Chapter 320 Are those people fake?

...

"Sir, it's not good. Let's watch the guards in the small courtyard to report that the girl was taken away by the nun in the princess's mansion. She said she was going to treat the eldest princess.

In another luxurious room, the second prince had just closed his eyes and was about to rest for a while, when he was awakened by a guard who rushed in.

"What?!"

His eyes widened, and he raised his hand to grab the guard's collar.

"How is this possible? Who is so bold as to dare to ruin my king's affairs?"

No matter how bold the people in the princess's mansion are, they wouldn't dare to ignore his orders, right? What's more, what kind of place is this? This is the eldest princess's mansion. Any doctor who comes into the mansion can be taken directly to the eldest princess for diagnosis.

Let's not talk about the difficulties he is having here. Even if he doesn't embarrass Lin Caisang, the test at each level is unavoidable.

Who is so bold as to take people directly to see the eldest princess? Does this mean you don't want to live anymore?

"who is it?"

"No...I don't know."

The guards also looked confused. They didn't know what the people in the eldest princess's house did for food. They took him to see the princess without anyone finding out. What if this person had evil intentions?

"you do not know?"

Now, the second prince was even more surprised and stared at his bodyguard.

"Where's the person staring at the small courtyard? If you don't know, can he still know?" he asked.

The people he asked to keep an eye on were the guards in the eldest princess's mansion. They had never seen any servant coming out of the mansion. They had always seen that guard, right? Is it possible that they haven't seen it before?

"The man said that a nanny took people to see the doctor's girl, and then led the people out of the small courtyard. He didn't say whether he had seen the nanny. The guard replied.

"Oops!"

When the second prince heard this, he knew something was wrong.

The nanny who could be sent to pick up Lin Caisang must be an old man next to his aunt. How could she not even recognize the guard.

There is only one possibility...

"Quick, send someone to intercept those people!"

"What?"

The guard's eyes widened when he heard this.

"Sir, this is not good. Everyone has been taken there. It will be hard to explain to the emperor if they are brought back to the emperor."

If you make this matter a big deal, the emperor will definitely know about it. If the emperor knows that I have embarrassed the doctor and delayed the treatment of the eldest princess, will the guards around the second prince still be alive?

"idiot!"

When the Second Prince heard what he said, he raised his hand and slapped him hard on the head.

"If it's really the person next to my aunt, do I need to chase him? Why don't you hurry up!"

I guess there are some really capable people among that girl, and some of them don't want his aunt's illness to be cured, right? Otherwise, someone will pretend to be a nun in the princess's mansion and take the person away!

Previously, a doctor was killed before he even arrived at the princess's residence.

It can be seen that his aunt's disease is not simple!

"Huh? Are those people fake?"

The guards' faces turned green and they looked at their prince in disbelief.

Are these people so brave that they dare to come to the eldest princess's house to commit murder? !

"Subordinate, go right away."

Without further ado, he hurried out.

The second prince saw that his people were running to find someone, so he followed them out.

On this side, Lin Caisang followed the nanny and the guards around and walked around for an unknown distance. She also had a vague feeling in her heart that this was not the etiquette that should be expected in the princess mansion.

Regardless of the etiquette, it is impossible to take people directly to see a doctor in the royal family. Even if she is just a commoner, she knows this.
