Chapter 374 The question of whether he will be poisoned to death

"Where...where?"

The imperial doctor pulled his head and secretly glanced at the emperor's face. His heart was already cold, knowing that he had offended the emperor.

"White blind mountain item." Lin Caisang raised his eyebrows slightly and said.

Doctor: "!!!"

Who the hell would go to the top of the Baiyun Mountain to seek death? Then it would be easier for him to go to Youxiang River.

"Finally, this old gentleman, I have to remind you that the two medicinal materials of 'Tian Yang Pearl' and 'Di Yin Pearl' cannot be used casually. If used casually, it is very likely to cause death."

Lin Caisang said again.

"Of course, it is possible that this person's life will not be saved by the person who needs these two herbs to save his life, but the person who prepared the medicine may be killed by this so-called life-saving medicine. If you want to use these two herbs, Remember to be careful when using medicinal herbs."

What she said was absolutely right, the 'Tian Yang Pearl' was extremely strong, while the 'Di Yin Pearl' was extremely cold. Putting the two medicinal materials together would most likely cause an explosion when decoction.

"hiss!"

When all the doctors heard her words, they all gasped.

There is such a rule in the palace, whoever prescribes the medicine will cook the medicine. Even the most famous and prestige doctors will cook the medicine themselves, unless the empress of some palace has named someone. Decoction.

If this is really the case, then who would dare to use such medicinal materials?

"You don't know, none of those people are really good!"

In Ya Molian's room in the bamboo house, Lin Caisang sat on the edge of the bed and told Ya Molian what happened in the eldest princess's mansion.

"and after?"

Ya Molian looked at her with a smile and asked softly.

"What can happen next?" Lin Caisang sneered.

"For such a person who can make decisions for his master, will his master keep him by his side and be arrogant? Of course he was sent away directly."

If there is such a person beside her, who comes out and slaps her in the face without her consent, can she keep such a person?

The answer is of course impossible.

"You lie down first and I'll write something. I'll ask them to buy it later. I'll cook you a rich meal tomorrow."

After talking about the affairs in the eldest princess's house, Lin Caisang thought of her promise to Ya Molian to cook for him, so she hurriedly stood up and turned around to go to the main room.

"Little Sangzi..."

Ya Molian wanted to call her, but before she could speak, the figure had disappeared.

"Palace Master, do you really want Miss Lin to... cook?" After a long while, Ban Jue held a piece of paper with dense stuff written on it in his hand, and flew through the door and rushed in front of his palace master.

Over the past few days, he has roughly understood that this girl Lin Caisang knows nine out of ten things in the kitchen, and the remaining one knows nothing. Can the palace master really feel at ease and let Lin Caisang cook for him?

It seems that this is no longer as simple as whether it can be swallowed, but... will it be poisoned to death after eating that meal?

"Exiled Jue, why are you still here? Hurry up and go shopping. It's getting dark now." Jiang Zuo walked in with the medicine. When he saw Exiled Jue, he couldn't help but remind him.

Banishment: "..."

Why was he so excited looking at Jiang Zuo? Don't you think that the food cooked by Miss Lin will be delicious?

That's right, Jiang Zuocai came to Yacun for the first time and didn't know Miss Lin, so he naturally thought so. Wait, after eating the food cooked by Miss Lin, he will know the true meaning of the words "bursting with tears" .
