

Star of Space 301

Chapter 301 There is a chance to trick him back

"Brother, ginger soup.

She handed the ginger soup to her eldest brother, and when she saw him frowning immediately, she couldn't help but feel happy.

"Can't you just drink it?"

Lin Changhong looked at the ginger soup in the bowl with great disgust, smelling the unpleasant smell.

"Sang Sang, you see my body is so strong, there is no need to drink this." He suggested quietly.

"Too."

Lin Caisang looked at him and nodded.

Hearing that his sister also agreed with him, his eyes lit up, "You think so too, how about..." Let's dump it?

Before he finished speaking the four words, he heard his sister's faint words, and his bright eyes dimmed suddenly.

"But I promised grandma to watch you finish drinking it." Lin Caisang said.

"Sang Sang...can't you be accommodating?" Lin Changhong asked with his mouth flat.

Accommodating?

Lin Caisang raised her eyebrows. Her eldest brother thought she was there and was accommodating.

But after hearing his words, Lin Caisang thought of a good idea. The next moment, she looked at her eldest brother up and down with her beautiful eyes, as if she was evaluating the use value of an item.

"Sangsang, you...what are you going to do?"

Lin Changhong asked stammering as his scalp was numb from her stare.

Why are you staring at him like this? Are you plotting against him again? He is her brother, and he is not so calculating.

"Brother, do you really don't want to drink this bowl of ginger soup?" Lin Caisang asked him.

"Of course, you like to drink."

Lin Changhong asked her angrily if they were evenly matched, so no one could say anything about the other.

"If you don't want to drink, it's not impossible." Lin Caisang's voice was long and drawn out.

"Sangsang..."

"Brother, you also know that grandma hasn't let me go out since it started to rain. If you can think of a way for me to make grandma let go, I will hide the fact that you don't drink ginger soup for you. How about that? ?"

Lin Caisang said.

Anyway, without this bowl of ginger soup, the medicine she prepared would make her elder brother fine and in better health.

"real?"

Lin Changhong's eyes lit up.

No matter how difficult the matter his sister said was, he agreed immediately.

"What's the matter? I'll tell grandma about this, and I'll make sure grandma won't stop you in the future." He patted his chest and said proudly.

After hearing what his eldest brother said, Lin Caisang was very satisfied and took the ginger soup back, preparing to take it back to the room to honor the land of his golden bead space. Anyway, that guy can absorb anything, so this bowl of ginger soup is not enough.

"Then remember to find a way to tell grandma that I will be going out starting tomorrow." She warned and went out.

She secretly muttered to herself that her eldest brother had tricked her several times, and this time he finally had the chance to trick her back. The bad breath in his heart was finally out, and he was so happy.

However, she still underestimated Lin Changhong...

night.

Lin Caisang, who had a premonition that something was wrong, had just taken out a large amount of medicinal materials from the Jinzhu Space and put them on the table to prepare the elixirs, so that he could show off his skills after arriving in Jian'an City.

Unexpectedly, the originally closed window slowly opened.

"Why are you here again?"

She watched someone sneak in. Although she didn't see clearly how he came into the room from the window, but - was it really okay for him to regard her room as his own home?

"So many medicinal materials, are you going to sell them?" Yamolian asked instead without answering her words.
