

Special Soldier 1321

Chapter 1321: Qin Yuan has been silent

There was no news at all, and he always felt a little uneasy.

The matter here has come to an end, Qin Yuan and the others are going back to prepare for the normal work of entering space.

On the way back, Qin Yuan was unusually silent. He didn't say a word. He was mainly thinking about the masked man. Although he has no contact with the outside world now, the more he was like this, the more worried he was that the masked man would develop beyond his control.

After all, every time this guy appears, there will always be some other surprises, just like the last time his so-called voice was able to completely control himself.

This was also what he was most worried about. At this moment, the system issued a notification tone.

"Ding! The system releases task rewards."

mission rewards? Qin Yuan was dumbfounded when he heard this, he hasn't received any missions recently, why is there a mission reward all of a sudden? At this time, he entered the system interface in his mind and found that there was indeed a red exclamation mark in the lower right corner.

He clicked on the red exclamation mark, and then another interface appeared. It turned out that the system had already released the task before, but Qin Yuan didn't pay attention at that time, so he chose to ignore it with one click.

And this reward mainly comes from the rewards he obtained from gold, copper ore and silicon elements, totaling 8,000 merit points, which is more than what he earned from completing those tasks before.

Unexpectedly, he has achieved more meritorious service points in technology than he has in other tasks.

This also shows that technology is relatively powerful, just like the space station he developed now, which has made contributions to the future, which is innumerable, and at this moment the system has also released another mission.

"Ding! The host activates the second-floor mission, opens the mission channel, completes the collection of space sampling data, and obtains 30,000 merit points."

It seems that this is not only a task assigned to him by the organization, but he can also get merit points if he completes the system. It happened that during this period of time, he used all the merit pool to exchange for instruments. can be added.

However, with the upgrade of system rewards, the number of times is becoming more and more difficult. If you want to upgrade the system now, you need to have 150,000 merit points to proceed to the next upgrade. Qin Yuan doesn't know what the next upgrade will become. , but now his score is definitely not enough.

But for this he will definitely work hard, as long as he can upgrade to a higher level, then he can have no fear of the masked man. After all, this system is also created by that guy, and it has reached an uncontrollable level. He must Make yourself stronger as soon as possible so that you can protect those around you.

Sitting next to him, Long Xiaoyun saw that Qin Yuan hadn't spoken, and thought he was thinking about what happened just now.

"Some things we have done our best. These people have already been caught, and then we will leave it to them to review. It is a matter of time."

"Yes, it's all a matter of time, and time is really critical now."

Ever since Qin Yuan suffered from taking you from the mask, he wanted to compete for more points and must surpass the masked man. This system made him feel a little uneasy.

As he became stronger, he was worried that he would lose these abilities, but his system was completely tied to himself.

Chapter 1322: strongly demand

In any case, it is impossible to peel off, but there will be a temporary loss of control.

Qin Yuan let out a long sigh of relief, and only hoped that the following matters could be resolved as soon as possible, so that he could get merit points.

A week later, the press conference was successfully held, and everyone in the Yan Kingdom was celebrating. After all, this was of great significance to the Yan Kingdom. They successfully developed their own space station.

And Qin Yuan, as the main hero, naturally sat in the front of the press conference to accept the reporter's interview. No matter in terms of the design drawings or the materials that need to be collected from all aspects, Qin Yuan occupied the dominant position, leading the Let's develop successfully together.

Mr. Zhang looked at Qin Yuan with a smile on his face. He felt that if he could have met Qin Yuan earlier, maybe their space station would have been designed and developed long ago, and how much time would have been wasted.

People from all walks of life were invited to this press conference. Gao Shiwei usually does not need to be present on such occasions, but for some reason, Mr. Zhang also invited him.

But after a while, he realized something was wrong. After all, Mr. Zhang, as the host of the press conference, did not go to the side to introduce the situation, but let his students explain, while Mr. Zhang sat on the side mumbling, talking to himself Some are not.

