

Special Soldier 1331

Chapter 1331: 1 other identity

It can be described as a lot of attention, and this time it is his own space station, so many people are paying attention to Mr. Zhang and have been waiting for them to debug the equipment and connect to the ground.

Yang Chongming also completely relaxed at this time. He felt that the work here was not as scary as he had imagined before. Before, he imagined that space was a bit too complicated, but now he felt that he was very safe in the cabin.

"Captain Qin really didn't expect it to be so smooth this time. Every step we took seemed to be within our expectations. I don't think it was as difficult as the training."

"After all, we have to simulate various unexpected situations in training, so it will increase the difficulty, but when we actually enter this airport, there will be no problem, and everything will be done step by step."

"My side is ready. Are the devices on your two sides connected?"

Long Xiaoyun has already taken the lead in making preparations, and now only the three of them need to work together to connect directly to the ground.

At the moment, the ground is also doing intense debugging work, this is the first time it will be shown in the form of live broadcast, and they couldn't even imagine it before.

The camera data can only be transmitted to the ground by astronauts, but now with the development of technology and the Internet, they can already broadcast live in real time and share the daily life of astronauts in the space capsule anytime, anywhere.

Mr. Zhang's hair is gray, but he is very energetic. This is the scene he has been looking forward to for so many years.

"Xiao Liu, you must do a good job in security work, and there must be no disconnection. As long as there is no problem with them, we must do a good job on the ground, understand? This is something that people all over the country are watching. ."

"Mr. Zhang, don't worry. We tuned it last night. There is absolutely no problem with the frequency here. Wait for them to connect in later, and we will start directly."

Mr. Zhang nodded, and with the end of the countdown, they will all enter the same frequency.

The three people in the space capsule were also ready, Qin Yuan turned to look at the two of them, "Okay, get ready, we will be on camera next."

With the end of the countdown, the screen has been successfully connected, their images have been successfully transmitted to the ground, and all the people with their hands in front of the electronic devices have seen their every move.

Gao Shiwei was even more excited. After all, Qin Yuan not only represented their military region this time, but now he changed another identity, representing the people of Yan Kingdom.

The three of them entered the scene at the very beginning. They seemed to be in a very good state of mind, and Qin Yuan began to speak on behalf of him.

"Good morning everyone, I'm Qin Yuan, and I'm currently inside our Yan Country space station, giving you the next live speech."

Speaking of which, the people who are watching the video are very excited. This is their own space station, and it is really promising.

And at this moment, not only Yan Kingdom is receiving it, but the news media in the United States has also begun to report this matter. After all, this is the first time that Yan Kingdom has successfully ascended into space in six years.

The American side paid more attention to this matter. In a large conference room, Qin Yuan's picture began to be played on the screen, and several core leaders of the American country sat below.

Chapter 1332: to visit

"I really didn't expect that this made them research it. Under our strong obstruction, they managed to get the supplies."

"In fact, the material aspect is the simplest. It's not surprising that they want to get materials. The most important thing is how do they know the proportions, formulas and accurate drawings."

"You mean someone tipped them off?"

After all, it was the first time for the United States to independently develop the International Space Station, but now only six years later, Yan Country has caught up. Judging from the current picture, their space station is more advanced and spacious than the interior of the United States.

Moreover, it took Yanuo a long time before they started to invest in research. If it is considered real research, it has only been more than 20 years.

"It can be said that our space station and manned spaceflight technology have been tested and researched many years ago. It has been carried out for nearly 70 years."

No matter in terms of time or technical means, they are definitely ahead of Yan Guo, but they did not expect Yan Guo to make a big leap in just six years this time.

For some high-ranking technicians in the United States, they simply don't believe that Yan Country can have such a superior technology in such a short period of time.

"So I very much suspect that there should be other gaps in our internal affairs, or that one of our technologies has been completely leaked."

"Otherwise, with those guys, even if they study for ten or eight years, it is impossible to produce such results. They are completely stealing our technology."

Just when the technician was speaking generously, a person next to him stood up and interrupted him, "Hehe, okay, don't say something that can only deceive yourself here, you should also think about it, Yan Kingdom is now It is not the country that people bullied decades ago."

"What do you mean by that? What exactly do you want to do? Why do you want to help them speak?"

"I'm not trying to help anyone, but I think we should be consistent with the outside world now, and we should take a longer-term view. We shouldn't indulge in our own lies. Think about it for yourself, our technology can do what they want What's the current situation?"

