Chapter 433 I will give up one day

How could he still stay at home when he saw that his grandfather was no longer of use?

Lin Caisang looked sideways and looked at Ya Molian with a sarcastic smile. Listening to what Mr. Zhong said, she felt goosebumps rising on her skin, and she held her hand.

Ya Molian raised her hand, squeezed her chubby hand lightly, glanced at Mr. Zhong, and motioned for her to continue listening. Neither of them spoke.

"Grandfather still doesn't know that Zhong Yun changed the Zhong family's surname to pay for it?" Zhong You asked.

"How can I let him know." Mr. Zhong shook his head and said.

With his father's temper, he dotes on Zhong Yun so much that he almost treats Zhong Yun as an eyeball.

If he knew that Zhong Yun had changed the Zhong family to the Fu family, it would be better if he wouldn't be angry to death. But if he went to the Fu family to cause trouble and Zhong Yun found an excuse, wouldn't he have to be punished again? The calculation is on.

"Does grandfather wait outside the door like this every day?" Zhong You asked again.

"Just let him wait, he will give up one day." Mr. Zhong snorted coldly and said.

It's not that he doesn't want to be a filial son. He wasn't filial enough before. It's just that no father acts like a father. If he, a son, continues to be a filial son stupidly, then his life will be really over.

He also harmed his own children.

"It's raining so heavily outside, grandfather...why don't you try to persuade him?" Zhong You looked worried at his father.

"Is it useful to persuade him?"

Mr. Zhong asked him back.

If persuasion worked, would he still live in this farm?

Advise his father? Haha, if he really tried to persuade him, maybe his father would persuade him in turn and ask him to hand over all his family property to Zhong Yun.

His father is still dreaming that Zhong Yun will come to take him back to enjoy his happiness!

"Yu'er, the most important thing for you now is to follow your master. Dad is here to take care of things at home. Dad used to rely on your grandfather for everything, but he won't do it anymore. No matter what he wants to do, dad will never go along with it again. Got him."

He said to his son seriously.

"father....."

Zhong You felt sad after hearing what he said.

"What's left at home now? Why do you live in a farm? Our family has a separate garden."

"There are still a few shops. The only remaining ones are this farm and the fields next to it." Mr. Zhong replied.

Zhong Yun doesn't like these things. His son only sees shops that can make money. He won't even take care of these fields.

"Did the others go to Zhong Yun?" Zhong You was surprised.

It's not that he is reluctant to part with this little family property, it's just that he is unwilling to give Zhong Yun an advantage.

"I originally divided the family property into three. I gave you this farm and these fields because you always like to take care of those medicinal materials. In the future, less food will be grown on the farm, and all the food will be given to you. You plant medicinal herbs."

Mr. Zhong looked at him and said word by word.

"As for dad's share, when your sister got married, dad listened to your grandfather and didn't prepare any dowry for her. Now that I think about it, I really regret it, so dad gave half of his share to your sister, and the other half... ..

At that time, I reconciled with Fu and gave it to her. I only had three or two shops left, but they were enough for the family to eat and drink. "

Hearing this, Zhong You sighed lightly, but did not feel that it was wrong to do so.