"I said, Mr. Zhang, you can just tell me what's going on. There's no need to beat around the bush. Just be straightforward with what you want to say. After all, I have something to do later."

"As expected of the captain of the special operations brigade, he does things so vigorously and swiftly. Well, then I'll just say it straight. I want Qin Yuan. You can assign him to our side."

Gao Shiwei had just picked up a cup of tea, before he could drink it, he squirted out a sip of tea, which instantly attracted the attention of some people. He coughed slightly, and then wiped away the water stains.

This guy Qin Yuan is really in demand now, I can't count how many people have come to poach him, doesn't this guy know how to keep a low profile?

"Mr. Zhang, I respect that you are a scientist, but I have to say that I wish he would just borrow it from you. Besides, he is still attached to our combat troops. He is going to be on the front line and complete some special tasks."

"Of course I know this, so I came to ask you for him. Do you want to know how much he has contributed to our technological development this time? That's why I strongly demand that he be devoted to the cause of science and technology. It is really important to be on the front line. It's too dangerous and people like him should be protected."

When Mr. Zhang talked about Qin Yuan, his eyes lit up. He felt that this was a rare genius, and he must seize the opportunity.

It can be said that most of the credit this time belongs to Qin Yuan, but he didn't expect that this young man was very low-key. Instead, he said that this credit belongs to everyone, so there is this press conference.

Originally, Mr. Zhang planned to use him as the main name, but Qin Yuan refused directly. He said that without everyone's efforts, he would not be able to achieve today's success.

It is precisely this point that makes Mr. Zhang value Qin Yuan even more. Although this person is young, he is not only talented, but also knows how to behave.

Just as he was eloquently explaining the truth to Gao Shiwei next to him, Gao Shiwei suddenly got up and quickly pretended to applaud.

Chapter 1323: Collect the whereabouts of the robot

"That old Mr. Zhang, I remembered that I still have a meeting in the military region. If this is the case, I can't accompany you. Let's talk about anything later. Anyway, there is still time later."

Before Mr. Zhang could react, Gao Shiwei slapped his  and slipped away. This guy ran really fast.

It seems that we can only talk about it next time, and at this moment Gao Shiwei returned to the car, he hurriedly asked the secretary to prepare the transfer order, as long as Qin Yuan's work is over, he will transfer this kid back as soon as possible.

This can't be snatched away by others, otherwise their red blood cell team will have no backbone in the future. No matter what, they still have to take the lead in the task of these years. Although there are red blood cell team and wolf warrior team, but to be honest, Most of the credit was given by Qin Yuan.

After the press conference, Qin Yuan could be regarded as a celebrity at the aerospace base. On the way back, a staff member in uniform chased him up.

"Professor Qin, I have a question that I'm not very clear about, and I want to ask you."

Hearing this title, Qin Yuan felt dumbfounded. When did he become a professor? But whatever they call it, it's just a title anyway.

This staff member had some doubts about the measurement ratio, and he came here to ask for advice. I have to say that Qin Yuan's ability is really strong, and he is very clear about the dosage and ratio of each piece.

He spoke directly and meticulously. Qin Yuan spoke very seriously, and the people beside him also listened carefully. Other people walking slowly on the road also stopped and began to listen to Qin Yuan's explanation. After all, everyone is an aerospace base. The staff are very interested in such technological research.

The press conference here has also ended, and they are preparing to carry out the mission to space the next day.

Long Xiaoyun was very excited. This was something he couldn't even imagine before. She didn't expect to go to heaven. She also understood that all of this was due to Qin Yuan, whether it was for her or for the entire aerospace base. In terms of today's achievements, all of this is inseparable from Qin Yuan.

Yang Chongming was very nervous at the beginning, it was an unknown place after all, and he was worried that the United States would engage in other conspiracies on the International Space Station, but now they have their own space station, so these problems no longer exist.

In the evening, Mr. Zhang personally called them to the meeting room, emphasizing once again the content of their work this time, they need to collect data in space.

