Chapter 121: Not as Important as Your Wife

The old woman glared at her grandson and then looked at her son.

“Listen to me carefully. Keep an eye on him. Everyone in our village is united. We cannot drag everyone down because of our family.

“When Xing’er insisted on leaving, I told her that she could if she wanted to, but she could not come back because of the epidemic.

“I am serious about this. If any of you dare to meet Xing’er behind my back, don’t blame the Chief for being heartless when he chases us out of the village!”

“I know, Mother.” Her son nodded.

She sighed softly in response.

They were a little more heartless. However, besides being heartless, what other choices did they have? Let Wang Xing’er bring her family into the village and spread the disease to the villagers?

That Wang Xing’er is really something! She knows that her family contracted the epidemic disease, but she still dared to bring them to the village!

“Grandmother, I... I... I want to see Xing’er...”

The old woman looked at her grandson and raised an eyebrow. “You still want to see her?”

“I won’t stop you if you really want to go and see her. Go on. I’ll go to the Chief and the Junior Officer and explain things. You will no longer be part of our village.

“Let everyone see you and chase you out of the village immediately. How about that?”

“Grandmother, I’m your biological grandson!”

The young man was shocked. His eyes widened as he looked at his grandmother, unable to believe what he had just heard.

“You’re wrong.”

The old woman shook her head sadly, her aged eyes glaring fiercely at him with all their might.

“Your family is outside this village. And there is only Wang Xing’er. But from me, the oldest here, to the two youngest ones—none of us have anything to do with you. Our lives are not as important as your wife’s.

“You can go to your wife’s family and live with them in the future!”

She pointed to the door.

“I...” The man lowered his head in shame and stopped talking.

She was right. What would they do if he really went to see Wang Xing’er and spread the epidemic disease to the village?

“Since Xing’er decided to bring her parents here, could it be that her father only has an ordinary illness and not the epidemic disease?” he guessed.

“You—”

The old woman almost died of anger.

Can you rely on guesses at a time like this?

“It doesn’t matter. So what if he might not have the epidemic disease? We don’t know if Wang Xing’er is trying to seek refuge with you because her father contracted the disease. Have you ever thought about how ruthless she is?”

“She wouldn’t have done such a thing if she was more considerate towards you!”

“Grandmother...”

“Enough, I can’t be bothered to talk to you anymore. From today onwards, you don’t have to go out. The crops in the fields have been planted anyway. Stay at home. If I catch you going out, you don’t have to come back.”

The old woman spoke straightforwardly when she saw that her grandson was still weak-willed.

She said to her son, “Go to my room and bring me that lock. Lock this unfilial thing in his room. Also, seal his window. I want to see how he’ll get out to meet Wang Xing’er!”

Chapter 122: No Way She Would Believe Her

“Grandmother!”

The young man was shocked and looked at his grandmother in disbelief.

Are they going to lock me up to prevent me from leaving? How am I going to meet Xing’er secretly?

However, his family, especially his grandmother, knew him well. How could they let him have his way?

Hence, he did not have to go out anymore from now on.

...

On the mountain...

Springwater flowed down the cliff continuously, gathering in a large pool.

It was afternoon, and the place was quiet. Not many people came to fetch water at the spring.

Suddenly, a woman emerged, panting. She placed her bag on a rock and took out all the clothes inside.

“Hmph! I want to see if you can survive after drinking the water that my father’s clothes have soaked in! So you want the entire village to be well? Dream on!”

She snorted coldly and was about to throw the clothes she had into the spring.

However, she was kicked aside before she could do so.

“Ah!” she screamed and fell onto a pile of rocks, clutching her father’s clothes tightly.

“What are you trying to do?”

Qian Yiyun was here to fetch water. She had noticed that there was not much water left in the kitchen and scooped all the water into the cooking pot. She wanted to collect water to save her brother some trouble.

She did not expect to witness a woman about to throw her clothes into the spring from afar.

This spring water is our drinking water. The entire village at the foot of the mountain also drinks this water. How can she wash her clothes here? How disgusting is that?