"this..."

The researcher who was talking didn't know what to say for a while, although he had previously thought that Yan Country had stolen their technology, of course, after thinking about it carefully, it had nothing to do with their technology.

On the contrary, their technology is more advanced and brilliant than theirs, including the design of several space capsules. This researcher pointed out their strengths while talking.

"Look carefully at the International Space Station. Although it's just such a short live video, you can see the equipment behind them. These equipment are another reference for us. Our equipment is carried up by ourselves. But, they're directly inside the space station."

From this aspect, it can also be imagined that the technology of Yan Kingdom is very advanced, and all their equipment and space capsules are integrated into one. This is a technical difficulty that they have not yet been able to overcome.

This time, the people present are not calm anymore. Some of them are very unwilling to admit the fact that Yan Kingdom has gradually become stronger, and even surpassed them.

Chapter 1333: increased difficulty

"Mr. Smell, according to what you mean, what should we do now?"

"Since their space station is not far from us, why don't we let our personnel go over to negotiate, and then in the name of visiting, we can go to learn and see what's inside their space station?"

Although everyone is not happy to say this, but no matter what, they have to admit that Yan Guo's space station is indeed more advanced than them, and this is what they have to learn.

In this way, Qin Yuan and the others were conducting a live broadcast explanation, mainly talking about some small experiments in space, and everyone's attention was attracted by Long Xiaoyun next to him, after all, he was the only female astronaut.

This is something that Americans have noticed. Over the years, they have done countless experiments, screening among ten thousand people, but none of them successfully served and targeted them. They did have female astronauts before, but they only went up. After more than ten hours, it came down.

I didn't expect Yan Guo to do it so easily. In this live speech, Long Xiaoyun occupies an important position, and she is responsible for explaining various small skills.

Millions of people from Yan Kingdom, who are watching at the moment, flocked to the live broadcast room. In the past, netizens also left messages below, and everyone's messages were also very positive.

"It seems that our Yan country is still stronger, Yan country, come on!"

"This is our only female astronaut, it's not easy! Come on!"

The big screen was full of cheering and shouting words, and Mr. Zhang was very excited when he saw it. After so many years, he finally saw this glorious time with his own eyes again.

Now more than an hour has passed since the live broadcast, and it is time for them to download the broadcast. Everyone said goodbye reluctantly. After all, this is the only time to connect with the ground.

Although the time is short, after all, they still have other collection tasks to collect, and this time it is only a preliminary live broadcast, and there will be many such opportunities in the future.

Inside the space station in the United States, the two people from Xiaomao had no choice but to come out to collect. But this time they searched for a long time, and continued to search in the place where the soil was found last time, but there was nothing like that.

They brought back all the patterns when they collected them for the first time, and now they want to find them unless they dig a little bit with equipment, but this also increases the difficulty.

After all, this is in outer space. Although they are standing on the surface, they are still weightless. Many things are not so easy to operate, and they are wearing heavy spacesuits.

It took them more than forty minutes to come out, but they still couldn't find it. Panasonic was a little out of breath, and he felt his chest was pressed tightly like a big stone.

After all, the time they came out and some external factors, although protected by Yuhang Lake, this is only temporary.

"Reporting to the main station, we still haven't found the soil samples, and now apply to return to the warehouse, and wait for the next meal out before continuing to search."

After all, they really can't hold on any longer, and if they continue like this, it will cause serious damage to their bodies. It's better to go back as soon as possible. Unexpectedly, the astronauts in the United States didn't give them any chance at all.

Chapter 1334: Just eat and do nothing

Instead, a death order was issued, so that they must find the same, otherwise it would be impossible to open the warehouse door for them.

"No matter what, you must stay outside to find the pattern we need to study, otherwise it is impossible to come back!"

Panasonic hit the ground with a fist, these  were really so ruthless, at this moment, Takeuchi next to him suddenly gasped more, because the headsets of the two of them were connected together.

"How are you doing?"

"It's okay, it's just that I was outside for a long time, and I also felt the pain, and I couldn't breathe."

"Then what should we do now? These  won't open the door for us!"

Panasonic turned his head, he had no choice but to hurry up and find that damned soil sample, otherwise none of them would be able to go back.

But this place is too wide, he kept looking for it, and the surface was the same here, as his mood became more and more tense, the oxygen reached another indicator, and an alarm sound came from his headset. sound,

He turned his head and saw Takeuchi collapsed on the ground in a half-prone posture, and he ran over quickly. At this moment, Takeuchi collapsed on the ground, panting heavily.

