Chapter 323 I don't know anything about it

"Brother Mo Lian, what kind of medicine did you use? It's amazing. In just a short while, all my injuries were healed. She looked away from her wounds with embarrassment and looked at Ya Mo Lian, thinking in her heart It's really weak.

But explaining is tantamount to covering up. She doesn't want to use a few excuses to explain her injury, but what can she do if she doesn't explain? How about pretending that she doesn't know anything?

Yamolian: "..."

Although he didn't know what the situation was, Lin Caisang's injury healed and he still breathed a sigh of relief.

Just now he saw her running out of the room covered in blood. He was really frightened. He couldn't think of anything in his head. He just instinctively treated her injuries and found the murderer.

He really couldn't think of anything else and his mind went blank.

Now that he saw that she was okay and finally had some ability to think, he looked at her with cold eyes.

"Did you just go out?"

"Well."

Lin Caisang was choked by his question and didn't know what to say.

But it wouldn't work if she didn't say it. Ya Molian was not a fool, and he could be fooled like this. If she didn't explain, she wouldn't have to go into the mountains, and would be stared at by her grandma in her room every day.

"That...just went out for a little while."

He sat up from the bed, chuckled guiltily, and pulled the sticky collar with one hand. (audience)

The clothes covered in blood stuck to her body, which was really uncomfortable, but she had no clothes to change.

Don't you want her to go home like this later? Then her grandma has to scold Ya Molian so much, and she won't have to come out anymore. The matter in Jian'an City is just the beginning.

"I'll boil water for you and wash it off." Ya Molian stared at her steadily for a while, then sighed softly.

What can he do? He has to carry it no matter what because he spoiled it.

"Brother Mo Lian..."

Lin Caisang looked at his back and knew that Ya Molian was angry, so he quickly got out of bed to chase someone to coax him.

Unexpectedly, before her feet even touched the ground, she was glared at by Ya Molian who turned around again and said, "Where are you going? Lie down."

After saying that, he turned around and went to the kitchen to boil hot water for her without looking back.

Lin Caisang: "..."

She didn't want to go anywhere, she just wanted to coax him, didn't she say that being angry would hurt her body.

...

She freshened up briefly and took a bath. Due to excessive blood loss, she didn't dare to take a bath for long despite Ya Molian's repeated instructions. She was also a little dizzy.

He quickly put on his clothes and came out.

In the yard, there was a man standing in front of Ya Mo Lian. Lin Caisang guessed that he should be the one whom Ya Mo Lian had mentioned.

"Miss Lin, have you seen what the person who assassinated you looks like? My subordinates searched around and couldn't find any clues." Seeing Lin Caisang coming out, the banished man who was talking to Ya Molian returned. He turned around to look at her and asked seriously.

Lin Caisang: I have seen an old nanny and two maids who are as beautiful as flowers but have snake-like hearts! But I won't tell you.

"Didn't see it."

She shook her head and tried to look confused. Anyway, it was enough to just ask three questions.

Banishment: "..."

In broad daylight, you were injured and covered in blood, but you didn't even see anyone. This girl, can your heart be a little bigger?

But the master of his palace is still here, and he doesn't dare to speak out what's on his mind.
