After hanging up the phone, Ethan Smith looked at Manager Russell and calmly said, "Your bank president will be here soon."

"Pfft! "

Manager Russell couldn't help but burst out laughing.

"Do you know how important our bank president is? Do you know how many people he has to meet each day?" Manager Russell sneered endlessly.

"You really can't even brag properly! Look at how you're dressed. Do you really think you can compare yourself to our bank president?" Even Jaiden Lee standing aside, looked worried.

This guy is not reliable at all, is he?

Claiming to know the president of the biggest bank in Chuzzle?

"Smith, we better leave now..." Ada Pauley looked terrified, urging Ethan to leave constantly.

Ethan, however, remained unmoved, sitting there waiting quietly.

In the blink of an eye, five minutes had passed.

Manager Russell was growing impatient. He loudly ordered, "Enough! I don't have time to play with you! Guards, guards! Quickly toss these people out!" A group of security guards rushed in. Their eyes were fixed on Ethan, ready to take action.

Ethan frowned slightly. These security guards obviously didn't impress him.

But to cause a fight here would disrespect Mr. Schultz.

"Hurry up and drag them out!" Manager Russell yelled.

The security guards immediately headed towards Ethan without a word.

"Stop!"

At that moment, Leonard Schultz entered the room!

Helping himself with his shaking legs, panting heavily, his face covered in sweat.

Seeing Leonard Schultz, Manager Russell was startled.

He hurried over and said with a forced smile, "President, why did you come?" Leonard Schultz gave Manager Russell a cold look and said nothing.

Then, Mr. Schultz walked up to Ethan and said with an apologetic look, "Mr. Smith, I'm sorry for this. As the president, I must take the responsibility..." "Mr. Schultz, you're too polite." Ethan replied.

Watching this scene, Manager Russell was shocked! His face turned pale!

This guy actually knows the president?

And look at the president's attitude towards him... So respectful...?

"You, pack your things and get out of here!" Schultz turned around, pointing at Manager Russell and said.

Upon hearing these words, Manager Russell panicked.

He had made a fortune during his years in Chuzzle Bank.

With his high salary, he bought numerous cars, houses with loans.

If he is fired, his life would be ruined!

Thinking of this, Manager Russell fell on his knees, begging desperately, "Mr. Schultz, I know I was wrong. Please spare me considering my years of service..."

Leonard Schultz brushed off Manager Russell's hand and said coldly, "You've been complained about numerous times. You never learn. We cannot keep a person like you in our bank. Get out of here now!"

Manager Russell's face turned gray. Suddenly, he ran to Ethan, grabbed Ethan's legs and begged, "I was blind. I was disrespectful towards you. Can you help me? I really regret now..."

Ethan replied, "I've already given you a chance."

The security guards immediately moved forward and dragged Manager Russell out of the office.

Jaiden Lee and Ada Pauley were stunned. They couldn't believe Ethan had such influence!

"Cousin, why didn't you tell me earlier that you had such a powerful friend..." Jaiden Lee said awkwardly.

Ada Pauley whispered, "I didn't know. We haven't seen each other for a long time..."

“Mr. Smith, let’s go to my office.” Leonard Schultz turned to Ethan and said. Ethan nodded and said with a smile, “Alright.”

As the two of them reached the door, Ethan suddenly stopped and pointed at Ada Pauley, ‘Mr. Schultz, this lady is my classmate. She’s well-educated and has a lot of decency.’

Leonard Schultz glanced at Ada Pauley and said with a smile, “Really? Our bank wouldn’t miss such an excellent talent!”

At these words, Ada Pauley jumped up excitedly.

She immediately bowed and said, “Thank you, Mr. Schultz!”

Then, Ethan and Mr. Schultz walked towards the president’s office.

Mr. Schultz’s office was not luxurious, but it was very simplistic.

The bookshelf was full of plants, showing that Mr. Schultz was a meticulous person.

“Mr. Smith, as agreed, Stephen Hill will come to apply for the loan at nine o’clock this morning.” Mr. Schultz served Ethan Smith a glass of water himself.

Ethan took a deep breath. He was slightly excited.

Ethan really wanted to know what it felt like for a man who perceived himself as superior, to be stepped on.

“Mr. Smith, may I ask, what’s your relationship with Miss Taylor?” Mr. Schultz suddenly asked cautiously.

As Emily Taylor was mentioned, Ethan Smith’s cheeks flushed slightly and the corner of his mouth unwittingly curled upwards.

“Well... I can’t really say.” Ethan shook his head.

Seeing Ethan’s reaction, Mr. Schultz roared with laughter, “I see. No wonder Miss Taylor cares so much about you.”

Saying this, Mr. Schultz leaned forward and said in a low voice, “Miss Taylor called me last night.”

Ethan was stunned and asked anxiously, “She called you? What did she say?”
