

Star of Space 458

Chapter 458 Some uncertainty

Although she felt that the eldest prince must not be a stingy person, asking him directly for it was really not something she would do.

If you buy it, it's pretty much the same.

"My lord, I have something to ask you."

"What's the matter? Miss, please tell me." The eldest prince responded immediately and asked.

"I heard from a friend of mine that you have a shop called 'Baixiang Shop' in the city, right?" Lin Caisang asked.

"Baixiangpu? That should be it."

The great prince nodded uncertainly.

The properties under his name are all managed by others, but he doesn't know exactly how many.

But since Lin Caisang mentioned it all, she must have checked it out, right? He should have this 'Passion Shop' in his name, right?

"should be?"

Lin Caisang wanted to laugh after hearing his words.

She also thought about whether it would be a bit difficult to pluck the fur from the tiger. Little did she know that the tiger was so big that he didn't even know whether his own fur existed.

"right?"

The great prince is still a little unsure.

"I once told the guests in my house that all other businesses can be operated, but 'whoring' and 'prostitution' are not allowed. This Baixiang Shop..."

The name sounds like a place for fireworks. How could there be such a place under his name?

"It's a spice shop.

Listening to his words, Lin Caisang felt ashamed and quickly explained.

"There should be a spice shop."

As soon as the prince heard that this was not a place for fireworks, his attitude immediately changed. As long as it was not in those unseemly places, it was possible to have any property under his name.

"If the lady of the house wants it, I will immediately order someone to bring you the deed of the house."

"No, what I mean is that your shop will ask someone to estimate the price, and I will pay you according to the market value." Lin Caisang said.

It's not good for her to get a big deal for nothing, and she feels bad about it. Besides, according to the market value, she has already made a lot of money. After all, the spice shop is also very profitable.

Those exotic fragrances can even make a lot of money.

"What's wrong with this?"

When the eldest prince heard what she said, he immediately became unhappy and shook his head immediately.

"The girl saved my king's aunt. She is my king's great benefactor. It's just a shop, why is it worth mentioning?"

Let alone a shop, no matter how much money he had, he would be willing to give it to Lin Caisang. This life-saving grace was not just a joke.

That is to say, in the royal family, if it were another family, he would be like a mirror to his aunt's poison, and if he wanted Lin Caisang to save her, it would be possible for him to go bankrupt.

"Girl likes spices?"

Suddenly, the eldest princess asked Lin Caisang.

This girl looked so familiar, I always felt like I had seen her before somewhere.

But she had heard Dao'er mention it before that it was the first time for this doctor's girl to come to Jian'an City, and she hadn't left Jian'an City for many years, so how could she possibly know her?

"It's not about spices. I study medicine. I can make some common medicinal incense, such as sleeping incense and Ningshen incense, but I can also add my secret recipe, which is different from other people's spices."

Lin Caisang looked at her and explained.

"I also saw that almost everyone in Jian'an City had lingering fragrance on their bodies, and thought that this business must be easy to do, so at the suggestion of a friend, I shamelessly asked the prince for a spice shop."

If I had to choose a shop again, in Jian'an City, where land is at a premium, I might not be able to find it even if I look for it for a year and a half. However, it's not my fault that the prince lost it. "
