

Spoiled 101

Chapter 101 Extremely Embarrassed

Sophie Allen swiftly sidestepped.

Emily Allen lunged at nothing, faltering at the edge of the high stage, her balance failing, her high heel twisting, she fell hard to the ground.

"Ah—"

A loud thud sounded.

The stage was at least two meters from the ground. Although the fall wouldn't break any bones, the brutal tumble would surely result in numerous bruises.

Emily Allen lay where she fell, unable to move from the pain, like a dog that's just eaten dirt.

Feeling a bit better, she tried to stand up, only to feel as if her arms and legs were about to snap.

"Mom!!!" Emily started crying.

She wished she could just crawl into a hole and hide.

Her birthday party, which was supposed to be the most glamorous and luxurious, was now ruined!

Not only was it ruined, but she had lost face completely. She had cheated on Ryan!

The people present gasped at the sight, unsure whether to sympathize with Emily Allen, or to applaud.

Mia Stewart wanted to go up and scold Sophie Allen, but under the current circumstances, she hurried off the platform to help her daughter up.

Emily Allen continued to grimace with pain. When she was helped up, she stepped on the hem of her dress.

Her dress was ripped off at waist level, revealing two transparent breast stickers.

"Ah——"

Looking down at her exposed clothes, Emily shrieked again.

Seeing this, Mia Stewart hastily took off her shawl and wrapped it around Emily's chest.

Everyone sighed again at this.

"Mom, I don't want to live anymore, I don't want to live anymore!" With reddened, pustule-ridden face, Emily looked as though she would rather hit the wall and die.

All of this was because of Sophie Allen. All of it.

Emily glared furiously at Sophie, wishing she could rush over again and strip off Sophie's dress too!

Sophie looked on at Emily's red eyes, faintly smiling. She picked up her dress and turned to walk down the stage.

All eyes were on Sophie, curious to see what her next move would be.

Sophie's expression was cool as she slowly moved towards the banquet hall door. With each step she took, it felt as though she was stepping on pins and needles.

Her heart was also tightly clenched.

Even if the Allen family and Richard Family were disgraced, Aunt Watson would never come back.

"Don't you dare leave——"

Seeing that Sophie wanted to leave, Emily, unconcerned about her appearance, kicked off her high heels and ran towards Sophie.

On the way, she picked up a glass of red wine.

Right now, she raised the glass of red wine and splashed it over Sophie's head.

Sophie didn't dodge. She let the red wine flow from her head onto her face, but her smile became even more unrestrained.

She appeared as a demonic woman from hell, unnerving the crowd.

"Miss Allen must be driven mad by her torment! Her mental state doesn't seem too stable!"

"If I encountered such things, I'd probably go mad too. I actually sympathize with her."

"Exactly, the Allens are simply reaping what they sowed..."

Hearing these harsh words, Emily's chest filled with boundless fury. She stretched out both hands and choked Sophie forcefully.

"Sophie Allen, do you want to die?" she growled through gritted teeth.

"Emily, have you lost it? You're choking me to death in front of everyone. Do you want to go to jail?" Sophie was forced to tilt her head back. Although she had difficulty speaking, she didn't seem afraid in the slightest.

Startled, Emily immediately let go. Her eyes bulged from hatred.

Sophie leaned in and whispered mockingly, "Don't forget. It was Ryan Richard who caused you this disgrace, not me."

"In Jessica Taylor's eyes, you and I are the same."

"Emily, we were both cheated on by Ryan. We both got played!"

"If it weren't for this video, how could I have taken you down?"
