

Star of Space 321

Chapter 321 Exiled, check!

But the nun in front of her was leading her forward while carefully telling her what to pay attention to when she saw the eldest princess later.

She felt like nothing was wrong.

Suddenly, the nanny in front of her stopped and turned to look at Lin Caisang.

"Ms. Langzhong, the main courtyard of the eldest princess's mansion is just ahead. Don't talk too much after you enter. You can only diagnose the eldest princess carefully to avoid getting into big trouble."

"Yes, grandma is interested." Lin Caisang responded.

He raised his head and looked at the pavilions in front of him, feeling even more confused.

"Mommy, shouldn't the 'courtyard' in front be used for entertaining guests? Why does the eldest princess live here?"

It is said to be a courtyard, but it can only be regarded as a garden. There are some corridors and pavilions in it. This kind of place should be used for entertaining guests to enjoy flowers or other banquets.

Is this bullying her for not seeing what the principal dean looks like?

"Young lady, you can't say that. Our eldest princess likes this place the most. She..." As she spoke, she glanced at the two maids behind Lin Caisang.

Lin Caisang looked at her strangely, suddenly felt a chill on his back, and secretly screamed that something was not good.

The two guards behind her showed their fierce looks, and they had already taken out their daggers and stabbed her in the vest. She was so shocked that she could only take two quick steps forward.

"Take your life."

The sound of the nun gnashing her teeth was heard. When she straightened up, a silver light flashed in front of her eyes. The dagger in the nun's hand suddenly scratched her chest. At the same time, she also overturned the nun. On the ground.

Feeling a stinging sensation, Lin Caisang turned over and raised his legs, kicking down the two maids who were about to pounce.

He reached out and touched his chest, and his hand was a blur.

"hateful!"

She had calculated everything, but she could not have calculated that someone would openly want her life in this majestic eldest princess's mansion. She was careless this time, otherwise she would not have been injured like this.

"Just wait."

She knew that she was alone at this moment and could not be with three people who might kill her, not to mention she was injured.

He glanced at them with sharp eyes, and after remembering their appearance, he turned around and ran towards the deserted path. The next moment, there was a loud bang, which alerted Ya Molian who was making a box in the yard.

"I....."

Lin Caisang was stunned, and then he remembered that he had messed up in a moment of panic, and actually entered the Jinzhu space directly and returned to Ya Molian's bamboo house in the forest.

"What's wrong with you? Are you hurt?"

Yamo Lian paused with his hands and turned pale.

The next moment, he threw away the things in his hands, stepped in front of her, and looked at her chest covered with blood.

"What's going on? How did you get hurt?"

He raised his slightly stiff hand to check the injuries on her chest, but was afraid of hurting her again so he stopped his hand in time, bent down to pick her up, and ran to his room.

"Master..."

When Ban Jue heard the noise and came out to check, he only saw the back of his palace master carrying Lin Caisang into the room, and the drops of blood at his feet where Lin Caisang had been standing just now.

"Hiss! What's going on?"

He took a breath and wondered how this Miss Lin could get hurt after just resting for a while.

"Excommunicate, check."

Just when he was stunned, the angry voice of his palace master came from the room.

"Wait, wait, don't."

Lin Caisang was placed on the soft big bed, and when she heard what he said, she quickly spoke out to stop him.
