth. With these seasonings, our food won't be bad."

Charles was one of the best chefs in the world. His Quadrity made countless rich people obsessed. His cooking was indeed quite outstanding.

Charles was silent. After hearing Hector's words, he only nodded!

This year, in terms of eating, was the best year for Gerald and the others!

During the time they had been learning the language in the Arctic, Charles had been cooking for them, so they had slowly become picky.

Of course, Valery was also interested in cooking. Over the past year, her cooking skills had improved greatly.

While they were talking, they had already entered the door of the Scientific Research Department. At this time, Ashtyn was pouting as she looked at Gerald and Valery.

After a year, she had already accepted this. In fact, she did not have a deep feeling for Gerald, but more of an obsession. This kind of thing could be easily put down.

However, Lucas glared at Gerald and said, "Come with me!"

They led Gerald to the rear. Soon, there appeared a huge open space behind the Scientific Research Department. In the open space, there were dozens of aircraft. The Elite Ghosts' aircraft were mostly shuttle-shaped aircraft. The largest one looked like two small villas with two or three floors.

Other than that, there were also disc-shaped ones, like flying saucers. It was unknown what material they were made of, but they were seized from the Myriad Mountains.

go and choose!" As Hector spoke, his huge Elite Ghost body walked over, and he began to choose his aircraft.

"Boss!"

Just at this time, a sound rang out.

Gerald looked back and found that behind him, Theo, Belinda, Milo, Erik, and Kristen had all run over.

After seeing the five people, Gerald was slightly surprised!

Theo rushed to Gerald and held him. His eyes were a little red as he said, "Boss, your must come back safely!"

"Why are you here?" Gerald held him with a smile. "Oh, you have improved a little in the past year!”

“I will reach the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay as soon as possible. I will go with you on the next mission,” Theo gritted his teeth and said.

His talent was not bad. He was second only to the first group, including Gerald. It was just that he was usually a little sloppy and did not work so hard on martial arts. Recently, the atmosphere on Earth was slowly getting better for practicing martial arts. He felt the gap and naturally began to work harder.

Gerald nodded.

“Yes, I’m done!” At this time, Hector, who was in the distance, waved to Gerald and the others and walked to the front of the largest aircraft.

Gerald let out a breath, then let go of Theo and said, “We are leaving!”

Belinda walked up to Gerald and smiled. “Come back safely. When you come back, I hope to be able to attend your and Dr. Manning’s wedding.”

“You certainly can. I have discussed it with Valery. This time, we will get married after we get back. The next time we leave, it will be our honeymoon trip!” Gerald smiled.

Looking at the five people who looked reluctant and worried, Gerald felt a little warm. He kicked Theo and said, “Fuck, don’t look so sad and hopeless. It’s not like we haven’t gone on missions alone before. Just treat it as if we are going on a mission alone for half a year!”

“But... We used to do it on Earth,” Theo said.

Gerald curled his lips and then scolded, “Stop nagging. In addition, you should stop messing around. Don’t go out to pick up girls. You’re not young anymore. Find a good woman for yourself!”

“I... got it,” Theo said.

Gerald frowned but still continued to remind him, “I originally planned to introduce Jolie to you, but you were too unreliable, so I didn’t. As a result, Jolie already has a boyfriend...”

“Huh?” Theo glared at him and said, “You should have told me that earlier! If you had said that earlier, I would have stopped messing around and become Jolie’s boyfriend.”

This made the atmosphere a little relaxing. Gerald smiled and hugged everyone. “See you in seven months!”

The journey back and forth was one month. For the remaining six months, they would carry out the mission on that planet!

After making the decision, they dragged their things and moved towards the aircraft!

Lucas waved his hand, and several people brought many energy stones to the side of the aircraft.

Energy stones were the fuel for the aircraft.

Half an hour later, a rumbling sound began to ring out in the base. Then, a huge aircraft slowly spat out fire and floated up from the ground. It slowly rose into the air, becoming higher and higher until it disappeared into the clouds.

Below, Theo murmured, "You must ... come back safely!"

Chapter 777 Eagle Eye

The huge aircraft rose into the sky until it turned into a dot of light.

