Chapter 872 A Daughter

Seeing Cora insist, in the end, Byron could only agree with her to remain neutral.

"As long as he doesn't come to provoke me, I don't bother to talk to him."

But he also made his demands. "You have to give birth to another daughter."

Although he was only a few years older than Georgia, he had always treated Georgia as his daughter.

Right now, Efren was together with Georgia. So he felt uncomfortable.

He felt like something was missing from his heart.

So he needed to fill it with something to make it better.

Cora knew that he was in a bad mood. So she didn't refute him much today.

"Okay, I will give you a daughter."

This completely compromised and easy-to-talk attitude made Byron a little unbelievable. "Really?"

"Yeah." Cora smiled and leaned on Byron's shoulder.

What he was looking forward to might already be in her body.

That night, all the Hansen family members came to take Georgia from the hospital.

But what they didn't expect was that Efren was in Georgia's ward at that time.

But luckily, they didn't do anything at the time.

Even so, the two were still a little overwhelmed by the presence of their parents.

"Why are you all here?" Georgia asked embarrassingly.

"Didn't you say that you don't want to stay in this place at all? I discussed it with your grandparents and made sure that the physical examination report has come out, so I decided to come and pick you up."

But right now, Georgia didn't want to go home at all.

What would Efren do once she returned home?

Just now when the nurse came in to make rounds, seeing Efren in her room, she inadvertently revealed a piece of information.

It turned out that since she was hospitalized, Efren had been wandering in the corridor outside the ward, not even going back to sleep at night.

The nurses asked him several times if he needed help, but he refused.

After seeing Efren finally appear in her ward, the nurse was still joking.

"We used to think that who was so cruel to not let such a handsome guy into the ward? Many people wanted to take him home as a husband. Now it seems that the guy is guarding his lover!"

Georgia blushed.

Until now, she felt numb.

So she suddenly didn't want to leave the hospital. Because once she left, she wouldn't be able to look at Efren all the time.

"Efren, are you coming to see Georgia again? Thank you so much for taking the time to come and look at her."

Osborn was greeting Efren.

Efren glanced at Georgia.

He didn't want to hide it from her family but also wanted to tell the whole world about his love for her.

But as soon as he saw Georgia's dodging eyes, he knew that she didn't want it to be known by her family.

So he said, "I happened to be passing by. So I came in to have a look."

"We are going to take Georgia home now. Why don't we go back together?" Nora also invited Efren.

But Efren said, "No, I will visit you another day. There is a project in New York. I should be here recently."

But as soon as his words fell, Byron sneered.

Efren looked up to meet his eyes and found that the coldness and sarcasm in his eyes were obvious. It was clear that Byron was mocking him for his weakness...

Chapter 873 Teach You a Lesson

But Byron's sneer also attracted the attention of others.

Nora and Osborn frowned for a while as if they were thinking about why Byron and Efren were so hostile.

Cora hurried forward and pulled Byron, hinting him not to forget what he had promised her before.

So, Byron didn't say anything.

On the other hand, Georgia quietly glanced at Byron, always feeling that Byron just now seemed to kill Efren.

So did Byron know about her relationship with Efren?

It was terrible!

She once hurriedly looked at Cora but saw that Cora was still blinking at her.

Did it mean that Cora helped her deal with Byron?

Georgia was moved in her heart.

She was so lucky to have Cora by her side.

Just as she was dazed, her mother and Nora had already come up and pulled her out.

"So, am I discharged from the hospital?" Georgia was a little surprised.

"That's right. Do you want to hold a party here to celebrate before leaving?" Her mother asked her.

Georgia froze on the spot. "I didn't mean that..."

She glanced at Efren again and saw that he was also looking at her with a smile.

She was suddenly reluctant to part with Efren. So she didn't want to leave here.

"Then go home quickly. Haven't you been thinking to go home since yesterday?" Nora urged.

Later, Georgia could only be taken back to the Hansen Mansion.

Everyone in the family was worried that what Alton did that day would cast a shadow on her, so they went into her room one after another to talk to her.

Especially her mother, who even brought a pillow, to sleep with her tonight.

But just now, Efren also sent her messages to make an appointment with Georgia for a video call.

So she refused without thinking. "Mom, I'm fine."

