

Still Loving You Nonetheless Chapter 1483

"Siena, does the chicken taste good?" Ivy asked.

"It does." Siena nodded before glaring at Liam. "Daddy, you don't understand girls. Girls like to go on a diet, which is why Mommy doesn't like to eat drumsticks."

"Is that so? Are you on a diet?" Liam pinched Ivy's wrist. "Look at you. You're as thin as a stick, why are you still on a diet?"

Ivy retracted her hand. "Siena's right. Girls like to go on a diet, whether it be fat or thin girls."

"That's because they have no confidence," Liam put his long slender arm around her waist that was so thin he could wrap around with one arm and said, "I don't mind whether you are fat or thin. No matter what you become, I'll love you the same, so you don't need to be on a diet."

"Who said that US women go on a diet to let you men love US? Can't we just live a life we like?"

Liam thought for a while. "You can, but you can't just not eat anything."

"I am eating." Ivy pushed him away. "Go back to your seat and eat. I

"Why?"

"Because I'm a big kid. I can't sleep with my parents anymore. The teacher at school said so."

Also, her Daddy and Mommy never let her sleep with them ever since young. They even called her a third wheel.

Her new Daddy and Mommy were so close together, of course, she would not be a third wheel.

Ivy looked at Liam and said, "No worries, you can sleep on your own once you get used to it."

"Mommy, I am used to it."

Siena insisted that she was not going to sleep with Ivy. she said in return, "Mommy, go sleep with Daddy. I'll sleep here on my own."

Ivy was at a loss for words.

Liam, on the other hand, was delighted. He never thought that his newly acknowledged daughter would be so understanding and mature, she was of great help to him.

Ever since Ivy came around, he has never hugged her to sleep again.
