Chapter 891 Skyler

Gerald laughed and did not answer Anabel!

Anabel revealed a trace of embarrassment on her face. She silently sighed in her heart and then revealed a smile. "In short, if you want to keep a low profile and do not want to be famous, I will not reveal a single word!"

Gerald looked at her, and then said after thinking for a moment, "Although I didn't have a good impression of you in the beginning and had no choice but to participate in this trial with you, in the past few days, I found that you are not so bad!"

Speaking of this, Gerald sat down on the sofa and looked at Anabel. "When the trial is over and we survive safely, I can tell you a piece of news!"

Gerald wanted to tell Anabel that she should be on guard against Brigid!

Brigid was from Nether Palace and most likely wanted to trick Anabel into entering Nether Palace.

Although Nether Palace seemed to have no connection with Earth for the time being, maybe Nether Palace would appear again and attack Earth.

Nether Palace and the Eight Forces seemed to be on the opposite side. If Anabel was fooled into it, everything about her might change.

Before leaving, Gerald reminded her. As for whether she would be tricked into entering in the end, it was none of Gerald's business.

Anabel nodded and said, "Alright. Today is a tiring day. Let's rest first. If you don't want to go out, you can continue to stay here and wait for the day of the trial. After that, you can come back again.

After I complete some handover, you... can return to Havotune."

Gerald nodded and said, "Okay, we can stay here in peace for the time being."

In the next few days, their meals were delivered by others and there were no disturbances. In a flash, three days passed.

Three days later, Gerald, Valery, and the others were sitting in their rooms.

Carolyn muttered, "Speaking of which, I'm a little homesick. How long have we been here?"

"I didn't bring my phone up, but it has been more than two months since we arrived here. According to the time on Earth, it should be about... three or four months? We have to check the time." Gerald shook his head and said, "In short, the time to go back should not be far."

To be honest, this kind of living environment, which was separated and was unknown how far away from Earth, was completely different from their lifestyles.

Even though Gerald and the others were Watchmen and had strong adaptability, they couldn't help but miss home.

They missed the food on Earth and the peace of Earth and their families!

Gerald said, "I hope that after we go back. Theo and the other guys have also reached the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay. Without their noise, I feel a little unaccustomed."

"Didn't Anabel say that this trial will last for a month? I think that after the trial ends, we will return to Havotune. We can go back then." Valery pinched Carolyn's hand.

"Yes! When we go back, we can take wedding dress photos for you. I have already finished designing. As long as we can make it, we can directly take a photo," Carolyn said.

Gerald pondered and said, "This time, the Four Ancient Families have lost eight Flame Decayers. One is at the supreme level of Flame Decay and several are at the level of Half-Step Flame Decay and the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay. It's a good result. However, it's still hard to ruin the Four Ancient Families. Sauven is really powerful. We can't find someone to fight against him."

"It's all up to you now!" Valery sighed. "Actually, I don't want you to take the risk most of the time, but you're the only possibility. It's ridiculous."

Gerald smiled. "When I finish it this time and before we leave, I will do a big thing."

"Huh?" Valery asked, "What are you going to do?"

"I'm still thinking about it. I'll go back and discuss it with Jacob and the others after the trial ends to see if it's possible," Gerald said with a smile.

Just as they were talking, footsteps suddenly came from outside the door.

At the same time, the old man in charge of their daily necessities said, "Mr. Mahoney, Ms. Pierce from Mullen City stayed on the left side. You can stay on the right side!*

"Sorry to trouble you." Another voice sounded.

Obviously, another team of participants came over.

Among the Eight Forces, there were a total of nine groups of people from the Pierce family.

Among these nine groups of people, apart from the nine captains, there were all kinds of people in their groups. Among them, there were many helpers like Anabel invited from Havotune or even other planets. There were also some other geniuses from the Eight Forces!

At this time, the people who came over were four men.

However, when Gerald looked at the person who was leading the group, Gerald could not help but reveal a surprised expression.

This guy had a square face. His skin was a bit dark and his figure was not tall. He was only about 5 feet 3 inches tall. However, his figure was extremely sturdy.

Most importantly, Gerald felt that this guy was not only thirty years old. He seemed to be at least forty years old.

In addition, the other three people were much more normal. They looked to be in their twenties. Gerald roughly felt that two were at the level of Half-Step Flame Decay. The guy with a square face and the thin and tall man were at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay.

“Ms. Pierce!” The short man walked in and when he saw Anabel walking out from the side, his expression lit up. He walked over and said, “I’ve long heard that Ms. Pierce has extraordinary talent. You’re indeed a talent.”

Anabel looked at him awkwardly and asked, “Do we... know each other?”

The man shook his head and said passionately, “Let me introduce myself. I am from a branch family of the Archaic Tribe, the Mahoney family. My name is Skyler Mahoney. These are my friends who participated in the trial with me.”

His appearance was a bit impressive.

“You... Will you participate in the trial?” Anabel looked at him suspiciously and asked.

Skyler finally showed a hint of embarrassment and said, “I am twenty-eight this year, but I look a little old.”

After saying that, Skyler looked at Anabel and said, “Speaking of which, Ms. Pierce, the other captains of the Archaic Tribe participating in the trial this time are all direct descendants. Only the two of us from the branches are the captains. Should we try to unite?”

Anabel’s expression changed slightly. She looked at Skyler and said, “This... is not necessary!”

“Our strength is not strong enough. It is difficult to enter the top ten. Even those powerful teams have to unite, let alone us?” Skyler said.

He seemed to be a chatterbox. His mouth never stopped. Gerald and the others also learned a lot of information from his mouth.

Chapter 892 The Seeded Players From the Archaic Tribe

Skyler seemed to be the kind of person who knew everything.

He was born in the Mahoney family of the Archaic Tribe!

The Archaic Tribe was mainly composed of the Pierce family, but there were all kinds of people.

The Mahoney family was not considered a large family in the Archaic Tribe, and they might only be comparable to a branch family of the Pierce family.

After Skyler was born, his father hoped that he would be invincible in the future, so they were strict with him.

Skyler had indeed revealed his talent. When he was not at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay, he still wanted to participate in the trial. Therefore, he hoped that other people who signed up could bring him along.

He knew a few people from the younger generation of the Archaic Tribe. When Skyler was young, he had always been their henchman. He thought that he had a good relationship with them.

However, when Skyler proposed to participate in the trial with them, all of them refused.

In the Archaic Tribe, the Mahoney family was nothing, and their status was not high.

How could these people from the direct line of descent take him seriously?

After Skyler was defeated, he also wanted to join Anabel's team, but he did not know Anabel. Helpless, he decided to rely on himself.

He was lucky. Before the registration deadline, he successfully reached the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay.

After registering, he looked for teammates.

Even when Skyler reached the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay, he still couldn't find any good teammates. Therefore, he spent nearly a year entering Havotune and searched everywhere, only to find three people to form a team with him.

He was even unluckier than Anabel.

Anabel was surnamed Pierce, a big family among the Archaic Tribe. Although she was from a branch family, her status was still higher than Skyler's.

After listening to this guy, Gerald was surprised.

Of course, what Skyler said was far more than his experiences. He also collected many names of the seeded players of the Eight Forces.

Among the Archaic Tribe, the strongest team was led by Kristian, the direct descendant. Two of his teammates were at the level of Flame Decay and two were at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay. They could almost reserve one of the top ten teams.