"If you're okay, you wouldn't have slept through the middle of the night with nightmares last night."

Georgia didn't know what to say. She had a nightmare last night, dreaming that Alton had rushed towards her.

Later, it was indeed her mother who accompanied her into the ward and hugged her to comfort her.

Then, she could sleep more comfortably.

So, Georgia stopped and quietly sent a message to tell Efren that there was no video call tonight.

[Okay, it's fine.] This was Efren's reply.

Georgia became angry when she saw it. [Are you so calm and won't video with me?]

Her character was so straightforward.

Now that the misunderstanding was resolved, she would be as clingy to Efren as before.

But as soon as she noticed that Efren didn't seem to miss her as much as she missed him, she became very angry. As a result, the message to question Efren was sent out for a long time without Efren's reply. She was angry and kicked the dolls on the bed one by one.

Especially the puppy puppet that Efren gave her before had the worst end.

When Georgia's mother finished applying the skin care products and came in, she saw Georgia riding on top of the dog toy, holding the dog's ears tightly with both hands, with a ferocious expression on her face. And she kept saying.

"You didn't reply to my message for five minutes. I'll teach you a lesson."

"Do you dare not reply to my message in the future?"

"You can't do it!"

Georgia's mother couldn't stand it anymore and asked her, "What's wrong with you?"

Chapter 874 His Voice

When Georgia heard her mother's voice, she was terrified, and quickly got off the puppet.

"No, I just suddenly felt that it was a little restless. I have to teach it a lesson." Georgia laughed awkwardly.

"How do you want a puppet to keep its own place?" Georgia's mother stepped forward and poked

Georgia's head. "I think it's you who is restless."

Georgia suddenly felt a little guilty. "Why?"

"What do you think?"

Her mother didn't answer the question but also asked, which made Georgia even more guilty.

"I have no idea."

"Since you have just been discharged from the hospital, I don't care. Hurry up and lie down for me to sleep!"

Under the threat of force from her mother, Georgia could only obediently lie beside her.

But thinking that she had not heard from Efren until now, he must not love her anymore. How could she sleep?

As a result, she turned and was beaten again.

"Hurry up and go to bed! A person who has just been discharged from the hospital, what are you doing?"

Georgia stopped, not daring to roll anymore.

But she couldn't sleep. All she wanted to do was grab her phone and see if there was any information about a bad guy.

After about ten minutes, she felt that her mother should have fallen asleep, so she left the bed quietly.

Just when she was about to successfully get the mobile phone on the table, her mother's voice suddenly came from behind. "Do you not sleep in the middle of the night, get up, and play with my phone?"

"Mom, that..." Georgia was frightened and at a loss for what to do.

"Go back now!"

With her order, Georgia could only put down her phone and study in bed.

But even after tossing about for an hour, Georgia still didn't feel sleepy at all.

Maybe her mother also noticed that she hadn't fallen asleep. So she suddenly asked, "Is there something on your mind?"

"No, as you said, I don't have to worry about eating and living, so how can I have troubles." Georgia said.

"It's fine if you don't want to say it." After that, her mother didn't take the initiative to ask her anything, but Georgia couldn't help it.

"Mom, I have a friend! I'm talking about my friend. She dated an older man, but that boy treated her very well. She was very distressed now. She didn't know how to make her parents accept that boy.

What should she do?"

But in the end, her mother said, "Since you have someone to date, take him home and have a look. As long as he isn't older than your father, I can still bear it."

"Mom, I'm talking about my friend. How did you talk about me!" Georgia was a little mad.

"Georgia, I raised you. I know what you are thinking."

Her mom grabbed the pillow.

Georgia hurriedly hugged the pillow and boasted, "Mom, how can you know it?"

"Don't change the subject for me. If you date someone, call me home tomorrow! If you don't call him back, I'll teach you a lesson!"

No matter how Georgia begged, her mother did not let go.

So that night, Georgia suffered from insomnia completely.

After finally tossing and falling asleep, she seemed to hear Efren's voice in a trance.

She sat up from the bed, only to realize that it was already dawn.

Her mother had long since disappeared. But Efren's voice was real, coming from under her window...

