

Star of Space 317

Chapter 317 The trance-inducing Yunling flower

"Yes, I will do it immediately.

Sui Bai responded, turned around and left.

...

Lin Caisang has been brought to the eldest princess's mansion.

But with her ignorant status, it was impossible to see the eldest princess right away. She could only arrive in advance and wait in a small courtyard.

Treating people in the royal family is something that cannot be done carelessly.

First, he had to go through a round of medicine identification to prove that Lin Caisang was very familiar with all the medicinal materials. Then he had to cure several patients sent from the eldest princess's house to prove that he had the ability to treat the eldest princess before he could have the opportunity to see her. The eldest princess.

"Look, there's another doctor here, and it's a girl."

"Only two of the doctors who came before were able to see our princess. This little girl looks very young. Is that okay?"

"I think she's just here to make a living. Doesn't she know that the food in our eldest princess's house is not something ordinary people can afford? How many people have been beaten out by the emperor before? Don't you have nothing to eat? They were knocked down next to each other."

The maids saw Lin Caisang being taken to a small courtyard, and they all whispered behind their backs.

Lin Caisang didn't care what others did, he just came to a simple room in the small courtyard, chose a chair and sat down, looked at the whole sea of flowers in the courtyard, and chuckled.

"This princess mansion is amazing enough."

If she hadn't been so powerful, she might have fallen when she passed the sea of flowers just now.

That flower is not any other flower, but a rheumatism flower specially used to bring people into a dreamland. While the ordinary rheumatism flower is yellow, the rheumatism flower in this yard is lavender. Based on this alone, it can be hard to guard against.

However, although this rheumatism flower has a strong hallucinogenic effect, it is also a rare medicine. From the rhizome to the leaves, it has very good medicinal value.

If it can be used.

"Why don't you go and see if there are any rhinestone seeds?"

Thinking about it, she stood up and walked into the yard. She slowly walked to the edge of the sea of euphorbia flowers, squatted down and explored it carefully.

"Don't tell me, the gardener in the eldest princess's mansion is really a capable person."

The fact that the rheumatism flower can be planted so beautifully shows that the gardener is also a doctor. Otherwise, he would have been so fascinated by the fragrance of the rheumatism flower that he could not tell the difference between the east, the west, and the north. Inhaling too much of this fragrance can cause serious illness. Crazy.

After a while, Lin Caisang successfully found some seeds in the sea of flowers and secretly put them into the golden bead space.

"Why don't you go over and see what that little girl is doing?"

In a corner of the yard, there was a small hole in the wall. A cat was standing outside the wall, squeezing forward to look inside, but after all, the hole was too small, so he could only turn around and look at the two men behind him. The guard ordered.

"Second Prince, the lady of the house should be admiring the flowers. The flowers in the yard are blooming so beautifully. The girls all like those flowers and grass." The guard knew what Lin Caisang was doing inside without even looking. , said to the second prince.

"Viewing flowers?"

The second prince was completely shocked.

He planted all the rheumatism flowers in his aunt's house. How could he not know what medicinal uses they have?

Even he, the master who takes care of these rheumatism flowers, has to prepare the antidote with him at all times. But what is the little girl doing in the yard? Flower viewing? Isn't she afraid of getting sick?

Why does he feel that he is the one who needs to enjoy the flowers?