Chapter 141 If you can't enter the ancestral grave, create one yourself

"Did you...save me?"

Because he hadn't eaten for two days, let alone drank a sip of water, Zhong You's voice was extremely hoarse, and his throat seemed to be on fire. His confused eyes looked at Lin Caisang, who was only a blurry figure at the moment.

"Are you the one who saved my grandfather last time?" he asked.

"it's me."

Lin Caisang responded.

"Fortunately, your acupuncture technique was a little off, so you didn't send yourself to hell."

Hearing this, Zhong You's already confused eyes dimmed even more, a sarcastic smile appeared on the corner of his mouth, and he let out a chuckle.

"If you don't save me, I will go to hell. 69shux.Com"

"Ants can live in vain, let alone humans?"

Hearing his words, Lin Caisang frowned and then spoke to persuade.

"You won't understand."

Zhong You shook his head, his whole body exuding strong sadness.

"Since I was a child, I have worked very hard to let my grandfather and father see that I am the best. But after so many years, my grandfather's favorite is always Zhong Yun, that dandy who only knows how to spend money, eat, drink and have fun since he was a child. Never looked at me in the eyes.

Although my father talks about how excellent I am, Zhong Yun and I have made the same mistake, and I will always be the one punished... You will never understand the sorrow of being a bastard. All their efforts are in their hands. It seems that they are all so ridiculous.

Even... even his biological mother would try every means to suppress her son because he was too good, not to mention not letting him learn better things and restricting everything about him.

Do you think it would be more pleasant to die instead of living like this? "

Lin Caisang: "..."

What should she say about this? After living two lives, she was always the one that her family cared about most. She really didn't have the position to persuade Zhong You because she couldn't empathize with him.

"How should I put it? Although my family is different from yours, I still want to say that if I were you, I would be self-reliant and self-reliant and would not deny myself because of other people's eyes. Maybe you are not wrong in doing so. After all, family is an integral part of your life.

But don't you think that you are the most important person in your life? Since other people's opinions of you are already there and you can't change them, why don't you try to change yourself? "

"change yourself?"

Zhong You frowned, a little confused by Lin Caisang's words.

"Well, change yourself. Now that you have followed the medical path, then study hard. First, abandon your side followers and learn the true medical skills." Lin Caisang said.

"Ah."

When it came to medical skills, Zhong You laughed even more sarcastically.

"Medicine, you must not have thought that my grandfather said that when people who study medicine treat patients, they will only bring filth into their homes, which will bring disgrace to the family. If I still only want to study medicine, I will not be allowed to enter the hospital in the future. Even if the Zhong family is dead, they are not allowed to be buried in the ancestral grave.

If it were you, what would you do? "

He asked Lin Caisang in return.

Lin Caisang really didn't expect that the old man of the Zhong family would have such a mouth. When she looked at the unconscious old man, she thought he should be a kind and kind person.

However, even though she looked away, there was nothing surprising. Her thin lips parted slightly.

"If I can't enter the ancestral grave, then I will create a place for myself."

"you--"

Zhong You was startled and felt that he was no longer confused in front of him. He was scared by her!

This girl's tone is so loud. She is just a woman, but she has such great courage. He, a man, actually lost to a woman.