Chapter 875 Come and Sit

Georgia rushed to the bed, looked downstairs, and saw Efren standing under her window talking on the phone.

He was wearing a shirt, so handsome and refined, with a charming silhouette.

Perhaps sensing Georgia's gaze, Efren suddenly looked up.

The moment their eyes met, Georgia had already forgotten the unhappiness that the man didn't reply to her message last night, and felt as if her heart was about to break free and fly towards Efren.

"Why are you at my house?" Georgia asked him first.

She wanted to ask Efren more since he came to her house, why didn't he climb the window to find her like last time?

"Come and have a seat." Efren looked at her smile and finally felt a lot more at ease.

After sending the message last night, he went to take a shower. When he came back, he found that Georgia's latest message came seven minutes ago.

He quickly replied. But Georgia didn't reply to him for a long time. He thought she was not feeling well.

So at dawn, he found another reason and came to the Hansen Mansion as a guest.

But today, the gardener of the Hansen Mansion had been busy planting trees in this area. He was afraid that climbing the window directly would affect her reputation, so he could only take the opportunity of calling his assistant to remind her.

He had been on the phone here for nearly twenty minutes, chatting with his assistant all the time.

If Georgia didn't show up, he felt that the assistant was about to collapse.

Fortunately, Georgia still showed up at the last moment.

Looking at her smiling face, Efren felt relieved.

"Aside from having a sit, don't you have any thoughts?"

Georgia was still leaning against the window to ask him, the neckline of the nightdress with suspenders fluttered slightly under the breeze.

Efren couldn't help swallowing.

But did he dare to admit that he had other thoughts?

"Why are you not speaking?"

Seeing that Efren remained silent for a long time, Georgia was still urging.

"Hmm..." Efren wanted to say something else.

At this time, Byron walked out from the corner. "Did you finish the call?"

Efren and Byron looked at each other meaningfully.

"Yes!" Efren smiled and then glanced at Georgia upstairs.

Byron followed Efren's gaze and immediately caught Georgia.

"Get up and wash up quickly. What are you doing standing sill?"

Georgia made a face and then went into the room.

As soon as Georgia slipped away, Byron looked at Efren coldly again.

"Then why are you still standing here? Go sit in the living room."

"Okay." Efren still smiled. As long as he saw Georgia, it was nothing that Byron treated him coldly.

But when he returned to the house, he heard Georgia's mother complaining to Nora.

"Georgia seems to be in a relationship, and even dated someone much older. She even sounded out to me last night!"

"How old?" Nora asked her.

"She didn't say that. She told me it was her friend! I told her, as long as he's not older than her father, she should take him home and have a look."

When Byron heard this, he glanced at Efren.

Efren was calm, without revealing the slightest clue.

But Byron still reminded, "If you want to be with her, take her seriously."

Efren knew that Byron wanted them to get the approval of the elders before continuing to date.

But what about Georgia?

Would she agree to let him see her parents now?

Chapter 876 Her Boyfriend

Just when Efren lowered his head to think about this, Georgia had already washed up, changed her clothes, and rushed down from upstairs.

"Mom, are you talking bad about me? I sneezed several times upstairs."

When passing by Efren, Georgia deliberately slowed down.

She wanted to turn around and smile at Efren. But Byron looked at them with a cold face.

So, she could only go to her mother and grandma desperately.

Seeing how lively the girl looked, Efren couldn't help but smile.

Even though he knew that Byron was watching their every move, he couldn't control himself when he saw the girl.

"Your mother isn't talking bad about you. We're just talking about your older boyfriend." Nora said.

Georgia froze suddenly, and then quickly defended. She said, "Mom, I already said that it's my friend.

Why are you talking nonsense to Grandma?"

She especially said it in front of Efren!

Speaking of this, she glanced at Efren guiltily.

But fortunately, Efren's expression didn't change much.

"It's you, okay? You think you've covered it up very well, but it's on your face."

Georgia's mother said.

"That's right, since you're in a relationship, hurry up and take him home. We'll check it out for you.

Besides, we don't have much time. I look forward to seeing you find a reliable man and live a good life."

Nora also echoed.

Georgia was the youngest daughter. She had a pleasant personality since she was a child. The whole family liked her very much.

Before there was no Martin, Nora took her wherever she went.