In addition, most of the Eight Forces would have one team with two Flame Decayers.

After Skyler entered the courtyard, he did not even go to his room. Instead, he directly pulled Gerald and the others and began to talk.

“Are you really not going to form an alliance with us? To put it bluntly, people like us are treated as cannon fodder,” Skyler said, “Besides, other than us, those powerful teams may all form an alliance with each other. So if we want to do something, we should join forces. After entering the trial, we should find a way to contact each other and gather together.”

Anabel actually had some thoughts in her heart. She couldn't help but look at Gerald.

Gerald shook his head.

Skyler seemed to be a good person, but no one could tell what kind of person he was.

Most importantly, it would be best for Gerald and the others to act on their own. In a real battle, Gerald and Carolyn were both the owners of Dragon Bone and Phoenix Bone. In the void, the shadows might appear at any time. Their identity as the owners of Dragon Bone and Phoenix Bone could be exposed!

Anabel alone knew about this matter.

The alliance could not exist.

Moreover, Gerald and Carolyn were both at the level of Flame Decay. With two people at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay, it was enough.

In a true battle, Gerald was confident that he would be able to escape unscathed when facing a few Flame Decayers.

Therefore, there was no need for an alliance.

Anabel sighed and said, “Forget about the alliance. When we enter the trial, it will be very difficult to encounter. We should rely on our abilities!”

Skyler sighed, then nodded, and said, “Alright, what a pity. Wish us good luck. Whether it is me or you, if we can enter the top ten and let the higher-ups notice us, I hope that we can take care of each other.”

Anabel nodded. “Alright, we are all from the branch families. We naturally should take care of each other.”

The two chatted for a while, and then they separated.

Because of Skyler's arrival, the courtyard became a bit livelier.

Gerald, on the other hand, was familiar with Skyler and others. Skyler was indeed a chatterbox. His personality was wild, and he was a bit similar to Theo!

During this time, Orion came to say goodbye once. He had finished his things and left the palace of the Archaic Tribe.

Soon, another three days had passed.

There was only one day left before Gerald and the others participated in the trial!

On this day, some of the gauze on Gerald's chest was removed. Valery carefully examined Gerald and then frowned. "You haven't fully recovered. How do you feel?"

Gerald shook his head and said, "It just hurts a little. I don't feel anything else."

"What about your Vital Energy?" She asked again.

Gerald said, "Vital Energy should be able to release about 90%. It is actually an attack from an expert at the supreme level of Flame Decay. It's normal to be able to recover so quickly. 90% strength should be enough."

Valery nodded. "We still don't know much about the trial."

"Anabel herself doesn't know. The content of each trial seems to be different. Let's check at that time!" Gerald shook his head.

As they talked, there was a knock on the door. Anabel came out and said, "Let's go out for a while!"

Gerald asked, "Where are we going?"

"The tribe has informed the participants that we are going to the conference hall to listen to the contents of this trial," Anabel said.

Gerald nodded. The group stood up and walked into the courtyard. They found that Skyler and the other three had also walked out. They walked together toward the conference hall.

Under the guidance of the old man, they quickly arrived at the conference hall.

At this time, there were already many people sitting in the conference hall.

Kameron looked at Anabel and Skyler with disdain, but he did not dare to speak.

There were a total of nine teams participating in this trial from the Archaic Tribe. Gerald looked around. Sitting at the front were four people. One of them had sword-like eyebrows and starry eyes. He was playing with a golden card in his hand. At the same time, he was also talking to the people beside him.

There were two men and a woman beside him. One of the men was carrying a huge broadsword on his back as he answered with a smile.

In addition, the other man was dressed in black. He was much more low-key and was smiling.

The other woman had a head of silver hair, and her strength was at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay.

But for some reason, she gave Gerald a very dangerous feeling.

The two people talking were Flame Decayers!

Without a doubt, this team was led by the Kristian that Skyler had mentioned. It was also the seed team of the Archaic Tribe.

“Be quiet!”

At this time, two figures walked up on the stage in front of them. One was a man and one was a woman. The woman was Brigid who had received Gerald and the others before!

Chapter 893 Rules and Rewards

Gerald and the others sat in the back row. When the two people on the stage spoke, everyone quieted down.

Beside Gerald, Skyler still whispered to him, “Do you see that handsome man? His name is Kristian Pierce. He is the strongest among the younger generation of the Archaic Tribe. He is now twenty-six. After going through the trial in the Corona Pool, he is very likely to reach the supreme level of Flame Decay before 30 years old.

“I’m afraid that the Archaic Tribe will be under his control in the future.” Skyler continued to introduce Gerald, “The person next to him is called Reuben Collier, someone at Flame Decay level as well. Among the large families among the Archaic Tribes, the Collier family is the strongest. among the younger generation. In the past, the Pierce family and the Collier family were competing separately, but this time, they joined forces.

“The person over there is Kristian’s older brother. In fact, he is talented, but he has always been overwhelmed by Kristian. It is said that this fact has become a shadow in his heart. He has been at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay for two or three years, but he is unable to break through.” When Skyler said this, his gaze fell on the veiled woman.

“As for this woman, her name is Sylvie Pierce. She is from the same bloodline as Kristian. When she was young, she was even more famous than Kristian. It is said that she is the owner of the Phoenix Bone,” Skyler said in a low voice. “She was at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay before twenty years old, but later, she encountered a bottleneck and has been unable to break through for a long time. Kristian surpassed her.”

As for these people, Skyler spoke as if he knew them very well, “To be honest, I tried to curry favor with them before, but they all ignored me.”

As Skyler said that, he laughed and said, “Oh right, Sylvie is said to be the number one beauty in the Archaic Tribe. She is even more beautiful than Anabel, but almost no people have seen her face.”

Gerald did not believe it. The so-called number one beauty was likely to be a hype. No one had seen her face. How could she become the number one beauty?

Did they launch a vote?

Who acknowledged her as the number one beauty of the Archaic Tribe?

“It is said that as long as one can lift her veil, that guy can marry her,” Skyler said. “It would be great if I could marry her.”

“Don’t believe such rumors,” Gerald said. “Maybe, after the veil is lifted, you will see her face in black and blue.”

Just as they were whispering to each other....

Brigid and another man stood still. The man stood with his hands behind his back. He glanced at everyone and said, “In this trial, the Archaic Tribe will be led by me and Brigid.”

Like a guide, Skyler began to explain to Gerald, “The person speaking now is called Darion Collier. He’s at the supreme level of Flame Decay and is one of the elders of the Archaic Tribe.”

Speaking of this, he said excitedly. “I didn’t expect that Brigid would lead the team. Brigid is also a famous beauty of the Archaic Tribe, and she hasn’t married yet. If she likes me and marries me, my career will soar.”

Gerald looked at Skyler suspiciously. He found that Skyler and Theo were both shameless.

At this time, Gerald noticed that Brigid glanced at many people. Several times, she nodded at them.

When she glanced at Anabel, she paused and then nodded as if she was greeting Anabel.

“Brigid is expanding her network,” Carolyn said softly.

Gerald was silent for a moment. Most of the people participating in the trial were geniuses of the Archaic Tribe. In the future, they might be the core of the Archaic Tribe. Brigid took the initiative to volunteer as if she wanted to rope in these people.

