Chapter 289 That's aggrieved

"Clan leader, I was hesitant at first.

Lin Laogong glanced sharply at Liu Baixiao, who was shrinking his head, and then looked at Patriarch Lin.

"But last night, the child had a high fever all night long. If he hadn't been lucky, he wouldn't have been able to open his eyes this morning. You tell me, it's all this bad. If I don't If you leave the child alone, it will cost the child's life."

"hiss!"

When Patriarch Lin heard his words, he also gasped.

He was seriously injured and had a high fever. If the temperature could not be lowered, it would really be life-threatening. Thinking of this, he turned his head and gave Liu Baixiao a sharp look.

Liu Baixiao was stared at so hard that his scalp went numb, and he even shrank his body, no matter how much pain he felt, he had to endure it.

"But, old guy, don't you still have Chang Hong and Sang Sang? Are you going to raise another one..." The clan leader asked him hesitantly.

It would be fair to say that Lin Laogong's legs are still good and he can still work in the fields. The key is that this big family relies on the support of the third family. Is this possible?

"I heard that your family invited a doctor from the town to come today. Is Lin Yang pregnant again?"

Isn't that just another mouth that can't work? It's also a pregnant woman who needs to take supplements to support her.

"Yes, I'm pregnant.

When someone mentioned that Yan's daughter-in-law was pregnant, Lu Qiubo responded with a rare expression of joy.

But thinking about the hidden meaning of the patriarch's words, she quickly put away the smile on her face and looked at the patriarch seriously, "But that doesn't matter, raising a child is easy."

"Old gangster, what do you mean?"

Patriarch Lin thought that after all, Lin Laogan was the head of the family, so he still wanted to ask him what he meant.

"That's what I mean. That child is so distressing. No matter how poor the family is, they still have to grit their teeth and raise the child well." Lin Laogong said immediately.

When Patriarch Lin saw what he said, he couldn't persuade him any more, so he nodded and said that he would find a good day to write Lin Chushui's name into the family tree, and he would become a member of the Lin family in the future.

Liu Baixiao stood there, unable to say a word, feeling aggrieved. There might be some way, but he still had to kowtow to the two elders and admit his mistake under the pressure of Patriarch Lin.

When he finally stood up, it was as if the bones in his body had been torn down and rebuilt.

After a while, Patriarch Lin saw that everything was settled and nothing happened. He was about to leave. Lin Changhong quickly signaled to Lu Qiubo and forced the packed eggs to Patriarch Lin. Although he was rejected several times, in the end it was accepted.

"Oh, by the way, old guy, you have to take good care of that Dutch girl in your family. If you can't help with things at home, you can't just cause more trouble, don't you think?"

As if he thought of something, Patriarch Lin stopped walking out and turned around to talk to Lao Geng Lin.

"I know, I know, I will discipline that girl well." Lin Laogen responded hurriedly.

Watching Patriarch Lin off with a smile, the two men grabbed Liu Baixiao's collar and left, and then their expressions turned cold again. He was quite happy at first, but when he thought of Lin Caihe, he couldn't be happy anymore.

Lin Caihe was locked in the woodshed. She heard that the patriarch seemed to be leaving, and wanted to shout loudly, begging the patriarch to save her.

Little did she know that she only hesitated for a moment, but she heard the clan leader mention her and asked her grandpa to teach her and discipline her.

Is she such a person that even the patriarch hates her?
