Chapter 386 Did you do it yourself?

"Divide... separate families? Why?" Lu Qiubo was confused.

Why did she want to separate the family when she was so good? She was not prepared at all. Think about it, no one in the family has done anything wrong, right?

"Sang Sang, are you doing this... because of Girl He? That girl, just ignore it. Grandma and your grandpa are already proposing marriage to Girl He, and she also..."

"Grandma, where do you want to go?"

Lin Caisang quickly interrupted Lu Qiubo.

"I think the family separation is not because of He'er, but because of Brother Changfeng, he..."

"Changfeng? Did he treat you badly?"

After hearing her words, Lu Qiubo jumped up and asked.

"Tell grandma if your brother Changfeng scolded you. Tell grandma and see if grandma doesn't break his legs! He's become more capable and dares to bully you..."

"Grandma..."

Lin Caisang pursed her red lips and looked helplessly at her grandma.

"If you break Changfeng's legs, how can he go to Ye County to participate in the Autumn Festival?"

"Well."

Lu Qiubo choked on his granddaughter's words.

"Besides, Grandma, do you think Brother Changfeng is willing to scold me? Even if he is really willing to scold me, he is a scholar and still has to worry that you will chase him around the yard with a stick. Doesn't his face Don't want it anymore?"

"That's true. Lu Qiubo nodded.

Lin Caisang: "..."

Her grandma actually nodded to her. If Lin Changfeng really dared to scold her, grandma would chase him all over the yard, right?

"Then Sangsang... tell me, why do you want to separate the family?"

Lu Qiubo also figured it out at this time. Her granddaughter would not want to separate the family. Otherwise, as soon as Lin Caihe's incident came out, Sangsang would have proposed to separate the family.

"Grandma, I brought back some dried fruit. You can try it first to see if it tastes good."

Upon hearing Lu Qiubo's question, Lin Caisang did not explain the reason first, but opened the bamboo jar he brought down from Menghuang Mountain, took out a dried cherry from it, and handed it to Lu Qiubo's mouth.

"Well, it's sweet and not sour at all." Lu Qiubo praised after eating it.

"As long as it's delicious, I'll send some to Third Aunt later. She's pregnant with a baby, so this is just right." Lin Caisang said.

Hearing this, Lu Qiubo frowned, "Did you buy this? Why did you kid buy so much? Just buy something you can eat. Your third aunt doesn't like this."

She estimated that if the third child saw this thing, they would only feel distressed and wonder why this is not just free money?

"I didn't buy it, I made it myself." Lin Caisang replied.

"you made it yourself?"

Lu Qiubo's old eyes widened in an instant. He took the bamboo jar in Lin Caisang's hand into his own and looked at it carefully.

"Then this jar...you made it yourself?"

"Um."

Lin Caisang nodded.

"I picked these cherries on the mountain in the morning, as well as the loquats. The ones here are dried loquats. I made them in the oven on Menghuang Mountain. How about it? They are delicious."

She opened another can of dried loquats and handed a piece to Lu Qiubo to taste.

"It's delicious, it's really delicious, not bad." Lu Qiubo praised it.

Her granddaughter can make dried fruits, which means she can cook. How can she be unhappy? She is almost beaming with joy.

"So, I want to separate our families."

However, before she was happy enough, she heard her granddaughter mention the separation of the family again.