Wang Xing'er did not expect to meet someone here. She gulped in fear. "I... I..."

She had seen her before. She was rescued by An Jiuyue from the flood. She had even watched her skin animals ruthlessly.

She... Didn't she already leave? Why is she still here?

"No, nothing. My... my clothes are dirty. I came to wash them," she said guiltily.

"Wash your clothes?"

There was no way Qian Yiyun would believe her!

Wang Xing'er knew that the water here was for drinking, but she still came to wash her clothes. She was also stammering. It was clear—something was wrong.

"I know you. You're from the village. You must know that the water here is for drinking. Tell me, what are you trying to do?"

Qian Yiyun had interacted with the village women for many days at her sister-in-law's place and had memorized their appearances. She remembered that this woman often ordered her mother-in-law about.

She had never seen such a daughter-in-law! She had even complained to her brother about her.

"I'm not trying to do anything. I'm just washing my clothes. If you don't want me to wash them, so be it. I... I'm going back."

Wang Xing'er felt that she could not allow herself to be exposed here. She had to leave this place first. She also could not let the villagers discover her. Otherwise, they would definitely beat her to death.

Hence, she stood up with the clothes in her hands, packed her bags, and prepared to leave.

However, Qian Yiyun would not let her have her way. She grabbed a rod and knocked her out with a single strike, causing her to fall onto the pile of rocks.

Then, she waited by the side.

Although it was already afternoon, some villagers would still come to fetch water.

Chapter 123: Soak in the Spring

She would find out what the woman was up to if she waited for a villager to come and ask them about the situation.

Don't think I'm ignorant. I know that the laundry must first be placed in wooden basins or bamboo baskets and then brought to the river for washing. I've washed my brother and sister-in-law's clothes a few times, okay?

After waiting for about 15 minutes, a young man with two empty wooden buckets arrived.

"Hey, isn't this Wang Xing'er? Why is she here?"

The man was shocked to see a woman lying beside the spring. However, he was even more surprised when he saw who it was.

Didn't we chase this woman away? Why is she here?

Qian Yiyun walked out from the side and asked the man, "Hey, you know her? Who is she?"

"You...!"

The man was shocked by Qian Yiyun's sudden appearance and took a step back.

"Don't be afraid. I knocked her out, but I didn't do anything bad. I just want to know what this woman was trying to do," Qian Yiyun quickly explained when she saw that the man's face had turned pale.

She really did not do anything bad. No matter what that woman was up to, Qian Yiyun decided she should knock her out first and inquire about it later.

If it was a misunderstanding, she could just apologize to the woman.

"She... Miss Qian, why did you knock her out? How did she... get here?" the man swallowed and asked carefully.

Compared to finding Wang Xing'er on the ground, he was more curious about how she got here.

"You'll have to ask her." Qian Yiyun shrugged and looked at the unconscious Wang Xing'er.

"Everyone knows that the water here is for drinking, but she brought many clothes here to wash. That's outrageous! Who else should I hit if not her?"

She reached out to open Wang Xing'er's bag, but a hand grabbed her wrist.

"Miss Qian, don't touch those. You must not touch them."

The man broke out in a cold sweat when he saw that she was about to touch Wang Xing'er's belongings. He quickly grabbed her, not caring that physical contact between a man and woman should be limited.

“Why?” Qian Yiyun was surprised.

So this woman is not a good person. Does she have evil intentions?

The man explained, “This woman is Wang Xing’er. She’s from our village, but she returned to her parents’ home a few days ago. She brought her family here today to seek refuge with her in-laws.

“But her father seems to have contracted the epidemic disease. We chased her out of the village not long ago. At noon.”

Qian Yiyun was shocked and quickly retracted her hand. “What?!”

She saw that Wang Xing’er was about to put a few pieces of clothing into the spring. Judging from the style and color of the clothes, they should belong to a man—an older man.

Do those clothes belong to Wang Xing’er’s ill father?

“What a vicious woman! She wanted to soak her father’s clothes in the spring!”

She looked at Wang Xing’er. If she had a knife in her hand, she would definitely stab her ruthlessly. Wang Xing’er wanted to harm the entire village and implicate her sister-in-law!