"Somehow, I feel so uneasy," Theo said somewhat anxiously. He stood there and looked at the aircraft in the air.

"I... also have this feeling." Belinda frowned deeply.

Milo took a sip of wine and said, "Don't think about it. They will come back safely."

"Yes! They will come back safely!" Kristen said, "Definitely!"

The aircraft appeared big in the air. Inside the cockpit, the equipment was advanced. There were countless glowing buttons. Hector had come out of the body of the Elite Ghost. He sat in the cockpit and kept tapping on the buttons.

The structure of this aircraft was interestingly mimicking that of a residence. Entering the aircraft, Gerald could see a living room with some homely decorations.

Hector said that buildings, furniture, and other things in their world were actually somewhat similar to those on Earth. Their things possessed a more advanced sense of technology but were inferior in terms of comfort.

Then, inside the aircraft was almost a two-story villa.

There were many cabins inside, as well as air conversion and production devices.

Outside Earth, there was not enough oxygen for Gerald and the others.

Inside the cockpit was a transparent piece of architecture. Hector sat on it while Gerald and the others stood behind. Gerald looked down at the world that was getting smaller and smaller. He was still a little reluctant to leave Earth.

"We'll leave the atmosphere layer," Hector said, "Leaving it means completely losing weight. You need to pay attention."

"Okay!" Gerald nodded.

At this time, Earth below had become a blue planet.

"Do you know what the Elite Ghosts call this planet?" Hector asked.

“Huh?” Gerald was surprised. “What?”

“They call it Planet Lagoon.” Hector smiled and said, “The portion of the water area in Havotune is lower than that of Earth. The forest area and the water area are about fifty-fifty, so the planet looks blue-green like a lagoon. You will know when you arrive!”

Buzz!

At this time, Gerald and the others instantly felt their body weight lighter. Gerald knew that they had completely broken away from the gravity of Earth and entered the universe.

“Eagle Eye!”

At this time, Hector suddenly spoke to the cockpit in the language of Havotune. Gerald could understand it.

“Master, please tell me what I need to do!” A mechanical woman’s voice rang out in the cockpit.

“Set up the destination as Havotune. Draw the route map!” Hector said.

Beep...

A screen suddenly lit up with countless specks of light. At the same time, a ray of light appeared. The mechanical voice sounded again. “The route to Havotune has been drawn. Did you decide to choose it?”

“Let’s go,” Hector said again.

Beep...

Another sound rang out. The aircraft shook again and entered the depths of the universe.

At this time, Hector stood up and stretched his arms. “The journey will take about fifteen days. If you are curious about the universe, you can take a look. If you are not interested and feel that it is hard to kill time, you can find a room. There is a sleeping pod in each room that can help you sleep. Fifteen days will pass in a flash!”

“So advanced?” Gerald asked in surprise.

“In terms of scientific technology, Havotune is still much ahead of you. However, the most important thing over there is still individual combat ability.” Hector smiled slightly. “I’m going to sleep. See you in half a month!”

“Bro, you can’t go!” Claude was shocked and said, “We don’t know how to drive this spaceship!”

“There’s no need for you to drive. Eagle Eye will open it himself. We just need to wake up in advance to look for a landing spot.” Hector smiled, revealing a hint of pride on his face.

“Automatic driving?” Gerald and the others were stunned.

“I’m going to sleep. You can look at the universe outside the atmosphere curiously. Actually... There’s nothing much to see. I was curious at first, but I found it was just like sailing on the sea,” Hector said with a smile.

After one year, Hector’s relationship with Gerald and the others had improved.

After that, Hector ignored Gerald and walked out of the cabin. Gerald and the others. also walked out of the cockpit. They were all at the level of Half-Step Flame Decay, so walking with weight loss was okay for them.

Their bodies were extremely strong, and this wouldn’t cause any harm to them.

Gerald and the others had no intention of going to sleep. As excited as they were at their first voyage, they kept looking at the universe outside.

Gerald looked behind. The earth was getting further away. It gradually turned into a dot of light and then... completely disappeared.

Gerald knew that they had completely left Earth.

They were both nervous and expectant.

