Chapter 333 A strange man

"Aunt Bai, the eldest princess has been ill for a long time?"

After a while, she retracted her hand and looked at Aunt Bai, asking.

"As for the doctor, the princess has been ill for more than a month." Aunt Bai replied.

"At first, she just felt unwell. The palace doctors were invited. They all said that the eldest princess was weak and that she only needed to be prescribed nourishing medicine for a few days to recover. Who knew that after more than a month, she drank a lot of medicine and became ill? But it's even worse than before."

"This is not where the eldest princess lives, right?" Lin Caisang asked again.

"this....."

Aunt Bai paused and looked at Lin Caisang with confusion on her face.

But although she had doubts in her heart, she still answered Lin Caisang's question, "The eldest princess usually lives in the study. Although this is the room of the principal princess of the princess palace, the eldest princess is very young. This is the rest."

"Uh-huh."

Lin Caisang nodded.

"Can you please Nanny Bai, take me to the eldest princess's study?"

"this....."

Aunt Bai didn't expect that Lin Caisang would want to go to the eldest princess's study. Not even the servants of the mansion could enter that place. Lin Caisang was just a doctor outside, so how could he go to the eldest princess's study? study.

"This old slave cannot make the decision. Young lady, please wait a moment. The old slave will report back to the great prince. If he agrees, the old slave will take you there.

Now that the eldest princess is unconscious, she cannot make the decision as a nanny.

But the young lady in front of her wanted to go to the eldest princess's study, and it must have been for no reason. She could only go to the person who could make the decision. Fortunately, the eldest prince was still in the house.

Otherwise, she really doesn't know what to do.

"Um."

Lin Caisang nodded.

Watching Aunt Bai leave, she looked at the eldest princess in the gauze tent again, and reached out to reach for her wrist again.

Taking the pulse once may not be accurate, so she took it carefully again to see if it was exactly what she had guessed. If it was true, then the task this time would be tricky.

This time, her face became more and more serious.

When the eldest prince followed Aunt Bai in, he saw Lin Caisang feeling her pulse while tapping her knees with the five fingers of her other free hand, looking a little irritable.

"Miss Langzhong, I heard from Aunt Bai that you want to go to my aunt's study?"

Hearing the footsteps, Lin Caisang took her hand away. The prince looked at her and asked softly.

"Yes."

Lin Caisang nodded in response.

"When treating a disease, we not only look at the person, but also the environment where the patient lived before we can make a final decision," she said.

"It's not impossible for the girl to go to my aunt's study, but... there are some old things belonging to my aunt and my uncle that I have never met in the study. I hope the girl won't touch them at will."

The great prince explained.

"This is natural." Lin Caisang nodded.

Speaking of the eldest princess of their Liang Kingdom, she was a strange person.

According to legend, the eldest princess was rescued by someone in a crisis. In order to repay the kindness, she committed herself to marry her benefactor. However, not long after, she heard that something had happened in the court and hurried back and left her husband's family without saying goodbye.

It was even more because of the accident at court that he lost his memory of the past. It was not until an accident happened after he got married again that he remembered the past.

When the past was recalled again, the eldest princess resolutely begged her younger brother, the current emperor, to issue an imperial edict to abandon her consort and move directly into the eldest princess' mansion to live alone.
