Still Loving You Nonetheless By Snow de Eira Chapter 1443

Mr. Crawford's phone was connected, but he did not know where Liam went, and he hadn't contacted his boss since this morning.

"Did something happen?" Meredith asked worriedly.

"I don't know, let's go to the doctor to see Ivy first." Josiah said.

When the two found the emergency room together, Ivy was in the emergency room.

Meredith grabbed a nurse and asked, "Is Ivy being rescued inside? How is she?"

The nurse looked at them. "Are you family members?"

Meredith thought for a while and nodded. "Yes, we are her family."

"Please come and sign here with me," the nurse said.

"What happened to her?" Meredith asked.

"She suffered serious head and leg injuries. We can't say for sure whether we can save her," said the nurse.

Meredith was stunned, how could she be hurt so badly?

After finishing up with the nurse, Meredith saw that Josiah was on the phone, she did not bother him until he put down the phone and asked, "How is it? Have you contacted Liam?"

Josiah said, "I contacted his assistant. I heard that he was under house arrest by Madam Sheldon. He should not be able to come out for a while."

"How could this happen?" Meredith sighed, "It seems that Madam Sheldoni is really against Liam's termination of engagement with Miss Young. What should I do? what if there is something wrong with Ivy…"

She didn't dare to speak.

Josiah put his arms around her and comforted her, "Don't worry, I have arranged for the best doctor to come over, and when Ivy stabilizes, she will be transferred to a different hospital."

"As for Liam…" Josiah shook his head. "Anyway, he's not a doctor, so he can't help much. Contacting him is just a matter of concern for many people."

Meredith felt that what he said was quite reasonable.

What Ivy needed now was a doctor to help her out of danger, not Liam!

Thinking of this, they stopped frantically trying to contact Liam.

Although they were not in a hurry, Mr. Crawford still brought the news of Ivy's car accident to Liam.

Naturally, Liam was about to go crazy.

While smashing at the door, he roared, "Let me out! Open the door for me!"

Downstairs, Madam Sheldon and Yanne looked at each other.

Yanne quickly looked away, hiding the guilty conscience in her eyes.

Yanne did not plan to let anyone know how Ivy's car accident happened, not even Madam Sheldon.

Thinking that Ivy's car accident was an accident, Madam Sheldon was gloating.

She said to the housekeeper, "Go tell him, even if Ivy died in the hospital today, he wouldn't be able to leave this gate!"

"Auntie, let him go out." Yanne said suddenly.

"Why?" Madam Sheldon looked at her puzzled. "Didn't you say that if you want to stop his thoughts toward Ivy, we should prevent them from meeting?"

Yanne smiled bitterly. "But you also heard that if he doesn't let him out, he will tear down the house."

"I'm not afraid of him tearing down the house. He can't damage much of it. If he does, I'll find someone to repair it."

"Auntie, let him go out." Yanne said, "I don't know whether Ivy is alive or dead. In case of death, if you don't let him see her for the last time, he will hate US for the rest of his life."

"…" She shivered involuntarily.

She thought that Ivy might be seriously injured, but she never thought that she would die.

If she really died, will this stupid son of hers die of sadness?

After a little hesitation, she told the housekeeper, "Forget it, let him go out."

The housekeeper nodded, "okay madam."

Liam was halfway through with dismantling the door when he heard the door open.

Immediately after, the housekeeper opened the door and apologized, "Master, Madam didn't mean to lock you up, she was just worried about you…"

Liam did not listen to him at all, and rushed downstairs as quickly as possible.

He picked up the landline and dialed Josiah's number.

Josiah comforted him, "Liam, don't worry, Ivy will be okay."

Liam's heartbeat slowed, but he still asked anxiously, "Is she really okay? Did she wake up? Did you help me find a good doctor for her? II

When Yanne saw that he was so anxious and pale, her heart hurt.

She was wondering, if she was the one in the car accident, would Liam still be nervous?

Certainly not!

To come and think of it, her fiancee really failed her.

Madam Sheldon watched Liam hang up the phone, and scolded him angrily, "Look at how anxious you are, Yanne is still here, why don't you respect your fiancee?"

Liam heard that Ivy had no major problem, and finally rushed to the hospital, much less anxious.

He slowly turned around to look at Madam Sheldon and Yanne, his pale and nervous face was gradually replaced by coldness.

"Why did Ivy have a car accident? Did you do it?"

"Liam, what nonsense are you talking about?" Madam Sheldon suddenly stood up from the sofa and glared at him. "How dare you talk nonsense like this? Do you still hold your mother with regard?

II

Liam looked at her coldly. "Mom, don't you know what you've done these days? why do I think you're all abnormal?"

"You…" Madam Sheldon was about to be mad.

Yanne hurriedly put her arms around Madam Sheldon's arm and said, "Auntie, don't be angry, Liam is just too anxious, so he is talking nonsense."

Madam Sheldon grabbed the teacup on the table and threw it at Liam, "Stinky boy! You are so ruthless in your heart! Do you think Ivy's life is more important than mine, more important than the future of our family, and it is worth me serving a life imprisonment sentence?"

She did not hit Liam, but she gave Yanne a shock.

Especially the words that Madam Sheldon shouted out, word for word pierced into her ears.

Murder for life…

In case it was found out that Ivy's car accident was instigated by her behind the scenes, would she want to pay for Ivy's life?

She was so flustered that in order to hide her guilty conscience, she had to continue to comfort her, "Auntie, don't be angry, Miss Ivy will be fine."

"Is Ivy really so important? To the point is that my son actually treats me as a murderer? I…how could I give birth to such an ungrateful son!"

Madam Sheldon burst into tears in anger.

Liam looked at the two of them, and said lightly, "It's better that you didn't do it, otherwise I won't let it go."

After speaking, he strode toward the gate.

Madam Sheldon was so angry that she jumped. "Liam, you little bastard, never come back!"

What she heard was only the sound of Liam's car leaving.

Yanne comforted Madam Sheldon for a while, then bit her lip and said, "Auntie, why don't I move home to live with you."