On the one hand, they need to collect the composition data in the air and bring them back for analysis. On the other hand, they need to go to the moon, collect soil and rocks, and bring back as many materials as possible.

Speaking of this, Mr. Zhang suddenly became serious, "There is also a launch vehicle that we launched six years ago. It was successfully launched at that time, and it was accompanied by a robot."

That was when the collection robot relied on him at that time. They still got a lot of data, but unfortunately, problems occurred after the collection robot worked for three months.

The collection robot suddenly lost all contact, and the picture imaging was also very blurry, and then there was no picture imaging. Up to now, the collection robot's whereabouts, they don't know that the cost of such a collection robot is as high as 3000 Ten thousand.

Chapter 1324: successfully lifted off

When Yang Chongming heard the cost, he opened his mouth instantly. This is too exaggerated, a broken robot has such a high price.

"What kind of robot is this, why is it so expensive?"

"This acquisition robot is extraordinary. If you think about it, we can achieve signal reception at such a distance. The most expensive thing is not the robot itself, but the chip inside it."

Mr. Zhang recalled that the robot suddenly lost its signal at that time. They wondered if they were hindered during the collection process, but they were quickly rejected by everyone.

"Could it be that the battery ran out during use, or did something suddenly break down?"

Mr. Zhang shook his head. This possibility is almost impossible. After all, they have done many researches at the base before. Using the most advanced technological materials, it is impossible to have problems after only three months of use.

In addition, they have already operated in the usual simulation training, and there have never been any problems.

At this time, Qin Yuan came to his senses, "You mean to say that you suspect someone else has tampered with you,"

"Yes, that's exactly what it means, and the Americans are also there, and they are also doing some sampling work. There may be such a coincidence."

So this time, Qin Yuan and the others not only had to complete the collection work, but also found the chip of the collection robot, and successfully brought the chip back, because the chip was the most expensive one.

"This is not a problem. If we go to collect it, we can take a look at it."

It's just a pity that there is no coordinate point, so they can only look at it from the back, but Mr. Zhang said that the collection robot will not be too far away from their satellite.

Hearing this, Yang Chongming felt a little puzzled. Since there is already an insurance company, can't he find something strange from the satellite? After all, there is a camera on the collection robot, so there should be one on the satellite.

Mr. Zhang just smiled helplessly, then got up and turned on the computer, and then a video was played in front of them. This video had never been made public before, and the collection robot was doing sampling work from the beginning.

Immediately afterwards, a strange roar was heard, as if something was approaching, followed by a sudden burst of snowflakes on the satellite camera, and the entire video was in a dark and no signal situation in the next second.

"According to our repeated detection and analysis, this strange roar should be caused by other flying objects approaching us. We suspect that it may be caused by the United States or other countries."

"However, this time is relatively long. If you can go up and see if you can, then bring the chip back. The most important thing is to ensure your safety. Your safety is the first priority."

Qin Yuan nodded and said that this is no problem, it is a small task for him, but when Mr. Zhang just mentioned the chip, the system also issued a reminder.

"Gene Age"

"Ding! Congratulations to the host for triggering a specific task, finding the machine chip, successfully bringing the chip back and obtaining 50,000 merit points."

Qin Yuan was a little surprised. Although the cost of this small chip is expensive, it actually has 50,000 merit points when brought back, but each time the reward is higher as long as the merit value is higher.

Chapter 1325: Before changing it, he didn't even dare to think about it.

The more it can explain a problem, the more difficult the task will be.

He couldn't help being a little worried about this time, it would be fine if he was alone, but this time he had to keep up with Long Xiaoyun and the others, but no matter what, he would definitely protect everyone's safety.

They should have a good rest tonight. After all, they will prepare for the lift-off tomorrow morning. Long Xiaoyun was a little excited. She tossed and turned and couldn't sleep. She got up and came to the window, looking at the distant sky.

