

Star of Space 313

Chapter 313 She is a female liar

No matter how good his literary talent is, who would want to see such a grimace every day? Which minister in the DPRK would want to? Even if they are willing, what about the Emperor? Will the Emperor be happy if there is a grimace among the ministers in the court?

"I don't read."

"Okay, if you don't want to read, don't read. As long as you don't seek life and death any more." Old man Zeng responded repeatedly.

Hearing the words "Xunsi Mianhuo", Zeng Yulang's face full of scars turned red with anger, and his eyes were even scarlet as he looked at his father.

"Dad, how many times have I explained to you, I didn't jump into the river, I didn't jump into the river!"

Although he didn't understand, he obviously fell asleep with his head covered at home, but when he woke up again, there were a lot of people around him, all of them comforted him with sympathy and told him not to think too much.

He really didn't know what was going on.

However, he thought that this must have something to do with Yan Jinhua, and his face must be the masterpiece of Yan Jinhua and the young master of the Hou Mansion!

"Okay, okay, you didn't jump into the river, you didn't jump into the river, everyone misunderstood." Old man Zeng quickly agreed, fearing to anger his son.

As long as his son doesn't cause any more trouble, he can say whatever he wants. He has no objection at all. The key is to stop having thoughts of committing suicide.

"father!"

Zeng Yulang looked at his biological father dumbfounded.

Could it be that what so many people saw was misunderstanding? Someone must have plotted against him. These days, anyone can throw a drug into the river and throw him into the river. His family is not a wealthy family, and there are so many servants guarding him.

"I....."

"Brother Zeng, you are at home."

He wanted to say something else, but he heard a familiar voice outside the door. His face darkened, and he turned around to go to his room.

"It's my sister-in-law. Why do you come here to sit down when you have time?"

Old man Zeng stood up quickly, opened the courtyard door, and saw the woman and Lin Caisang standing outside the door.

"Brother Zeng, I happened to meet a girl on the street just now. She heard about your Yu Lang and wanted to come over to see his injuries. No, I heard that you are also looking for the doctor, so Brought her here."

The woman looked at Lin Caisang and said to Old Man Zeng.

"Among the girls?"

Old man Zeng glanced at Lin Caisang and frowned secretly.

I muttered in my heart: This girl looks so young, can she treat diseases and save people?

Why does he feel a little disbelieving? Could it be that she is a female liar?

"Girl, where did you come from?" he asked tentatively.

"Uncle, there's no need to ask where I came from. Even if you want to ask, I won't tell you." Lin Caisang looked at him and spoke calmly.

From the corner of his eye, he looked through Old Man Zeng to Zeng Yulang, who was turning to look out the door when he heard the doctor was there. He saw that his face was indeed seriously injured.

But the so-called seriousness in her heart was just a trivial matter.

"Is that your master?" she asked.

"Well."

Old man Zeng turned around following her gaze and saw his son.

He thought his son had gone back to his room long ago, but he didn't expect that he was still in the yard. He could only sigh and welcome Lin Caisang in.

At this time, even if he knew that the person coming was a liar, he still had to give it a try. What if he was a real person? How would he know if he didn't try?

"Brother Zeng, you guys are busy first, and I'm leaving first." Seeing that she had nothing to do, the woman turned around and left, without even giving Old Man Zeng a chance to say thank you.