Chapter 316: Local bastards from outside

Lin Caisang was seen calmly taking a few steps forward, gently lifting the yellow silk banner, then carefully rolling it up and handing it to the guard who was in a daze.

"Two brothers, please lead the way. I am here to treat the eldest princess."

When the two guards heard her words, they were so shocked that their jaws dropped and they could not pick them up again. What did they see? A little girl in tattered clothes who looked like she was underage actually revealed the imperial list and said... Come to heal the eldest princess? !

But since they didn't look down on Lin Caisang at all, but the imperial list was revealed, they had to politely send Lin Caisang to the eldest princess's house.

"This girl please come with us.

The carriage arrived soon, Lin Caisang got into the luxurious carriage, and the guards drove the carriage to the eldest princess' mansion.

"This... this little girl is actually here to unveil the emperor's list..."

The doctor who had just spoken to Lin Caisang raised his hand tremblingly and pointed in the direction of the carriage.

Several of them hesitated here for several days, not daring to take off the imperial notice, but the little girl didn't even hesitate, just took off the imperial notice and left?

"Mr. Ju, when did our Liang Kingdom have such a young girl fall in love? Could it be that she comes from a famous family?" asked another doctor.

"Yes, Mr. Ju, why haven't I seen this girl at the Medicine Master Conference? If she is a capable person, she should have attended the Medicine Master Conference. Another doctor spoke up.

"This little girl is really bold. I don't know if she has the real material. It would be terrible if she gets tricked."

Listening to everyone's words, the doctor known as Ju Lao, who had just been talking to Lin Caisang, finally came to his senses.

"Oh, this little girl is really...why is she so impatient? The eldest princess's illness is not easy to cure." He said with a worried look on his face.

If it's easy to cure, this doctor has been treating her one after another, but why hasn't she seen the eldest princess's illness improve?

On the contrary, among those doctors who had revealed their names and went to treat diseases, which one came back alive and well? Needless to say those who died, let's talk about those who were beaten by the emperor's order because of their ineffective treatment. Which one did not cry when they came back? Dare you be angry and dare not say anything when your father calls you mother?

"A little girl?"

In a room full of red, red silk was fluttering in the breeze, and a distant voice sounded, but only an outline could be seen through the red silk. I heard the people under my command came to report that a little girl had uncovered the red silk. Huang Bang, the corners of his fox-like eyes curled up into a smile.

"interesting."

"Master, that girl looks like a local product from outside. Have you let your subordinates handle it?" She heard her subordinates ask respectfully.

"Even if he is a local bastard, why do you still need to take action?" She asked him ruefully.

The subordinate's whole body shivered at her question. He swallowed nervously and lowered his head, "I know my mistake."

"Sui Bai, what do you think of this person?" the woman in red asked another subordinate.

"Master, according to my subordinates, although that girl doesn't look like much, she is young and dressed in a rustic style, but from her words and deeds, I can see something unusual. That girl is definitely Unusual."

Sui Bai said bluntly.

Hearing this, the woman in red gripped the red silk hand tightly, and the next second, with a hiss, a section of red silk was torn off by her, revealing half of her charming face and her lips as red as blood. lip.

"Then...kill!"