It would be a lie to say that she is not nervous. She has performed many tasks before, but she has never been so nervous.

After all, they have to explore unknown areas. Although their physical indicators have been completely simulated to adapt to life in space during the training in recent months, simulation and reality are two different things after all.

At this time, Qin Yuan slowly came to Long Xiaoyun's side, "Why don't you sleep at this time? Tomorrow you have to maintain sufficient energy."

"I don't know either. I have also performed various tasks in foreign countries before, but this time I am really nervous. I will adjust it slowly."

"Don't worry, no matter what, I'm behind you, so leave everything to me."

Long Xiaoyun nodded, as long as Qin Yuan is there, the matter can be solved perfectly, and the collection task will be completed smoothly.

In this way, they were ready to go the next morning, and the whole aviation base was in a tense state, everyone was checking the instruments and debugging the equipment.

Mr. Zhang even got up early in the morning. He arrived at the base after 4 o'clock and started the preparatory work.

In fact, there is nothing to prepare. After all, the preparations have been completed a few months ago. Now that they have their own space station, they no longer need to ask others for help.

On the day of the launch, the U.S. side pretended to call to congratulate them on their success. Qin Yuan snorted coldly. This was a weasel giving a New Year greeting to a chicken. He had no good intentions. This time, he hoped that they would not interfere with each other in the future.

You must know that during this launch, there are three Americans and two astronauts from the Xiaomao country in the other International Space Station. Besides these people, there is also the country A that first took their place.

They are all inside the International Space Station built by the Americans, but I hope they don't have to worry that they have their own space station, so they don't interfere with each other.

The ground work has also been prepared, and the data of each platform has been monitored. Everyone is looking forward to this moment. This is the first launch in six years.

Qin Yuan and the others have already made preparations in the cabin. Even though he has experienced many battles, he is very excited at this moment. This is not going abroad casually, but going to space. Before doing it, he didn't even dare to think about it.

Long Xiaoyun breathed heavily beside her, trying to adjust her emotions and let herself relax as a whole.

Because they were all wearing oxygen masks, they couldn't talk, so Qin Yuan could only tighten Long Xiaoyun's hand to tell her not to be nervous.

Yavin library

As the people outside had started to count down, Qin Yuan also saw countdown numbers appearing on the big screen.

"Three two one!"

As the countdown ended, they also lifted off with the launch vehicle, and a puff of smoke rose from the first side.

Inside the base, Mr. Zhang was so excited that he shed tears.

Chapter 1326: successfully entered space

He finally waited for this moment for a full six years. If you want to count it, it can be said that he has been carrying out this research for more than 20 years.

Everyone's heart was in their throats. After all, the carrier rocket that had just lifted off was nothing important and completely separated the cabin. That was the real success. Everyone was staring at everything in the sky.

Yang Chongming inside the airport was very nervous. He was very worried about other situations. After all, there were failure cases abroad.

He felt that his back was completely soaked in sweat, but he couldn't do anything now. At this moment, he suddenly felt difficult to breathe. This was because he was too nervous, which caused some hypoxia. It is indeed equipped with a certain oxygen device, but the oxygen supply is relatively small.

Read novel

He wanted to speak, but found that he couldn't make gestures at all, and he couldn't move his hands anymore. Fortunately, Qin Yuan, who was sitting opposite, saw his situation, and at this moment, Qin Yuan unlocked his safety lock.

Seeing this scene, he quickly shook his head desperately. After all, it is now in the take-off stage, and the entire cabin is shaking non-stop. If it is unstable at this time, a collision is likely to occur.

But Qin Yuan tried his best to stabilize his figure directly, which he did not expect. After all, Qin Yuan couldn't just watch him lack of oxygen like that. Stay like this before it's too late.

This turbulent state was nothing to Qin Yuan. Long Xiaoyun stared at him nervously from behind. Qin Yuan quickly came to Yang Chongming's side, and then adjusted the oxygen flow on the back of the flight suit for him. Only at this time did Yang Chongming let out a long breath. He was panting heavily inside the spacesuit, feeling relieved.

