Chapter 48 The most unreliable weather

"Brother, why is there so much meat? Can we eat it today?" Lin Caihe looked at the meat with bright eyes and asked Lin Changfeng.

"Um."

Lin Changfeng nodded, but then added another sentence.

"Meliango specially gave it to Sangsang. Do you want to eat it too?"

Lin Caihe: "..."

At this moment, her expression looked like she had swallowed an extra-large cockroach, and she looked at Lin Caisang, who was silent, in embarrassment.

"Okay, brother Changfeng, why are you bullying He'er? Although it was given to me, it was also given to our family. Don't worry about it. Lin Caisang watched in amusement as he squatted on the ground and cleaned the pig. Lin Changfeng of Dachang said.

Was she unjust? It was obviously someone else who bullied Lin Caihe, but in the end she was the only one who was blamed by Lin Caihe.

"Sangsang, He girl made you angry again?" Mrs. Lin Lu added after hearing what they said.

"No, how can He'er bully me? It was Brother Changfeng who said it nonsense. Grandma loves me so much, so it would be good if I don't bully He'er." Lin Caisang explained quickly.

Lin Lu glanced at Lin Caihe and shook her head helplessly.

"Changfeng, please get up. Grandma will take care of this thing."

"Mom, let me do it. You go and rest for a while. I will cook later.

Lin Yang put down the bamboo basket, rolled up her sleeves and walked over, taking over the work from Lin Changfeng.

"Changfeng, mother, come on. You and Sangsang have been busy for a long time. You should go and have a rest. The smell of pig water is really unpleasant."

"Then let me cook the porridge. The inner pot is used to cook porridge. There is still oil in the outer pot, so I can use it for cooking." Lin Changfeng stood up, washed his hands with Lin Caisang's help, and went to the kitchen.

For dinner, there were stir-fried pork liver, a bowl of braised pork, stir-fried pork intestines with pickles, etc. on the table, which made my mouth water.

Although the meal was still porridge, because Lin Changhong did not hand over the money earned in the past few days, nor did he buy rice or grain, it was the best meal the Lin family had since Lin Baizhong left home.

There are meat and vegetables, but the only thing missing is wine.

Lin Baiyi also carried Lin Laogan to the main room, sat on the chairs and ate at the same table, very happy.

The next day, it was finally time to go to the market. Several people who needed to go to the town, Lin Caisang, Lin Changhong, Lin Baiyi and Lin Yang, all went out before dawn.

Because instead of just buying things, you also have to sell things, so you have to grab a good location, otherwise it will be difficult to sell the things.

Yacun is the most remote village in Yueya Town. Because it is surrounded by mountains, canaries can inhabit it. But also because of this, Yacun is the richest village in Yueya Town.

Of course, the word "rich" does not mean which village has the most money or the most rich people, but that the people in Ya Village can at least have enough to eat by picking bird's nests, and they don't have to rely on the most unreliable people in Yecheng. The weather is bad.

Speaking of Yecheng, the distribution of rainwater is really uneven.

Just like the rainy season in April and May, when flowers have just sprouted from the grain and they are waiting to bear fruit, it rains so hard that half of the grain is consumed in the rain.

Then after the rainy season, there will be a drought without rain for several months. All the water that should be used will be used up. In the end, most of the grain that has not been harvested will wither...

The weather is quite good like this. At least the people can do other work and have enough to eat. However, here often does not receive a few drops of rain during the rainy season. The drought makes it impossible to grow food at all, and the water in the ponds is scooped out. .

That's been the case for the past two years.
