

Star of Space 442

Chapter 442 Let's discuss again

boss:"!!!"

How could he find fault? What she said was completely in line with the current situation of this restaurant.

But at this price, why did he feel like he was losing money?

When he bought this restaurant, why didn't he say as many reasonable things as this little girl did? Otherwise, he wouldn't have been deceived and spent so much money in vain!

"Boss, tell me, I'm waiting." Seeing his hesitation, Lin Caisang urged.

"I....."

The boss opened his mouth, but what could he say?

"Girl, what you said is all right, but your price is really too low. You can't let me do a loss-making business, right? How about you add a little more, like five thousand?"

"Isn't there a loss and a gain in business? You can't say that you were deceived in the first place, so you have to find face with me, right?" Lin Caisang puffed up his cheeks and replied.

"That's the price here. Of course, boss, you can also consider not selling it to me. I'll just go look elsewhere."

"this....."

Is this the reason? He himself was deceived into thinking that he was unlucky, but in his heart, he always felt something strange.

As for whether to sell it or not, of course he wants to sell this restaurant. It's a smash in his hands. He can always get some money back if he sells it, but at this price...

Turning his head, he looked at Ya Molian.

"Sir, this little girl doesn't know her stuff. You are a man and the head of the household. Please tell me, my price of five thousand is actually too low..."

"In our family, the woman has always been the head of the household."

Before the boss could finish speaking, Ya Molian glanced at him and said something faintly in his mouth.

boss:"???"

In other words, he still has to talk to this little girl?

He looked at Lin Caisang with a grimace on his face.

"girl....."

"Boss, the price here is 3,888. If you want to sell it or not, please give me a good word." Lin Caisang looked up at the boss and spoke to him.

"this....."

The boss was naturally hesitant. Asking him to sell it at such a low price was tantamount to cutting off his body, which was heartbreaking.

"I see."

Lin Caisang looked at the boss's expression of pain, and his face immediately understood.

"Brother Mo Lian, let's go and check out other shops. I'm not saying there are several more places. Go check them all."

"No, girl, let's discuss it later."

When the boss saw that she was about to leave after a disagreement, he stopped her without thinking.

"Girl, please don't fool me. Among the big shops in our Ye County, which one can still be idle? It's just me."

His business is called a high-end business and a low-level business. It is so overcrowded by the restaurants next to it that there is really no way to continue to open it. Otherwise, who would want to sell such a good shop.

"I didn't talk about looking at big stores. I'll just open a store selling dried fruits and snacks. Small stores don't matter, and the prices can be much lower." Lin Caisang replied to him.

"What?"

After hearing her words, the boss was shocked.

What did he hear? Did he hear it wrong? The girl in front of me actually said that she didn't buy this restaurant to open a restaurant, but to sell snacks? That's the grocery store.

Just selling groceries and selling a shop for almost 4,000 taels. How many years of business will it take to make back the money?

Is this girl stupid? But that's not the case. Listening to this girl paying him back the price of the restaurant, she was very shrewd.