In addition, inside the base, they saw everything that happened in the cabin. After all, the equipment on their bodies was connected to the base. As long as there was something wrong with their bodies, the machine would also send out an alarm. At this moment, an alarm bell rang in the base, and everyone There is no way, even if they want to help Yang Chongming now, there is nothing they can do.

"What should I do? Mr. Zhang, there seems to be something wrong with his space suit, and the oxygen flow is not enough. This will last for three minutes at most."

"Now we have nothing to do, can't we stop? This is impossible."

Mr. Zhang didn't know what to do at the moment, because this situation was also unexpected. They had done countless experiments before, but they didn't expect that something went wrong in the most basic link.

Fortunately, Qin Yuan made a move at this time, but Mr. Zhang became nervous instantly. Under such circumstances, even a slight collision might kill Qin Yuan.

Zhang Lao's heart was raised in his throat. Fortunately, after the adjustment of love, he quickly returned to his position and buckled the safety seat. At this time, the third step of separation was about to begin.

At this point, everyone is cheering. After all, there is no problem now. It can be said that it was a very successful launch. They successfully sent people into space.

Big and small news are being broadcast, and people all over the country are paying attention to this matter. When they learned of the successful launch, everyone cheered.

After successfully entering space,

Chapter 1327: can't see anything

The entire space capsule gradually stabilized, and Qin Yuan and the others began to take off the outer space suits as instructed.

The picture here can only be seen from the base. At the moment, He Chenguang and the others are paying attention to the launch. Everyone is celebrating the successful launch.

"Hahaha, I didn't expect it. Brother Qin is really getting better and better. This time, it's really a god. It was just a joke before and it really came true."

"What is this? Our dragon team is amazing. This is the only female astronaut, and that's the only one in the country."

"Yes, yes, we are now waiting for their return. Good news, we will help them celebrate together then."

Gao Shiwei next to him was also relieved. Before the success, everyone's heart was tense. Now it's good if they succeed, and the next step will be left to themselves.

"My Healing Game"

Yang Chongming, who took off his spacesuit, let out a long breath. At this moment, they were completely in a state of weightlessness, floating in the entire space capsule.

"I really thank you so much just now, Captain Qin. If it weren't for you, I might really have an accident. At that moment, I was suffocated."

"Why are you being polite? Besides, we are teammates and should help each other."

"But I'm really curious, how did you notice that something was wrong with me? The distance between us is still relatively far."

"I'm watching each of you at any time, don't worry, no matter what happens in the future, I will solve it for you with me."

I have to say this sentence is really very safe, and then several people started to assign work, they started to debug the data, and now they are collecting the air composition in space.

The main thing is to analyze these contents, which is a long process, and others are responsible for monitoring some data.

Long Xiaoyun is more curious about where is the International Space Station of this American? She sees through the thick space through the glass, and it's so dark outside that she can't see anything clearly.

"It should not be very far from us, and their International Space Station is very close to their satellite point."

"I really feel very lucky to have our own space station. This is our own place, and we can do whatever we want, so that we don't have to go to their place and feel like we are depending on others."

At this moment, the astronauts who were talking about a small Mao country sneezed, and they were indeed talking about them.

They are now on the International Space Station established by the Americans, and all internal priorities must be based on each of them. To put it bluntly, they can only pick up what is left, including going out to collect some specimens.

Most of the collection has to be handed over to the American people, while the American astronauts stay leisurely inside the warehouse, and only need to collect ordinary data. They have to work hard every day to go outside, You must know that going outside once is accompanied by danger.

One of the astronauts of country A had a problem before, so they sent two astronauts up again this time, because their spacesuits were found to be damaged when they went out to collect, and their internal organs were directly damaged under external pressure. broken.

So every time they go out, they are accompanied by danger. Although they have worked hard and collected most of the specimens, there is no way to do it. They are in other people's territory.