They did not go to sleep but stayed in the cabin of the aircraft.

They looked outside curiously.

After watching for a while, Charles was the first to feel bored. He entered a sleeping cabin in a room.

Carolyn was still very happy. She held a pen and watched it float. She was having a lot of fun.

“Go to rest if you want!” Gerald looked at Jacob and Triston.

“I don’t have such a big heart!” Triston mumbled, “I’m a little disappointed. I’m a little afraid that I won’t be able to go back now.”

“Hey, what’s there to worry about?” Triston’s eyes lit up as he said, “People from Havotune look no different from us.”

“So?” Jacob looked at Triston and asked.

Triston touched his chin and said, “So... I was thinking about whether I should bring a wife back when I return home. When the time comes, I can walk on the street with an alien wife. People will envy me!”

“Fuck!” Jacob looked at Triston with disdain and said, “That makes sense!”

“Looking at the universe for a few hours gets boring,” Claude said, “I’m going to sleep, too!”

In the next few days, Gerald stayed in the hall and did not enter the cockpit. When he was tired, Gerald would lie down in the hall to sleep. When he was awake, he would look outside or do some cultivation.

Their flight route was carefully set up. It was very safe along the way, and they did not encounter any danger or accidents.

On this day, Gerald sat on a chair as usual and looked at his phone.

Judging from the date shown on the phone, it had been 12 days since they left Earth.

They had to rely on their own phone to calculate the time. Havotune and Earth had different lengths of day.

According to Hector, there were three days before they reached their destination.

“Aircraft approaching! Aircraft approaching!” At this moment, Eagle Eye’s mechanical voice sounded in the cockpit.

Eagle Eye was the artificial intelligence equipped by the aircraft.

As the voice sounded, Gerald quickly looked out through the transparent window. On their right side, a shuttle-shaped aircraft quickly approached and flew side by side with this aircraft.

The distance between the two aircraft was not very far.

At this time, other people who were sleeping heard this voice and walked out of their rooms.

“What is going on? Can we meet other aircraft?” Triston asked curiously.

“In the universe, there are countless dangers, so everyone will travel on a safe route. You can understand the route as a road on Earth that leads in all directions. Everyone will choose a safe road.” As Hector said this, he looked at the aircraft outside. There were some carvings on it like, but unlike a blue maple leaf.

“Why do I feel that the aircraft is better than ours? It looks a bit more advanced.” Triston touched his chin.

When Hector saw this leaf carving, his expression changed slightly. He hurriedly said, “Hurry up and bow!”

Chapter 778 Arrival

Gerald frowned. When Hector clenched his fist and bowed, Gerald still followed suit despite his reluctance. The others did the same.

After bowing, Gerald raised his eyes slightly and saw two people standing by the window of the opposite aircraft. There was a silver-haired woman and a fat man. Seeing Gerald and the others, the fat man showed a trace of disdain.

The silver-haired girl had an interest in her eyes.

Just as Triston said, the opposite aircraft looked a lot more advanced and moved faster. Soon, the aircraft sped, passing the one Gerald stayed in.

After they left, Hector let out a long sigh of relief.

Gerald frowned and asked, "Are they living on the three satellites?"

The social structure in Havotune was completely different from that of Earth. In Havotune, the hierarchy was very strict. Those living on the satellites belonged to the highest rank. They were superior to the ordinary people living on the main planet. This group was strictly divided into lower-class people and upper-class people.

When they saw those living on the satellites, they had to salute.

Havotune also worshiped martial arts. The only way for the lower-class people to become the upper-class people was by cultivating martial arts. As long as they were at the super level, the status of their whole family would be improved.

Hector wiped the cold sweat on his forehead and said, "Right. And did you see the leaf carving on their aircraft? They don't just live on the satellite. They belonged to one of the oldest tribes in our world. Using Earth's language, they belonged to the Archaic Tribe. That maple leaf was the emblem of them!

"I remember telling you that the people on the satellites rarely come to the main planet. They will nurture the pioneers and ask them to fetch the resources on Havotune. Naturally, those pioneers are under their protection, and no one dares to touch them," Hector explained.