At this time, Darion said, “The content of the trial has been confirmed. The venue is still on the main planet of Havotune. We will stick to our tradition and hold the trial in Nether Domain next to the Corona Pool.”

Anabel told them that Nether Domain was an island. However, this place was dangerous like hell. After entering, few people could survive. Therefore, it was named Nether Domain.

The Corona Pool was on this island.

As Darion spoke, he picked up blue cards that looked like jade. Then, he flicked his finger, and the cards went sent to all captains.

“This card is related to the contents of this trial,” Darion said. “Just like before, ganging up on someone is allowed. The candidates should survive with their abilities.

“The content of this trial is simple. We set up an altar in the center of Nether Domain. The first ten people to arrive at the altar are the top ten,” Darion said. “Therefore, besides strength, luck is also important. Some teams without Flame Decayers can have a chance to become the top ten.”

Gerald muttered, “Is it that simple?”

“Simple?” Skyler reminded Gerald, “It’s almost impossible to move forward in Nether Domain without reaching the level of Flame Decay. It’s very dangerous there.”

“Of course, it’s not that simple. I know that some people intend to just follow others and wait for others to clear obstacles. This has always been the case, but this time, it is not allowed. There are eight checkpoints set up with the altar as the center. You must get close to the altar at a certain time. After you enter, this card will record the time of your entrance. If you don’t arrive on time, then even if you arrive at the altar, your results will be void,” Darion said.

Gerald had a strange expression on his face. Wasn’t it similar to an online game on Earth?

If they got first place, couldn’t they say Winner Winner Chicken Dinner out?

“The content of the trial and the information about the checkpoint is in the card that I gave you. You can open it and read at any time,” Darion said. “Also, let’s talk about the reward.

“Other than having the right to practice in the Corona Pool, the top ten teams will also receive rewards, Darion licked his lips and said. “The top ten, regardless of whether they are members of the Archaic Tribe, as long as they become the top ten, their position will rise by a level in their families, and the servants in those families can call themselves a member of the Archaic Tribe, and they will be rewarded with a Bone. Those who become the top five, their position will rise by two ranks...”

Gerald was dumbfounded. He did not know much about the Archaic Tribe.

However, when he saw Anabel and Skyler, he found that their eyes lit up.

“As for those who become the top three, their rank will be raised by three levels. They will be given the resources of the Archaic Tribe and three Bones.”

“Does this Bone mean a piece of Bone of Eternity?” Gerald asked in a low voice.

Anabel shook her head. “A complete Bone of Eternity.”

Gerald was speechless.

At this time, Darion glanced at everyone and said, “As for the one who gets first place, his rank will be raised by five levels, and he will be awarded ten Bones and a Soul Saber.”

“Wow.”

The audience was instantly in an uproar.

“Soul Saber. The reward is actually a Soul Saber.”

“Looks like the organizer is going all out. The reward is actually a Divine Weapon ranked sixth on the list.”

“It’s a pity that we don’t have a chance. The only one who has a chance to win first place is Kristian’s team.”

Gerald’s expression changed. The Thunder Saber that had been auctioned for 300 billion golorbs was only ranked seventh on the list.

He could not help but feel tempted.

“You aren’t thinking of taking first place, are you?” Beside Gerald, Anabel saw the excitement in Gerald’s eyes and could not help but whisper, “It is not a problem for us to become the top ten, but winning first place is too difficult. Kristian and the others would be given good things by their families. Moreover, other forces have teams stronger than them...”

“What if we get first place?” Gerald looked at Anabel and asked softly.

Skyler, who was beside him, seemed to have heard this as well. He looked at Gerald suspiciously, thinking that he had heard wrongly.

Anabel looked at Gerald and said, “If we get first place, I will give the Divine Weapon to you.”

Chapter 894 Isla Is Missing

In fact, even when Anabel knew that Carolyn was a Flame Decay expert, her goal had not changed.

She still wanted to be among the top ten.

It was just two Flame Decay experts.

She knew that the geniuses of the Eight Forces had too many trump cards.

If it was someone like Kristian, he might have a chance to skip ranks.

Gerald was the holder of the Dragon Bone and had many attributes. This was Gerald’s advantage. However, in comparison, the Archaic Tribe had a foundation. If they participated in such a trial, those families would give a lot of things to the core members.

In terms of cultivation techniques, those of the Four Ancient Families were much more exquisite. When they were at the same level, Anabel felt that the people of the Eight Forces would have an advantage.

Even if Gerald had the Dragon Bone, perhaps he could only be on par with those guys. It was difficult for him to take first place.

Unless Valery was also at the Flame Decay level. They could achieve this only when they had three Flame Decay experts.

However, Gerald told her that only he and Carolyn were Flame Decayers.

Under such circumstances, the chances of becoming the top ten were high, but it was quite difficult to become the top five, let alone win first place.

If she got first place, her rank could be raised by five levels. After that, her bloodline would be included in the direct descendants of her family.

As for the Divine Weapon, if Gerald could help her get first place, she could give it to him.

Status was far more important than these things.

After hearing her promise, Gerald revealed a smile on his face.

If Valery broke through to the Flame Decay Realm, she could use the Divine Weapon as her weapon.

He didn't intend to change his weapon. The Dragon Saber and the bronze sword were both handy, and they were at a high level.

At this time, on the stage, Darion was still chattering, but in Gerald's view, what he said was nonsense. It was mostly words to raise everyone's enthusiasm.

In the end, Brigid also made a speech, and the cheering up before the trial was over.

After it was over, Anabel and Skyler left immediately because they were close to the door.

They were the only team leaders of the branch families, and there was a high chance that they would be ridiculed by others if they stayed.

Just as Gerald and the others were about to start the trial, in the headquarters of Night Watch on Earth...

Blaine was sitting with a trace of hesitation on his face.

"Just now, the Berkeley clan sent news that something happened to them. Jaden and Robert were seriously injured and are now in the hospital for emergency treatment. Isla was taken away." Zackary exhaled.

"Robert is seriously injured. The culprit can be a Flame Decayer." Blaine's expression became serious. "Do you know who did it?"

"I don't know." Zackary shook his head and said, "The most important thing is that according to Jaden's son, Keenan, that person looks very much like Aarav who came from Estasate. Robert was seriously injured by a smash.

"After Robert consumed the marrow of the Bone of Eternity, he became a Flame Decayer. He was actually seriously injured by a single smash! Who is Aarav?" Blaine frowned..

“He’s Isla’s ex-husband, but their marriage was nominal. Theo has come over. He knows Aarav,” Zackary said. “After what happened before, Theo went to Estasate. The news he told me was that Aarav and his father disappeared, and the people in Estasate did not remember the existence of this person.”

“What does it mean?” Blaine was stunned.

“According to what Theo said, the memories of these people about Aarav seem to have been erased,” Zackary said.

“Only people with attributes can do all of this.” Blaine frowned. “Damn it. The world has been peaceful for the past two years. This world is becoming friendlier to martial artists. More and more experts appeared. I think that we will be able to resist anything if we stay in a low profile for a decade. Now, something bad happened.”

“How do we investigate this?” Blaine cursed.

Zackary shook his head and said, “I don’t know. There is no news at all. Moreover, Lucas detected that on the day Isla disappeared, an unidentified flying object took off from Earth and flew into the universe. I wonder if there is any connection between the two matters.”

