

Star of Space 292

Chapter 292 This is a good sign

In fact, he has been struggling, and until now he still hasn't figured out what to do next.

With someone like him, having more women around him means more danger, not only for himself, but more often than not, he is worried about Xiao Sangzi. After all, there is no airtight wall in this world.

But he didn't want to let go like this, and there was an urge in his heart to just follow his own feelings, and he did so.

"That's easy to handle."

Without any further hesitation, Lin Caisang took out a small porcelain vase from his arms and placed it on the table in front of him.

"This is a medicinal powder I developed myself. I melt it with water and drop it into the blood. When exposed to heat, it will turn green to become a disease. When exposed to cold, it will turn black to poison. If it becomes transparent when exposed to clear water, it will become a disease. Bewitched.

In the past, the medicinal powder in Hongling Town could only identify diseases and poisons, but when she came to this place, Gu was also a more powerful thing than poison. She thought it should be added, so she did some more research.

"After all, it's a long way and I can't see the patient's condition. If I could be closer, I would be willing to go there and cure the person," she said.

"No, I just want to know if he was poisoned."

Ya Molian took the porcelain bottle into her hand and stared at it dimly.

"Um?"

Lin Caisang's eyes lit up after hearing his words.

"Betrayer?" she asked.

"We don't know yet." Ya Molian shook his head and said.

Everything still has to wait until he knows whether the person was poisoned before he can make a conclusion.

"you....."

Lin Caisang looked at him hesitantly. Although he told himself that he shouldn't ask, he still wanted to ask.

"Are you in trouble?"

"Little things."

Hearing this, Ya Molian smiled and raised her hand, gently rubbing her head.

This is a good sign. The little girl knows that she cares about him. It seems that he will have to talk to her about his affairs from time to time in the future, which is also crucial.

"Don't worry, I can handle it."

Although he said this, his brows became tighter and tighter, and he secretly looked at his little Sangzi with cat eyes.

Sure enough, Lin Caisang looked at his expression and didn't believe what he said at all, "Really? You didn't lie to me?"

"Really, don't worry."

Ya Molian was already happy in her heart, but her face was still stern, so she couldn't let Xiao Sangzi get suspicious.

"There is such a large area of water on Menghuang Mountain, what do you want to raise?" he asked.

"Raising shrimps."

Lin Caisang said this without any hesitation.

She likes to eat shrimps, so raising shrimps is of course right, but twenty acres of ponds are used to raise shrimps...

"let me think again."

She lowered her head and thought hard for a while before her eyes lit up.

"How about raising shrimps and crabs together, raising some fish, and then growing some water celery and the like for fun, what do you think?" she asked him.

"According to your."

Ya Molian naturally followed her likes, but she still asked too much.

"I thought you'd like to raise some ducks."

After all, there are many houses on Menghuang Mountain, and there is a lot of free land. It would be good to raise some ducks. You can eat meat anytime you want, but...

Glancing at the chicken on the table, he smiled and shook his head.

The little girl is now trying hard to lose weight on her body. At this moment, even he can't figure out what kind of food she likes to eat. He should wait a little longer. There is no rush anyway.

"Duck? I don't have that plan now. In fact, if possible, it would be okay to raise some little tortoises, and they taste good." Lin Caisang said.