"But some people on the satellites are willing to come to Havotune for fun or other purposes," Hector said, "But most of them are easy to recognize. The eight biggest forces all have their own symbols. Do not provoke people with this symbol on their clothes!"

"What if we accidentally provoke them?" Triston frowned.

He did not like the hierarchy of Havotune.

"If you do, you can either apologize until they are satisfied," Triston said, "or... Kill them secretly without leaving any clues behind!"

Triston said, "Understood."

Hector sighed. He took out his phone and looked at it. Then, he muttered, "We will arrive in three days. Our destination is the City of Phoenix, but we cannot go directly there.

"We will go to another small border city far away from the City of Phoenix. It's called Ries City. We'll park the aircraft there and take a public aircraft to the City of Phoenix," Hector said.

Their aircraft belonged to the Four Ancient Families. They were the four largest families in this city. If they park the aircraft there, they would definitely be caught. So Hector decided to park the aircraft far away from the Four Ancient Families' reach.

Gerald nodded and said, "Alright!"

"Just continue to sleep," Hector said as he returned to his room.

However, after this incident, Gerald and the others were no longer in the mood for sleep. The group of seven sat down in the room. Gerald slowly let out a breath and said, "Let's talk together!"

The others nodded and sat down beside Gerald.

Gerald slowly let out a breath and said, "Obviously, this mission is completely different from any of our previous missions. Our understanding of this world is all based on Hector's description. We don't know what the real Havotune is like.

"Therefore, we can't think in the way we did before," Gerald said calmly, "Be careful and try not to provoke anyone!"

Gerald let out another sigh and said, "If we encounter unavoidable trouble..."

He licked his lips and said, "If so, solve it on the spot. Don't leave any clues behind!"

"Understood!" The others hurriedly said.

"Is there anything else you need to add?" Gerald asked.

Jacob touched his chin and muttered, "I suddenly thought of something."

"Huh?" They looked at Jacob.

"Just now, Hector said that the Archaic Tribe on that planet is the most ancient tribe there. They have been passed down for many years. Do you think... they might know about the Nether Palace?" Jacob asked.

His words caused others' expressions to change slightly.

"It's very difficult for us to obtain information from them!" Triston frowned. "They live on the satellites. They have the highest status. According to Hector, we are just inferior people with no status compared to them. We have to lower our heads when we see them."

“Just think of a way,” Jacob said, “Well, don’t you want to find an alien wife? I saw a silver-haired girl over there just now. She looks pretty. Show your masculinity to her, and maybe she will be with you. When you satisfy her desire, she will confess everything.”

“That makes sense!” Triston’s eyes lit

Gerald pondered for a moment and said, “Jacob indeed offered a good idea. The Nether Palace is recorded in history. We don’t even know if it still exists. We will investigate it.

But it’s not our main task. We came mainly to...”

As he said this, Gerald’s eyes were filled with killing intent. “To kill the Four Ancient Families from the City of Phoenix.”

The Four Ancient Families in the City of Phoenix had caused too much harm to human beings on Earth over the past hundred years. The people they killed were countless. There was a deep hatred between the Four Ancient Families and human beings on Earth.

“Understood!” Everyone nodded.

They discussed the details and concluded that they needed to keep a low profile.

The next three days passed very quickly and peacefully.

Three days later, Hector woke up. At the same time, Eagle Eye’s mechanical voice sounded. “We have arrived in Havotune. Please choose a station.”

Hector went to the cockpit and enlarged the map on the surface. Soon, he chose a small city.

“Get ready to enter Havotune,” Eagle Eye said.

Soon, a blue-green planet appeared in their eyes.

The aircraft continued to move toward the planet.

They arrived at Havotune.

At the same time, the City of Phoenix on Havotune.

There were many tall buildings in this huge clean city.

The city aircraft stopped at a station. A silver-haired woman and a fat man came down from the aircraft. They were dressed in black clothes. On their backs were white cloaks.

On the cloak, a blue maple leaf was extremely eye-catching. Wherever they went, everyone’s expressions changed, and they quickly bowed.