“In short, let’s continue investigating. No matter what, we have to give an explanation to the Berkeley clan.” Blaine sighed.

As he spoke, he looked at the sky and muttered, “I wonder how Gerald and the others are doing.”

“They will be back in a month or two,” Zackary said. “I hope they can return safely.”

On Azuro, at night.

The courtyard Gerald and the others were in was technologically advanced. The roof could be opened, allowing one to see the starry sky.

At this time, in the room, Gerald was lying alone, looking at the sky. He had tranquility in his heart.

This mission had a good ending. One-fifth of the combat strength of the Four Ancient Families was reduced.

He also expanded his connections. The Pierce family and the Sadler family in Rime City might help him destroy the Four Ancient Families. However, whether they were willing to do that was unpredictable.

There was also the Herman family behind Rho Guild.

They were all helpful, but Gerald had to consider how to use the support well.

Rime City had experienced a beast attack and needed some time to recover. Gerald didn’t know how long it would take. Perhaps, he had to discuss it with Benson after his return.

Gerald was clear that in this world, what mattered was still the battle strength. If he could be at the supreme level of Flame Decay or above that, he could overwhelm the Four Ancient Families, and everything would become different.

This time, he would come for an assassination. Perhaps the next time, he would use the families that had enmity with the Four Ancient Families to launch an attack.

And Jacob's plan.

Thinking about all this, Gerald had a clearer mind.

He didn't like this world. The system and level of this world were quite annoying for Gerald, who grew up in a peaceful era.

Thinking about all this, Gerald closed his eyes and fell asleep.

The night was silent.

The next morning, Gerald and his group got up early. Gerald tidied up his mask and followed Anabel out of the gate.

In front of the gate of the Archaic Tribe, there was a huge hover car, which was like a giant bus.

Led by Brigid and Darion, Gerald and his group walked into the hover car. They were the first to arrive. At this time, the inside of the hover car was empty. Gerald and his group sat down in the back seat.

Time passed, and the people participating in the trial got into the car.

What surprised Gerald was that after a while, two people sat down next to Gerald. It was Kristian and the woman with the veil.

Kristian glanced at Gerald and then looked away. The woman with the veil looked at Gerald with interest. When she saw Gerald looking at her, she nodded and greeted Gerald.

Chapter 895 The Eight Forces

Gerald was a little suspicious, but he did not say much. After a while, Darion said, "We will set out for the trial in a while. All the people of the Eight Forces will participate in this trial. A total of 89 teams and 366 people will be there. Just do your best. If you find that you cannot continue forward, remember to retreat. If some of your buddies die here, you should forget about what has happened inside after leaving here! No hatred or retaliation afterward!"

Gerald was speechless.

Gerald thought, the people of the Eight Forces are really ruthless to the geniuses of their own tribes.

The world has taken the survival of the fittest to the extreme!

Even if those guys are already among the top, the tribe will still need to choose the strongest among them.

That's right. After this trial, some geniuses of the Eight Forces will gain some benefits, such as entering the Corona Pool to cultivate themselves.

However, Gerald felt that the Eight Forces were actually choosing their future successors.

The stronger the person was, the better the ranking he would get and the more important he was to the future of the family.

Anabel was betting on this opportunity.

However, no one thought highly of Anabel.

Most of the young people also knew that they might die if they went there. But if they were lucky to survive, they would obtain the status they desired.

Those young people thought even if they were unable to enter the top ten, they would still be able to show their faces in front of some of the higher-ups in the family, and no matter what, it was worth it.

The hover car moved forward and soon arrived at the stop for aircraft in Skylark City.

Under Brigid and Darion's lead, a group of thirty-eight people boarded an aircraft again. Then, the aircraft started.

Azuro was not very far away from Havotune. Half an hour later, the aircraft slowly descended on a certain part of the surface of the sea. Then, the aircraft turned into something like a ship and floated above the surface of the sea.

Gerald was amazed by the advanced technology of this world.

The hover car could fly in the air and it could go without anyone driving it.

However, on Earth, autonomous driving was still in the exploratory stage.

The aircraft could travel through space, and it could also dock on the sea. All of this was the power of technology.

In addition to this aircraft, there were two other aircraft floating above the sea. There was a skeleton-like symbol on one of the aircraft. This was the symbol of the Blood Tribe.

In addition, there was a saber and a sword carved on the top of the other aircraft.

This was the Aggro Tribe, one of the most aggressive tribes among the Eight Forces. This race was born to fight. The names of people in this tribe were mostly simple, showing how bold and casual the people were.

When Gerald first got to know the name of the head of Nether Palace, he thought that this guy was from the Aggro Tribe.

After the aircraft docked on the surface of the sea, Gerald also looked in that direction. There were about fifty to sixty people, and the number of people participating in the trial was more than that of the Archaic Tribe.

After the aircraft stopped, Darion said, "Let's get down. Remember to show the power and prestige of our Archaic Tribe."

The group of people nodded and then began to get down.

Anabel and Skyler were the first to get into the aircraft and the last to get off.

Gerald and the others stood up, waiting for the others to get off first.

At this time, the veiled woman next to Gerald got up. When she walked past Gerald, she paused slightly and said, "Look forward to meeting you in the trial!"

Gerald glanced at the woman in confusion.

But the woman had already walked far away.

Before Gerald could come back to his senses, Valery had already pinched him on his waist.

Gerald grimaced in pain, and then hurriedly ran down following Anabel.

Those guys directly jumped from the door and landed on the beach.

Just as they got to the beach, a bold voice rang out. "Wow! This time, Brigid is actually the leader. Brigid, it's said that you haven't married yet. Are you interested in being my concubine?"

Gerald looked in the direction of the voice. Not far away, a middle-aged man with a beard and at bare upper body was laughing happily.

Brigid glanced at the man and revealed a standard smile. "Matt, I deserve better than you."

Matt didn't get angry. Instead, he shouted loudly to the men behind him, "Bros, there are a lot of silver-haired beauties in the Archaic Tribe. In this trial, try to get a few beauties back home."

"Hooray!"

"Hooray!"

A large group of people from the Aggro Tribe shouted loudly.

On the side of the Archaic Tribe, Anabel, and the other girls frowned.

"Kristian!" At the same time, in the direction of the Aggro Tribe, a person carrying a huge saber walked out and said, "Watch out after you go in. I will kill you if I see you! Sheryl is mine!"

“You are just a barbarian. Do you think Sheryl will like you?” Kristian said with disdain.

Skyler walked to Gerald and said with a smile, “Do you know who Sheryl is?”

Gerald shook his head. “No.”

“Sheryl Filion! The number one beauty of Infinito!” Skyler chuckled and said, “I was fortunate enough to have seen her once. Sheryl is really gorgeous. She does not wear a veil like Sylvie.

Sheryl’s every move is enough to capture every man’s heart.

“But it is very difficult to win her favor. Sheryl is the strongest in the younger generation of Infinito.

There are three experts at the level of Flame Decay in her team, and she is one of the guys most likely to win first place.”

Gerald had heard of Infinito.

Infinito was the name of a satellite, and it was also the strongest out of the Eight Forces. The composition of Infinito was different from the other great tribes. For example, the Archaic Tribel was formed by many clans. As for Infinito, there were all kinds of people there, including people from the Archaic Tribe as well as men from the Aggro Tribe. The experts from various tribes had gathered together to form a force in Infinito back then, and then it gradually boosted.

