Chapter 339 The biggest 'official' in the Liang Kingdom

Sure enough, she saw Ya Molian and nodded.

"What kind of poison is 'Cliff'?" he asked.

He had heard of both 'Hui Gang' and 'Luo Wei', but he had never heard of this cliff.

"The poison of 'Juebi' is negative. It is produced by combining the toxins in the rhizome of passion orchid with the yin and yang seeds, and then passing through snakes, insects, rats and ants. It is really not available in the hands of ordinary people. I also accidentally read it in a poison book I've seen it recorded."

Lin Caisang explained.

Thinking of this, she thought of the abbot master of Fangyin Temple. The Buddhist disciples were so vicious and showed no mercy at all.

"This Fangyin Temple doesn't look like a serious Buddhist place." She sighed.

"Is it difficult to cure these three poisons together?" Ya Molian asked her.

He will ask people to investigate Fangyin Temple and other things in the future. Now he doesn't know if it has anything to do with those people. If it doesn't, there is no need to mention it to Xiao Sangzi.

"I don't know yet. I'll have to study it carefully when I go to the eldest princess's house to get blood in the afternoon." Lin Caisang raised an eyebrow and said.

"You can figure out how to detoxify by studying the blood. Don't you need someone to test the poison?" Ya Molian asked, somewhat puzzled.

"not needed for now."

Lin Caisang shook his head, took a mouthful of refreshing kimchi and put it into his mouth.

"Actually, I already have some confidence. The blood was taken just to study the dosage of medicine. You know, no matter what you do, you have to be careful. Even crops will die if they are fertilized too much, let alone people.

"Um."

Ya Molian nodded.

"Is there a medicine-deficient village?"

"I don't know, let's wait and see." Lin Caisang shook his head again.

Liang Guo's palace was so big, how could she know whether those medicinal materials could be found in the palace? Even if they were not available, she would let the people in the palace find a way first. If she couldn't find a way, she would just do it herself.

"Let's go to the princess's mansion in the afternoon. Do you still want to go together? There is no danger now."

she asked.

"I will send you to the eldest princess's mansion later." Ya Molian thought for a moment and then said.

"You still want to go?"

Lin Caisang gave him a strange look.

"Do you have other things to do?"

Ya Molian didn't speak, just nodded her head.

In the afternoon, the two passed through Jinzhu Space and arrived at Jian'an City. After sending Lin Caisang outside the eldest princess's mansion, Ya Molian turned around and left, making an appointment for him to pick her up in two hours.

When Lin Caisang stepped into the courtyard where the eldest princess was, she was shocked to see a large group of people waiting in the courtyard.

"Girl, you are finally here. Come quickly and meet my father."

Lin Caisang: "..."

She stiffened her head and looked at the man in yellow robe who was sitting at the stone table in the middle of the yard, holding her prescription in his hand.

Isn't it just treating a patient? She doesn't want to kneel to anyone.

When meeting the eldest prince, the second prince, etc., she can hold her own identity high and pretend that she does not know the identities of these two people, but now she is seeing the emperor. Should she kneel down or not?

"The daughter of the people has met the emperor."

As the saying goes, the people do not fight with officials, let alone the biggest 'official' in their Liang Kingdom? She quickly walked up to the emperor, lowered her body and kowtowed.

"Ms. Langzhong, please get up. This is not in the palace. The girl does not need to give this gift." The emperor was still very easy-going, especially after he heard that Lin Caisang could save his own sister, he thought highly of Lin Caisang. a bit.