“Anabel!” The fat man followed the silver-haired woman and said, “The aircraft we encountered before seems to be that of the Ingram family in the City of Phoenix

“Yes,” the silver-haired woman said indifferently, “What are you up to? We came here this time to collect resources from the Four Ancient Families. Don’t make a fuss.”

Her voice was extremely cold.

“I saw quite a few beautiful women inside. I want to capture them and make them my slaves.” The man chuckled.

The silver-haired woman frowned but did not say anything.

Chapter 779 Currency

As people who lived on the satellite, even if their martial arts cultivation was not as good as the ones in Havotune, they still had a great sense of superiority when facing the people from Havotune.

It was not a big deal to bring ordinary people on the trip.

The silver-haired woman’s eyes were cold. She looked past the aircraft station and saw that a black hover car was parked in front of the station. A person was standing there respectfully.

“Ms. Pierce.” Two people came out. A middle-aged man quickly greeted Anabel Pierce, the silver-haired woman. He held a document in his hand and said respectfully, “This is the list of contributions.”

Anabel took the document and walked into the hover car. Then she sat down with her legs crossed while reviewing the document.

“There are so few energy stones?” At this time, Anabel frowned and said, “The energy stones that the Four Ancient Families have given over the past few decades have become less and less. What’s wrong with you? Are your pioneers secretly invading other primitive planets, so you consumed a large number of energy stones?”

The middle-aged man’s expression changed slightly. “That’s not the case. The energy stone tunnel that the Four Ancient Families control has been attacked by a ferocious beast. I have reported this matter. We have all used other resources to replenish our supplies.”

Anabel nodded.

At this time, the hover car started to move slowly. There was a driver in front of them.

The car hovered in the air and slowly rose, heading into the distance.

Ries City was a small city on the border of the Solein Kingdom in Havotune. The city was located in quite a dangerous place. In Havotune, Earth was not the only planet. There were many forests here, thus there were countless ferocious beasts.

Ries City was close to the forest. This place was not safe because it could be attacked by ferocious beasts at any time.

At this time, there were not many aircraft in the sky. Gerald's aircraft was slowly descending. Inside the aircraft, Hector was telling Gerald and the others about this city.

"The population of this city is about 20 million. That's not huge," Hector said.

Triston's mouth twitched as he said, "20 million? It's not huge?"

Hector smiled and said, "This planet is much bigger than your planet, and so is the land area. Therefore, the population is several times larger than yours. A city of 20 million people is indeed small."

As the aircraft got lower and lower, Gerald saw the appearance of the city. All the buildings were high. Gerald frowned and said, "The buildings cover not much space, but they seem to be very tall."

"Yes. On Earth, humans are the only rulers. You can set up buildings wherever you want, and the population can be sparse. But this place is different. The safe places are limited, and the population is extremely dense. They have to build taller buildings to accommodate more people," Hector explained.

In fact, Hector had mentioned this before, but when they saw the buildings, Gerald and the others were still shocked. On Earth, a building with 30 floors was considered a high building, but on this planet, almost all the buildings were 30 stories high.

"When we land, we don't need to bring too many things. The aircraft will undergo repair and maintenance here. We just need to pay energy stones to the workers." Hector said, "Energy stones are common goods here, and they can circulate in every country and city."

Gerald nodded.

"By the way, because this city is on the edge of the country, there are not many people living there. Other than the army of the kingdom, most of the people living here are pioneers or some desperados who go to this mountain to find a chance to become rich overnight," Hector signed.

"These people are outlaws. The laws in this world only serve powerful people. So when you see something unfair, just tolerate it," Hector warned.

This was what Hector was worried about the most.

Gerald and the others were Watchmen. On Earth, everyone was equal, and Watchmen, who were righteous, would seek injustice when they saw something unfair. However, in this world, there was no such thing as fairness.

Bullying was too common, and Hector and others were afraid that Gerald and his friends would interfere with others' matters.

"I understand our mission. We won't intervene with other matters," Gerald said with a smile.

At this time, they entered a huge aircraft station. There were many people around, and there were many aircraft.

On the ground, many people were busy, including some robots.

When Gerald and the others saw this, they could not help but be shocked. This was just a small city on the border of the country.