Gerald was naturally not interested in this number one beauty of Infinito. Other than talking to Skyler in the back, he did not have any thoughts of befriending the geniuses of other powers.

After talking to Gerald for a while, Skyler chuckled and said, “I will go and say hello to some acquaintances first!”

As Skyler spoke, he walked towards the Blood Tribe.

Skyler was a very social person, and he seemed to know quite a few people.

However, Gerald glanced over and saw most of the people Skyler went to greet seemed to be cold to him, but Skyler continued to greet others as if he didn’t care what attitude they had toward him.

In Skyler’s view, he didn’t need to build a good relationship with those guys but just wanted them to be familiar with him.

In this world, it was hard to survive.

Gerald did not intend to get to know other people, but there were people who took the initiative to find trouble with him.

Just as Gerald was looking around, a voice rang out beside Gerald with a sinister smile, “This time, I will kill you guys all!”

Gerald turned around and found that Seth had come to the side of him and the others at some point in time and began to threaten them.

Chapter 896 A Good Wife

When Anabel saw Seth walking over, she frowned slightly.

“Where did this trash come from? Who gave him the courage to shout in front of the Archaic Tribe?” At this moment, a cold voice rang out.

Gerald turned around and saw the veiled woman walking over. She stared at Seth indifferently.

Seth’s face changed slightly.

Sylvie was famous among the Eight Forces. When she was young, she was the most dazzling pearl of the Eight Forces. However, she was somehow stuck at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay for years and couldn’t break through.

It was rumored that she was the owner of Phoenix Bone!

Once she reached the level of Flame Decay, she would become Lady Phoenix!

Seth also knew that Sylvie and Kristian were on the same team.

Seth knew that unless his luck was extremely good, it would be very hard for his team to be in the top ten. Only Anabel’s team was weaker than his. Kristian’s team was so strong, and he had no chance at all!

Seth had never expected that Sylvie would stand up for Gerald’s people.

This time, almost every team had at least two people at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay, such as Skyler’s team.

Anabel’s team was recognized to be the weakest!

Gerald and the other two showed that they were only Half-Step Flame Decayers.

Gerald looked at Sylvie in surprise.

Seth stood there stiffly.

“Sylvie!” At this time, a woman with red lips and extremely fair skin stood out and said, “You used to be a genius, but not anymore. Are you threatening us Blood Tribe? Do you think you have the power to do so? Don’t let me meet you in there.”

Gerald glanced at this woman. This woman was a Flame Decayer. She was a Flame Decayer of the Blood Tribe!

Sylvie looked at her indifferently and said, “I’m not a Flame Decayer, so what? Killing you is still a piece of cake for me.”

They kept mocking each other. As they talked, two aircraft arrived.

Gerald looked over. Two more forces of the Eight Forces had arrived. There were more people on the beach.

Some greeted each other, while others mocked each other. The Eight Forces weren't united.

On the contrary, these people who stood at the top of the world were secretly competing for their authority.

The forces arrived one after another. Suddenly, a huge aircraft appeared in the sky.

Gerald looked at the aircraft, and he became serious.

People from Infinito had arrived.

Above the aircraft, there was a huge circular symbol. In the circle, there were patterns of countless characters. It seemed to represent many races. In the middle, there was a symbol of the sun.

After the aircraft landed on the ground, people started to get off.

Leading the group were two old men with white hair. They landed on the beach and looked around. When they saw Matt, they smiled disdainfully.

When Matt saw their smile, he instantly roared angrily, "Fuck you, Dewey Roy. Before the trial, let's fight to motivate these kids."

Dewey revealed a disdainful expression and said indifferently, "Ten years ago, everyone in Infinito knew you with your butt naked. What do you plan to do this time?"

Dewey and Matt were old rivals. In the trial ten years ago, each of them led a team. When they met, they disliked each other and fought first!

Matt was weaker than Dewey, and Dewey tore Matt's pants with his weapon. Another team leader of Infinito recorded it when Matt had his butt naked, and the video was widely spread in Infinito!

So, Matt got a nickname: the Flame Decayer with a naked butt.

On the side, someone persuaded them, "You two don't fight..."

As he spoke, his gaze focused on above the aircraft of Infinito.

A figure dressed in red appeared over there.

The moment she appeared, she attracted everyone's attention.

Even Valery and Carolyn noticed her.

She was dressed in red, her black hair hanging loosely behind her back. There was a decoration on her head that fixed her hair behind her back, revealing her entire face.

No woman had a perfect face.

But this woman did!

Gerald felt that this woman seemed to be the female lead who came out of an anime.

She had two swords on her back, looking capable.

“She’s really beautiful,” Carolyn muttered.

Valery nodded. “She deserves to be called the most beautiful woman in Infinito!”

Gerald coughed. He squeezed Valery’s hand and said, “In my opinion, she’s just so-so. Her face. can’t compare with yours at all.”

“Bah!” Carolyn rolled her eyes. “Gerald, you are so corny.”

Valery’s face turned slightly red. Then she suddenly smiled and said, “If Triston saw her, what would he say?”

“He must say that she is beautiful,” Carolyn said.

Gerald shook his head and said, “I bet that if Triston saw this woman, he would throw everything else behind and rush to her. Then, he would kneel on one knee and say, ‘I, Triston, a Watchman, fell in love with you at first sight. Can you give me your number?’”

“Then wouldn’t he be beaten up?” Carolyn said, “Look around. I bet many men from the Eight Forces see Sheryl Filion as their dream lover!”

“He wouldn’t mind.” Gerald said, “He must think that Sheryl is a good wife!”

Valery looked at him with a half-smile and said, “Well... I think it is your thought!”

“It’s not!” Gerald hurriedly denied it.

With the people from Infinito arriving, all the people from the Eight Forces who would participate in the trial had gathered.

There were a total of 366 people.

Most of them were from Infinito. There were a total of fifteen teams.

Next was the Aggro Tribe, which had thirteen teams.

The Archaic Tribe only had nine teams. It was not a big number.

After they arrived, the sixteen leaders of the Eight Forces gathered. Soon, some instruments were moved out. In less than half an hour, many light screens flashed by the sea like a temporary command center.

After the sixteen people sat down and discussed for a moment, Dewey from Infinito stood up and said, “We discussed it. The purpose of this trial is to choose more people, but if it depends totally on who arrives at the altar first, luck could do most of the work. So, after our discussion, we changed some rules! We will use the points system!”

“What?” Everyone looked forward.

“These are the rules. Everyone can take a look!” As he spoke, he waved at Matt who was beside him.

Matt was very unwilling, but he still pressed a button on a machine. Then, captions appeared in the sky.

After Gerald took a look, he was a little shocked.

“The Eight Forces are really cruel to their geniuses.” Gerald looked at the rules and said, “They change the rules at the last second. And... these rules are completely encouraging everyone to fight to the death!”

Chapter 897 New Rules

Gerald was dumbfounded. He did not expect that before the trial began, the established rules could be temporarily modified.

“Did it change like this in the past?” Gerald asked with doubt.

Next to him, Skyler said seriously, “It also happened in the past. In fact, the trial has always emphasized one point, and that is the survival of the fittest. The stronger young men would be chosen to enter the Corona Pool. I was quite happy as the previous rules did have some randomness, but now... after they changed the rules, our team has great disadvantages.”

Gerald nodded.