Chapter 1328: The form of live broadcast

Astronauts from Xiaomao brought the soil samples they had just collected. This time they planned to keep some of them privately because they detected something different.

However, because there are no accurate instruments and equipment on the outside, it can only be judged by the naked eye. The soil samples this time are very different from the previous ones. The main reason is that this thing is very scarce, and only a small piece was found in the place where they collected it. .

As soon as they entered the cabin, the American astronauts couldn't wait to ask them to hand over what they had in hand. This was not the case before. Before, they allocated a part to the American side.

Just when the two were puzzled, the American astronaut next to him snorted coldly, "You two really know how to hide things, we saw them clearly just now, and I knew that you people from small countries are always so dishonest. "

"That's how they are fundamentally, always doing sneaky things and it's really disrespectful."

The two people who spoke laughed unabashedly, and the people next to Xiaomao felt very uncomfortable. Although they wanted to defend themselves, they didn't dare to say anything more. After all, this is their space station. They didn't even have a chance to come up once.

They could only reluctantly hand over the things in their hands. The American astronauts' eyes widened instantly when they saw it. This is a new discovery. This is the first time they have discovered this colored soil sample.

The equipment here in the United States is very advanced, and they can't wait to take it into the internal experimental device for analysis.

The astronauts in Xiaomao still didn't give up. After all, this was something they took a risk to get. He hurried to catch up with the money, and then asked:

"We have already handed over the item, so can we know what the specific ingredients are? This will also facilitate our next collection."

"Hehe, is it time for you to negotiate terms with us? You don't deserve to wait at all, wait until the results come out."

"Well, it depends on our mood."

After finishing speaking, the two of them entered the airtight cabin, which required a password, and the rest of them didn't know it at all.

The people from country a also came back, and another American astronaut took the soil samples from them.

"If you're being honest, you'll go out and collect again after two hours."

"Okay, okay, no problem, you don't need to go out today, just leave everything to us."

Looking at the flattering faces of Country A, the people of Xiaomao Country look contemptuous, and they work as their labor force for free all day long. They have been here for more than a month, but they haven't made much progress.

They all got some basic patterns. You must know that the country spent a lot of energy and financial resources in order to send them up. As a result, they are all working for others now.

Country a knows that their strength is relatively weak, and they can only rely on their space station to come up in the future, so no matter what, even if they collect weak soil samples, they will hand them over. This is another kind of gesture.

Xiaomao Country doesn't think so. They gradually have their own ideas. The main reason is that the country takes advantage of too much. From the beginning, they only need to hand over a small amount of things, and later they demand more and more. Many, they need a share of the various substances they collect.

Chapter 1329: Not enough soil samples

So this also strongly aroused their dissatisfaction. The two returned to their cabins and began to discuss countermeasures.

"Today's efforts were in vain again. The main reason is that the equipment they provided is faulty. It seems that our every move is under their surveillance."

"Panasonic, did you just find out now? I have already found out that this problem is wrong, but what can we do, we can only rely on them."

"We can't go on like this, and we can't afford to lose our time like this, and we can't stay here forever, we have to show results before we can go back."

"Tomorrow we will set off earlier, and then go out to collect more, so that we can leave some less for us."

The two nodded. They could only do this at the moment. It would definitely not work if they fought hard, and they couldn't offend them. Besides, if they were found hiding something next time, maybe they would make some noise. They are a little unconvinced.

Later, the American astronauts directly lowered the gravity in the cabin while they were resting, so that they couldn't even breathe, and these were just a little bit of movement.

This also made them understand that this is their territory, and they can only have the final say on what they want to do, so they can only become obedient.

The United States is analyzing the soil. It will take time to analyze, but they have also detected some new substances.

"I really didn't expect these two guys to be so inconspicuous, but the things they brought back are quite useful. The ingredients in them are very similar to Western Elements."

"You mean the western element used in the hydrogen bomb?"