Occasionally, she didn't take Georgia out. When she came back, she even brought Georgia her favorite candies.

Because of being favored by Nora, Georgia was even more reluctant to let Nora say such frustrating words.

"Grandma, don't talk nonsense, okay? You and Grandpa will live a long life!"

Georgia simply threw herself into Nora's arms and acted like a baby.

Nora hugged her quickly and said with a smile, "This is life. If I lived to that old age, wouldn't I become a monster?"

Nora coaxed her for a while, then said,

"Okay, don't change the topic. Call your boyfriend quickly and ask him to come and sit at home."

If other people made such a request, Georgia would refuse without saying a word.

But this was the grandmother who loved her the most!

She also said that she only had a few years to live. She just wanted to see Georgia find someone worthy of entrusting her life!

For a moment, Georgia didn't know what to say.

When she was hesitating, Efren took a few steps forward.

At that moment, Georgia already had a bad feeling.

But before Georgia could stop him, Efren had already said, "Madam Hansen, I'm the one who's dating Georgia..."

As soon as these words came out, Georgia's mother and Nora all looked at him in astonishment.

Even Georgia was completely shocked.

She never thought that she would tell the elders that they were dating so soon.

"This..." Nora was also a little surprised but soon remembered something.

For example, during this time, Efren always visited them from time to time.

Also, she noticed that Efren looked at Georgia with surprise.

Also, this time Georgia was bullied by Alton. Why was Efren so angry...

The answer had always been in front of them. But they didn't connect the dots.

Chapter 877 Accept

"Don't listen to his nonsense, I..."

Georgia saw that her mother and Nora were both shocked and hurried up to cover Efren's mouth.

However, Efren held her hand and said to Georgia's mother and grandma seriously,

"I'm dating Georgia on the premise of getting married. I don't have any intention of teasing Georgia. I sincerely want to live with her for the rest of my life. I implore you to agree."

Efren was rarely so serious, and he had never begged anyone like this.

But now, he had done both, just to spend this life hand in hand with the person he liked.

Even Georgia couldn't help but look at him in astonishment when she saw him like this.

She lived in Cloudville for a period. She knew countless people bowing their knees in front of him. But she never thought that this man would be so humble in front of others.

For a moment, her eyes couldn't help but turn red.

And the elders had been silent all the time, as if time had stagnated at this moment.

Efren thought that her family probably still couldn't accept him.

After all, he was so much older than Georgia.

But whether they accepted him or not, he would still wait for Georgia until her family was willing to accept him.

Because in this life, apart from Georgia, he would never fall in love with anyone else.

But in this long silence, Georgia's mother suddenly said, "So the person who is dating Georgia is you, Efren. That's okay. She mysteriously told me last night that when the man was older, I also thought that the other party was an old man more than fifty years old!"

Her voice immediately brought everyone back to their senses.

Georgia was even more astonished. "Mom, you..."

"Just tell me directly when you are dating Efren. I was so worried that I didn't sleep all night last night."

Georgia's mother had always been a straightforward person. Since she thought that Efren was not bad, she treated him as her son-in-law.

At this time, Nora also said, "Actually, I also breathed a sigh of relief. You have been spoiled since childhood. Others might not be able to tolerate your petty temper. But what about Efren? We have known him since he was a kid. And he has always been very good to you. So I don't object."

Georgia and Efren were a little surprised that the two expressed their views one after another, and they were all very supportive.

Happiness came so suddenly, that even Georgia doubted that it was a dream. She couldn't help asking,

"You agree? Didn't you let me call Efren Uncle before? Don't you mind?"

"I don't mind. Anyway, in my eyes, nothing is more important than your lifelong happiness." Nora said.

"I think it's Efren who should care, right? Efren doesn't mind it. So why should we mind?"

Georgia's mother also said, "Call them all back to have dinner together in the evening, and scare them."

The elders agreed so much, and they couldn't wait to announce their relationship to the world, which was never expected by Georgia and Efren.

Apart from thanking them again and again, and passively participating in the Hansen family banquet, they couldn't do anything.

As expected, at the family dinner that night, everyone was taken aback by the news. But they all agreed afterward.

Especially Georgia's father, who patted Efren on the shoulder.

