

Star of Space 144

Chapter 144 Ya Mo Lian, you are a scammer!

"Well!"

Could she say that she was so tired and sleepy that she snored almost as soon as she touched the bed?

Of course not. A girl cannot have an image. How can she purr? That is definitely not her!

"not sleepy.

She suppressed the sleepiness in her head and shook her head.

There was a voice in her heart reminding her that a certain man would not come to her room for no reason, just like he gave her a dagger last time, there must be something wrong.

"Brother Mo Lian, what's the matter with you?" She asked sweetly, trying to act like a good girl.

"Take you to see something.

Saying that, without waiting for her to nod in agreement, Ya Molian stretched out his hand, grabbed her waist and pulled her towards him. The window opened with a roar, and two figures came out quickly.

Lin Caisang: "..."

Even if she didn't seal the window, she would still put wooden railings on the window to make sure something like this didn't happen again.

He could just get through the window alone, but he actually took her with him! Have you forgotten how chubby she is?

Although many people have said that she has lost a lot of weight recently, she should have lost a lot of weight, but things like climbing through windows are really not suitable for a girl like her. She is actually very elegant!

She wailed in her heart: Yamo Lian, you are a cheat! I've never climbed through a window in my life, okay?

However, when she came to the yard of Ya Molian's house and looked at the cart full of ink stones, she immediately put behind her the unhappiness of being forced to climb out of the window. Mo Lian's look of admiration.

"Brother Melian, you are so amazing. Where did you get these things?"

"There are ink stones in many places in Liang State." Ya Molian said.

Looking at the little girl's shining eyes, there was a smile on his lips. Although he didn't know what she wanted to do with it, as long as she was happy, he would be satisfied.

"If you like these, I will send them to you tomorrow."

"Yeah."

Lin Caisang nodded repeatedly, extremely happy.

Secretly, Exiled Jue, who had been tired for many days to get back these useless ink stones, said: "..."

Palace Master, if you don't lie like this, why are there ink stones in many places in Liang State? It's obviously my subordinate who didn't sleep for several days and nights. I fainted several horses from exhaustion. Is it okay to get them back from Weiguo?

He thought that the palace master had something urgent to do and needed these ink stones, but he didn't expect that it was actually to make the little girl happy.

However, it would be fine if the other party is from a girl's family that is alluring to the country, but why is it Lin Caisang? Bucket waist, big fat face, two arms as fat as pillars, and those two famous elephant legs...

Palace Master, do you really want to like this girl? ? ?

The grace of saving a life does not necessarily have to be promised with one's body. Can't you just repay it with a spring of water?

...

A few days later, on this day, Lin Baiyi went out with an ox cart full of goods, ready to test the water to see if he could sell something.

Also going out with him was Lin Yang. The couple were together, one driving the car and the other watching from behind. If there was a business, they would not be taken advantage of.

As for Lin Caisang, just as Lin Baiyi came out, he stopped going up the mountain and moved all the tools that Lin Baiyi had used for carpentry work to the Golden Pearl Space.

Inside, there are already pen refills she has made, but the only thing missing is the wooden casing.

She had noticed Lin Baiyi doing carpentry work many times, and knew which tools and how to use them, and she quickly cut the wood into sections...
