Chapter 200 My hands and feet are so cold that they are stiff

Hearing this, Lin Caisang was stunned, as if he didn't expect Ya Molian to say that, but then shook his head.

"It's definitely not okay to raise wolves at home."

Animals like wolves, even if they are raised by humans, are wild and difficult to tame. What if they bite someone?

"I didn't say I would keep him at home, where is Manghuangshan?" Ya Molian said.

"Mang Huangshan..."

Lin Caisang took a deep breath, exhaled heavily, and raised his hand to wipe his chubby face.

She was worried that she was the only one in Menghuangshan. Even if her brother was included, she would not be able to withstand the hands of Liu Baixiao and Liu Rumei. As long as it was for herself, those two people could definitely make their faces indestructible.

What's the point of stealing something?

"Yes, how many are there?" She asked immediately without thinking.

"Four." Ya Molian said.

"When you grow up, I will bring it to you."

"No, just bring it over tomorrow." Lin Caisang said immediately.

"An animal like a wild wolf must be raised by yourself, otherwise you won't kiss me. Don't turn around and bite me."

She only has four wild wolves. It depends on whether Liu Baixiao's family dares to come and cause trouble with her. If they dare to come, she will not close the door to let the wild wolves out, which will scare Na Ya's family to death.

"good."

In Wangzhen, it was already midnight when Ya Molian and Lin Caisang arrived.

But even so, the lights in Wang Town are brightly lit, and no family raising silkworms is resting. There are only a few people in the silkworm room keeping an eye on them, fearing that another batch of silkworm babies will die.

In a large silkworm room, as soon as Ya Molian and Lin Caisang walked in, they saw seven or eight people walking around. Occasionally, they stretched out their hands to push aside the mulberry leaves to see if there was anything strange about the silkworm babies inside. .

As soon as she entered, she felt a chill coming straight at her. It was so cold that all the hair on Lin Caisang's body stood up. She raised her hand and rubbed her face.

Seeing this, Ya Molian immediately took off her coat and put it on her body.

"Put it on, the night is cold."

Lin Caisang: "..."

Brother Melian, is it true that the night is cold and not that the room is cold enough to kill someone? But she really didn't know how to say this, because wherever she looked, the coals were red and seemed to be burning all the time.

However, the charcoal fire had no effect at all, and the room was still freezing cold.

"How's it going? Is there anything strange?"

Ya Molian opened her mouth and asked the man in black.

"Your Majesty, you are here. There is nothing strange yet. Our people are guarding you."

The man glanced at Lin Caisang next to Ya Molian, and in time the word "Palace Master" stuck in his throat, and then replied.

"Where are other places?" Ya Molian asked again.

"We change the news every hour. There was nothing unusual just half an hour ago. I believe everyone is fine here." Although the man said this, his face was full of helplessness.

"Is everything okay?"

Lin Caisang slightly curled her red lips, stretched out her hand, took the nearest mulberry leaf and handed it to Ya Molian.

"Brother Mo Lian, look at these silkworm babies that are starting to stiffen. They are probably going to be frozen soon."

Hearing her words, Ya Molian and the man in black looked at the mulberry leaf in her hand at the same time, but they looked at her with furrowed eyebrows and confusion.

"Girl, these silkworm babies are very good, and they are not..."

"You misunderstood. What I meant was that my hands and feet were stiff from the cold. Don't you all feel it?" Lin Caisang glanced at the others indifferently, and then turned to look at the man in black.