Chapter 124: He Had to Dote on Her

The man was frightened by Qian Yiyun’s words and stammered, “Wh-what? She... She... She actually dared to do that? Miss Qian, she... has she...”

“Of course not.” Qian Yiyun raised her chin proudly. “I noticed it in time and kicked her away.”

Honestly, she simply did not want to bring home the water someone else had used for laundry washing. She was unaware that her sister-in-law always collected water flowing along the rock cliff.

“I... Miss Qian, please wait. I... I’ll go find the Chief.”

The man realized that the matter was serious and he could not be the one to decide what to do. He could only invite the Chief or the Junior Officer over.

...

Soon, the Chief, the Junior Officer, and many others gathered around the spring.

Wang Xing’er’s husband was also brought over by his grandmother and parents. The entire family looked at Wang Xing’er, who had yet to regain consciousness, with hatred.

“Look carefully, Grandson. Is such a woman really worth falling head over heels for? She’s a ruthless woman!”

The old woman looked at Wang Xing’er hatefully and slapped the man beside him on his head, trying to wake him up.

“Grandmother, I know I was wrong.”

The man lowered his head and did not dare to say a word. However, his eyes were filled with disappointment towards Wang Xing’er.

When he was locked up by his parents and grandmother, he was still contemplating an escape plan to share in his wife’s suffering. After all, she was his wife. He had to dote on her.

However, he did not expect Wang Xing’er to do this in such a short time!

She brought the clothes her father had worn to put them into the spring where all the villagers collected their water. This was no different from poisoning!

“I’ll ask the Chief to write a divorce letter. I’ll divorce this vicious woman!”

The old woman nodded in satisfaction. “Good, good.”

One should marry a virtuous person. Physical appearances should not matter as much. It was more important to have a heart that did not desire to cause harm to others.

“Chief, Junior Officer, we should send people from the village to guard this place every day. We can’t let those with ill intentions threaten our water source again,” someone suggested.

This was the water they used to cook and drink. They could not be careless.

“That’s a feasible idea.” Looking at the Chief, the Junior Officer nodded in agreement.

It was a coincidence that Qian Yiyun, who lived in An Jiuyue’s house, came to fetch water and discovered Wang Xing’er’s evil intentions. They might not be so lucky in the future.

“Let’s discuss this later. We can’t let these people destroy our only water source,” the Chief added.

“What about Wang Xing’er? Should we throw her out of the village?” someone asked.

“Well...” The Chief hesitated when he saw Wang Xing’er.

“Chief, you can’t let her off so easily. This woman is too vicious!”

“That’s right! This woman dared to poison us today. She may do other heartless things tomorrow. We can’t let her off so easily!”

Everyone chimed in when they saw the Chief’s hesitation.

The Chief was silent. He wanted to punish Wang Xing’er too.

Chapter 125: Truly Shameless

However, he could not possibly ask the villagers to kill Wang Xing’er, right? He also could not escort Wang Xing’er to the county to be arrested and brought to justice.

“Folks, folks, calm down and listen to me.”

The Junior Officer spoke up quickly when he saw that everyone was unhappy with Wang Xing’er and also increasingly unhappy with the Chief.

“We can’t leave the village now, and we also can’t kill Wang Xing’er. We can only chase her away first. The Chief hesitated because he was thinking about how to deal with Wang Xing’er.

“Her father has contracted the epidemic disease, so we should not touch her. We can only chase her out of the village and make sure she never returns.”

“That will be letting her off too easily!” someone said indignantly when they heard the Junior Officer’s words.

However, they also understood him. Wang Xing’er was now a hot potato. They had to throw her out quickly!

“I really want to throw her into a fire and burn her to death. This woman is a poisonous snake!”

Although some people said these things, they did not dare to kill. They were just empty words.

Wang Xing'er woke up slowly amidst everyone's curses. She was shocked when she saw the crowd surrounding her.

"What... what are you trying to do?"

She sat up, shivering, and looked fearfully at the men with sticks.