"It's really not possible, this place..."

"Stop talking, adjust yourself, I'll go out and look for it now!"

Takeuchi originally wanted to persevere, but this is not a matter of persistence. He really has no strength at all and can only lay on the ground. It can be said that the people inside the space station have seen it, but they have no connection. Put on a show.

"I don't know what these two guys are doing. Do they think they can fool them like this? It's ridiculous to use such a pitiful trick after only going out for a long time. They are worthy of the people of Xiaomao Country."

"Hahaha, so do they think that I will open the door for them with such a trick? This is absolutely impossible."

The few people in the space capsule are laughing, not caring about the people outside them at all? Only people in country a know that they have been out for nearly three hours in the morning, and their bodies have reached another limit. If they are allowed to go out now, there will definitely be problems with their bodies.

But at the moment they didn't dare to say anything, after all, they belonged to others, and talking too much would cause them to burn themselves, so they could only sit in the back silently, hoping that they would find the soil samples as soon as possible.

At this time, a broadcast came from the headset. They found the pattern and asked to return to the warehouse. The American astronaut smiled contemptuously. He knew that these two guys were just pretending, so they got it back.

As soon as the door was opened, Matsushita helped Takeuchi to enter quickly, took off the heavy spacesuit, and Takeuchi was able to breathe. He quickly took over the oxygen mask and took a deep breath. Outside, he felt that his entire chest was about to burst up.

The American astronauts came over and just looked at them coldly, "Where is the pattern you just mentioned? Hand it over!"

A trace of disgust flashed in Matsushita's eyes, but there was no other way but to please hand over the patterns in his hand. Fortunately, at the last critical moment, he found some, although not many, but enough to make them come back.

"Why is this so? Are you being lazy? You * who only eat and do nothing!"

Chapter 1335: condescending attitude

Matsushita only thinks that the guys who don't work are ironic. They are obviously them, okay? Besides, because of such a small thing, his teammates almost had an accident. He really doesn't want to care about anything now, he just wants to rush up and beat this guy hard, but for the sake of the overall situation, he can't do that.

"I'm very sorry, I only found this, there are very few things, and I will go further afield tomorrow."

Hearing what he said, the American astronaut gave up, and then took all the things away without any reservations about them. Takeuchi shook his head beside him. Now he is physically injured, but he has nothing Method.

"I didn't expect them to be so cruel. We can say that what we bought with our lives was taken away so easily."

"Look at you, I'll go tomorrow, and you can rest here."

"Absolutely not. If you go alone tomorrow, there will be fewer things collected. They will definitely not agree."

"But your body is more important, so be it. Tomorrow I will tell them that you will never get out of this state. Don't you want to go back?"

Both of them were silent up to this point, who of them didn't want to go back? Now I have no choice but to bow my head and be a man.

At this moment, the Americans are doing research, and on the other side they have also received an order from below, asking them to visit the space station of Yan Kingdom.

"Major Michel, look, this is the latest order from the headquarters."

"I really don't know what they are thinking down there. Why should we go to their space station? It stands to reason that they should come to visit us. Why should we give them this opportunity."

"No way, this is an order from the headquarters, and it is asking us to go there as soon as possible tomorrow, and it is said to be a visit, but in fact, let us find out their internal situation as soon as possible."

Michelle didn't care at all, he felt that those Yan people could come up with something, and they boasted that they were going to learn, he just thought it was funny.

But this is an order from the headquarters after all, and he has to carry it out. He can only go tomorrow to see that they have already applied to Heyan Country after get off work. After all, to enter their space station, they must first go through their consultations.

On the American side, they always had a superior attitude, thinking that no matter what, Yan Kingdom would agree.

Soon, in Zhang Lao's base, they received a diplomatic visit application from the United States. Zhang Lao just thought it was funny. He didn't know what the  these guys were doing. Ever since they said they would start researching the space station, various situations continued .

"In my opinion, we are more active in researching the space station, but they are more active than us."

"Who knows what bad idea these guys are going to come up with, I don't think it's worth paying attention to."

"It's impossible to ignore. After all, they represent different things. Let's take the overall situation as an example and see what they want to do first!"

At this moment, there were several representatives of the United States on the big screen, followed by the researchers behind them. It seemed quite formal, and it was indeed the first time for everyone to negotiate in this way.