Under the new rules, the points-based system was adopted, and the eight checkpoints were kept. As for the eight checkpoints, eight circles were drawn with the altar at the center. In the specified time, one must enter the circle before the trial can continue. The card given to the captain will record the time they used to enter the eight circles.

In addition, the first to arrive at the altar would get twenty points, the second fifteen points, the third twelve points, the fourth to sixth ten points, and the seventh to eleventh eight points.

One could also get points by killing.

After obtaining a captain card, one would gain four points.

The trial of the person whose card was seized would end.

On this island, one could capture and kill each other. There was no doubt that after the new rules were issued, the randomness became less. Most of the people who could finally break into the top ten were powerful.

And Skyler’s team would become everyone’s favorite. They were weak, and others could easily gain points by killing them.

Most importantly, they were under great pressure to get points. If it was four against four, they were really no match for others.

Skyler looked at Anabel and said, "Ms. Pierce, even under such rules, don't you consider joining forces?"

Anabel shook her head and said, "Let's rely on our own."

Skyler sighed.

Many people at the scene looked serious. Of course, some of them looked very excited at this time, such as the hopefuls of the major forces.

These teams were quite powerful. At this time, Kristian, Sheryl, and the others all looked excited.

Anabel was neither sad nor happy. Her expression seemed not to change.

Only Sylvie looked at Gerald strangely when the rules were announced.

In fact, Gerald did not understand what Sylvie was thinking.

In the car, she greeted Gerald. When Seth came to find trouble with Gerald, Sylvie offered to help Gerald. He did not know why Sylvie did that.

Gerald wondered if she had taken a fancy to him.

He did not feel much about the new rules, except for the cruelty of this world. He even felt that under such rules, it might be more suitable for them.

Skyler was still bitterly laughing. "We're a team without Flame Decayers, so we can only hide and try to reach the altar as soon as possible. Then we can get some points and see if we can get into the top ten."

One Flame Decayer was enough to resist four peak Half-Step Flame Decayers. In the face of a team with Flame Decayers, they would not have any chance.

Of course, there were not many teams with Flame Decayers.

After all, they were under the age of thirty. For example, among the Four Ancient Families, apart from Kristian's team that had two Flame Decayers, among the other teams, only Kameron was at this level, while the others were mostly at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay.

To obtain better results, most of the Flame Decayers would enter the same team under the lead of their forces.

For example, although there were many participants from Infinito, other than Sheryl's team, there was only one team with Flame Decayers.

"Kameron is so proud." Carolyn looked at Kameron with interest, who was not far away.

Skyler chuckled. "Of course, he is proud. At the beginning of this trial, the Archaic Tribe wanted him, Kristian, and Sylvie to form a team of three people with Flame Decayers. However, he refused."

Gerald asked, "Why?"

"Because that team would be led by Kristian." Skyler said, "He does not feel that his strength is inferior to Kristian's, so he refused."

Gerald looked at Kameron with interest and thought he was indeed strong.

After a short disturbance, Dewey said, "Silence! Now, everyone comes over and draws the coordinates to enter Nether Domain."

The so-called coordinates were the locations on the edge of the entire island. In a certain period, they had to rush to their respective coordinates. This card had a locator on it, which could be seen by the supreme Flame Decayers of the Eight Forces on the instruments outside.

If one team failed to reach the selected coordinates within the specified time, they would be considered quitting.

The captains all went to draw, and soon, Anabel also drew a small card.

Anabel looked at it and roughly knew the location, but she did not open the card.

Most of the people also quietly hid it, not letting others know where they would enter.

Of course, there were also some crazy people, such as the Aggro Tribe. At this time, Matt chuckled and said, "I'll enter the crater pit in the southeast of Nether Domain. Welcome to snipe me!"

Gerald looked at this guy in surprise.

The Aggro Tribe was warlike. Matt's team was also the hope of the Aggro Tribe. There were two Flame Decayers and two peak Half-Step Flame Decayers.

"Matt!" At this time, a person from the Blood Tribe said indifferently, "I will come to you."

"If you don't come, you will be a bastard," Matt said disdainfully.

Amid the noise, some teams stood together and secretly exchanged information about their entry.

Obviously, just like Skyler had said, they had an alliance with each other.

Those leading experts didn't care. As long as the rules weren't violated, they wouldn't interfere.

After about ten minutes, Dewey said again, "Guys, the trial will last for a month. Within a month, I hope you will gain something. Now you can gather at the location of the coordinates. In two hours, the trial will begin. Anyone who is not at the coordinates will quit."

The moment the voice fell, the 366 people began to scatter.

Anabel also looked at Gerald and the other two. She said with anticipation, "Let's go."

An hour later, Gerald and the other three appeared in a place full of pits.

"Here we are." Anabel looked at the card and said, "Here are our coordinates."

Chapter 898 The Geniuses From the Eight Forces

The ground was very uneven, and there were peaks on both sides. They were in a valley.

This was the location where Gerald and the others entered Nether Domain, called Chill Valley.

“Are we going in now?” Carolyn asked.

Anabel shook her head and said, “The card we brought shows our coordinates. The team leaders of other forces can see it, so we have to wait for two hours before we can set off.”

After that, she said seriously, “In addition, because you are trying to hide your strength, everyone thinks that you are only Half-Step Flame Decayers. Most of them think we’re the weakest. According to the previous rules, almost nobody would find trouble with us except for our enemies. But now the rules have changed, and we... might be targeted by them.”

Indeed, the fittest would survive. In the eyes of others, Gerald’s team was the weakest. Naturally, they would become the target as the weakest ones should be eliminated first.

“Fortunately, people don’t know each other’s entrance. We entered from the south of the island. There are two strong teams nearby. One is led by Matt from the Aggro Tribe. They are in the southeast, not far from us. The other team... is from Infinito,” Anabel said.

The Aggro Tribe exposed its position. So did the team from Infinito.

Sheryl did not say anything, but the other person on her team provoked everyone, saying that they would wipe out all the teams in the south.

“If we avoid these two teams, the other teams... will be taken down smoothly.” Anabel looked excited.

Apart from the hopeful team, they were the only team with two Flame Decayers. This was the hidden ninth hopeful team.

If nothing went wrong, they would definitely break into the top ten.

“Just wait. In an hour, we will enter Nether Domain on time,” Anabel said.

Gerald nodded and sat down.

Carolyn took out some weird jerky. She took a bottle of water and began to eat it.

No matter where a foodie went, there would be plenty of snacks.

Carolyn bought it in Mullen City. She didn’t know what kind of meat it was, but it tasted much better than beef jerky.

Just as Gerald and the others were waiting, Matt was sitting in the southeast. He swore, “Those old men from Infinito are really annoying. They’ll even enter from several different places. In my opinion, let’s enter that place together. Let’s fight first.”

Matt’s team was made up of four men.

“Matt, that’s not the case. If we really get into a fight, Kristian will definitely work with the others and take us down first.” The other man said happily, “What should we do next?”

“Sheryl will also enter from the south. However, they are in the southwest. Nether Domain is already very dangerous. After thinking about it, we still have to avoid her.” Although Matt was complaining, he was really smart. He knew that he could not fight with Sheryl head-on.

“Let’s go straight in and enter the first checkpoint. We have to enter the first one within five days. After that, let’s wait there for the target,” Matt said with a smile.

“Good!” the other people said with a smile.