"What are we trying to do? We should be asking what are you trying to do?"

Wang Xing'er's husband walked out of the crowd and looked at his wife in disappointment.

"I really didn't expect you to be so vicious as to wash your clothes in the spring. Do you know that your son and daughter drink the water here every day? What if they contract the epidemic disease?"

"Can you really bear to watch them die with you?"

"I..." Wang Xing'er looked around with her large eyes.

I can't admit what I was trying to do. I'll be dead meat if I do!

"I didn't do anything. I don't have anything. I just wanted to wash a few clothes. What's wrong with that? This spring doesn't belong to anyone. I can wash my clothes and even shower here. It has nothing to do with you all!"

"You—" The man almost died from anger.

Spouting whatever she wants... She's truly shameless!

He exhaled heavily and stared intently into Wang Xing'er's eyes.

“Wang Xing'er, just you wait! I'm going to divorce you, you vicious woman!”

“Don't you dare!”

Wang Xing'er gasped and jumped up, glaring at her husband.

The man spat fiercely, “Why not? You did this and tried to kill everyone in our village today. It's only right for me to divorce you! The two children will have nothing to do with you in the future. They don't have a vicious mother like you!”

“You... you...” Wang Xing'er's pale lips trembled as she looked at her husband in disbelief.

She dared to do this because she knew her husband would support her and stand by her side no matter what.

But now he wants to divorce me over such a small matter!

“I was just washing my clothes. What's wrong with that? How is that heinous? Don't you all wash your clothes? Or do you just keep your clothes on and let them stink?”

Chapter 126: You Want Revenge

She flung her hands up and questioned them with reddened eyes.

Her words left everyone around speechless.

Even if they were washing clothes, they would collect some water and wash their clothes with the collected water at the foot of the mountain.

No one ever washed their clothes near the spring out of convenience. They were afraid that they would dirty the water and cause everyone to fall sick.

“This woman is crazy. She only cares about herself. Let’s chase her out,” someone said.

The others agreed with him. “Just chase her out. Don’t let her come to our village again. It’s too scary.”

“What’s going on?”

Suddenly, a familiar voice was heard.

Everyone turned around and saw An Jiuyue walking over with Lu’er in her arms.

“Sister Jiuyue.”

When Qian Yiyun saw her, she hurried over and took Lu’er into her arms.

“What’s going on? Why are there so many people here?” An Jiuyue asked.

She had come to take a look after she noticed that Qian Yiyun had been gone for so long. She did not expect to see so many people standing there, and they seemed to be judging someone.

Qian Yiyun briefly explained her discovery of Wang Xing’er to An Jiuyue. “So this happened...”

An Jiuyue narrowed her beautiful eyes and glanced dangerously at Wang Xing’er before walking toward her slowly.

“I didn’t think our village would have such a person. Heh.” She looked at Wang Xing’er and smiled.

“Master, I’m sensing infinite hatred and killing intent. That woman wants to kill you!” Wei Na immediately noticed Wang Xing’er’s hatred and quickly informed An Jiuyue.

Oh? Didn’t Master rescue Wang Xing’er during the flood? It had to be her to repay kindness with ingratitude?

“Nonsense. Do you think I can’t feel anything?” An Jiuyue snapped at Wei Na and continued to look at Wang Xing’er.

“You want to take revenge on me?” she asked, raising her eyebrows.

Although she phrased her words as a question, they confirmed that the woman wanted revenge.

“Huh? Sister Jiuyue, what are you talking about?” Qian Yiyun asked as she carried Lu’er over.

Everyone looked at An Jiuyue in confusion.

Is Wang Xing’er doing this to take revenge on An Jiuyue? What is this? Why can’t we understand?

Wang Xing’er took a step back guiltily and denied it stubbornly, “You... What nonsense are you spouting? I... I don’t even know you well!”

She wanted to take revenge on An Jiuyue for suggesting ways to prevent outsiders from entering the village. Her family could not enter because of that.

She had to stay in the straw shed filled with ill people. Otherwise, she would not have food to eat.