You must know that they absolutely looked down on the United States before this, and there has never been such an opportunity.

"Mr. Zhang really didn't expect you to have such a breakthrough research this time. First of all, I want to congratulate you!"

Chapter 1336: Collect soil samples

The person who spoke was the president of their highest research base on the American side. Mr. Zhang recalled that they encountered a difficult bottleneck six years ago. He also put down his figure and went to the United States specifically to ask for advice.

And it wasn't for nothing to ask for advice, he knew that these things must be paid, but he didn't expect to be rejected by others before meeting him.

At that time, he remembered very clearly that the person said that their chairman was not in the United States, and had already gone to other countries to give speeches on important matters.

At that time, Mr. Zhang did not give up for the research of his own country, so he insisted on staying there for a week. Unexpectedly, their president did not go out at all, and was always inside the base, but he just didn't want to see them.

He also interviewed other people, which made Mr. Zhang feel very unbalanced. As expected, this is differential treatment.

But at that time, what could he do? They were asking for something from them, so they could only look at their mood. If they wanted to guide them, they might say a few words that they didn't want to know. That's the result. Wait a week, wait a month all the same.

In the end, Mr. Zhang could only come back regretfully, did not get any solution, and caused him to run for nothing. However, just as he was about to leave, this president called him again.

I left behind the things they brought with them. They were all the research data they studied painstakingly. The name was to help them with research assistance, but after those data entered their base, it was like a stone sinking into the sea. nothing.

At that time, Mr. Zhang naively thought that they were really here to help, but in fact they were using their research data to carry out another reference work.

From then on, Mr. Zhang didn't believe in anyone when he came back, and he didn't count on anyone anymore. He began to devote himself wholeheartedly to their research until Qin Yuan appeared.

It's true that the world is impermanent, and now these guys actually contacted them instead. Seeing that hypocritical face, Mr. Zhang only found it funny.

"It's nothing, it's not as good as you. After all, your scientific research technology is developing faster than ours. You have already started doing research decades ago, and we have only grasped a little bit of superficiality."

"Mr. Zhang, you are too humble for saying that. It seems that you people of Yan Kingdom have always been so modest. I really admire you."

"It's nothing, but I don't know what you mainly want to do when you contact us this time, just tell us if you have anything!"

The president on the opposite side was obviously taken aback. He didn't expect Mr. Zhang to be so disrespectful, and he didn't have any sympathy at all. Instead, he asked them to say something quickly.

This is very unaccustomed to them who are always high above the others. After all, they are usually begged by others, but this time they want to humble themselves to beg Yan Guo.

The chairman is very unconvinced, but is there a way to see from the video that their scientific research methods are indeed more advanced than his own, and many instruments and equipment are very sophisticated, only about their blueprints.

After being exposed by Mr. Zhang, the chairman could only squeeze out a smile, "Mr. Zhang, in fact, the situation of our meeting this time is also very simple, everyone is learning from each other.

Chapter 1337: You can visit more

After all, scientific research knows no borders. I still think that we will learn and work together. "

Everyone snorted when they heard this. It is too late for these guys to study together now. I think they were rejected when they wanted to study together. Why do they want to study together now? You have to agree.

"Study? I don't think it's necessary anymore."

The chairman on the opposite side of the video heard this and was doing what one person did, but they were rejected. You must know that they are in the United States, which is far ahead in technology.

"Mr. Zhang, what do you mean? Are you going to refuse such a good opportunity? You have to know that we have started research in the field of aviation many years ago, and we have absolutely no problem in this area. Are you going to give up this opportunity?" ?"

Mr. Zhang knew that these people had absolutely no good intentions. In addition, they said that they were studying, but they were just taking advantage of it. When the time came, they would be good-looking if they got the advantage. It would be pointless to expose them directly. In addition, now that there is Qin Yuan , he felt that there was no problem, and he might agree before that.

But this time, Qin Yuan was able to solve all the problems, whether it was drawings or materials, and he felt that he could trust Qin Yuan in the future.

"Yes, I made it very clear that we can't actually talk about learning. After all, if we are all studying in our respective fields, then there is no need. You live your own affairs well, and we will study on our own."

This sentence made the person on the other side unable to speak out for a while. Originally, he thought he could use this opportunity to successfully enter, but looking at it like this, the old man didn't agree at all.

They can only think of the second plan, and finally they can only bite the bullet and pull their faces down, and start saying that they want to enter the interior for a visit. There is no way to refuse such a request. After all, their current space station in the United States has been on it for six years. , will be updated soon.