On the west of the island, on a huge reef by the sea, four people stood there, three men and one woman. The woman wore a veil and had silver-white hair.

“Sylvie, you seem to be very interested in Anabel’s team.” Kristian said, “Or are you interested in the man on her team? He is wearing a mask. You can’t see his face, right? You didn’t fall in love with him at first sight, did you?”

After that, Kristian said happily, “If you fell in love with him, many young talents in the Archaic Tribe would shed tears. Moreover, they would see that fellow as a thorn in their eye.”

“That’s right!” Reuben said with disdain, “That fellow is only from Havotune and works for Anabel’s family, which is only a branch of the Pierce clan in the Archaic Tribe. Her status is very low, and her servant is not worthy of you.”

Sylvie blushed immediately. She shook her head and said, “Don’t talk nonsense. I just have an intuition.”

“Intuition? What’s it?” Kristian asked seriously.

Sylvie said seriously, “I sense some danger from him. I feel that... they might be dark horses.”

“Really?” Kristian asked seriously.

The others paid attention to Sylvie’s intuition. Although Sylvie had yet to reach the level of Flame Decay, she had been arranged to this team by her tribe. This was all because of Sylvie’s intuition. In Kristian’s opinion, Sylvie’s role in this trip was no less than Reuben’s.

“Yes!” Sylvie nodded. “That’s why I offered to befriend him.”

“You’re overthinking it. With a peak Half-Step Flame Decayer and several Half-Step Flame Decayers, they’re regarded as the weakest team,” Reuben said disdainfully.

“What if... they are just pretending to be Half-Step Flame Decayers?” Sylvie looked up with eyes glistening.

Reuben was stunned. Then he curled his lips and said, "I don't believe it. If they were strong enough to become Flame Decayers under thirty, they would have been noticed by the Eight Forces a long time ago. Would they deliberately hide it?"

Indeed, these geniuses were eager to have others know how powerful they were.

They probably would not use means to hide their true strength.

"There are many means that can conceal their strength." Sylvie said, "Of course, this is only my intuition. Perhaps it's wrong."

Kristian said seriously, "I don't think it's likely."

Given that they didn't believe it, Sylvie didn't explain too much.

Meanwhile, there was one thing that she didn't say. She also saw something else about Gerald.

Firstly, she thought that Gerald was similar to her.

Secondly, she saw hope in Gerald, a hope that belonged to her.

In the southwest of the island, Sheryl, dressed in red, stood there confidently. She looked to the side and smiled, "Aldous, who do you think is the biggest threat to us this time?"

Aldous Marshall was from the Aggro Tribe but belonged to Infinito.

Hearing this, he pondered for a moment and said, "There is only one team that is a threat to us this time, namely Adolf Thiel's team, who's from the Soulreaper Sect."

Sheryl shook her head. "Although their team has three Flame Decayers, they are not our match in a one-on-one battle. In comparison, I am more worried about Shannon Hume's team."

Aldous frowned and said, "Shannon Hume? The Stone Tribe?"

Chapter 899 Nether Domain

"Yes." Sheryl nodded slightly and said, "I'm a little afraid of them."

"Well... Come on. The Stone Tribe only has seven teams in the trial this time, and Shannon is the only Flame Decayer." Aldous frowned and said, "Do you think that Shannon can fight against three?"

"Maybe. Among us, he's the only one who we've never seen be involved in a fight these years. Moreover... it is said that he has been following the Stone Tribe's Pioneers in Havotune and Nebula to train. His combat ability is very strong. No one knows how powerful he is." Sheryl said, "In the trial, there might be a life-and-death battle. He has the advantage."

"Sheryl, you overthought it. No matter how powerful he is, he is alone. Unless he has reached the supreme level of Flame Decay, I think our target is Adolf," Aldous said calmly.

"Alright." Sheryl shook her head and said, "I hope I was overthinking."

After that, she calmed down and stood up. "Of course, our goal is to clear out the south and then get enough points."

"Yes!"

All the teams were making their own plans.

While Gerald and the others were waiting over there, Anabel looked at Gerald worriedly and asked, "Gerald, you know the rules. Don't you have any battle plans?"

"Battle plans?" Gerald's expression changed slightly. "What battle plans do you want?"

"After the rules came out, everyone was thinking about the battle plan, like how to avoid some powerful teams and how to get points more efficiently," Anabel said.

Gerald looked at Anabel with a smile and said, "Have you heard a proverb?"

"Huh?" Anabel looked at Gerald and asked, "What's it?"

"Fight no battle unless victory is sure," Gerald said happily.

Anabel was stunned for a moment and pondered over his words.

At this time, Gerald muttered, "In fact, this game is very simple. It is to enter the checkpoint at the specified time. If you meet someone on the way, just kill them. And..."

At this point, Gerald said, "As you said, we are almost recognized as the weakest team. Those who want to get points will think of ways to find us. At that time, we can easily get points by handling them. So..."

Gerald shrugged and said, "So, on this trip, we'll definitely get many points. The most important thing is to enter the altar."

Speaking of this, he touched his chin and said, "Moreover, this trial will last for a month. No matter how many points we win, it will be useless. In the end, those powerful teams will block the entrance of the altar. If we can't beat them, we will have to hand over our points and cards to them."

Anabel's expression changed slightly as she said, "So, you mean..."

"Simply put, if we encounter one team, we just rob them." Gerald said, "In addition, I want to confirm one thing. If we kill someone here, will we be retaliated against after we get out?"

This was the question that Gerald was most worried about.

He didn't worry about it before. But now, there were points and cards here. If they got the cards, and the original owners of those cards died, this would be blamed on Gerald and the others.

If they went out and the forces behind these people wanted to settle it, they couldn't bear this result.

"That won't happen." Anabel let out a breath and said, "After we leave, we won't be retaliated against for what we've done in the trial. It is already good enough for half of the people to survive every trial."

Hearing this, Gerald sighed silently.

Even though they knew that their chances of survival were so low, people like Anabel and Skyler were still eager.

Gerald could not figure it out.

Anabel and Skyler were both geniuses. Why would they fight for this?

If they became supreme Flame Decayers, they would be valued by the Archaic Tribe.

If Gerald couldn't figure it out, he wouldn't bother to think about it.

He said, "It's good. We won't offer to provoke others. Before it's exposed that I've absorbed the Dragon Bone, I will only snatch the cards and not kill anyone. But if it's exposed..."

Anabel nodded. "If you don't kill them, they will kill you. The trial is so cruel. To enter the Corona Pool, everyone will fight for their lives."

Gerald did not say more and continued to close his eyes to rest.

Anabel quietly looked at Gerald and felt relieved.

Even on the turf of the Four Ancient Families in the City of Phoenix, Gerald dared to assassinate their members. It could be seen how strong and daring he was.

Time passed, and at some point, the card in Anabel's hand trembled slightly.

"We can go in now." Anabel looked into the depths of the island.

Gerald got up, and Carolyn put the snacks into her backpack. Carrying the box with weapons, the four of them walked deep into the island.

This island was also known as Nether Domain.

Anabel said, "There are many beasts on the island. The closer we are to the depths of the island, the more ferocious the beasts are. Among them, there are even Flame Decayers. We have to be careful."

The four of them continued forward. This island was very large. There were over 360 participants. It was unlikely that they would encounter each other from the start.

As Anabel looked at the map in the card, she led Gerald and the others deeper into the island.

