Chapter 431: Are you here to see my joke?

"Because Zhong Yun's mother's surname is Fu.

Without waiting for Ban Jue to answer, Zhong You spoke quietly.

He had known since he was a child that Mrs. Zhong was a very scheming woman, and she was so scheming about him that she almost didn't even have enough to eat.

But she didn't expect that she would even plot so deeply against her husband!

"Is it because of Mrs. Zhong that you changed it to Fu Fu?"

"I can't find out about this matter." Ban Jue glanced at him.

"But my subordinates know where Mr. Zhong has gone. Zhong You, your Zhong family also has a farm outside the county, right?"

"yes.

Zhong You nodded immediately.

The Zhong family made their fortune by farming, and the farm has been there ever since. Zhong Yun wanted to sell the farm a few years ago, but later his father refused and even had a big quarrel with the old man over the matter.

It turns out that his father was driven to the farm.

"You know the road? Lead the way, let's go to the farm." Lin Caisang and Ya Molian got on the carriage, and the four of them went to the outside of the county together.

The Zhong family's farm is very large. In addition to the fields rented to nearby people, there are also thousands of acres of fertile land on the farm. Naturally, this was not so much land at the beginning. It was all bought bit by bit by the ancestors. .

When Zhong You drove the carriage from far to near, he saw a hunched man standing slightly trembling in the rain.

When he saw a carriage approaching, his eyes lit up and he walked over with unsteady steps. He squinted his eyes that could not see people clearly and looked up at Zhong You.

"Yun'er, are you here to pick me up?"

Because it was raining heavily and Zhong You was driving a carriage again, he couldn't see clearly who the person was for a while, but when he heard his earnest voice, he immediately reacted.

"grandfather?"

This person turned out to be Mrs. Zhong.

After sizing him up, he couldn't help but sigh in his heart. It was just that he hadn't seen him for a month, but the old man had become so thin that he was almost unrecognizable with only bones and skin left.

"I am Zhong You, not Zhong Yun." He reminded Mr. Zhong.

"Zhong You? What are you doing here?"

When Mr. Zhong heard Zhong You's words, he immediately frowned.

"What's the matter, are you here to see my jokes? Let me tell you, Yun'er is just angry with me as a grandfather for a moment, and will come back to pick me up soon! If you want to see my jokes, it's up to you?!"

Zhong You didn't bother to pay attention to him and got off the carriage directly.

On the other side, Ban Jue opened the curtain and let Ya Molian and Lin Caisang get out of the carriage. The four of them walked around Mr. Zhong and walked towards the farm.

"You, you guys..."

Mr. Zhong was so angry when he saw that several people didn't take him seriously at all.

I wanted to catch up with them and scold them, but I was old and my legs were no match for those of a young man. I was out of breath after just a few steps.

Not long after Lin Caisang and the others walked in, they saw Mr. Zhong rushing out in a hurry. She guessed that someone must have gone in to report, and Mr. Zhong rushed out just then.

"Yun'er, are you back? Dad and your mother moved here, and they were worried that you wouldn't be able to find them. Just find him, that'll be fine." When Mr. Zhong saw his son, a rare smile appeared on his face. He kept patting Zhong You on the shoulder.

"Dad, my master and the others are still here."

Zhong You lowered his voice in embarrassment and reminded his father.

"Look how happy I am. Miss Liu is here too. Please come and sit inside." Only then did Mr. Zhong see Lin Caisang and the other three. He hurriedly greeted them to come in and sit down, but he saw that Lin Caisang's footsteps did not move. move.