Maybe everyone has to use their Yan country's space station, and they will have to get their consent before they can use it.

Seeing the people on the other side begrudgingly interceding, Mr. Zhang felt that these people must have a conspiracy, but even if they went in to visit, they couldn't see anything. After all, they had studied Qin Yuan's design drawing for a long time.

"Is it possible? This is no problem. After all, you can visit more. We welcome it, but please don't delay our normal work. The specific visiting time is still mainly for our astronauts."

After being shut down twice in a row, the president on the opposite side was already very unhappy. He kept suppressing his anger. After all, this was a slap in the face for him. He originally thought that the old guy would directly agree, but he didn't expect to It depends on the situation above.

He could only suppress his smile, and then nodded. After the video ended, Mr. Zhang smiled disdainfully. Now that these old things came to beg them, everything was over.

As soon as the president hung up the video, he started a fire in the base office. He had never begged others so humbly, and he didn't expect to be rejected again and again, which really made him feel a little bit unreasonable.

But fortunately at least he agreed, but the specific visit time should be based on the above.

Chapter 1338: You don't need to rely on them in the future.

They will send a message to their space station in the United States.

"Professor, these guys are really too arrogant, isn't it just a space station? It is necessary to make it like this, we have said so, I didn't expect him to show such an attitude."

"There is no way now. It is the best thing for them to agree. Don't talk about anything else. No matter what, let them go in first, let our people go in as soon as possible."

The news from the president spread to the top, and they were asked to be on standby at any time. The astronauts in the United States were a little unhappy when they heard this, but after all, it was an order from the main station, and there was no way not to carry it out.

At the moment, the people from Xiaomao who were resting in another space capsule also gave up on Brother Di in their hearts. Three astronauts boarded.

It arrived yesterday, but they have only now received the news and have been paying close attention.

"Mr. Matsushita, I really didn't expect their Yan Kingdom to develop so fast. They have already developed their own manned spaceship and space station."

"I don't think this is the point. The point now is that the time limit of the space station here is too long. It is estimated that we will not be able to use it this time. We can only wait for the next time to see the situation. They should not be able to use it in a short time. Create another space station and launch it up."

The person next to him nodded. This is indeed a question that should be considered. After all, the space occupies a very high value for me. If it is really going to be built, it will be a very big test not only in terms of time, but also in terms of financial resources. The United States should not Will build separately again.

"I know what you mean, do you need to rely on Yan Kingdom now?"

"It can be said that in the future our position will be the same as here. We don't have to curry favor with these guys anymore. Just look at their attitude towards us. All the achievements we have made during this period of time have been taken over by them."

The two looked at each other and smiled, and instantly understood, just like that, the American astronauts were still angry, after all, they were asked to do such low-spirited things.

The soil samples studied here were not enough, and the person next to him was a little angry, so he stood up and punched the table next to him, but due to gravity, he almost bounced himself out.

"Don't get angry on these instruments. These instruments are very precious, and none of us will be responsible for any problems."

"It's because these little Mao country guys are too lazy. They can bring in more soil samples, but they challenge our patience time and time again."

They happened to be short of a gap to vent, and thinking of this incident, they simply came to the door directly.

The American astronaut standing on the side didn't say anything, and went forward to open the space capsule. The two people inside were also dumbfounded. What does this guy want to do?

"I said, gentlemen, have you had enough rest? Has today's operation started? We are all waiting. We don't support idlers here."

If it was before, the two of them would have taken action a long time ago, but today they learned the news that Yan Guo's space station has been successfully developed, and they don't need to rely on them in the future.

Panasonic also got angry, he really had enough during this time

Chapter 1339: give them orders directly

Simply stood up.

"Sorry, now is our rest time. There is no interference in our work. We need to rest now, and the next step is to carry out the tasks assigned by our own country."

"What do you mean, bastard? I want you to get up and collect yesterday's soil samples immediately."

"You apologize to me immediately, otherwise I will really give you a good look, and don't talk to me in that commanding tone again. We don't have any class concept."

The astronauts in the United States were shocked when they heard this. What happened to these two guys? Why did the attitude change so quickly all of a sudden, it was always like licking a dog before.

No matter what they said, the two were unmoved at all, and threatened that if they dared to tamper with any equipment, they would immediately report the situation here to the ground.

Unexpectedly, they were unmoved by the methods they used before. The American side was also very puzzled. They didn't know what the  they were going to do, but they had no choice but to walk back full of anger.

