

Lucky Star of Space on Farmlands

Chapter 1 The fat girl who traveled through the farm gate and was buried alive

Gulu, Gulu.

In the dark room, a large wooden bucket was filled with warm water.

In the water, black hair floated up and down, drifting everywhere with the water waves. After a while...

There was only a 'crash' sound, and a plump girl stuck her head out.

"puff--"

After spitting out a mouthful of semi-turbid muddy water and pushing back the hair on his face, Lin Caisang's face was filled with helplessness and hesitation.

What's puzzling is that there's nothing good modern people can do, so she traveled through time!

But what was helpless was that the family's grandparents, uncles, aunts, cousins, all praised her to the sky, wishing they could bring all the delicious food and drinks in the house to her.

There is also a brother who is willing to go hungry but also provide her with better food.

There was also an entire village, and the kind-hearted villagers who protected and loved her as a rare animal, the giant panda, made her little mouth stop for almost a moment.

Over time, she developed a weight of over 160 kilograms at the age of only thirteen years old, and was commonly known as - Big Fat Girl!

Thinking of this, Lin Caisang pinched herself, and she had no choice but to cut off her own flesh and fry it!

In fact, the reason why everyone dotes on her so much is very simple, because...

Two years before the original owner was born, there was a severe drought, and the fields were harvestless. The people gnawed bark and dug tree roots, even if they wanted to drink cold water to fill their stomachs, they had to eat loess.

However, at the moment when the original owner was born, the first cry caused thunder and lightning to fall from the sky, and heavy rain fell, and the people were able to survive.

Therefore, the original owner's grandpa Lin Laogan and grandma Lin Lu specially took the original owner and his twin brother to have their fortunes told.

She was calculated to be the reincarnation of the destiny star of wealth, and her father, mother, family members, relatives and friends, in short, anyone who was kind to her would receive some blessings from her.

In short, he is a very blessed person.

But her eldest brother, whose birth date was almost the same as hers, didn't think anything of it. He was just an ordinary person!

Therefore, because the heavy rain saved everyone, not only her own family, but also the entire village regarded her as a lifesaver. Whenever there was a mouthful of delicious food at home, she would give half of it to the original owner.

The original owner was properly raised by them to be a fat girl.

In particular, the original owner was a complete idiot and only did five things in his life - eating, drinking, defecating, peeing, and sleeping!

"I want...quiet!"

At this moment, Lin Caisang, looking at her fleshy reflection in the water, really needs to take a good rest, otherwise...

‘Dong, dong dong. ’

There was a knock on the door, followed by the concerned voice of her grandmother, Lin Lu, Lu Qiubo.

"Sang Sang, have you washed yourself? Don't soak for too long, you will feel dizzy."

"That's good."

Lin Caisang responded, and after bringing his thoughts back, he added another sentence.

"Grandma, I don't blame my second aunt for what happened today. Please let her go back and stop kneeling in the yard. It's very cold on a rainy day. Also, I don't want to see her."

The fragmentary memories in her mind allowed her to think clearly about the reason why the original owner died. In fact, she had a 'good' second aunt. It is no wonder that she was pampered and loved by so many people, but she secretly Sold her!

Still sold to a sick man for joy!

What's even worse - on the wedding day, that is, today, after the Chen family's sick daughter vomited blood and died in the wedding hall, her 'good' second aunt Liu Rumei watched helplessly as the Chen family tied her to the woods and buried her alive!

The new article begins. A fat girl weighing one hundred and sixty pounds is crying. Let's see how Sangsang loses her weight and becomes a beauty who is loved by everyone and has flowers blooming. Then she can carry the 'beauty' back home to do laundry and cook. By the way, kneel down on the washboard.

Dear guests who are passing by, you are welcome to add it to your collection and recommend it, okay!