

Star of Space 136

Chapter 136 Are you teasing your subordinates?

When she lowered her head, she saw a delicate and small dagger in her hand. Perhaps it had been held in his hand for too long and it became a little hot.

She raised her head in surprise and looked at him in confusion.

"Keep it with you, just in case." He said.

"S-give it to me?" Lin Caisang opened her mouth slightly, even more surprised.

He actually came to give her something. What happened to this man? Why was he so nice to her for no reason? He lowered his head and glanced at the dagger in his hand again. It was actually inlaid with orbs, which looked like a very expensive item.

Just give it to her?

"Um."

Ya Molian responded, opened the window and jumped out without looking back. '6' '9' 's' 'h' 'u' 'x' '.' 'c' 'o' 'm'

Lin Caisang: "..."

He actually jumped in through the window. She clearly remembered that the window was closed. How did he open it from the outside?

In other words, this man doesn't want to pretend in front of her anymore, and is simply preparing to expose his true colors to her bit by bit, does he know? Otherwise, if you rely on Yamolian to hunt and collect bird's nests, you may not be able to get such a good dagger in your lifetime, right?

"This guy, I didn't even say thank you, he just left."

She muttered, not feeling that she had made a mistake in accepting such an expensive gift. After being hunted twice last time and being hunted to the point of being unable to breathe, it was always good to have a dagger for self-defense.

It's just that such a good dagger is only for collection, it's a pity to use it against the enemy.

Holding the dagger tightly in her hand, she flashed into the golden bead space.

"Palace Master, Zhou Liang's matter has been revealed to Lin..."

In Ya Mo Lian's home, Ban Jue was reporting to Ya Mo Lian what he had done today. In fact, in his heart, such a small matter was really not something that the head of his family should take care of.

But the palace master was always happy to do these trivial things. Even if he wanted to cry, he had no tears to shed.

But before he finished speaking, he was interrupted by his palace master.

"No need."

Ya Molian didn't look at him, but said lightly.

Banishment: "..."

Palace Master, are you kidding your subordinates?

Now I say no need, do you know that in order to reveal this news, he risked being discovered by Lin Caisang?

This Lin Caisang, who looks rustic, is an extremely shrewd person. Just hearing what Lin Changhong said, he almost pulled out the people they planted in Yacun.

He really admired her.

"Go to Wei County to get some ink stones. Remember, they must be of good quality." Ya Molian ordered.

Banished: "!!!"

Palace Master, what do you want to do? This ink stone is useless, right?

Besides, Weijun... is in Weiguo, and this is Liangguo! Is it really okay to come all the way from Weiguo to transport useless inkstone?

"Palace Master, that ink stone..."

"Um?"

Ya Molian narrowed her black eyes and glanced at him.

"I'll do it now. Palace Master, how much ink stone do you need?" Ban Jue asked quickly.

"Let's transport...a car first." Ya Molian thought for a while and said uncertainly.

He didn't know what Xiao Sangzi wanted for the ink stone. Did he need a large amount? Bring some over first and let her see if it is this thing. If it is this thing, it is not too late to bring more.

"One car!"

He was absolutely speechless and looked at the roof.

What can a cart of ink stone be used for? Very few people use this thing. Even people who open bookstores rarely use it. As for those who make paintings, many use ink. There is no need for it. This thing?