"I really don't know what these two  are doing. They dare not listen to us. If this is the case, they asked for it. They dare to threaten us. If this is the case, they will not bring them up next time. I You must report to the base when you go back."

An older person next to him reacted, and he sneered.

"I don't think it's necessary. Haven't you seen the current situation clearly? It is estimated that they have received the news and they don't need to rely on us in the future, and our space station is about to expire."

Speaking of this, everyone understands, and thinking of this is even more suffocating. Now it is impossible to command others. It seems that they can only go out by themselves today. After all, the previous missions were in Xiaomao country, and there is also country A. It's done by people.

Now without the help of Xiaomao country, there is not enough manpower on the side of country a. They only have two people, so they are the only ones who continue to dispatch.

After receiving a lot of anger from Xiao Maoguo, they directly vented their anger on country a, telling them to go out to collect soil samples and show them the materials they got yesterday.

"Did you see it? This is the soil sample. After you go out today, don't collect those messy things, just look for this thing. The more you find, the better, you know?"

This is like an order, rather than asking them to help, it is better to give them an order directly.

Of course, the people of country a dare not resist, after all they are also planning their own schemes, this time they have offended Yan country, because they seized the opportunity and did not follow the previous promise to be directly in front of Yan country.

So now no matter what, the only thing they can please is the United States, so they dare not say anything more, they can only do things according to their orders, but there are too few people, and the astronauts in the United States have no choice but to wear heavy clothes. Spacesuit, once you go out to perform missions.

On the other hand, Qin Yuan also received news from the ground, and Mr. Zhang's meaning was very clear. Let him figure it out, arrange the time as he pleases, and don't let these guys stay for a long time. If they come, they must have other purposes. Yes, they cannot be allowed to take other actions.

Moreover, in order to successfully enter the space station this time, the United States also tried a way to organize a joint live broadcast.

Chapter 1340: leading technology

I have to say that this trick is really good. On the one hand, it is a joint live broadcast to let everyone guide each other to learn and visit, and on the other hand, it is recorded directly and quietly.

But Qin Yuan wasn't worried. They came to visit casually. As long as they didn't have detailed blueprints for these instruments, they couldn't handle them at all. This blueprint can be said to be unique.

After all, the blueprint is produced by the system, and there is usually no problem with the system, and even if those guys come in and give them half an hour, they still have no way to fully understand it.

Astronauts from the United States are rare to make their debut outside the space capsule to carry out collection operations. It can be said that they have not come out for a long time. Entering such a space, under heavy pressure, everyone is a little out of breath.

"The two despicable villains in Xiaomao Country, they should have done these things. No matter what, I must report to the base. If they want to come up next time, they will never have a chance."

"I don't know when I will talk about the next thing, and now I will do the collection work well."

After a lot of effort, they still couldn't find the previous soil samples. They had only been out for an hour, so they had no choice but to go back first.

But the current research can't wait for others. If they don't continue to add other soil samples, the previous data will be lost with the loss of soil, and they have to add soil samples today.

After country a went out, there is no news about him so far. They have no choice but to go out and continue to act. They toss back and forth like this. In addition, they also found some of the soil samples brought by country a. It was finally able to make up enough.

After entering the space capsule, everyone lies in the cabin where they usually rest. I have to say that it is really tiring to go back and forth like this.

The astronauts in the United States were still complaining before, but they had no strength at the moment, and at this time their main station suddenly received an order.

I didn't expect that the main station would let them go to the space station of Yanguo immediately, because the distance between them is not very far, and a simple docking can be carried out, but they need to wear space suits to go there.

"Damn it, isn't this tormenting us? We just came in, and we can't go out in such an environment. It will take too much damage to our bodies after we go out."

"But the main station made it very clear that this opportunity is rare. No matter what, we must go. In addition, this time it will be a live broadcast, and there are still millions of viewers watching."

It can be said that these things in the United States this time not only harmed others, but also harmed themselves. Their astronauts are already very tired, but there is no way.

And Qin Yuan just observed this point. Originally, the space that can be monitored here is very wide. The satellites here can see all the action tracks outside the space station in the United States, so they can naturally see their actions.

All he has to do is to toss these bastards, aren't these people full of energy? Then let them spend some energy before coming back.

Yang Chongming next to him was a little worried. After all, he felt that doing so would have bad effects.

"Captain Qin, although I know I should listen to you in everything."
