

Star of Space 237

Chapter 237 What's going on?

At this point, Lin Caihe didn't dare to say another word. She could only put on a timid face and look at the face of her father-in-law, Lin Laogong, hoping to hear him say something against her.

Unfortunately, she didn't hear anything.

"Girl He, when will you pay your share, or what should I do? You decide for yourself." Lu Qiubo looked at her again and asked.

"I....."

Lin Caihe pursed his lips and looked at Lin Baiyi.

"Dad, could you please do it for me first..."

"cannot."

Before her daughter could finish speaking, Lin Baiyi directly denied her words.

"Changhong and Sang Sang are both as old as you. They all paid their own share of the money. You should also learn from them and don't rely on your parents for everything. Just like you, you will have to pay for your marriage in the future. You must not be beaten to death by your parents-in-law!"

Forget about getting married in the future, he wanted to beat his daughter to death right now.

She didn't want to live a good life, but had to commit suicide, which made the whole family uneasy, and she felt relieved. She really didn't know how he could raise such an ignorant daughter.

"Aren't you always comparing yourself with Sangsang? In the future, you should also compare yourself with her on how to make money, so that you can save some dowry money for yourself."

"I....."

Lin Caihe shrank her neck, where was she going to make money?

"Grandma, I... let me work for you. I will do all the work at home.

She didn't want to bow to Lin Caisang because of money. Although she felt that working in the deserted mountains would definitely be easier than working at home, she just didn't want to look at Lin Caisang's face.

"Okay, tomorrow you go and reclaim all the land that our family should cultivate. Remember, if you damage a vegetable seedling, you won't be able to eat." Lu Qiubo immediately ordered her.

"good."

Lin Caihe nodded weakly.

...

After what needed to be said, everyone quickly dispersed and went back to their rooms to sleep.

As soon as the door opened, he smelled the familiar smell. Lin Caisang silently raised his head, looked up at the roof, sighed softly, and closed the door tightly with his backhand.

"Tell me, what's going on this time?"

Sitting on the stool, she didn't even need to light a lamp, she could see the man sitting carelessly beside her bed, Ya Molian.

She even doubted whether this was her room or his room, and why he could enter his own room without any embarrassment.

"Is everything resolved?" Ya Molian asked her aloud.

"It's not that easy!"

Lin Caisang rolled his eyes, knowing that he was asking about Lin Caihe.

"This Caihe, I don't even know what to say to her. I always feel that the family owes her. It's really tiring to see her like this."

Shaking her head, she had nothing to do with Lin Caihe. If this was her biological sister, she would have greeted her with such a big mouth without saying a word. How could she be allowed to be so pretentious?

But she is the daughter of her third uncle Lin Baiyi, what can she do to her?

Although they lived under the same roof, they were two families in the end. No matter what she wanted to say or do, she couldn't do it.

"Human nature is always a little selfish, no one is exception." Ya Molian said.

Hearing his words, Lin Caisang nodded in agreement.

"What you said is quite right."

It's just that the word "selfish" is also offensive. Like Lin Caihe, she treats even her relatives, including her parents, as outsiders, and she is the only one in her heart. This is really too much.
