

Star of Space 260

Chapter 260 It's really not a kiss...

"Hey, cousin Yushui, cousin Yushui..."

Lin Caihe watched Liu Yushui leave with astonishment, and chased her for several steps.

"When are you going to kill Lin Caisang? Aren't we going to discuss this matter? Why don't you make it clearer to me?" At the end of the sentence, what he shouted turned into his own muttering, because Liu Yushui had already left. Very far away.

...

In another room, after eating a steamed bun and drinking some white rice porridge in a bamboo tube, Liu Chushui hid all the things Lin Changhong sent under the wooden bed, fearing to cause unnecessary trouble to the Lin family.

But after a long time, he felt a little thirsty, so he quietly walked to the door, listened carefully when there was no sound outside, and then took out a bamboo tube under the bed, which contained Liangbaikai.

However, as soon as he took a sip, he heard a huge kick on the door, and then, a palm hit him hard.

'Snapped!'

"Dad, look at him, am I right? This brat is really not a thing. He specializes in such things as cheating and cheating. He actually secretly hid so many things. These were all given to our family by grandma. He It's actually exclusive."

Liu Chushui felt a buzzing in his ears and watched in confusion as Liu Yushui rushed out from behind Liu Baixiao, pointed at his nose with one hand, and snatched the bamboo tube in his hand with the other. 6

"There's still water here. You're really well prepared! Wow."

She swung her hand hard and the bamboo tube hit the ground with a louder sound.

"Where's the other stuff? Where's the other stuff?"

Liu Rumei also squeezed in and hit Liu Chushui in the face. The room, which was not large, was instantly crowded. Liu Chushui just stood like this, unable to react at all.

"You little thing, thanks to my hard work in raising you, the family is in such a difficult situation. You actually eat alone when you have enough to eat. Sure enough, you are not a relative... eh."

Before she finished speaking, she realized that she had said something she shouldn't have said. Her expression changed and she stopped in time, but she still kept hitting Liu Liu Chushui.

The past two days were simply not a human life. She was so hungry that her chest was pressed against her back. This unfilial creature had something to eat but he didn't think about her. He ate secretly in the room alone. She really wanted to be with him. Bite off a piece of meat from your body!

"I'll kill you little beast, let you eat alone, make you unfilial, make you..."

"Get away!"

Liu Baixiao pulled Liu Rumei aside, and Liu Chushui also moved aside.

He bent down and searched under the bed, and sure enough, after a while, he took a few steamed buns wrapped in cloth and another bamboo tube and handed them to Liu Chushui.

"What is this? Ah, what is this?!"

With a 'pop', he hit both objects directly on Liu Chushui's face, causing a wound, and bright red blood immediately came out.

"Don't you know that our family is not acquainted with those things that are not human? Didn't you see that those things are not easy for our family to see? They don't even send us the land deeds, and they won't give it to us when they come to ask for it. You You're a bitch, you have the same virtues as those in the Lin family, I should have known you were unreliable!

I went to their Lin family yesterday, and I knew something was going on here. Sure enough, I came to bring you food today. Tell me, did you give all the money you have to the Lin family? Otherwise, why would people be so kind to you?