However, she could not admit that. The people in the village treated An Jiuyue as their savior and worshiped her like a deity.

She would definitely die miserably if she said she wanted to go against An Jiuyue now.

“You want revenge,” An Jiuyue did not waste her breath and said unwaveringly.

“My house is very close to the spring. Although it’s not a matter of who falls sick first, everyone will definitely suspect me if something happens to the spring.

“That’s because my house is the closest. By then, everyone would have contracted the epidemic disease, and I’m no exception.”

Chapter 127: This Is Repaying Kindness With Ingratitude

She continued her train of thought as she spoke, her gaze fixed on Wang Xing’er.

“Many villagers know that the Qian siblings and the three children I found are living in my house. You should know about this too.

“If there is an outbreak here, everyone could blame me for having outsiders. They could claim they have the epidemic disease and spread it to the villagers via this rock spring.”

As expected, Wang Xing’er’s eyes darted around guiltily. She even took a step back and gulped as her expression became even more nervous.

“Nonsense! I... I didn’t!” Wang Xing’er denied it.

I’ll never admit that I wanted to sabotage An Jiuyue, that detestable woman.

“You didn’t?” An Jiuyue looked at her and asked.

“Didn’t you hate me? Didn’t you think I shouldn’t have suggested to the Chief to guard the village? That I’m the one who stopped you from bringing your parents in?”

“Or did you think I’m the one who forced you out of the village to suffer with your parents and brothers? So now you might even die from the epidemic?”

“No... No, I... I didn’t.” Wang Xing’er shook her head in denial.

However, her guilty and fearful eyes had already betrayed her. Anyone could tell what she was thinking.

A man in the crowd glared at Wang Xing’er and asked, “We all know! You were warning Jiuyue to watch out just now! Did you think we didn’t hear you?”

They had heard everything she said when they chased her and her family away.

However, they never expected Wang Xing’er to be so vicious as to target the spring.

Everyone started taking turns scolding Wang Xing’er.

“I didn’t expect Wang Xing’er to be so vicious and ungrateful.”

“If I remember correctly, Jiuyue was the one who pulled her out of the floodwaters. She was almost swept away by the flood. Jiuyue was almost swept away too when she tried to rescue her.”

“This is repaying kindness with ingratitude. Jiuyue shouldn’t have saved her back then. She should have allowed her to be swept away by the flood. This wouldn’t have happened then!”

“That damned vicious woman not only wants to kill us but also her benefactor. Isn’t she afraid she’ll be struck by lightning?”

Wang Xing'er took a step back and shook her head vigorously. "It's not like that. It's not like that."

I didn't even plan to come here at first. These people were too selfish and didn't let me bring my parents into the village.

It's okay if they don't let my parents in, but they even chased me away. Why?

"I just want to enter the village. It's okay if they don't let my parents in, but I'm from this village! Why should they chase me out?"

"It's all because of you that they chased me out of the village so mercilessly. It's all An Jiuyue's fault!"

She raised her finger and pointed at An Jiuyue, looking as if she was ready to bite off a piece of An Jiuyue's flesh. Her hatred was indescribable.

"An Jiuyue, who asked you to save me? I didn't ask you to do that! Now I have to live in the straw shed with my parents. It's filled with people infected with the disease. If I had known this would happen, I would have just died in the floodwaters!"

Chapter 128: This Is the Only Way

"Isn't this all your fault? Without you, the Chief and the others wouldn't have stopped me from entering the village!"

"F*ck!"

Qian Yiyun grew angry as she listened to Wang Xing'er, from her soft murmurs in the beginning to her yells targeting An Jiuyue. She almost let a string of curses slip.

Is it wrong for Sister Jiuyue to save her? She's even blamed for saving someone? What kind of world is this?

“You’re taking her kindness for granted! Go and die if you really think Sister Jiuyue made a mistake in saving you. The Cascade River is so deep. You can jump into it. Go!”

“You... you’re so vicious!” Wang Xing’er paled.

I’m living well now. I don’t want to die. I just want the village to take me in again. What’s wrong with that?