"That's right. I specialized in weapon dynamics before. This is absolutely no problem. It seems that it can be replaced. If it can be replaced, it will save us a lot of resources."

"Hahaha, that's really great. Hurry up and study it, confirm it first, and then send it to the base. If there is no problem with the data analysis, let those two guys go out and collect more tomorrow."

At this time, the machine that was researched just now suddenly issued an alarm, mainly because the ingredients were too small, and it stopped after half of the detection.

"Damn it, there are not enough soil samples this time, we must collect some more."

"What's the problem? Anyway, we can let those two go out if we don't go out."

"But they have just come in. If we let them out now, will they not be happy?"

"What do they do? You must know that they even come here with our consent. This is also our territory. Why should they?"

This American astronaut looks aloof. In his opinion, the lives of those people are not worth mentioning. After all, every time they go out, their bodies will definitely be affected. Some harmful ingredients do exist.

After all, this is an unknown field. Although they are wearing heavy spacesuits, the breath of the outside world will still penetrate to some extent.

They took advantage of their own advantages and kept letting people from the other two countries go out for collection. From the beginning to the end, they only went out in front of the camera once.

This is why many astronauts will have some irreversible damage to their bodies after entering space, and they will definitely be affected under the pressure of such gravity for a long time

Chapter 1330: don't care

The two people in Xiaomao Country were about to take a rest, when suddenly the cabin door was opened directly. There was no privacy at all, mainly because this was also their territory, and they had nothing to do.

The two wanted to get angry, but they could only hold back and climbed up with a smile.

"What's the matter?"

"Nonsense, will I come to you if there is nothing to do? Now you two immediately change your clothes and go outside to collect the soil samples collected today."

Both of them were taken aback when they heard this, what's going on? They just came back. Today's collection task is over. They have been outside for more than two hours, and they must not go out again.

"Did I hear you right? The current situation is very unfavorable for us to go out. In addition, we just went out today, and now we are going out again. We simply cannot bear the pressure."

"Only you know the exact location of that soil sample, plus I let you out now, can't you get out? This is the price for you to be able to come in here, otherwise why do you think you should bring you up?"

"you!"

Panasonic next to him couldn't stand listening anymore, he clenched his fists and wanted to rush up, but was held back by the people on the side.

"What? Are you still unconvinced by me and want to attack me? Yes, come and attack me directly. I want to see what strength you guys from the little Mao country have."

The people next to him also quickly put on a smiling face, and pulled Panasonic firmly, "Don't worry about him, he just didn't have a good rest today, isn't he just going out? It's no problem, let's change clothes and go out now."

"It's almost the same. I tell you to go out immediately, otherwise our experiment will be delayed, and it will be impossible to come up next time."

"Okay okay."

Although they were scolded and threatened by others, their attitudes could only be so humble. After the American astronaut went out, Panasonic threw away the hands of the people next to him.

"I really don't know what they are barking at. Let us risk our lives to go out again and again. Don't these  know what it means to go out? Now they don't care about anything."

"Don't talk about it now, put on your clothes and equipment and get ready to go out, go out early, come back early, and collect some as soon as possible."

"But you know, we found very little in the first place. Besides, if we go out now, isn't that really risking our lives?"

"Then what do you think we can do? Our country has made several times of efforts to allow us to come up. Although we have suffered some suffering here, but if you want to research the available substances, you don't need to ask for them in the future." It's them!"

Speaking of this, Panasonic sighed silently, and had no choice but to go over and put on the equipment before going out of the warehouse for the second time.

They lived in dire straits here, and were constantly squeezed by the Americans, while Qin Yuan and the others lived more comfortably on the other side, after all, it was their own space station.

The cooperation of the three people is also very good. They don't have much work now. In addition to checking the equipment today, they are connected to the camera on the ground and have a live broadcast for the whole people.

After all, this is the first time in six years that they have successfully launched a manned rocket spacecraft again, and they have the only female astronaut.