"I've thought about who my daughter will marry, but I don't seem to be satisfied with anyone, and I don't feel at ease. But seeing that it's you, Efren, I was relieved..."

Chapter 878 Get Married

As soon as Efren heard it, he knew that Georgia's father was also relieved to hand over his daughter to Efren.

So he promised Georgia's father in every possible way that he would take good care of Georgia in the future and would not let Georgia suffer any grievances.

Osborn was happy. But he kept hiding in the corner and didn't speak.

Seeing this, Georgia hurried forward. "Grandpa, are you unhappy that I'm with Efren?"

Osborn patted her hand lightly. "You found someone you like, and you are going to start a family. How can I be unhappy?"

Osborn also said, "It feels like the scenes of your birth are right in front of my eyes. It seems that you were a kid yesterday, and you were hugged in my arms. In a blink of an eye, you are going to get married!"

Georgia felt very uncomfortable when she heard Osborn's sobbing voice, so she quickly comforted him.

"No, if you disagree, I'll just stay away from him."

Nora and Osborn doted on her when she was young.

So Georgia couldn't see that Osborn was so sad because of her relationship that he was about to cry.

"How can I disagree? I'm happier than anyone else. You can find someone you like. But marrying you to Cloudville, I don't know how many times I will see you again."

Osborn was most worried that he wouldn't be able to see his favorite granddaughter often in the future, so he was very sad.

Just when Georgia was about to promise him that she would often stay in New York for a short stay in the future, Efren came in front of the two of them and made a solemn promise.

"Don't worry, Old Mr. Hansen. In the future, Georgia and I will live in New York when we get married.

You can see her anytime you want."

These words made both Georgia and Osborn look at him in astonishment.

"This..." Georgia was at a loss. She had never thought about getting married before, so she would not discuss these with Efren.

But the fact that Efren dared to tell Osborn these things directly proved that he must have thought it through.

Therefore, Efren came here to marry her and spend the rest of his life with her.

Efren saw Georgia cry. He reached out and touched her hair.

But Osborn frowned and asked him, "But most of the Serrano family's current property is in Cloudville!

If you settle in New York, what will happen to your property in Cloudville?"

"The industries in Cloudville are basically on the right track. I have also hired an agent to take care of them. There are very few places where I need to come forward. Some industries will be fully integrated soon. At present, some projects under development will also be transferred to New York or surrounding cities."

Efren also said, "The other parts, I will also withdraw as soon as possible."

Osborn knew that Efren was talking about the illegal part.

Those were the most objective profits. Efren could do this for Georgia, which proved that he liked Georgia and wanted to stay with her for a long time.

Osborn was very satisfied with this. He nodded and asked again, "What about your parents? You are the only kid in the Serrano family. If you come to the Hansen family, your parents might have some objections."

"My parents know that I like Georgia. If they know that I am with her, they will only be happy and support me..."

When Efren said this, Georgia looked at him in astonishment.

Chapter 879 Wedding Date

Efren smiled and nodded as if telling Georgia that he wasn't lying.

Many people knew that Efren liked Georgia.

His parents also knew it.

Back then, Efren's parents thought that Efren was old enough to get married. They selected several girls who were born rich in Cloudville and wanted Efren to choose one of them to spend the rest of his life with.

However, Efren refused and said, "I don't want to get married for the time being."

His father was furious, and asked him, "You don't want to get married? Are you waiting for the girl from the Hansen family to grow up?"

Hearing this, Efren was still calm. He had expected that the employees of the Serrano Group would discuss it.

So, Efren said, "Yes."

Efren's parents persuaded him to give up.

"Georgia is the most beloved daughter of the Hansen family. How could the Hansen family agree to let her live in New York? Besides, how old are you? You are so old. The Hansen family will not agree."

Efren didn't change his mind. No matter how many girls his parents introduced to him, he had never met them.

Later, Efren's parents gave up. They knew that they would either have a daughter-in-law named Georgia, or they would see Efren be single all the time.

Now that Georgia had grown up and they wanted to stay together, Efren's parents would be happy.

Hearing Efren's words, Osborn relaxed.

Osborn said, "We will go to Cloudville to visit your parents, and we will discuss it with them."

