Chapter 277 Want to give Chang Yi a younger brother and sister

Don't you know? What do the girls in our village call Lin Caisang? Call her a fat pig! She is such a embarrassment to our family, and you still treat her like a treasure. Are you sick?

"Second sister, you are the one who eats more and does less than pigs. How could you be Sister Sangsang?" Lin Changyi blinked and asked Lin Caihe.

"you--"

Lin Caihe was furious when she heard that her brother was trying to block her.

"Lin Changyi, you little beast, you eat everything inside and out. Sooner or later, you will be killed by that vixen Lin Caisang. You..."

"Shut up!"

Yang Lin was so angry that he raised his hand and wanted to hit Lin Caihe in the face, but his hand paused in the air. His vision went dark, and he fell back and sat on the ground.

"Mother, mother."

Lin Caiqing and Lin Changyi followed her and shouted in panic. Lin Baiyi also hurried over to check.

When Lin Caisang saw that Yang Lin's face was as pale as paper, her heart was beating suddenly. Her third aunt was usually as strong as an ox, so how could she be so angry that Lin Caihe fainted?

He quickly stepped forward, endured the burning pain on his face, and squatted down to feel Yang Lin's pulse.

It didn't matter, but the pulse shocked her. Her eyes suddenly widened, and she stared at Yang Lin's belly in disbelief, with an even weirder look on her face.

Her third aunt married her third uncle when she was fifteen years old, and it has been eighteen years, that is to say, she has been thirty-three.

It was difficult for women in ancient times to have children, and it was unlikely that they would be able to conceive when they were thirty. What's more, when they were growing their business, the third aunt suffered a serious crime and famine, and the children they gave birth to were all skinny. Not to mention the third aunt.

"Sang Sang, how is your third aunt?"

In Lin Baiyi's eyes, his family Sang Sang was very capable and could identify medicines. The people who collected and sold medicines were all doctors, so she was right.

"Third aunt... seems... seems... maybe... she wants to give Chang Yi a younger brother or sister." Lin Caisang said in a hesitant voice.

The pulse she took herself was of course very accurate, but here she was a person who had never studied medicine. If she was sure that Yang Lin was pregnant, wouldn't it arouse suspicion?

"What?"

"What?!"

When everyone in the courtyard heard this, they all screamed.

"Sang Sang, what are you talking about? What happened to your third aunt?" Yang Lin himself was already hallucinating.

Which woman in their village is over thirty and can still be pregnant? That's a big deal.

"I should be happy, but I'm not a doctor. I have to find a doctor tomorrow to take a look." Lin Caisang said.

"Third Aunt, you can't be angry anymore. You have to lie in bed for a few days and rest. Don't tire yourself out. It's best not to do any work at home and stop for a few days."

she warned.

Yang Lin is a good man in the family. He is busy doing all the work at home and outside the house. He must have been working hard to help out in Menghuang Mountain these days. Lin Caihe was so angry tonight that his fetal air was unstable and he had to work hard. You have to have a good rest.

"Okay, Third Brother, go to the town tomorrow and ask a doctor to come and take a look."

Lin Laogong is very happy. There is another child in the family. Isn't he happy? How long has it been since he was so happy?

"Third brother, why are you still standing there? You're helping your wife back to her room to rest. Look what happened this night." Lu Qiubo also said quickly.