“We will rest here for a day. Later, we will find a hotel. Then I’ll change enough money to last me six months and store it in the card.” Hector said, “You can swipe your card everywhere. That’s all I can tell you. Everyone, just try to keep a low profile.”

A loud sound was heard.

While they were talking, Gerald felt something stop on the ground.

“Pack

up your things.” Hector let out a breath.

They found a few boxes from the aircraft and placed the things they brought from Earth inside. Each of them had two boxes.

Hector filled one of the boxes with energy stones. He smiled and said, “After exchanging the stones for currency, we can be considered rich people.

“Energy stones are the foundation of this world’s operation. They are not just used to cultivate,” Hector said with a smile.

Indeed, the thing contained in the energy stones was very similar to Vital Energy. Gerald thought that this kind of thing should be one of the reasons why martial arts flourished in this world.

‘Prepare to go down.’ Hector walked to the cabin door.

“Shall we buy some new clothes to fit in the world?” Gerald asked.

“Of course.” Hector said, “The clothes we are wearing are too eye-catching. However, down and find a hotel to stay in first.”

let’s go

A beeping sound was heard.

The hatch of the aircraft opened, and Hector and the others slowly let out a breath and walked down from it.

Even stepping on solid ground, Gerald still had an unreal feeling.

They crossed Nebula and arrived at a completely unfamiliar world.

At this time, a person walked towards Gerald and the others. She was wearing tight clothes.

When Gerald looked over, he found that most of the people in this world were wearing tight-fitting clothes.

There was something strange on her face, like a pair of glasses, which seemed to be able to scan.

Hector went over and talked with her for a while. The woman nodded. Then, the lens she was wearing shot out the light. She scanned the aircraft that Gerald and the others had sent over and gave Hector a blue card. Then, she said, "Repair and dock for half a year. One energy stone or 10 thousand golorbs."

What she was talking about was the language of this country. Gerald and the others could understand it.

The golorb was the currency of this country.

Hector took out an energy stone and handed it over. Then, he turned around and said, "It's done."

He slowly let out a breath and said with a strange light in his eyes, "Let's go."

Claude asked, "You don't wear the clothes of Elite Ghost?"

"No. In ordinary cities, people are not allowed to wear the clothes of pioneers except when war breaks out." Hector smiled and said, "If we go to explore the forest, I can wear the clothes."

Under Hector's lead, the group of seven passed through the station.

Because the clothes of the seven people were completely different from what the people were wearing in the world, they attracted a lot of attention.

Gerald found that these people looked at them like they were staring at prey,

Chapter 780 Ries City

"Their gazes make me very uncomfortable," Carolyn mumbled.

Hector smiled and said softly, "Our clothes make them think that we might have come from some primitive planets, or that we are prey. In short, we have to be careful. In this city, killing and robbing are very common."

After passing through the station, they arrived at a huge hall. Inside the hall, people were coming and going.

"Wait here for a moment. I will exchange energy stones for the golorbs," Hector said.

He brought 200 energy stones with him and could exchange them for 2 million golorbs. It was enough for them to stay in the world for half a year.

Gerald nodded. He carried the boxes and waited for him.

Hector looked around and walked in a direction.

Gerald looked around. He found that this world was somewhat similar to Sin City. Most people were carrying weapons, which were mainly cold weapons. Some were holding weapons similar to guns. Most of the weapons were carried on their backs.

The people around were also used to it.

In this way, it was normal for Gerald and the others to carry boxes with weapons on their backs.

Gerald's weapon also had some changes.

He no longer used the Nebula sword. Now, it was replaced by the ancient greenish-bronze sword and the Dragon Saber.

Gerald was used to using sabers, and he used his sword as a saber. As for the Nebula sword, he left it to Charles.

While they were waiting, a round-faced girl with a curvy figure and black curly hair came over. She looked a little excited and said, "Have you just arrived at Ries City? Where are you going? If you pay me 300 golorbs, I can take you anywhere. My hover car is just outside."

"Do you need a place to stay? You can stay at my home. 100 golorbs for one person. I can also be your tour guide."

Gerald looked at this woman with interest, and he was a little shocked.

