

Star of Space 331

Chapter 331 Why don't I leave?

As soon as yesterday's incident came out, the second emperor brother was scolded by his father and ordered to copy a hundred pieces of imperial instruction. It is estimated that the second emperor brother will never have a good life this month.

Even he could only copy five of their emperor's instructions in a day. For someone like the second emperor brother who couldn't sit still all day long, he could only copy three.

"As for your father punishing you for copying the imperial instruction, you must not let anyone copy it for you. If your father finds out, the consequences will be disastrous."

After thinking for a while, he warned again.

This is really a bastard thing that he, the second emperor's younger brother, can do. He has to keep a close eye on him to prevent him from getting scolded by his father again. That would be really shameless. Saved.

"knew.

The second prince curled his lips and replied unwillingly.

Isn't it just copying the emperor's instructions? How could he be stumped by a few words?

He now wanted to know if the girl was injured. The nanny who was arrested said that the girl had been stabbed by her and would have been seriously injured even if she did not die.

If she is really fine, it means that she is capable, and maybe she can really cure her aunt's illness.

"Don't know it now and forget it later."

When the eldest prince saw his indifferent expression, he was so angry that his heart ached.

I have never seen a younger brother who is so unmotivated. As an older brother, he is already busy cleaning up his mess every day, and there is no need to do other things.

But having said that, although the other brothers are all called princes, they are not that old after all. He is the eldest brother and is only sixteen years old. The second brother is only fifteen years old this year.

He was crowned king last year, and the second emperor brother was crowned this year.

"Remember?"

"Remember, eldest brother, you are so long-winded. Why are you as long-winded as your mother?" The second prince frowned and said in a low voice.

The Great Prince: "..."

Do you think he is willing to be verbose? It's not that this younger brother doesn't make progress.

"Go back quickly, don't hang around here, it makes people angry!" He waved his hand, trying to be out of sight and out of mind.

But this second prince was not so easy to get rid of. As soon as his eldest brother asked him to leave, he quickly showed a flattering smile and held the eldest prince's arms with both hands.

"No, big brother, I don't have to wait for news. I have to see if that girl is capable. If she is incapable, I will..."

"What do you want?"

The eldest prince heard his words and gave him a cold look.

"Didn't you receive enough lessons from your father yesterday? In my opinion, my father punished you too lightly. A hundred royal lectures are not enough. You must..."

"Don't, don't, eldest brother, I'm leaving, why don't I leave?" When the second prince heard that his eldest brother was actually more ruthless than his father, he quickly rubbed oil on the soles of his feet and disappeared in a flash.

"This guy!"

The eldest prince laughed angrily when he saw his escaping back. However, thinking that his aunt was still lying on the bed, the smile on his face immediately disappeared and he looked at the guards on the side.

"Lianqing, do you think that girl can really cure my aunt's disease?" he asked quietly.

"This... Lianqing doesn't dare to lie." Lianqing lowered his head and replied softly.

The eldest princess has been ill for how many days. If any doctor can come and cure her, is there any need for the emperor to issue a royal list? Besides, there are so many imperial doctors in the palace, are they still helpless?

How could he possibly know whether that girl could cure the eldest princess's disease?