Will they only be happy if I die? As expected, there are no good people in the An Clan Village!

Qian Yiyun was amused. “Am I as vicious as you? You wanted to kill everyone in the village, yet you still have the cheek to call me vicious?”

What kind of person is she? Does she think that everyone else is wrong except her? That’s ridiculous.

“In my opinion, we shouldn’t waste our breath on her. We can just chase her away.”

“Yes, Miss Qian is right.”

No one was in the mood to argue with Wang Xing’er anymore. They started chasing her away with their clubs.

Wang Xing’er did not want to leave at first, but everyone could no longer suppress their anger. They swung their clubs at her, causing her to scream.

In the end, she had no choice but to leave.

Qian Yiyun looked at the bag Wang Xing’er had left behind and asked, “Sister Jiuyue, what about this bag?”

An Jiuyue looked at the bag and then the Chief and the Junior Officer.

“Chief, Junior Officer, please carry this bag elsewhere with a stick and burn it. As for this place... I’ll bring some lime later and sprinkle it here.

“Everyone should collect the water flowing down the rocks instead from tomorrow onwards. Although it’ll be a little slower, it’s still a precaution. We’ll do this for a few days and wait until the water flows through after a week.”

“Okay,” the Junior Officer replied and looked at the Chief.

The Chief sighed and shook his head helplessly. “This is the only way.”

After everyone left, An Jiuyue took Lu’er back into her arms and coaxed him for a while.

“Come, Lu’er, let’s go home.”

Lu’er looked at An Jiuyue and stammered, “Mother, bunny, bunny.”

“Bunny?” An Jiuyue’s eyes lit up.

Is this little guy missing his little brother, Xiao Xing?

Bunny was the nickname she had given An Yixing. However, no one in the family addressed him with that nickname. They only called him Xiao Xing’er.

“Your brother, Xiao Xing, isn’t here. We’ll see him when we get home. There’s Xiao Zhou too. They’re all waiting for you at home.”

Although he was already old enough to learn how to speak, he did not know many words. She assumed that his family did not know how to teach him.

He was a pitiful child. She would have to teach him more in the future.

Chapter 129: Can You Sell the Seeds?

Lu'er's eyes reddened when he saw that she was ignoring him.

“Catch?”

An Jiuyue was stunned. She turned and looked around, spotting something white amongst the grass.

“A white rabbit? Alright, I'll catch one for you.”

Qian Yiyun had placed her two wooden buckets under the rocks to collect the water flowing from them when she heard that her sister-in-law was going to catch a rabbit.

She hurried over. “Sister Jiuyue, let me carry Xiao Lu'er.”

“Uncle, are you growing flowers here? Not vegetables? I think it's better to grow vegetables. We can eat them when they grow up. Mother won't have to go to the mountains to gather wild vegetables then.”

Qian Jiyun had completed building the fence.

He even turned over the soil within and around the fence to plant vegetable seeds.

The ring of soil within the fence would be used to plant vegetables and fruits. Meanwhile, the ring outside would be used to plant flowers, according to his wife's wishes.

"Your mother wants to plant sunflowers, instead of vegetables, outside," Qian Jiyun explained as he picked up Zheng'er and Rong'er.

"What's a sunflower?" Zheng'er asked.

They had never heard of it.

What's a sunflower? Is it pretty?

"A sunflower is... a very beautiful flower. They're very big and beautiful. When the flowers wither in the autumn, there will be sunflower seeds. Have you eaten sunflower seeds?" Qian Jiyun asked.

They thought for a moment, then shook their heads. "No."

Qian Jiyun chuckled. He forgot that the two little ones were still young. They would definitely choke on seeds and nuts.

"Then you'll be able to eat it in the future. Are you happy about that?" he asked.

"I'm happy." Zheng'er nodded and clapped.

"Can you sell the seeds?" Rong'er asked.

Qian Jiyun turned around silently and looked at Rong'er. He could tell that Rong'er would grow up prudent with money.

He did not even think about eating the sunflower seeds—he was thinking about how to earn money off them!

Moreover, they had yet to plant the seeds.