It turned out that there were spielers in this world.

According to Hector, ordinary people only spent around 2,000 to 3,000 golorbs a month in this world.

Of course, Gerald wasn't in a hurry to interact too much with the locals when he first arrived in this city. He glanced at this woman and didn't intend to pay attention to her.

However, Triston chuckled and said, "You can accommodate us? Is there any special service?"

Gerald and the others were stunned.

The girl with black curly hair smiled and said, "If you want, I can help you find it. The price is affordable, and you will love it."

Gerald and Claude coughed embarrassingly.

Then Gerald said to the girl, "Thanks. We don't need it."

The girl did not turn hostile but took the initiative to say, "300 golorbs is absolutely cheap. If so many of you take public transportation, it will cost a lot of money."

During the conversation, Hector walked over. Hearing the conversation between the girl and Gerald, Hector touched his nose and said, "Then lead the way."

Gerald looked at Hector in surprise.

"We have just arrived in this city, and it will take a long time to get to our destination. It is not a loss to have a guide to lead the way," Hector said.

After that, he looked at the girl and said, "300 golorbs for car fees and 200 for the introduction. Can you introduce us to the situation in this city?"

"No problem." The girl's eyes lit up slightly. "This way, please."

Gerald and the others followed behind them. Hector walked to Gerald and the others and gave a blue card to each of them, saying, "70 for each person. It's enough for you to last half a year. You can swipe the card everywhere."

Hector meant that each person was given 700 thousand golorbs.

This card was a bit similar to the bank card, but the texture was much better.

Gerald looked at it. He did not study it carefully. He put the card in his pocket and followed the girl out of the aircraft station.

When they walked out, they saw a huge venue in front of them. The venue was very clean and there were many things similar to cars parked there.

They were not really cars because there were no tires.

"Is this a parking lot?" Claude asked curiously.

Everything in this world was very novel to Gerald and the others.

Hector nodded and replied, "Yes, these are the cars in this world, and the tires are all hidden below. Only when they are on land will the tires be released. This is new technology. In the city, everything is suspended."

The girl looked at Gerald and the others in surprise. She seemed to be very curious about their language. She did not understand them, but she did not ask too much.

She brought Gerald and the others to a relatively long car. She pressed a button on the front of the car, which scanned the girl's face. Then, the door automatically opened.

"Ladies and gentlemen, you have to pay first," the girl turned to Gerald and said.

Hector smiled and handed over his blue card.

The girl also took out a blue card. When the two cards collided, the blue card seemed to be activated, and some words appeared on it.

Gerald glanced at them. They were the words of this world.

"It's so cool!" Triston exclaimed.

Hector entered 500 and then separated the card. He smiled and said, "Get in the car. I have already paid."

"Guests, where are you going?" the girl asked with a smile after getting into the car.

Hector touched his chin and said, "Take us to the best hotel in Ries City."

"OK." After the girl finished speaking, she turned to the car and said, "Let's go to Starlight Hotel."

"Roger." A mechanical voice rang out from inside the car.

"Is everything automated in this world?" Triston said, "When we leave, we have to get a car like this back. Sports are overshadowed by this."

"Not exactly." Hector said, "In this city, we can be driverless. But if we go out to explore, we have to control the steering wheel. After leaving the city, the sky is not safe, so we all drive on land."

Gerald and the others nodded, and then they began to chat with the girl.

The girl also told Gerald some news, such as her name. According to the language of Earth, she was called Kiana Poole, a resident of Ries City, and her ancestors lived in Ries City.

She sat in the driver's seat and turned to chat with Gerald and the others.

Hector smiled and said, "How many people reached the level of Flame Decay in Ries City?"

Kiana looked shocked. Then, she hurriedly said, "It's rare to see an adult reaching the level of Flame Decay. In Ries City, there are a total of six people who got the level. There's a City Defender, and five people have reached the level of Flame Decay."

"Only five people?" Gerald was surprised.

Hector smiled and said, "That's a lot in this small border city. People reaching the level of Flame Decay are rare."

The car was suspended in the air and drove very fast. After shuttling in the city for a while, they slowly landed in front of an extremely tall building.
