Chapter 345 The antidote to 'Luo Wei'

"It's not Mommy's fault, it's just that I didn't explain it clearly.

Lin Caisang shook his head slightly. It was really no wonder that Aunt Bai made such a mistake. It was because she didn't think of this.

"Fortunately, it was discovered in time, so it's not a big problem. Nanny, take me to the pharmacy now, and I'll grab the medicine and boil it myself."

"Girl, you want to cook the medicine yourself?"

Aunt Bai looked at Lin Caisang in surprise and asked.

"Um."

Lin Caisang nodded.

"It's better for me to watch the fire myself. I know when I can stop the fire. I don't worry about others either."

Aunt Bai glanced secretly at the emperor, saw him nodding, and then led Lin Caisang away.

"You all stand down."

After Lin Caisang left, the emperor dismissed the imperial doctors who were kneeling on the ground and turned to look at the second prince.

"Thankfully you didn't cause any serious trouble yesterday. If you had offended this doctor's girl, your aunt's life would have been in your hands."

"Well."

Although the Second Prince was scolded, he did not dare to say a word and could only admit his mistake.

"It's my fault. I will apologize to the girl later. However, my father, after hearing this from my aunt, do you think that among the imperial doctors in the palace, we should also recruit some who are good at poisoning?"

he asked. ๐๓

It is a long-standing rule that the imperial physicians in the imperial palace do not practice poisoning. This is to prevent the jealous women in the harem from using the imperial physicians to cause any trouble. This is not unreasonable.

But what happened to my aunt this time is a lesson. It's really not possible without someone who can cure poison.

"This matter will be discussed later, and we will wait until your aunt's poison is cured." The emperor thought for a while and said.

"Where did you go this afternoon?"

Holding a pack of the most famous cakes in Jian'an City, the two of them were walking on the road from the bamboo house to Yacun. Lin Caisang asked while passing a piece to his mouth.

She thought he had something important to do, but she didn't expect him to come back with two large bags of pastries for her.

Hearing this, Ya Molian took out a porcelain bottle from her arms and handed it to her.

"This is the antidote to 'Luowei'."

Lin Caisang paused, looked at the red porcelain bottle in his hand, took it into his hand unceremoniously, and stuffed it into his small satchel.

"Although it's of no use now, I might be able to use it in the future, so I'll keep it for now."

"Why is it useless?"

Yamolian asked confused.

"Is it because we still can't cure the poison of 'Luo Wei'?"

"It's not that it can't be cured, but the three poisons on the eldest princess's body cannot be cured first, she has to... like this." Lin Caisang took out his free hand from his palm and said: He made a motion of wiping his neck.

"Take three antidotes at the same time?"

Thinking of this possibility, even someone who is as calm as Ya Molian is horrified.

Everyone's body has a certain endurance. If it exceeds this endurance range, death is not far away.

With the eldest princess's pampered body, it would be unbearable to detoxify two poisons at the same time, let alone three poisons at the same time. He didn't understand how to detoxify these three poisons at the same time.

"wrong."

Lin Caisang shook his head.

She was stupid to pour three antidotes into the eldest princess's fragile body that would dissipate in the wind at the same time. Wasn't that waiting for her mission to fail? She would not do such a thing.

"The body of the eldest princess will definitely not be able to withstand the three different forces running around in the body. This is not a detoxification, but will become a reminder. I thought about it for a long time, and I only thought of one way, that is to develop a An antidote that can detoxify three poisons at the same time."