Anyway, Efren's parents made a lot of effort to raise and educate Efren. Now, Efren would live with Georgia in the Hansen Mansion. Osborn was worried that Efren's parents would have complaints, and they would also complain about Georgia.

Osborn thought, "When I am healthy enough to travel so far, I have to help Georgia solve these problems."

"Well, but before that, my parents have to go to New York first to send an engagement gift..."

"Well! I will choose a good day to hold the wedding as soon as possible."

Osborn and Efren chatted happily with each other.

Until the family banquet was over and her wedding with Efren was confirmed, Georgia was still in a daze.

She thought, "Didn't I just reconcile with Efren? Didn't we just find out about our relationship?"

"Why is it that in less than 24 hours, my wedding with Efren is on the agenda?"

Georgia only had the chance to whisper to Efren when the family banquet was over and she was about to say goodbye to Efren.

"Why do I feel like I've been tricked?"

Today, everything happened so fast that Georgia didn't even have a chance to stop.

Up to now, she was still confused.

Efren looked at Georgia, and asked, "Don't you want to marry me?"

"I..." Georgia wanted to say that she didn't want to. After all, the development of their relationship was too fast, which made Georgia uncomfortable.

When Georgia met Efren's gaze, she found that Efren was staring at her affectionately.

That kind of gaze made Georgia feel that it would be too cruel to refuse Efren.

So, she said, "I just think that everything goes too fast."

Chapter 880 Wedding Dress

A few days ago, Georgia decided that she wouldn't meet Efren again.

However, they had already started talking about getting married.

Both the Hansen family and the Serrano family started discussing the time of meeting each other and holding the wedding.

Georgia originally thought that there would be a very long time before getting married. Now, it seemed that she would get married soon.

Efren directly hugged her and said, "Silly girl, don't you know how long I've been looking forward to this day? It's not very fast at all."

Georgia could hear Efren's heartbeat and smell the unique scent of his body. She was still a little inexplicably flustered.

"But I'm not ready yet."

"It doesn't matter if you are not ready. I will arrange everything well."

Efren patted Georgia on the back. His hoarse voice could make her calm down. Georgia felt relaxed.

A few days later, Efren's parents came to New York. Every member of the Hansen family went to welcome them.

Everything went smoothly. Efren's parents liked Georgia very much. On that day, Efren's mother gave Georgia a bracelet left by Efren's grandmother.

Osborn informed Efren's family of the date they discussed.

"There aren't many days suitable for marriage this year, only August 15th. Byron and Cora will hold a wedding on that day. Otherwise, we'll have to wait until next year."

Efren's father immediately said, "Holding the wedding this year is fine."

Efren had been waiting for this day for too long.

As his parents, they knew that Efren wanted to get married to Georgia as soon as possible.

Osborn and others also agreed. "I also think that holding a wedding this year is very good. They can hold the wedding together with Byron and Cora. It will be perfect."

Then, the date of the wedding was assured.

Georgia was still in a daze after the discussion ended.

She thought, "I am going to get married on August 15th?"

"Only one month left to be single?"

"Really?"

Georgia wanted to say something, but the elders got along so harmoniously that she couldn't intervene at all.

And Efren kept feeding her food, making her have no time to talk.

In this way, everything was settled.

"I think it happened so soon. I don't even have time to customize a wedding dress."

After Georgia went back, she complained to Efren.

But Efren said, "I have already made a wedding dress for you. So, don't worry about it."

"Huh? You made one for me? When?"

Georgia couldn't believe it.

"When you are 18, I made it."

Georgia still couldn't believe it when she saw Efren's determined look.

"Let me see. I don't believe in your taste. If it isn't the kind I like, I won't wear it."

Efren turned on his phone, found a few design drawings, and showed them to Georgia.

Georgia was a little dumbfounded when she saw them.

The wedding dress designed by Efren was not the traditional white wedding dress.

Instead, it used pure white as the background color, and the surrounding area was decorated with colorful colored yarn. Besides, it was decorated with various exquisite gemstones.

Even the veil used white yarn as a base, and the surroundings were turned into colorful colored yarn.

The overall look was colorful and beautiful, which was indeed in line with Georgia's taste in multiple colors.

Looking at the wedding dress, Georgia felt a little familiar.