“We can. But there won’t be many since I can only plant them outside the fence. I’ll have to plant a lot more if you want to sell them for money,” he said.

We have to nurture his talents well. He’ll definitely be able to enter the Ministry of Revenue in the future, right?

“I see.”

When Rong’er heard that there were too few melon seeds to be sold, he immediately wilted visibly.

“Little rabbit, little rabbit, Mother.” Zheng’er jerked in Qian Jiyun’s arms suddenly, excitement written all over his face.

Qian Jiyun turned around and saw An Jiuyue carrying Lu’er, who held a snow-white rabbit in his arms.

“Be careful. I’ll let you down. You can go and find Xiao Lu’er yourself.”

He squatted down and put them down, following behind as they ran over.

“You were there for so long just to catch rabbits?” he asked.

“Mhm,” An Jiuyue replied softly and placed Lu’er down so that he could walk on his own.

He was now walking steadily after a few days of practice. He could catch up to Zheng’er and Rong’er as long as they did not run too quickly.

“Rabbits with white fur are rare on this mountain. It’ll be great if we can catch a few more. I’ll try my luck in the deep mountains tomorrow and make you a shawl,” Qian Jiyun said.

Chapter 130: Definitely Unfilial

An Jiuyue glanced at the three children playing around the rabbit happily and pouted.

“Do you think they’ll let you make a shawl?”

She was sure that Zheng’er and the others would cry if he dared to do anything to this rabbit. In fact, they would never acknowledge him as their biological father.

Qian Jiyun looked at them and smiled.

That’s right. How can these three little boys bear to turn this rabbit into dinner?

“That’s true. I’ll hunt some red foxes for you the next time I go to Snow Beauty Mountain. Their fur will look good too.”

“Big Brother, I caught a woman who wanted to spread the epidemic disease through the rock spring. She’s too scary,” Qian Yiyun said straightforwardly.

She was carrying the buckets of water and did not hear what her brother was saying.

“What happened?” Qian Jiyun turned to look at An Jiuyue.

Why didn’t she mention this to me? This is not a small matter. The entire village will suffer if things go wrong.

An Jiuyue shrugged and said, "It's a small matter. She's just a crazy woman."

There would always be self-righteous people who believed that everything should revolve around them. Wang Xing'er was a person like that.

Perhaps she had too much of a free and easy life at her parents' and in-laws' house.

She never had to worry about anything. Her parents and husband doted on her. They made her feel that she was the most powerful and that everyone should treat her well.

When someone went against her wishes, she would think that it was their fault. Then, she would think of harming and killing them.

She was just a selfish and timid person.

It was no big deal.

"However... we shouldn't collect our water from the rock spring anymore. We have to go somewhere else."

She realized that the spring was dangerous. People in the other villages might become jealous that nobody in their village had contracted the disease and make an issue out of their water.

They could be just like Wang Xing'er, who had sinister motives after the villagers chased her away.

Her husband and mother-in-law said they had repeatedly begged her to stay before she left. They even told her that she could not return after leaving the village.

However, Wang Xing'er refused to listen to them and insisted on leaving.

"I don't even know if she's filial or unfilial," she remarked, shaking her head.

"Sister Jiuyue, are you talking about Wang Xing'er?" Qian Yiyun walked over and asked.

"Mhm," An Jiuyue responded.

Wang Xing'er could be considered filial as she disregarded her own safety to find her parents.

However, it was also unfilial of her to heartlessly bring her parents, who had contracted the epidemic disease, to her in-laws' house.

She was sentencing her in-laws, husband and children to their deaths.

"Isn't that obvious? She's definitely unfilial!" Qian Yiyun said with certainty.

"You probably don't know about this, Sister Jiuyue. I listened to Wang Xing'er sit here and brag about her family with my own ears. She said that her mother picked up a bracelet which could be sold for more than a hundred taels of silver.

"I think she went to her parents' house for the bracelet her mother found. It was not because she was worried about them."

An Jiuyue was astonished. "Such a thing happened?"

It seemed like Wang Xing'er could not be simply described as vicious. She was totally crazy