She was a little excited.

Getting into the top ten or even the top five, being promoted and valued by her family, breaking through to the level of Flame Decay, and leading the branch family into the direct line of descent were exactly Anabel's goals.

Now, there was still a month before the goals were achieved.

On the periphery of the island, a group of sixteen seemed to be on a vacation. They took all kinds of chairs and tables from the aircraft and then lay down on the beach.

"Brigid, after I heard that you were coming, I bought a bikini for you. Why don't you wear it for us?"

Matt was lying on a beach chair as he spoke to Brigid.

In front of them, many dots were flashing on the screen. This card could locate Gerald and the others. The 36 dots were heading toward the depths of the island.

Brigid looked up at Matt. She said with anger, "Matt, one day, you will die because of your shitty words. The Aggro Tribe will also be exterminated because of a big mouth."

Matt said arrogantly, "The person who can destroy the Aggro Tribe has yet to be born."

Brigid narrowed her eyes slightly. "Really? What if the Nether Palace reappears, or the Dragon Bone and the Phoenix Bone show up?"

Brigid's words shocked everyone instantly.

"Brigid, it is best to not mention the taboo," Dewey said with a gloomy face.

Brigid remained calm. She smiled and walked to a table. She picked up a glass of wine and looked at the large island in front of her. "Why? This is the base of the Nether Palace. You don't even dare to mention its name. You are indeed too cowardly."

Although she said this, Brigid did not mention anything else.

She held the glass and looked into the depths of the island with a faint smile.

Chapter 900 Enemies

Brigid looked into the depths of the island. There was a trace of eagerness and worship in her eyes, but Brigid left her back to everyone, so no one else could see her eyes!

After a moment, she walked back and sat down on a chair.

Because she mentioned too many things, the expressions of the others were not good, especially Darion.

After all, Brigid represented the Archaic Tribe. Now that she mentioned these things, what would others think of the Archaic Tribe?

Darion mediated the situation and said, "Let's not talk about these unhappy things. Let's predict how many guys will die and who can get first place!"

As Darion finished, an old man sighed and said, "Actually... I have always felt that this trial is too cruel."

Although he was an old man, his figure was extremely tall and sturdy. This person was from the Stone Tribe, one of the Eight Forces.

"Living in this world, we must let these fellows understand that only the strong have the qualifications to obtain a better position and resources. The weak will be eliminated and enslaved!" Matt from the Aggro Tribe said loudly.

"It is still a bit too cruel," the old man from the Stone Tribe said. He had a wooden walking stick in his hand. He sighed, "They are geniuses. Maybe they can take charge of our tribes in the future."

Dewey said with a smile, "These guys grew up in peace. The trial is a sign of their growth! About half of them will die inside. Infinito will probably have a chance to win first place."

"Oh?" Beside him, a woman said with a smile, "Is that so? I think that Soulreaper Sect can take first place!"

"How about... us making a bet?" Dewey's face suddenly revealed a trace of a smile.

Gerald and the others walked toward the center of the island. This island was quite large, and Gerald thought that it was probably larger than Japan on Earth.

They had to travel across the island in thirty days. Normally, as strong as they were, they would be able to do it within a day.

However, because there were many beasts on the island, they could not travel at night. They had to avoid many places during the day, so their speed was much slower.

Gerald and the others did not travel very fast. In front of Gerald and the others, there were some abandoned buildings. The buildings were covered with moss and many plants.

"Someone must have lived here before," Gerald said.

"Yes, Nether Domain is an ancient battlefield. I mentioned it to you before. In the past, a powerful force was located here. Later, this force was removed." Anabel added, "Many people must have lived here."

"Let's continue on our journey!" Gerald shook his head and said.

However, Gerald's expression suddenly changed slightly. He said, "Wait. Some people come!"

"Huh?" Anabel instantly gripped the sword in her hand and looked around.

"Three Flame Decayers!" There was a hint of seriousness in Gerald's tone.

“Three Flame Decayers?” Anabel’s expression changed slightly.

Gerald nodded. “Yes, I feel three Flame Decayers. I remember that there are only two teams with three Flame Decayers in total, right?” Gerald said.

“Yes, they are Adolf’s and Sheryl’s teams. This is the South. There is a high chance that it is Sheryl’s team.” Anabel said, “Let’s hide first!”

“Alright!” Gerald nodded.

Although Gerald was not afraid of them, it was a little troublesome to deal with them.

Most importantly, if the enemies wanted to kill them, Gerald and Carolyn had to go all out. If they exposed the Dragon Bone and Phoenix Bone but failed to kill those opponents, there might be some trouble after they went out.

“Want to leave? It’s too late now!” A sinister laughter rang out.

Gerald could sense that several people flashed by and landed in four directions.

Gerald fooked up. Sure enough, a figure was standing in front of them. She was dressed in red and wore her hair loose behind her. Her pretty face was almost perfect!

“Eh, one is a peak Half-Step Flame Decayer, and the other three are Half-Step Flame Decayers.” Burly Aldous walked up to Gerald and said, “Are we lucky? Or are you unlucky? We meet the weakest team from the very beginning!”

Gerald furrowed his brows, while Anabel revealed a conflicted expression on her pretty face.

At the start of the trial, they met the strongest team. She was at a loss for words.

If they got Gerald’s card, it meant that Gerald and his people’s trial was over.

Sheryl stood in front, carrying two swords on her back. She slowly walked towards Gerald and the others and said, “Hand over your card. You are here for your promising future. Give the card to me, and I will spare your lives.”

Anabel asked, “What should we do?”

Gerald looked up at Sheryl. He frowned and whispered, “If we fight later, Carolyn, deal with one opponent. I will deal with two. Anabel, you and Valery will deal with the one at the level of peak Half-Step Flame Decay. Capture them alive and threaten them to leave.”

Anabel looked at Gerald doubtfully, then nodded, and said, “Okay. In fact, I can try to handle a Flame Decayer.”

Gerald shook his head. After making a plan, he raised his head and looked in the direction of Sheryl. He smiled and said, “Beauty, can you spare us?”

Sheryl glanced at Gerald, and a smile appeared on her face. “This means points. I’m afraid we cannot!”

Aldous smiled and said, “We don’t have the time to waste on you right now. We have to clear out all the teams in the south. Cut the crap and hand over the card!”

Gerald knew that there was no room for negotiation.

He tilted his head and took off the box full of weapons on his back.

“What? Are you going to fight with us?” Sheryl frowned and said, “Don’t get yourselves killed!”

Carolyn did not say anything. She placed the box on the ground.

Seeing the actions of Gerald and the others, Aldous suddenly smiled, “Is it... not good to be alive?”

Gerald looked up at Sheryl and said, “It’s too early to tell who will die!”

Swish!

The moment the sound rang out, Gerald suddenly pulled out his sword. The bronze sword instantly shook out from Gerald’s wrist. He no longer concealed his Vital Energy. As a Flame Decayer, he erupted his terrifying Vital Energy at this moment!

The bronze sword went straight for Aldous, and Gerald rushed toward Sheryl. The Dragon Saber was unsheathed!

“Valery!”

Gerald’s Vital Energy enveloped them. At the same time, strong winds swept through the surroundings!

Gerald chose Gael’s wind attribute. In terms of attack power, it was much stronger!

“I dare you!” when Aldous saw this scene, he roared.
